EVIDENCE, PYQ AND CURRENT-STATUS CONTROL

- Four independent ledgers: literal syllabus/index, indispensable

prerequisites, standard textbook taxonomy and complete routed 2018-2026 PYQ demands were built before repair.

- Hostile search: missing Articles, Parts, Schedules, amendments, cases, institutional mechanisms, exceptions, chronology, source status and cross-owner boundaries are hard failures.

- Answer rule: claim -> exact constitutional/statutory/case evidence -> institutional analysis -> exception or qualification.

- Current-status note, rechecked 2026-09-05: Rechecked 2026-09-05: official profiles list Droupadi Murmu as President and C. P. Radhakrishnan as Vice-President; the latter was elected on 9 September 2025 and assumed office on 12 September 2025. No amendment to Articles 52-73 was located; settled advice, veto, ordinance and clemency controls remain operative.

- [LIMIT] Foundation and Core are independently answer-complete. Optional Advanced adds theory, comparisons and deeper institutional criticism only.
- [CURRENT] Status is controlled to 28 August 2026, Asia/Kolkata.
- [CURRENT] Droupadi Murmu is the 15th President of India, in office since 25 July 2022.
- [CURRENT] C. P. Radhakrishnan is the 15th Vice-President of India, in office since 12 September 2025.

PART I - Complete Foundation and Core learning session

SESSION 1 - TWO OFFICES, TWO CONSTITUTIONAL PURPOSES

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Two Offices, Two Constitutional Purposes: the President is the constitutional Head of State, while the Vice-President ordinarily serves as Rajya Sabha Chairman.

Technical definition: Two Offices, Two Constitutional Purposes: articles 52-62 and 63-71 create distinct offices linked by temporary acting arrangements, not automatic succession.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Two offices, two constitutional purposes: national continuity for the President and federal-chamber procedure for the Vice-President.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Two
- Offices
- Constitutional
- Purposes
- President
- constitutional procedure

How to use them: Frame the answer through Two; define Offices, connect Constitutional with Purposes to explain the mechanism, and use President for the decisive comparison or qualification.

President and Vice-President: constitutional design

The President is the constitutional Head of State; the Vice-President's regular work is chairing the Rajya Sabha.

Dimension	President	Vice-President
Articles	52-62; powers across Constitution, including 72	63-71; Chairmanship also under 64, 89, 92 and 100
Core position	Head of State; Union executive power formally vested in office	Ex-officio Chairman of Rajya Sabha
Election base	Elected MPs plus specified elected MLAs	Members of both Houses of Parliament
Normal executive authority	Acts on ministerial advice	No ordinary Union executive power
Removal	Impeachment for violation of Constitution	Rajya Sabha-initiated removal; no ground stated
Standby role	Office must always exist	Acts as President during vacancy/temporary inability

- [FACT] Article 52 says there shall be a President of India; Article 63 similarly creates a Vice-President.
- [ANALYSIS] The offices are not a succession hierarchy in the US sense. The Vice-President temporarily acts; he or she does not inherit the remainder of a presidential term.
- [LIMIT] The Constitution does not use "nominal executive" as a label; that conclusion follows from Articles 53, 74 and 75 and parliamentary practice.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - TWO OFFICES, TWO CONSTITUTIONAL PURPOSES

START / CONCEPT: Two offices, two constitutional purposes

v

EXACT TERMS: Two · Offices · Constitutional · Purposes · President · constitutional procedure

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Identify the controlling Article, trace the institutional procedure, then state its limit and accountability consequence.

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: The rule preserves constitutional continuity while keeping executive power accountable within parliamentary government.

v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not transfer the electoral college, removal threshold, vacancy deadline or substantive power of one office to the other.

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Two offices, two constitutional purposes: national continuity for the President and federal-chamber procedure for the Vice-President.

SESSION 2 - ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT: WHO VOTES

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Election Of The President: Who Votes: the President is elected by elected MPs and specified elected MLAs, not nominated members or Legislative Councillors.

Technical definition: Election Of The President: Who Votes: article 54 includes elected members of Parliament and State, Delhi and Puducherry Assemblies.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Election of the President begins by identifying exactly who votes and who is excluded.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Election
- President
- Who
- Votes
- constitutional procedure
- institutional limit

How to use them: Frame the answer through Election; define President, connect Who with Votes to explain the mechanism, and use constitutional procedure for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Presidential electoral college

The presidential college combines elected Union and State representatives but excludes nominated and upper-State-house members.

Included

- [FACT] Elected members of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha.
- [FACT] Elected members of the Legislative Assemblies of the States.
- [FACT] Elected members of the Legislative Assemblies of the National Capital Territory of Delhi and Puducherry, added through the 70th Amendment framework.

Excluded

- [FACT] Nominated members of either House of Parliament.
- [FACT] Nominated members of State/eligible UT Assemblies.
- [FACT] Every member of a State Legislative Council.
- [FACT] Jammu and Kashmir's UT legislature is not added to the Article 54 explanation, which names only Delhi and Puducherry.

Why indirect

- [ANALYSIS] Indirect election fits a parliamentary system in which the President normally lacks an independent executive programme.
- [ANALYSIS] Weighted State votes provide a federal element while equal MP vote value binds the Union side into one national college.
- [LIMIT] The President is democratically elected but does not possess a direct popular mandate against the Council of Ministers.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - ELECTION OF THE PRESIDENT: WHO VOTES

START / CONCEPT: Election of the President: who votes

v

EXACT TERMS: Election · President · Who · Votes · constitutional procedure · institutional limit

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Identify the controlling Article, trace the institutional procedure, then state its limit and accountability consequence.

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: The rule preserves constitutional continuity while keeping executive power accountable within parliamentary government.

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not transfer the electoral college, removal threshold, vacancy deadline or substantive power of one office to the other.

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Election of the President begins by identifying exactly who votes and who is excluded.

SESSION 3 - VOTE VALUE, PARITY AND PR-STV

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Vote Value, Parity And PR-STV: presidential vote values weight State representation before transferable preferences identify a majority-supported winner.

Technical definition: Vote Value, Parity And PR-STV: article 55 uses 1971-census MLA values, aggregate MP parity and PR-STV by secret ballot.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Vote value, parity and PR-STV combine federal weighting with ranked-majority choice.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Vote
- Value
- Parity
- Pr-Stv
- President
- constitutional procedure

How to use them: Frame the answer through Vote; define Value, connect Parity with Pr-Stv to explain the mechanism, and use President for the decisive comparison or qualification.

How a President is elected

Weighted vote values seek parity; ranked preferences then produce a majority-supported winner.

MLA vote value

State population / (elected MLAs x 1000)

- [FACT] If the remaining fraction is at least 500, one is added to the quotient.
- [FACT] "Population" continues to use the 1971 census until relevant figures of the first census taken after 2026 have been published.
- [ANALYSIS] More Assembly seats do not by themselves raise each MLA's value; the decisive quantity is the population-to-elected-MLA ratio.

MP vote value

Total value of votes of all elected MLAs / total elected MPs of both Houses

- [FACT] Every elected MP, whether from Lok Sabha or Rajya Sabha, has the same vote value.
- [FACT] Fractions exceeding one-half are counted as one; other fractions are disregarded.

Ballot and count

- [FACT] Election uses proportional representation by single transferable vote and secret ballot.
- [FACT] Electors rank candidates. The winning quota is more than half the total valid vote value.
- [FACT] If nobody reaches the quota on first preferences, the lowest candidate is excluded and transferable values move according to next preferences.
- [LIMIT] "Proportional representation" here elects one office; its practical effect is majority preference through transferable rankings, not a multi-seat proportional legislature.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - VOTE VALUE, PARITY AND PR-STV

START / CONCEPT: Vote value, parity and PR-STV

v

EXACT TERMS: Vote · Value · Parity · Pr-Stv · President · constitutional procedure

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Identify the controlling Article, trace the institutional procedure, then state its limit and accountability consequence.

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: The rule preserves constitutional continuity while keeping executive power accountable within parliamentary government.

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not transfer the electoral college, removal threshold, vacancy deadline or substantive power of one office to the other.

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Vote value, parity and PR-STV combine federal weighting with ranked-majority choice.

SESSION 4 - PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION ADMINISTRATION AND DISPUTES

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Presidential Election Administration And Disputes: presidential election administration follows the 1952 Act, 1974 Rules and Article 71 Supreme Court control.

