ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 1/12: Informal empire mechanism

```
US STRATEGIC WEIGHT -> intervention capacity
COMMERCIAL/FINANCIAL POWER -> policy limits
DOMESTIC ELITES -> seek external backing
RESULT -> sovereignty real but constrained
MUST REMEMBER: Twentieth-century US power in Latin America usually operated as informal strategic, commercial, financial and political leverage interacting with domestic elites,
  armies and reform movements.
```

MUST REMEMBER: Twentieth-century US power in Latin America usually operated as informal
  strategic, commercial, financial and political leverage interacting with domestic elites,
  armies and reform movements.
MUST REMEMBER: Twentieth-century US power in Latin America usually operated as informal
  strategic, commercial, financial and political leverage interacting with domestic elites,
  armies and reform movements.

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 2/12: Instability structure

```
LAND -> oligarchic political power
EXPORTS -> commodity price vulnerability
ARMY -> repeated political arbitration
DEBT -> outside lenders narrow policy choice
```

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 3/12: Revolution and intervention

```
1954 -> Guatemalan reform overturned
1959 -> Cuban Revolution succeeds
1962 -> missile crisis globalises Cuba
1979 -> Sandinistas take power in Nicaragua
```

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 4/12: Why Cuba differed

GUATEMALA -> reform reversed
NICARAGUA -> revolution faces counter-pressure
CUBA -> revolution survives
PRICE -> Soviet alignment replaces isolated autonomy

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 5/12: Regional diversity

BRAZIL -> industrial growth plus inequality
MEXICO -> revolution plus long PRI dominance
VENEZUELA -> oil wealth plus instability
CUBA -> durable anti-US revolutionary state

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 6/12: Economic strategy arc

```
COMMODITY EXPORTS -> external shock exposure
ISI -> protected domestic industry
IMPORT/FISCAL LIMITS -> external borrowing
DEBT CRISIS -> austerity and liberalisation
```

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 7/12: ISI balance sheet

GOAL -> replace imported manufactures
TOOLS -> tariffs, licensing and state investment
GAIN -> industrial diversification
LIMIT -> small markets and capital-goods imports

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 8/12: Debt-to-society chain

```
INTEREST COMPOUNDS -> debt service grows
RESCHEDULING -> creditor conditions expand
AUSTERITY -> jobs and services contract
LEGITIMACY -> developmental state weakens
```

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 9/12: Bounded debt evidence

MEXICO 1982 -> IMF and debt rescheduling
$96 BILLION -> owner-bounded overseas debt
ARGENTINA -> inflation around 900 per cent
RULE -> figures illustrate cases, not the region

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 10/12: US influence toolkit

COVERT/PROXY -> Guatemala and Nicaragua
HOSTILITY -> Cuba contained
FINANCE -> debt conditionality
STRUCTURE -> commercial and strategic predominance
CLOSE DISTINCTION: Mexico, Guatemala, Cuba, Nicaragua, Brazil and Venezuela followed different paths; revolution, coup, authoritarian development and populism cannot be collapsed into one regional cycle.
CLOSE DISTINCTION: Mexico, Guatemala, Cuba, Nicaragua, Brazil and Venezuela followed different paths; revolution, coup, authoritarian development and populism cannot be collapsed into one regional cycle.
CLOSE DISTINCTION: Mexico, Guatemala, Cuba, Nicaragua, Brazil and Venezuela followed different paths; revolution, coup, authoritarian development and populism cannot be collapsed into one regional cycle.

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 11/12: External and internal loop

```
INEQUALITY -> elites resist reform
ELITES -> seek outside protection
INTERVENTION -> inequality preserved
NEW MOVEMENTS -> challenge the same order
EVIDENCE LIMIT: Commodity dependence, ISI, borrowing, the 1980s debt crisis and liberalisation
  form a political-economy sequence whose numerical examples must remain country-, year- and source-bounded.
```

```
EVIDENCE LIMIT: Commodity dependence, ISI, borrowing, the 1980s debt crisis and liberalisation
  form a political-economy sequence whose numerical examples must remain country-, year- and
  source-bounded.
EVIDENCE LIMIT: Commodity dependence, ISI, borrowing, the 1980s debt crisis and liberalisation
  form a political-economy sequence whose numerical examples must remain country-, year- and source-bounded.
```

ASCII MASTER FLOW — PANEL 12/12: Latin America answer spine

STRUCTURE -> land, exports, armies and US influence
CASES -> Mexico, Guatemala, Cuba and Nicaragua
ECONOMY -> ISI, debt and liberalisation
VERDICT -> constrained sovereignty with persistent agency