Administrative Tribunals - Complete Uncompressed Learning Session

Complete independent learning session + verified PYQ routing + solved practice workbook + final consolidated register notes

Legal/current control date: 5 September 2026 (Asia/Kolkata)

Tag key: [FACT] = named constitutional, statutory, official, judicial or audited local support; [ANALYSIS] = reasoned examination; [CURRENT] = checked for the control date; [LIMIT] = qualification. Answer-writing discipline: claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification.

- [CURRENT] Status is controlled to 5 September 2026, Asia/Kolkata.
- [CURRENT] Live official refresh, 5 September 2026: Articles 323A/323B, the Administrative Tribunals Act 1985, CAT material and the Supreme Court's tribunal-independence line through the judgment reported as 2025 INSC 1330 were rechecked on 5 September 2026. Appointment, tenure and service-condition statements carry an exact dated caveat because the common tribunal framework remains litigation- and implementation-sensitive.

How to Use This Package

[FACT] The complete Basic/Core owner is taught first in source order. Cross-topic Markdown, local OCR books and verified PYQ ledgers supplement it.

[FACT] Advanced-owner material appears only after the Core and practice sections under the required optional-depth label.

[LIMIT] Tribunals supplement specialist adjudication; they do not replace High Courts or the Supreme Court. L. Chandra Kumar (1997) preserves Articles 226/227 review. CAT, SATs, other Article 323B tribunals, commissions, courts and Lok Adalats must not be collapsed into one institutional category.

DEEP-REVIEW LEARNING CONTRACT

Control	Binding rule for this package
Syllabus boundary	Complete Polity Basic/Core is answer-complete before optional Advanced depth.
Text hierarchy	Constitution/Act/rule/notification -> binding judgment -> authoritative institution -> Constituent Assembly material -> standard textbook.
Legal precision	State exact Article, Part, Schedule, amendment, case, date, institution, procedure, exception and current operative status.
Doctrine method	Text -> institutional mechanism -> controlling case -> exception/limit -> present legal status.
Chronology	Enactment, commencement, amendment, judgment and implementation dates remain separate.
Boundary method	Topic ownership and cross-owner bridges are explicit; adjacent PYQs never become fabricated direct routes.
Practice contract	Every solved item has demand decoding, examiner-grade model, timed compression plan, marks rationale and answer-specific improvement.
Approval	This immutable successor remains approved: false pending explicit approval.

EVIDENCE, PYQ AND CURRENT-STATUS CONTROL

- Four independent ledgers: literal syllabus/index, indispensable prerequisites, standard textbook taxonomy and complete routed 2018-2026 PYQ demands were built before repair.

- Hostile search: missing Articles, Parts, Schedules, amendments, cases, institutional mechanisms, exceptions, chronology, source status and cross-owner boundaries are hard failures.

- Answer rule: claim -> exact constitutional/statutory/case evidence -> institutional analysis -> exception or qualification.

- Current-status note, rechecked 2026-09-05: Rechecked 2026-09-05: Articles 323A/323B, the 1985 Act, L. Chandra Kumar (1997) and 2025 INSC 1330 remain controlling. Parliament passed the Tribunals Reforms Bill, 2026; no official assented Act or commencement notification was located, so the Bill is not treated as operative law.

- Claim: the two tribunal Articles differ in subject and law-maker. Provisions: Art 323A (public-service recruitment/service conditions; Parliament only; one field) vs Art 323B (enumerated fields - taxation, foreign exchange, labour, land reform, elections, etc.; Parliament or State Legislature; multiple fields); both inserted by the 42nd Amendment, 1976 (Part XIV-A). Mechanism: enables a specialised, exclusive adjudicatory channel. Limitation: [FACT] they are not identical - the exclusion-of-review clauses in both were read down by L. Chandra Kumar (1997).