Technical definition: Presidential Election Administration And Disputes: the 1997 reform requires 50 proposers, 50 seconders and a Rs 15,000 deposit for presidential candidature.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Presidential election administration and disputes require both constitutional design and statutory machinery.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Presidential
- Election
- Administration
- Disputes
- President
- constitutional procedure

How to use them: Frame the answer through Presidential; define Election, connect Administration with Disputes to explain the mechanism, and use President for the decisive comparison or qualification.

- [FACT] A candidate needs 50 proposers and 50 seconders and a statutory deposit of Rs 15,000.
- [FACT] The Presidential and Vice-Presidential Elections Act, 1952 governs notification, nominations, scrutiny, withdrawal, poll and election petitions; the 1974 Rules supply forms, ballot and counting machinery.
- [FACT] The 1997 Amendment raised the serious-candidature thresholds to 50 proposers and 50 seconders for President, 20 and 20 for Vice-President, and a Rs 15,000 deposit for either office.
- [FACT] The Supreme Court finally decides doubts and disputes connected with election of the President or Vice-President under Article 71.
- [FACT] Acts already done in office are not invalidated merely because the election is later declared void.
- [FACT] An election cannot be challenged merely because the electoral college contained a vacancy for any reason.
- [FACT] Dissolution of some State Assemblies does not constitutionally justify postponing the presidential election.
- [ANALYSIS] These rules protect continuity of the Head of State while preserving judicial control over the election itself.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION ADMINISTRATION AND DISPUTES

START / CONCEPT: Presidential election administration and disputes

v

EXACT TERMS: Presidential · Election · Administration · Disputes · President · constitutional procedure

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Identify the controlling Article, trace the institutional procedure, then state its limit and accountability consequence.

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not transfer the electoral college, removal threshold, vacancy deadline or substantive power of one office to the other.

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Presidential election administration and disputes require both constitutional design and statutory machinery.

SESSION 5 - QUALIFICATIONS, OATH AND CONDITIONS OF OFFICE

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Qualifications, Oath And Conditions Of Office: a presidential candidate must be an Indian citizen aged 35, qualified for Lok Sabha and free of a disqualifying office of profit.

Technical definition: Qualifications, Oath And Conditions Of Office: articles 58-60 govern qualification, office conditions and the oath administered by the Chief Justice of India or substitute.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Qualifications, oath and conditions of office protect the dignity and independence of the presidency.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Qualifications
- Oath
- Conditions
- Office
- President
- constitutional procedure

How to use them: Frame the answer through Qualifications; define Oath, connect Conditions with Office to explain the mechanism, and use President for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Test	President
Citizenship	Citizen of India
Minimum age	35 years
Electoral qualification	Qualified for election as a Lok Sabha member
Office of profit	Must not hold one under Union, State or controlled local/other authority
Oath	CJI, or in absence the senior-most available Supreme Court judge
Legislative membership	If an MP/MLA is elected, the seat is deemed vacated on entering office

- [FACT] For qualification, holding office as President, Vice-President, Governor or Union/State minister is not treated as holding an office of profit.

- [FACT] The President is entitled to the official residence and statutory emoluments; these cannot be diminished during the term.
- [FACT] The oath promises faithful execution, preservation/protection/defence of the Constitution and law, and service to the people.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - QUALIFICATIONS, OATH AND CONDITIONS OF OFFICE

START / CONCEPT: Qualifications, oath and conditions of office

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not transfer the electoral college, removal threshold, vacancy deadline or substantive power of one office to the other.

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Qualifications, oath and conditions of office protect the dignity and independence of the presidency.

SESSION 6 - TERM, RE-ELECTION, VACANCY AND SUCCESSION

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Term, Re-Election, Vacancy And Succession: the President serves five years, may be re-elected and continues until a successor enters office.

Technical definition: Term, Re-Election, Vacancy And Succession: articles 56 and 62 require a presidential casual vacancy to be filled within six months for a fresh five-year term.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Term, re-election, vacancy and succession rules prevent an interregnum in the Head of State.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Term
- Re-Election
- Vacancy
- Succession
- President
- constitutional procedure

How to use them: Frame the answer through Term; define Re-Election, connect Vacancy with Succession to explain the mechanism, and use President for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Presidential lifecycle

The Constitution separates normal expiry, continuation until a successor and a six-month casual-vacancy election.

- [FACT] The term is five years from entering office.
- [FACT] The President may resign to the Vice-President.
- [FACT] The President remains in office after the five years until the successor enters office; there is no ordinary interregnum.
- [FACT] Re-election is constitutionally unlimited. Dr Rajendra Prasad alone completed two presidential terms.
- [FACT] Election to fill an expected expiry must be completed before expiry.
- [FACT] A casual vacancy caused by death, resignation, removal or otherwise must be filled within six months; the elected successor receives a fresh five-year term.
- [FACT] The Vice-President acts as President during a vacancy. If both offices are unavailable, Parliament's law places the Chief Justice of India, or the senior-most available Supreme Court judge, in the acting role.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - TERM, RE-ELECTION, VACANCY AND SUCCESSION

START / CONCEPT: Term, re-election, vacancy and succession

v

EXACT TERMS: Term • Re-Election • Vacancy • Succession • President • constitutional procedure

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Identify the controlling Article, trace the institutional procedure, then state its limit and accountability consequence.

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: The rule preserves constitutional continuity while keeping executive power accountable within parliamentary government.

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not transfer the electoral college, removal threshold, vacancy deadline or substantive power of one office to the other.

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Term, re-election, vacancy and succession rules prevent an interregnum in the Head of State.

SESSION 7 - IMPEACHMENT UNDER ARTICLE 61

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Impeachment Under Article 61: article 61 removes the President only for violation of the Constitution through a stringent two-House process.

Technical definition: Impeachment Under Article 61: either House may initiate after one-fourth signatures and fourteen days notice; each decisive resolution needs two-thirds of total membership.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Impeachment under Article 61 deliberately separates election legitimacy from exceptional constitutional removal.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Impeachment
- Article
- President
- constitutional procedure
- institutional limit
- exam distinction

How to use them: Frame the answer through Impeachment; define Article, connect President with constitutional procedure to explain the mechanism, and use institutional limit for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Article 61 impeachment

Impeachment is a two-House quasi-judicial process requiring two-thirds of total membership at both decisive stages.

- [FACT] The sole ground is violation of the Constitution, which the Constitution does not define.
- [FACT] Either House may initiate.
- [FACT] At least one-fourth of the total membership of the initiating House must sign the notice; at least 14 days' notice is required.
- [FACT] The initiating House must pass the charge by at least two-thirds of its total membership.
- [FACT] The other House investigates or causes investigation. The President has the right to appear and be represented.
- [FACT] If the investigating House also sustains the charge by two-thirds of its total membership, removal takes effect on passage.
- [FACT] Nominated MPs may participate in impeachment although they do not elect the President; State MLAs elect but do not impeach.
- [CURRENT] No Indian President has been impeached.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - IMPEACHMENT UNDER ARTICLE 61

START / CONCEPT: Impeachment under Article 61

v

EXACT TERMS: Impeachment · Article · President · constitutional procedure · institutional limit · exam distinction

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Identify the controlling Article, trace the institutional procedure, then state its limit and accountability consequence.

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Impeachment under Article 61 deliberately separates election legitimacy from exceptional constitutional removal.

SESSION 8 - PRESIDENTIAL IMMUNITIES UNDER ARTICLE 361

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Presidential Immunities Under Article 361: article 361 gives the serving President procedural protection without immunising government action from review.

Technical definition: Presidential Immunities Under Article 361: it bars criminal proceedings and arrest during tenure and requires two months notice for specified personal civil proceedings.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Presidential immunities under Article 361 protect office continuity, not substantive impunity.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Presidential
- Immunities
- Article
- President
- constitutional procedure
- institutional limit

How to use them: Frame the answer through Presidential; define Immunities, connect Article with President to explain the mechanism, and use constitutional procedure for the decisive comparison or qualification.

- [FACT] The President is not answerable to any court for official acts, subject to parliamentary investigation of an impeachment charge and the ability to sue the Union where law permits.
- [FACT] No criminal proceeding may be instituted or continued during the term.
- [FACT] No arrest or imprisonment process may issue during the term.
- [FACT] Civil proceedings concerning personal acts may begin during the term only after two months' written notice containing the prescribed particulars.
- [LIMIT] Immunity of the person does not place government action beyond judicial review.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - PRESIDENTIAL IMMUNITIES UNDER ARTICLE 361

START / CONCEPT: Presidential immunities under Article 361

EXACT TERMS: Presidential · Immunities · Article · President · constitutional procedure · institutional limit

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Presidential immunities under Article 361 protect office continuity, not substantive impunity.

SESSION 9 - CONSTITUTIONAL POSITION: DIGNITY WITHOUT A RIVAL MANDATE

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Constitutional Position: Dignity Without A Rival Mandate: the President embodies the State but normally acts through the politically responsible Council of Ministers.

Technical definition: Constitutional Position: Dignity Without A Rival Mandate: articles 53, 74 and 75, as shaped by the 42nd and 44th Amendments, bind advice after one reconsideration.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Constitutional position means dignity without a rival mandate: formal power and democratic responsibility are deliberately separated.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Constitutional
- Position
- Dignity
- Without
- Rival
- Mandate

How to use them: Frame the answer through Constitutional; define Position, connect Dignity with Without to explain the mechanism, and use Rival for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Advice, reconsideration and situational choice

Ministerial advice binds after reconsideration, but fractured mandates can create narrow situational choices.

- [FACT] Article 53 formally vests Union executive power in the President.
- [FACT] Article 74 requires a Council of Ministers headed by the Prime Minister to aid and advise.
- [FACT] The 42nd Amendment made advice expressly binding.
- [FACT] The 44th Amendment permits the President to require reconsideration once; advice tendered after reconsideration must be accepted.
- [FACT] Article 75 ties the Council's survival to collective responsibility to Lok Sabha.
- [ANALYSIS] Ambedkar's formula remains exact: the President is head of the State but not the real executive.

Situational discretion, not a personal policy power

- [ANALYSIS] Appointing a Prime Minister when no party has a clear majority, with the objective test being ability to secure Lok Sabha confidence.
- [ANALYSIS] Requiring a ministry whose majority is credibly disputed to demonstrate confidence on the floor.
- [ANALYSIS] Dismissing a ministry that has lost confidence but refuses to resign.
- [ANALYSIS] Considering whether dissolution advice from a defeated/minority ministry should be accepted where an alternative government is demonstrably available.
- [FACT] K. R. Narayanan returned Union Cabinet advice concerning proposed President's Rule in Uttar Pradesh (1997) and Bihar (1998); reiterated advice would have bound him.
- [LIMIT] The President has no general personal policy discretion. Article 163 textually recognises some gubernatorial discretion, but only where the Constitution requires it; neither office has an unlimited discretionary domain. Convention, reasoned choice and floor confidence bound each exceptional presidential decision.

SESSION 10 - EXECUTIVE POWERS

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Executive powers are formally exercised in the President's name but are allocated by advice, constitutional provisions and statutes.

Technical definition: Executive Powers: articles 53, 77 and 78 structure appointments, authenticated action, information and reconsideration within responsible government.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Executive powers must be explained through both formal presidential authority and the real advice route.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Executive
- Powers
- President
- constitutional procedure
- institutional limit
- exam distinction

How to use them: Frame the answer through Executive; define Powers, connect President with constitutional procedure to explain the mechanism, and use institutional limit for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Seven heads of presidential power

Presidential powers are constitutionally broad in form and ordinarily ministerially controlled in exercise.

- [FACT] All Union executive action is expressed in the President's name; authenticated orders receive Article 77 protection as to mode.
- [FACT] Appoints the Prime Minister and, on PM advice, other ministers.
- [FACT] Appoints the Attorney General, CAG, Governors, Finance Commission, UPSC members, Election Commissioners under applicable constitutional/statutory processes, and Supreme Court/High Court judges.
- [FACT] Can require the Prime Minister to communicate Council decisions and information and to place before the Council a minister's decision not considered by it (Article 78).
- [FACT] Directly administers Union Territories through administrators to the extent provided by the Constitution.
- [FACT] Appoints commissions for specified constitutional purposes, including Finance Commission and certain official-language/backward-class inquiries where applicable.
- [LIMIT] Appointment in the President's name does not mean unfettered personal selection; constitutional provisions, statutes, judicial doctrine and ministerial advice control different offices.

SESSION 11 - LEGISLATIVE POWERS AND PARLIAMENT

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Legislative Powers And Parliament: the President summons, prorogues, addresses and may dissolve Lok Sabha while performing defined legislative formalities.

Technical definition: Legislative Powers And Parliament: legislative powers include messages, joint sittings, Rajya Sabha nominations, assent and presentation of required reports.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Legislative powers and Parliament place the President inside lawmaking without making the office a third legislative chamber.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Legislative
- Powers
- Parliament
- President
- constitutional procedure
- institutional limit

How to use them: Frame the answer through Legislative; define Powers, connect Parliament with President to explain the mechanism, and use constitutional procedure for the decisive comparison or qualification.

- [FACT] May address either/both Houses and send messages.
- [FACT] Summons a joint sitting of both Houses for an ordinary legislative deadlock under Article 108.

SESSION 12 - VETO UNDER ARTICLE 111 AND RESERVED STATE BILLS

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Veto Under Article 111 And Reserved State Bills: presidential options differ for ordinary, Money, Amendment and Governor-reserved State Bills.

Technical definition: Veto Under Article 111 And Reserved State Bills: article 111 binds assent after ordinary-bill repassage, while Article 201 contains no equivalent State override.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Veto under Article 111 and reserved State Bills must be separated bill type by bill type.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Veto
- Article
- Reserved
- Bills
- President

How to use them: Frame the answer through Veto; define Article, connect Reserved with Bills to explain the mechanism, and use President for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Presidential veto matrix

Absolute Withhold assent and bill ends	Suspensive Return ordinary bill once	Pocket No fixed assent deadline
Money Bill Cannot be returned	Amendment Bill Assent is obligatory	Reserved State Bill State repassage does not override President

Ordinary, Money, Amendment and reserved State bills produce different presidential options.

Parliamentary bills

Bill	Options
Ordinary Bill	Assent; withhold assent; return once for reconsideration
Money Bill	Assent or withhold; cannot return
Constitution Amendment Bill	Must assent after the 24th Amendment

- [FACT] If Parliament re-passes a returned ordinary bill, with or without amendments, the President cannot withhold assent.
- [FACT] Re-passage needs only the ordinary majority applicable to the bill, not a special veto-override majority.
- [FACT] The Constitution gives no fixed deadline for Article 111 assent. This permits a pocket veto.
- [FACT] Zail Singh's handling of the Indian Post Office (Amendment) Bill, 1986 is the standard pocket-veto illustration.
- [ANALYSIS] Absolute veto is most plausible for private-member bills or a government bill after the ministry has resigned; in normal government legislation ministerial advice dominates.

State bills reserved under Article 201

- [FACT] The President may assent, withhold assent, or direct the Governor to return a non-Money Bill.
- [FACT] If the State legislature re-passes and re-presents it, the President is not textually compelled to assent; this differs from Article 111.
- [CURRENT] The 20 November 2025 Article 143 opinion held that courts cannot create rigid timelines or deemed assent, but glaring, prolonged and unexplained inaction can attract limited directions to decide.
- [LIMIT] Article 201 is not a personal federal veto exercised outside Article 74 advice.

SESSION 13 - ORDINANCE-MAKING POWER UNDER ARTICLE 123

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Ordinance-Making Power Under Article 123: an ordinance is temporary urgent legislation available when both Houses are not simultaneously in session.

Technical definition: Ordinance-Making Power Under Article 123: article 123 requires immediate necessity, parliamentary competence, laying and cessation six weeks after later reassembly.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Ordinance-making under Article 123 bridges time but cannot become a substitute for Parliament.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Ordinance-Making
- Power
- Article
- President
- constitutional procedure
- institutional limit

How to use them: Frame the answer through Ordinance-Making; define Power, connect Article with President to explain the mechanism, and use constitutional procedure for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Article 123 ordinance lifecycle

- [FACT] An ordinance may be promulgated except when both Houses are in session. It is enough that one House is not sitting.
- [FACT] The President must be satisfied that circumstances require immediate action; this satisfaction is ministerially formed and judicially reviewable on limited grounds.
- [FACT] It has the same force and effect as an Act of Parliament but only within Parliament's legislative competence and constitutional limits.
- [FACT] It may amend or repeal a Central Act and may operate retrospectively, subject especially to Article 20(1).
- [FACT] It cannot abridge Fundamental Rights and cannot amend the Constitution.
- [FACT] It must be laid before both Houses and ceases six weeks after the later date of their reassembly, unless disapproved earlier by both Houses.
- [FACT] The President may withdraw it at any time on advice.
- [ANALYSIS] Its maximum practical life is approximately six months plus six weeks because six months is the maximum constitutional gap between parliamentary sessions.