- Claim: CAT is a creature of statute, not the Constitution. Provision: the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 created the Central Administrative Tribunal and enables State (SAT) and Joint tribunals; CAT covers recruitment and service matters of covered Union public servants. Mechanism: specialist members + simpler procedure. Limitation: [LIMIT] statutory jurisdiction with exclusions (e.g., defence personnel, Supreme Court staff, parliamentary secretariat staff).
- Claim: tribunal substitution was accepted only if the alternative is effective. Case: *S.P. Sampath Kumar v. - Claim: tribunalising a court's core function needs independence guarantees. Case: Union of India v. R. Gandhi (2010) (NCLT/NCLAT) upheld transferring company-law jurisdiction to tribunals only if members' qualifications, selection and service conditions preserve independence and separation of powers. Mechanism: the template for every later tribunal-reform challenge. Limitation: [FACT] a rule violating these standards is struck down, as repeatedly since.
- Claim: courts will strike down tribunals that usurp their constitutional role. Case: Madras Bar Association V (2021). Union of India (2014) struck down the National Tax Tribunal Act, 2005 because vesting the HC's power over substantial questions of law in an executive-controlled tribunal violated separation of powers/basic structure. Mechanism: an outer limit on tribunalisation. Limitation: [LIMIT] the objection was to the design, not to tax adjudication as such.

- Claim: the 2017 rules were struck down for compromising independence. Case: Roger Mathew v. South Indian Bank (2019) Ltd (2019) invalidated the Tribunal Rules 2017 as contrary to judicial independence, ordered re-framing, and referred the Money-Bill question to a larger bench. Mechanism: judicial policing of appointment design. Limitation: [CURRENT] the Money-Bill reference remained pending - do not state it as settled.
- Claim: the 2021 Act repeated defects and was repeatedly corrected. Provision/status: the Tribunals Reforms Act, 2021 abolished several appellate tribunals (transferring work to HCs/commercial courts) and prescribed a four-year tenure, minimum age of 50 and a search-cum-selection committee. [CURRENT] [FACT] On 19 Nov 2025 (2025 INSC 1330) the SC struck down the re-enacted age/panel/tenure/allowance provisions, made MBA (IV)/(V) controlling, and directed a National Tribunals Commission within four months; a 9 Mar 2026 order gave temporary continuity to specified serving incumbents until 8 Sep 2026 or the maximum age. Limitation: [CURRENT] these dated holdings move - re-verify before citing; a struck-down provision is not the law.

SESSION 16 - CAT PROCESS, EXCLUSIONS AND JUDICIAL-REVIEW CHAIN

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: CAT adjudicates covered service disputes through statutory procedure and remains subject to High Court review.

Technical definition: Sections 2, 14 and 20-22 define exclusions, jurisdiction, exhaustion, limitation and natural-justice procedure.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

CAT access begins with statutory coverage and ends with constitutional supervision, not an automatic direct appeal to the Supreme Court.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- CAT
- Section 2
- Section 14
- natural justice
- High Court Division Bench

- L. Chandra Kumar (1997)

How to use them: Frame the answer through CAT; define Section 2, connect Section 14 with natural justice to explain the mechanism, and use High Court Division Bench for the decisive comparison or qualification.

CAT process, exclusions and judicial-review chain denotes the constitutional rules and institutional links organised around covered recruitment/service matter - Original Application before competent CAT bench. CAT process, exclusions and judicial-review chain operates through notice, pleadings, records, hearing - reasoned tribunal order, connected with High Court Division Bench under Articles 226/227. The operative mechanism matters because supreme Court route under the Constitution. Its principal consequence is that natural justice not rigidly bound by CPC civil-court-type statutory powers. The decisive contrast is between contempt power as provided interim relief within jurisdiction and specified constitutional officeholders and excluded services follow the Act's exact text. The exam-safe limitation is that criminal prosecution, ordinary civil disputes and every public-employment question do not. SERVICE GRIEVANCE covered recruitment/service matter -> Original Application before competent CAT bench -> notice, pleadings, records, hearing -> reasoned tribunal order -> High Court Division Bench under Articles 226/227 -> Supreme Court route under the Constitution.

PROCEDURE natural justice | not rigidly bound by CPC | civil-court-type statutory powers

| contempt power as provided | interim relief within jurisdiction.

BOUNDARIES specified constitutional officeholders and excluded services follow the Act's exact text; criminal prosecution, ordinary civil disputes and every public-employment question do not automatically become CAT matters.

[LIMIT] Article 136 is not a substitute for the L. Chandra Kumar (1997) High Court review chain.