Judicial controls

- [FACT] R. C. Cooper (1970): ordinance satisfaction is not completely beyond review.
- [FACT] D. C. Wadhwa (1986 judgment): routine re-promulgation without legislative consideration is a fraud on the Constitution.
- [FACT] Krishna Kumar Singh (2017), seven judges, 5:2: laying is mandatory; re-promulgation subverts legislative supremacy; enduring rights do not automatically survive every lapsed ordinance.
- [ANALYSIS] The ordinance power is legitimate for urgency, not for avoiding an inconvenient House.

- [FACT] The Annual Financial Statement is caused to be laid before Parliament.
- [FACT] The President constitutes a Finance Commission every five years or earlier and can authorise advances from the Contingency Fund pending parliamentary approval.

- [FACT] May seek the Supreme Court's advisory opinion under Article 143. The opinion is not binding in the same way as an adjudicated decree.
- [FACT] Exercises clemency under Article 72.

Diplomatic, military and emergency

- [FACT] International treaties and agreements are formally concluded in the President's name but remain governed by the constitutional distribution of executive/legislative power.
- [FACT] The President is Supreme Commander of the defence forces; operational authority belongs to elected government under law.
- [FACT] National, State and Financial Emergency proclamations are presidential acts under Articles 352, 356 and 360, controlled by advice, parliamentary approval and judicial review.

Technical definition: Pardoning Power Under Article 72: Maru Ram (1980), Kehar Singh (1988) and Epuru Sudhakar (2006) establish advice, merits reconsideration and limited review.

Pardoning power under Article 72 is public constitutional power, not personal mercy.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Pardoning
- Power
- Article
- President
- constitutional procedure
- institutional limit

How to use them: Frame the answer through Pardoning; define Power, connect Article with President to explain the mechanism, and use constitutional procedure for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Article 72 clemency toolkit

Article 72 contains five distinct forms of clemency and remains controlled by advice and limited review.

Jurisdiction

- [FACT] Cases where punishment/sentence is by court-martial.
- [FACT] Offences against laws concerning matters to which Union executive power extends.
- [FACT] Every case where the sentence is death.

Five forms

Form	Meaning
Pardon	Removes punishment and ordinarily the disqualifying consequences of conviction
Commutation	Replaces one form of punishment with a lighter form
Remission	Reduces the period without changing the character of punishment
Respite	Awards a lesser sentence because of a special fact such as pregnancy/disability
Reprieve	Temporarily stays execution to permit consideration of relief

Advice, merits and review

- [FACT] Maru Ram (1980): clemency is exercised on binding ministerial advice.
- [FACT] Kehar Singh (1988) (1988 judgment): the executive may examine the merits afresh; the President is not an appellate court and need not give a judicial-style hearing.
- [FACT] Epuru Sudhakar (2006): limited review lies for mala fides, arbitrariness, non-application of mind and relevant/irrelevant-material defects.
- [FACT] Unexplained mercy-petition delay can have constitutional consequences in death-sentence cases, but no automatic numerical rule replaces case-sensitive review.

President versus Governor

Point	President, Article 72	Governor, Article 161
Court-martial	Can grant all forms	No power
Death sentence	Can pardon and grant lesser forms	Cannot pardon, but may suspend/remit/commute
Ordinary offences	Union executive field	State executive field

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Master comparison and trap firewall convert similar-looking presidential and vice-presidential rules into exam-safe distinctions.

POLITY HOSTILE SEMANTIC-REVIEW CORE CONTROL

- Must remember: Map Articles 52-73 office by office: electoral colleges, vote values, qualifications, oath, term, vacancy, impeachment/removal, Article 71 disputes, aid and advice, veto, ordinance and clemency require separate procedural chains.
- Close distinction: The President is indirectly elected by elected MPs and elected MLAs of States plus Delhi and Puducherry; the Vice-President is elected by all members of both Houses. Presidential impeachment under Article 61 and Vice-Presidential removal under Article 67(b) are not interchangeable.
- Legal/source limit: Current office control is Droupadi Murmu as President and C. P. Radhakrishnan as Vice-President, elected 9 September and assuming office 12 September 2025. Articles 72 and 123 remain advice-bound and judicially reviewable within settled constitutional limits.

Semantic-completeness ownership and PYQ control

- Office map: Articles 52-62 govern the President's office/election/term and Article 61 impeachment; Articles 63-71 govern the Vice-President, with Article 71 giving the Supreme Court final jurisdiction over both elections. Articles 72-73 then address clemency and Union executive extent.
- Electoral colleges: Article 54 includes elected MPs and elected MLAs of the States plus Delhi and Puducherry; nominated members and Legislative-Council members do not vote. Article 66 includes elected and nominated members of both Houses but no State legislators.
- Vote and vacancy: Article 55 vote values and PR-STV/secret ballot apply to the President; the Vice-President uses PR-STV/secret ballot without MLA vote values. Articles 62 and 68 impose different vacancy schedules.
- Removal: Article 61 impeachment for constitutional violation may begin in either House after fourteen days' notice signed by at least one-fourth and needs two-thirds of total membership in each House. Article 67(b) Vice-Presidential removal begins only in Rajya Sabha, uses an effective-majority resolution agreed to by Lok Sabha, and also requires fourteen days' notice.
- Aid and advice: Article 74 advice binds after one reconsideration. Situational discretion in appointing a Prime Minister, seeking proof of confidence or exploring alternatives is bounded by responsible-government conventions and cannot become personal presidential rule.
- Veto and reserved Bills: Article 111 assent/withholding/return applies to Parliamentary Bills, with no return of a Money Bill. Article 201 is a separate reserved-State-Bill route governed by the 20 November 2025 Article 143 opinion; it has no judicially fixed deadline or deemed assent.
- Ordinance: Article 123 requires both Houses not to be in session, has the force of an Act, must stay within legislative/rights limits, and ceases six weeks after reassembly unless earlier withdrawn/disapproved. D.C. Wadhwa (1986) and Krishna Kumar Singh (2017) reject routine re-promulgation.
- Clemency: Article 72 covers Union-law offences, court-martial and death sentences; Article 161 tracks State executive competence and cannot pardon a court-martial or death sentence. Maru Ram (1980), Kehar Singh (1988) and Epuru Sudhakar preserve ministerial advice and limited review for mala fides, arbitrariness or irrelevant considerations.
- Current offices: Droupadi Murmu remains President. C. P. Radhakrishnan was elected Vice-President on 9 September 2025 and assumed office on 12 September 2025 after the casual vacancy; Article 68 requires filling it as soon as possible, not within an invented six-month deadline.
- Four-ledger/PYQ control: exact Articles, electoral law, vote arithmetic, conventions, cases, current officeholders and all routed 2018-2025 demands were reconciled; detailed PM/CoM, Parliament and Governor doctrine remains cross-owned.

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE

Solved UPSC PYQs

PYQ 1 - 2018 Prelims GS-I Q32

Question: With reference to the election of the President of India, consider the following statements:

1. The value of the vote of each MLA varies from State to State.
2. The value of the vote of MPs of the Lok Sabha is more than the value of the vote of MPs of the Rajya Sabha.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

A. 1 only B. 2 only C. Both 1 and 2 D. Neither 1 nor 2

INFERRED ANSWER - NOT OFFICIALLY VERIFIED: A.

Solution: Statement 1 is correct because MLA value depends on the State's 1971 population-to-elected-MLA ratio. Statement 2 is false because every elected MP has the same value regardless of House.

Demand decoding: Treat "With reference to the election of the President of India, consider the following statements:..." as a definition, category, constitutional boundary, institution, mechanism and source-date-status problem. Test each statement.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: The answer must resolve the sociological demand in "With reference to the election of the President of India, consider the following statements: 1. The value of the vote of each MLA varies from State...".

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: The value of the vote of each MLA varies from State to State. Analysis: Connect structure or institution -> norm/incentive/power/agency mechanism -> differentiated social outcome -> feedback or policy implication. Qualification: State internal group variation, regional/historical scope, correlation-versus-causation or legal-norm-versus-lived-outcome boundary.
2. Claim and named evidence: The value of the vote of MPs of the Lok Sabha is more than the value of the vote of MPs of the Rajya Sabha. Analysis: Connect structure or institution -> norm/incentive/power/agency mechanism -> differentiated social outcome -> feedback or policy implication. Qualification: State internal group variation, regional/historical scope, correlation-versus-causation or legal-norm-versus-lived-outcome boundary.
3. Claim and named evidence: Which of the statements given above is/are correct? Analysis: Connect structure or institution -> norm/incentive/power/agency mechanism -> differentiated social outcome -> feedback or policy implication. Qualification: State internal group variation, regional/historical scope, correlation-versus-causation or legal-norm-versus-lived-outcome boundary.
4. Claim and named evidence: INFERRED ANSWER - NOT OFFICIALLY VERIFIED: A. Analysis: Connect structure or institution -> norm/incentive/power/agency mechanism -> differentiated social outcome -> feedback or policy implication. Qualification: State internal group variation, regional/historical scope, correlation-versus-causation or legal-norm-versus-lived-outcome boundary.

Counter-position / limit: Neither a constitutional provision, one scheme, aggregate correlation nor a single community example establishes uniform implementation, causation or national experience; test institutions, power, agency, intersectionality, region, period and evidence status.

Qualified conclusion: The answer must resolve the sociological demand in "With reference to the election of the President of India, consider the following statements: 1. The value of the vote of each MLA varies from State...".

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: Fix the comparison axis; separate social category from legal status, right from institution and scheme from outcome; test the closest homogenisation, causation or stale-data distractor.

Why this earns marks: It prevents a familiar label or aggregate statistic from replacing the exact concept, institutional mandate, mechanism or evidence status.

How to improve this answer: For "With reference to the election of the President of India, consider the following statements:...", state why the nearest distractor fails on definition, group variation, causation, constitutional boundary, date or status.

PYQ 2 - 2022 GS-II Q4

Question: Discuss the role of the Vice-President of India as the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha. (150 words, 10 marks)

Demand decoding: Discuss requires constitutional role, procedural powers, Speaker distinctions, neutrality limits and a concise institutional verdict.

Model answer: Article 64 makes the Vice-President ex-officio Chairman of Rajya Sabha; this presiding role, not the rare acting-presidential contingency, is the office's regular constitutional work.

The Chairman maintains order, interprets rules, decides points of order and admissibility, allocates proceedings under House rules and refers matters to committees. Though not a Rajya Sabha member, Article 100 gives a casting vote when votes are equal. Under paragraph 6 of the Tenth Schedule, the Chairman decides defection cases concerning Rajya Sabha members, subject to judicial review after Kihoto Hollohan. The Chairman neither votes initially nor certifies Money Bills, unlike the Lok Sabha Speaker's Article 110 function. Under Article 92, while the Vice-President's removal resolution is considered, he/she cannot preside and may speak but not vote.

As Rajya Sabha represents States and revises legislation, neutral rule enforcement is essential. Thus, the Chair's legal powers matter, but perceived impartiality is the foundation of their democratic legitimacy.

Why this earns marks: It anchors the answer in Articles 64, 92 and 100, adds the Tenth Schedule and judicial review, and assesses impartiality rather than merely listing powers.

How to improve this answer: Compress the opening to one sentence, preserve the Article 92 self-removal limitation, and use a two-column Chairman-versus-Speaker mini-table if space permits.

PYQ 3 - 2022 GS-II Q14

Question: Critically examine the procedures through which the Presidents of India and France are elected. (250 words, 15 marks)

Demand decoding: Critically examine requires accurate election mechanisms, their institutional rationale, one limitation of each and a design-sensitive comparison.

Model answer: The two procedures reflect different executive designs. India's President is a nominal federal Head of State; France's President is a powerful actor in a semi-presidential system.

India uses an indirect electoral college of elected MPs and elected State, Delhi and Puducherry MLAs. Nominated members and MLCs are excluded. MLA votes are weighted by the 1971 population-to-seat ratio and MP value balances aggregate State and Union votes. PR-STV, a secret ranked ballot and preference transfers produce a majority-supported winner. The method embeds federal parity and avoids creating a direct rival mandate to the responsible Cabinet. Its weakness is democratic remoteness and complexity.

France uses direct universal suffrage. A candidate needs an absolute majority in the first round; otherwise the two leading candidates contest a second round. The method creates a clear nationwide personal mandate appropriate to a politically active President. However, direct presidential and legislative mandates can conflict, producing cohabitation or divided executive leadership.

Therefore, India's election privileges federal mediation and parliamentary logic; France privileges popular authorization and executive leadership. Neither procedure is superior without reference to the office it elects.

Why this earns marks: It compares indirect federal PR-STV with direct two-round election and links each procedure to parliamentary or semi-presidential executive design.

How to improve this answer: Use parallel subheadings-electorate, ballot, mandate, strength, risk-and reserve the final two lines for why office design explains the difference.

PYQ 4 - 2023 Prelims GS-I Q36

Question: Consider the following statements:

1. If the election of the President is declared void by the Supreme Court, all acts done before the decision become invalid.
2. Presidential election can be postponed because some Legislative Assemblies are dissolved and elections are pending.
3. The Constitution prescribes a time limit for presidential assent to a Bill.

How many statements are correct?

A. Only one B. Only two C. All three D. None

INFERRED ANSWER - NOT OFFICIALLY VERIFIED: D.

Solution: All are false. Article 71(2) preserves acts already done; electoral-college vacancies do not invalidate/postpone the election; Article 111 fixes no assent deadline.

PYQ 5 - 2023 Prelims GS-I Q80

Question: Consider the following statements in respect of election to the President of India:

1. Nominated members of Parliament or State Assemblies are included.
2. Higher the number of elective Assembly seats, higher is each MLA's vote value.
3. Each Madhya Pradesh MLA has a higher value than each Kerala MLA.
4. Puducherry MLA value is higher than Arunachal Pradesh because its population-to-elective-seat ratio is higher.

How many statements are correct?

A. Only one B. Only two C. Only three D. All four

INFERRED ANSWER - NOT OFFICIALLY VERIFIED: A.

Solution: Only statement 4 is correct. Nominated members are excluded. Vote value depends on population divided by elected seats, so more seats do not mechanically increase value. Kerala's per-MLA value exceeds Madhya Pradesh's under the frozen data.

PYQ 8 - 2025 GS-II Q3

Question: Compare and contrast the President's power to pardon in India and in the USA. Are there any limits to it in both countries? What are "preemptive pardons"? (150 words, 10 marks)

Demand decoding: Compare and contrast requires scope, decision-maker, legal limits and the precise meaning and boundary of a pre-emptive pardon.

Model answer: Article 72 vests India's President with pardon, reprieve, respite, remission and commutation for Union-field offences, court-martial cases and every death sentence. The power is exercised on binding Council of Ministers advice (Maru Ram (1980)), may reassess merits (Kehar Singh (1988)) and is reviewable on narrow grounds such as mala fides, arbitrariness and non-application of mind (Epuru Sudhakar).

The US President's Article II power is personal rather than ministerially advised and extends to federal offences. It cannot cover State offences or cases of impeachment. Both powers are constitutionally broad but not legally limitless.

A US preemptive pardon covers completed conduct before charge, trial or conviction; it cannot license a future offence. India should not automatically import that doctrine because Article 72 operates within parliamentary government, ministerial responsibility and Indian review doctrine.

Thus, both are safety valves, but India's clemency is government-advised and reviewable, whereas the US model concentrates responsibility in the elected President.

Why this earns marks: It supplies Article 72 categories, ministerial advice and review doctrine, contrasts US federal/impeachment limits, and defines completed-conduct pre-emption.

How to improve this answer: At 150 words, use a compact India/USA table and state explicitly that a pre-emptive pardon cannot authorise future offences.

M1. "The Indian President is a constitutional sentinel, not an alternative executive." Examine. (10 marks, 150 words)

Demand decoding: Examine requires a qualified thesis, normal binding-advice rule, exceptional situational space and a reasoned sentinel-not-rival verdict.

Model answer: Articles 53 and 74 create a deliberate duality: Union executive power is formally vested in the President, but is exercised on binding ministerial advice. The 42nd Amendment made advice expressly binding; the 44th permits one reconsideration, after which reiterated advice controls.

Therefore, in ordinary majority government the President cannot pursue an independent policy. Yet the office is not empty. Article 78 supports consultation and information; assent and reconsideration can force reflection; hung Lok Sabhas create bounded choices in appointing a Prime Minister; and disputed confidence must be tested on the floor. K. R. Narayanan's return of President's-Rule advice illustrates warning without final defiance.

Thus, the President protects constitutional process through questions, reasons and carefully bounded delay. The office is a sentinel because it preserves rules, but not an alternative executive because democratic responsibility remains with the Council of Ministers.

Why this earns marks: It combines Articles 53, 74 and 78 with the 42nd/44th Amendments and a concrete Narayanan illustration.

How to improve this answer: Name the floor-confidence test immediately after the hung-House example and cut any duplicated "not independent" sentence.

M2. Explain how the presidential election reconciles popular representation with federal balance. (15 marks, 250 words)

Demand decoding: Explain requires the vote-value mechanism and how its Union-State parity logic mediates democracy and federalism.

Model answer: India avoids both hereditary headship and direct presidential rivalry. Articles 54-55 create an indirectly elected President whose electoral college contains elected MPs and elected State, Delhi and Puducherry MLAs.

Popular representation enters because every elector is elected, while nominated members and MLCs are excluded. Federal balance enters through weighted MLA votes based on the 1971 population-to-elected-seat ratio. This creates relative uniformity within each State and comparative weight among States. The total MLA vote value is then divided across elected MPs of both Houses, seeking parity between the States collectively and Parliament collectively. PR-STV and secret preference voting require a winner to cross a majority quota rather than merely lead a fragmented field.

The design has limits: its arithmetic is complex, the 1971 freeze no longer reflects current population distribution, and indirect election weakens immediate public visibility. Yet automatic use of present population could penalise States that controlled population growth, while direct election could create a rival executive mandate.

The system therefore represents a constitutional compromise: democratic but mediated, national but federal, and majoritarian only after transferable preferences.

Why this earns marks: It explains both formulas, PR-STV and the 1971 freeze, then weighs complexity and population-policy concerns.

How to improve this answer: Add the rounding rule only if space remains; prioritise one formula line, one parity line and one balanced limitation paragraph.

M3. Critically examine the President's veto powers after the 2025 Article 143 opinion on assent. (15 marks, 250 words)

Demand decoding: Critically examine requires Article 111 and Article 201 options, the 2025 opinion, competing accountability concerns and a qualified reform verdict.

Model answer: Article 111 allows assent, withholding and one return of a non-Money Bill. Re-passage binds the President. A Money Bill cannot be returned, while assent to a constitutional amendment is obligatory. Textual silence on time creates the pocket-veto possibility.

For a Governor-reserved State Bill, Article 201 permits assent, withholding or direction to return a non-Money Bill; unlike Article 111, State re-passage does not expressly bind the President. This can protect national constitutional concerns but also prolong federal uncertainty.

The Supreme Court's 20 November 2025 Article 143 opinion rejected rigid judicial timelines and automatic deemed assent, reasoning that courts cannot add constitutional consequences. Yet it did not constitutionalise indefinite inertia: glaring, prolonged and unexplained inaction remains open to limited intervention requiring a decision.

The opinion preserves separation of powers but shifts responsibility toward transparent constitutional conduct. Pocket veto should therefore be treated as a narrow consequence of text, not a routine political weapon. Reasons, expedition and parliamentary/federal accountability are preferable to either executive silence or judicial rewriting.

Why this earns marks: It distinguishes Union and reserved-State Bills, accurately rejects deemed assent and fixed judicial clocks, yet preserves review of glaring unexplained delay.

How to improve this answer: Separate Article 111 from Article 201 in two short paragraphs and avoid calling every delay a pocket veto; use that label only for Article 111 silence.

M4. Ordinance power is necessary for urgency but dangerous as a substitute for Parliament. Discuss. (15 marks, 250 words)

Demand decoding: Discuss requires the urgency rationale, constitutional lifecycle, abuse through re-promulgation, case controls and workable safeguards.

Model answer: Article 123 permits temporary legislation when both Houses are not simultaneously in session and immediate action is necessary. An ordinance has Act-like force, can amend a Central Act and operate retrospectively, but cannot exceed Parliament's competence, abridge Fundamental Rights or amend the Constitution.

Necessity supports the power: crises and legal gaps may arise between sittings. Democratic danger arises because promulgation precedes debate, committee scrutiny and bicameral approval. Re-promulgation can convert an emergency bridge into executive legislation.

The Constitution therefore requires laying before both Houses and makes the ordinance cease six weeks after the later reassembly date or earlier disapproval. D. C. Wadhwa (1986 judgment) called routine re-promulgation a fraud on the Constitution. Krishna Kumar Singh (2017) made laying mandatory, reaffirmed review and rejected automatic survival of benefits from every lapsed ordinance.

The appropriate response is not abolition but constitutional discipline: reasons demonstrating urgency, prompt parliamentary scrutiny, committee review and refusal to re-promulgate except on genuinely new circumstances. The power is valid when it bridges time; it becomes abusive when it bypasses representation.

Why this earns marks: It combines Article 123 competence and expiry rules with D.C. Wadhwa (1986) and Krishna Kumar Singh (2017), then proposes legislative scrutiny.

How to improve this answer: For 250 words, add one sentence on mandatory laying and remove any generic crisis example that does not prove immediate necessity.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Article 123 permits temporary legislation when both Houses are not simultaneously in session and immediate action is necessary. An ordinance has Act-like force, can amend a Central Act and operate retrospectively, but cannot exceed Parliament's competence, abridge Fundamental Rights or amend the Constitution.

Necessity supports the power: crises and legal gaps may arise between sittings. Democratic danger arises because promulgation precedes debate, committee scrutiny and bicameral approval. Re-promulgation can convert an emergency bridge into executive legislation.

The Constitution therefore requires laying before both Houses and makes the ordinance cease six weeks after the later reassembly date or earlier disapproval. D. C. Wadhwa (1986 judgment) called routine re-promulgation a fraud on the Constitution. Krishna Kumar Singh (2017) made laying mandatory, reaffirmed review and rejected automatic survival of benefits from every lapsed ordinance.

The appropriate response is not abolition but constitutional discipline: reasons demonstrating urgency, prompt parliamentary scrutiny, committee review and refusal to re-promulgate except on genuinely new circumstances. The power is valid when it bridges time; it becomes abusive when it bypasses representation.

- 1. Claim and named evidence: M4. Ordinance power is necessary for urgency but dangerous as a substitute for Parliament. Discuss. (15 marks, 250 words) Analysis: Connect structure or institution -> norm/incentive/power/agency mechanism -> differentiated social outcome -> feedback or policy implication. Qualification: State internal group variation, regional/historical scope, correlation-versus-causation or legal-norm-versus-lived-outcome boundary.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, spend about one-sixth of the time decoding the directive and drawing the mechanism; define and state a thesis; organise five points as claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification; compress examples before mechanisms and reserve the final minute for causation, group variation and legal-outcome limits.

M5. Compare the pardoning powers of the President and Governor and explain their judicial limits. (10 marks, 150 words)

Demand decoding: Compare requires jurisdiction-by-jurisdiction Article 72/161 contrast plus advice and judicial-review limits.

Model answer: Article 72 empowers the President to grant pardon, reprieve, respite, remission or commutation in court-martial cases, Union-field offences and every death sentence. Article 161 gives the Governor corresponding authority over State-field offences but no court-martial power and no power to pardon a death sentence, though the Governor may suspend, remit or commute it.

Neither is personal mercy. Maru Ram (1980) binds both to ministerial advice. Kehar Singh (1988) (1988 judgment) allows executive reconsideration of merits without converting the President into an appellate court. Epuru Sudhakar permits limited judicial review for mala fides, arbitrariness, non-application of mind and relevant-material defects.

Thus, clemency is broader than ordinary adjudication but not above constitutionalism: jurisdiction differs, elected governments bear responsibility, and courts police the integrity rather than the merits of mercy.

Why this earns marks: It correctly separates death-sentence pardon from suspension/remission/commutation and uses Maru Ram (1980), Kehar Singh (1988) and Epuru Sudhakar.

How to improve this answer: Use a three-row President/Governor table and preserve the distinction between reviewing decision-making defects and rehearing mercy merits.

M6. Evaluate the neutrality challenge facing the Vice-President as Chairman of Rajya Sabha. (10 marks, 150 words)

Demand decoding: Evaluate requires powers, structural source of partisan tension, legal safeguards and an institutional legitimacy judgment.

Model answer: Article 64 makes the Vice-President ex-officio Chairman of Rajya Sabha, a chamber representing States and revising national legislation. The Chairman maintains order, interprets rules, controls admissibility under House procedure, uses a casting vote under Article 100 and decides Rajya Sabha defection cases under the Tenth Schedule.

Neutrality is difficult because the Vice-President emerges from a political election while rulings affect government-opposition competition. Speaking opportunities, disciplinary action and timing of defection decisions can alter parliamentary outcomes. Legal safeguards include absence of a first vote, judicial review of Tenth Schedule decisions and Article 92's bar on presiding/voting during the Chair's own removal motion.

Yet law cannot manufacture trust. Consistent precedents, reasoned rulings and balanced enforcement are essential. The Chairman's formal power secures order; perceived impartiality secures legitimacy.

Why this earns marks: It links Articles 64, 92 and 100 and Tenth Schedule authority to concrete neutrality risks, then distinguishes legality from trust.

How to improve this answer: Add one balanced example of a reasoned ruling or consistent precedent rather than alleging bias; keep the conclusion focused on perceived impartiality.

M7. Distinguish vacancy and removal rules for the President and Vice-President. Why do the differences matter? (10 marks, 150 words)

Demand decoding: Distinguish and explain why requires side-by-side removal and vacancy rules followed by a functional rationale.

Model answer: The President is impeached under Article 61 for violation of the Constitution: either House may initiate, one-fourth must sign, 14 days' notice applies and both Houses require two-thirds of total membership. A presidential casual vacancy must be filled within six months; the Vice-President acts meanwhile.

The Vice-President is removed by a Rajya Sabha resolution passed by a majority of all then members and agreed to by Lok Sabha. Only Rajya Sabha initiates, no ground is stated and the process is not impeachment. A Vice-Presidential casual vacancy is filled as soon as possible, without a six-month textual deadline; the successor receives a fresh five-year term.

The differences track function: presidential removal protects the Head of State through a very high threshold, while Rajya Sabha leads removal of its own presiding officer. The 2025 transition to C. P. Radhakrishnan illustrates Article 68's prompt-election rule.

Why this earns marks: It accurately contrasts Article 61 with Article 67(b), the two vacancy timelines and the fresh-term rule, then links procedure to office function.

How to improve this answer: Present the rules in a compact table and explicitly state that Lok Sabha agreement to VP removal follows ordinary voting rules, not presidential impeachment arithmetic.

OPTIONAL ADVANCED DEPTH - NOT REQUIRED FOR A CORE ANSWER

PART II - Optional Advanced enrichment

Skipping this Part does not reduce answer completeness. Use it for deeper evaluation, comparison and interview-level refinement.

A1. Why the President is neither ruler nor rubber stamp

- [ANALYSIS] "Rubber stamp" is too strong because constitutional form can delay, warn and force reconsideration; "independent executive" is equally wrong because reiterated advice binds.
- [ANALYSIS] Bagehot's rights - to be consulted, to encourage and to warn - illuminate the office, but Indian answers must anchor them in Articles 74 and 78 rather than importing convention as text.
- [ANALYSIS] The office has maximum leverage where democratic authorization is least clear: hung Houses, contested confidence, caretaker situations and questionable dissolution advice.
- [LIMIT] Leverage is not policy autonomy. The President cannot substitute a preferred programme for the elected ministry's.

A2. Election method follows office design: India and France

Dimension	India	France
System	Parliamentary republic	Semi-presidential Fifth Republic
President's normal role	Nominal Head of State	Politically powerful executive actor
Electorate	Indirect federal electoral college	Direct universal adult suffrage
Voting	Weighted PR-STV, secret ballot	Two-round majority election
Majority method	Transfer lower preferences until quota	Absolute majority first round; top two contest second if needed
Mandate	Federal-symbolic and mediated	Direct nationwide personal mandate
Risk	Indirectness can appear remote	Dual legitimacy/cohabitation can divide executive authority

- [ANALYSIS] India's mechanism prevents a rival popular executive mandate and represents federal units.
- [ANALYSIS] France's mechanism legitimises a strong President but may generate tension with a parliamentary majority of another political camp.
- [VERDICT] The procedures are not competing election technologies in isolation; each matches a different constitutional job description.

A3. India and USA: pardon power

Dimension	India	United States
Text	Article 72	Article II, Section 2
Office type	Nominal executive	Real presidential executive
Advice	Binding Council of Ministers	Personal presidential power
Jurisdiction	Union field, court-martial, death sentence	Federal offences against United States
Express limits	Constitutional field; advice and review	Cannot pardon impeachment; no State offences
Judicial control	Limited review of decision-making defects	Very broad power; constitutional limits remain
Pre-emptive pardon	Do not mechanically import US doctrine	Completed conduct may be pardoned before charge/conviction; not future conduct

- [ANALYSIS] Both systems treat clemency as a safety valve, but accountability differs: parliamentary ministerial responsibility in India versus direct presidential political responsibility in the USA.
- [LIMIT] "Pre-emptive" does not mean authorization of a future crime.

A4. Ordinances and democratic legitimacy

- [ANALYSIS] Necessity argument: crises and immediate legal gaps may arise between sittings.
- [ANALYSIS] Abuse argument: the executive can bypass debate, committee scrutiny and an unfavourable second chamber.
- [ANALYSIS] Constitutional settlement: temporary force, mandatory laying, legislative disapproval, judicial review and anti-re-promulgation.
- [LIMIT] Courts police constitutional abuse but cannot replace Parliament's political duty to scrutinise ordinances promptly.

A5. Veto, assent delay and constitutional time

- [ANALYSIS] A pocket veto is a consequence of textual silence, not a separately enumerated power.
- [ANALYSIS] Delay can preserve deliberative space but can also become an unaccountable veto through inertia.
- [CURRENT] The 2025 Article 143 opinion rejected rigid court-made clocks and deemed assent while retaining limited review of glaring unexplained delay.
- [VERDICT] The sound reform direction is transparent reasons and constitutional expedition, not judicial rewriting of an absent deadline.

A6. Clemency as mercy, public power and rule of law

- [ANALYSIS] Clemency corrects exceptional harshness, accounts for post-conviction developments and permits public-policy mercy.
- [ANALYSIS] Because it alters a judicially imposed consequence, reasons/material must not be caste-, religion-, status- or politics-driven.
- [ANALYSIS] Limited review respects separation of powers: courts inspect the integrity of the process rather than retrying clemency merits.

A7. Chairmanship, federal deliberation and neutrality

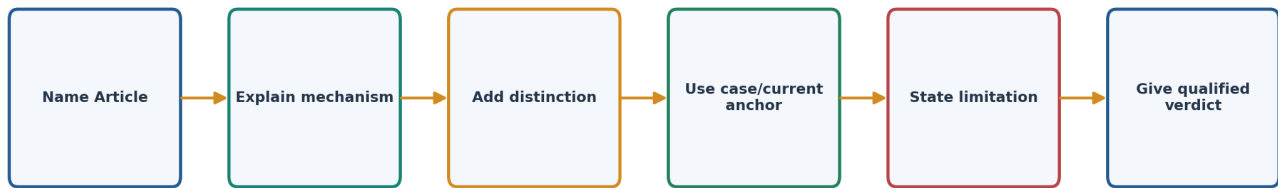

- [ANALYSIS] The Vice-President is elected nationally by Parliament but presides over the chamber designed to represent States; this creates a permanent neutrality test.
- [ANALYSIS] Agenda rulings, speaking opportunities, disciplinary action and anti-defection timing can affect substantive political outcomes.
- [ANALYSIS] Legal review catches some defects; daily legitimacy still depends on consistent procedure and reasoned rulings.
- [VERDICT] The Chair's strongest authority is reputational: opposition compliance rises when procedure appears even-handed.

A8. Reform matrix

Issue	Reform-compatible response	Constitutional caution
Hung-House discretion	Published order of preference and immediate floor test	Do not freeze all political contingencies
Assent delay	Reasons, tracking and constitutional expedition	No invented deemed assent after 2025 opinion
Ordinance overuse	Prompt committee/parliamentary scrutiny	Urgency power remains constitutionally valid
Mercy delay	Time-bound administration and full records	Final decision remains executive on advice
Chair neutrality	Reasoned rulings and predictable rule enforcement	House autonomy and judicial limits remain
VP vacancy	Prompt notified election	Article 68 has no six-month text

ANSWER LINE

The President is a constitutional sentinel without a rival popular mandate; the Vice-President is principally a parliamentary presiding officer.
 MUST REMEMBER: Map Articles 52-73 office by office: electoral colleges, vote values, qualifications, oath, term, vacancy, impeachment/removal, Article 71 disputes, aid and advice, veto, ordinance and clemency require separate procedural chains.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 2/12: Election Colleges And Statutory Timeline

ARTICLE 54: elected MPs plus elected State, Delhi and Puducherry MLAs
 PRESIDENT EXCLUDES: nominated members and all Legislative Council members
 ARTICLE 66: both Houses of Parliament, elected and nominated; no MLAs
 1952 ACT: notification, nomination, scrutiny, withdrawal, poll and petitions
 1974 RULES: forms, ballot and counting machinery
 1997 REFORM: President 50+50; VP 20+20; Rs 15,000 deposit

MECHANISM

Constitutional electoral design is administered through the 1952 Act, 1974 Rules and anti-frivolous-candidature reform.

ANSWER LINE

Never transfer one office's electoral college or nomination threshold to the other.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 3/12: Vote Value, Pr-Stv, Count And Article 71

MLA VALUE: 1971 population / elected MLAs / 1000 with constitutional rounding
MP VALUE: total MLA vote value / elected MPs of both Houses
The same elected-MP vote value applies in Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha
PR-STV uses ranked secret ballots and transferable preferences
Winning quota is more than half of valid vote value
ARTICLE 71: Supreme Court finally decides both presidential and vice-presidential disputes

MECHANISM

Weighted votes seek Union-State parity, while transferable preferences seek majority support for a single office.

ANSWER LINE

Vacancies in the college do not invalidate the election, and a void election does not erase prior official acts.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 4/12: Qualifications, Oath, Term, Vacancy, Removal And Immunity

PRESIDENT: citizen, 35, Lok Sabha qualification, no disqualifying office of profit
VICE-PRESIDENT: citizen, 35, Rajya Sabha qualification, no disqualifying office of profit
President oath: CJI or senior-most available Supreme Court judge; VP oath: President or appointee
Both terms are five years; re-election is not constitutionally capped
President casual vacancy: election within six months; VP vacancy: as soon as possible
ARTICLE 61 impeachment differs from Article 67(b) VP removal; Article 361 is procedural immunity

MECHANISM

Separate eligibility, continuity and removal rules protect each office according to its constitutional function.

ANSWER LINE

Nominated MPs impeach but do not elect the President; State MLAs elect but do not impeach.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 5/12: Aid, Advice And Bounded Situational Discretion

ARTICLE 74: Council of Ministers with Prime Minister aids and advises
42ND AMENDMENT: advice expressly binding
44TH AMENDMENT: one reconsideration; reiterated advice binds
SHAMSHER SINGH (1974): constitutional head works through responsible government
Hung House: identify the person most likely to command Lok Sabha confidence
ARTICLE 163 recognises only constitutionally required gubernatorial discretion, not an unlimited domain

MECHANISM

Binding advice governs normal politics; narrow situational judgment protects continuity when a clear accountable majority is absent.

ANSWER LINE

The President may warn, seek information and return advice once, but cannot create a personal executive programme.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 6/12: Presidential Power Clusters And Accountability

EXECUTIVE: appointments, Rules of Business and Article 78 information
LEGISLATIVE: sessions, dissolution, addresses, messages, nominations and joint sitting
FINANCIAL: recommendation routes, Budget, Contingency Fund and Finance Commission
JUDICIAL: appointments, Article 143 reference and Article 72 clemency
DIPLOMATIC AND MILITARY: formal authority subject to constitutional government
EMERGENCY: Articles 352, 356 and 360 under separate Part XVIII safeguards

MECHANISM

The office has broad formal powers, but ministerial responsibility, statute and judicial review allocate real decision-making authority.

ANSWER LINE

A complete answer names the exact power, advice route, legal limit and accountability mechanism.

CLOSE DISTINCTION: The President is indirectly elected by elected MPs and elected MLAs of States plus Delhi and Puducherry; the Vice-President is elected by all members of both Houses. Presidential impeachment under Article 61 and Vice-Presidential removal under Article 67(b) are not interchangeable.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 7/12: Article 111 Veto And Article 201 Reserved Bills

ORDINARY UNION BILL: assent, withhold or return once; repassage requires assent
MONEY BILL: assent or withhold; cannot be returned
CONSTITUTION AMENDMENT BILL: assent is obligatory after the 24th Amendment
ARTICLE 111 sets no decision deadline, creating the pocket-veto possibility
ARTICLE 201: reserved non-Money State Bill may be returned through the Governor
2025 INSC 1333: no court-made rigid clock or deemed assent; glaring unexplained delay remains reviewable

MECHANISM

Bill type and constitutional route determine whether return, withholding, repassage or review is available.

ANSWER LINE

Do not apply Article 111's mandatory assent after repassage to a State Bill under Article 201.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 8/12: Article 123 Ordinance Lifecycle And Case Control

TRIGGER: both Houses not simultaneously in session and immediate action necessary
FORCE: Act-like, within Parliament competence and Fundamental Rights
CAPACITY: may amend Central law and operate retrospectively within constitutional limits
EXIT: laid before both Houses; ceases six weeks after later reassembly unless earlier ended
D.C. WADHWA (1986): routine re-promulgation is fraud on the Constitution
KRISHNA KUMAR SINGH (2017): laying mandatory; satisfaction reviewable; no automatic enduring rights

MECHANISM

An ordinance bridges an urgent legislative gap; mandatory laying prevents it becoming an executive substitute for Parliament.

ANSWER LINE

The constitutional cure for ordinance abuse is scrutiny and anti-re-promulgation, not denial of genuine urgency.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 9/12: Article 72 Clemency, Review And Governor Contrast

FIVE FORMS: pardon, reprieve, respite, remission and commutation
PRESIDENT: court-martial, Union-field offences and every death sentence
GOVERNOR: State field; no court-martial pardon and no death-sentence pardon
MARU RAM (1980): clemency follows binding ministerial advice
KEHAR SINGH (1988): executive may examine merits afresh without becoming an appellate court
EPURU SUDHAKAR (2006): limited review for mala fides, arbitrariness and material defects

MECHANISM

Clemency is executive grace structured by jurisdiction, responsible-government advice and rule-of-law review.

ANSWER LINE

Courts review defects in clemency decision-making; they do not substitute their own mercy decision.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 10/12: Vice-President: Election, Term, Removal And Vacancy

ARTICLE 66: all elected and nominated MPs; equal votes; PR-STV secret ballot
QUALIFICATION: citizen, 35 and qualified for Rajya Sabha
ARTICLE 67(b): Rajya Sabha effective-majority resolution; Lok Sabha agreement
Removal begins only in Rajya Sabha, needs 14 days notice and states no ground
ARTICLE 68: casual vacancy election as soon as possible, with a fresh five-year term
ARTICLE 71: Supreme Court election-dispute route applies to the Vice-President too

MECHANISM

The Vice-President's narrower parliamentary electorate matches the office's principal Rajya Sabha function.

ANSWER LINE

Vice-presidential removal is not impeachment, and its casual-vacancy rule has no presidential six-month deadline.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 11/12: Rajya Sabha Chairman And Acting-President Role

ARTICLE 64: ex-officio Chairman and not a Rajya Sabha member
ARTICLE 100: no first vote; casting vote on equality
ARTICLE 92: during own removal debate, may speak but cannot preside or vote
TENTH SCHEDULE: decides Rajya Sabha defection cases subject to judicial review
ARTICLE 65: acts as President during vacancy or inability
While acting as President, Deputy Chairman performs Rajya Sabha Chair duties

MECHANISM

The Chair's procedural authority becomes legitimate only through consistent, reasoned and visibly impartial exercise.

ANSWER LINE

For the 2022 PYQ, compare the Chairman with the Lok Sabha Speaker and end on federal-chamber neutrality.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 12/12: Pyq Firewall, Answer Spines And Qualified Verdict

EIGHT VERIFIED PYQS: 2018, 2022, 2023 and 2025 routes

PRELIMS: colleges, vote values, void election, assent, ordinance and clemency

10 MARKS: provision -> mechanism -> case/example -> limit -> verdict

15 MARKS: design -> procedure -> comparison/critique -> balanced verdict

20 MARKS: constitutional position -> power clusters -> advice/review -> reform

STRICT PRACTICE: 28 original + 8 remedial MCQs in ABCD x 9 rotation

MECHANISM

Exam execution moves from the exact Article to mechanism, evidence, qualification and a directive-sensitive conclusion.

ANSWER LINE

The two offices preserve continuity without displacing parliamentary responsibility: dignity and discretion remain constitutionally bounded.

LEGAL/SOURCE LIMIT: Current office control is Droupadi Murmu as President and C. P.

Radhakrishnan as Vice-President, elected 9 September and assuming office 12 September 2025.

Articles 72 and 123 remain advice-bound and judicially reviewable within settled constitutional limits.