CURRENT STATUS CONTROL - 28 AUGUST 2026

- Official primary baseline: 2025 INSC 1330 (19 November 2025) invalidated specified re-enacted service-condition provisions and directed a National Tribunals Commission within four months.
- Continuity order: the Supreme Court order of 9 March 2026 extended specified incumbents whose terms expired in the following six months until 8 September 2026 or maximum age, whichever came first.
- Legislative caution: reports and the published 2026 Bill indicate assent to a new tribunal-reform enactment in August 2026, but an operative commencement notification was not located on India Code during this review. The package therefore does not treat the proposed National Tribunals Commission as operational without the Gazette commencement instrument.
- Exam rule: distinguish enactment, commencement, constitution of the body and actual appointments; never collapse them into one status claim.

POLITY HOSTILE SEMANTIC-REVIEW CORE CONTROL

- Must remember: Keep Article 323A administrative tribunals, Article 323B subject tribunals and the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 institutionally distinct.
- Close distinction: Preserve L. Chandra Kumar (1997)'s first-instance tribunal role together with Articles 226/227 review by the territorial High Court Division Bench.
- Legal/source limit: Parliament passed the Tribunals Reforms Bill, 2026, but no official assented Act or commencement notification was located by 5 September 2026.

Semantic-completeness ownership and PYQ control

- Constitutional source: the Constitution (Forty-second Amendment) Act, 1976 inserted Part XIV-A. Article 323A permits Parliament alone to create administrative tribunals for recruitment and service conditions. Article 323B permits the competent Parliament or State Legislature to create tribunals for the listed subject fields.
- Statutory institution: the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 creates CAT and enables State and Joint Administrative Tribunals. CAT is a statutory service tribunal, not a constitutional court or a generic forum for every dispute involving government.
- Jurisdiction and exclusions: CAT principally covers recruitment and service matters of persons appointed to covered Union civil services/posts and notified bodies. Armed-forces members, Supreme Court/High Court and subordinate-court staff, and legislative-secretariat staff fall within the Act's express exclusion structure.
- Procedure and powers: applications, limitation, transfer of covered proceedings, flexible procedure, civil-court powers and contempt operate under the Act and rules. Procedural flexibility does not remove notice, hearing, reasons, impartiality or jurisdictional limits.
- Review chain: S.P. Sampath Kumar accepted an effective alternative only with independence safeguards. L. Chandra Kumar (1997) invalidated exclusion of Articles 226/227 and 32 review, retained tribunals as courts of first instance in their fields, and routes their decisions to the territorial High Court Division Bench before the Supreme Court.
- Independence line: R.K. Jain exposed structural weakness; Union of India v Union of India v. R. Gandhi (2010), Rojer Mathew v. South Indian Bank (2019) and the Madras Bar Association decisions control judicial dominance in selection, tenure, service conditions, infrastructure and separation from sponsoring ministries.
- 2025 judgment: Madras Bar Association V (2021) Union of India, 2025 INSC 1330 (19 November 2025), invalidated re-enacted appointment/service-condition defects in the 2021 framework and directed creation of an independent National Tribunals Commission.
- 2026 continuity order: the Supreme Court's 9 March 2026 interim order continued specified incumbents whose terms expired in the six-month window until 8 September 2026 or the applicable maximum age, whichever was earlier. It preserved functioning and did not reverse the merits judgment.
- Live legislative status, checked 5 September 2026: Parliament passed the Tribunals Reforms Bill, 2026, proposing repeal of the 2021 Act and a judiciary-led National Tribunals Commission. No official assented Act or commencement notification was located on India Code/Legislative Department; the Bill is therefore not represented here as operative law.
- PYQ firewall: the verified 2025 GS-II demand on administrative tribunals and 2021 rationalisation is owned here. Body-specific appellate structures remain with their sector owners and no unverified PYQ or answer key is added.

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE

VERIFIED DIRECT PYQ 1 - 2018 GS-II Q12 - 15 marks - 250 words

Question (exact): "How far do you agree with the view that tribunals curtail the jurisdiction of ordinary courts? In view of the above, discuss the constitutional validity and competency of the tribunals in India."

Model answer: Tribunals curtail the ordinary courts' first-instance jurisdiction in assigned fields, but they cannot extinguish constitutional supervision.

Articles 323A and 323B, inserted by the Forty-second Amendment, authorise specialised adjudication. The Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 accordingly channels covered service disputes to CAT or a competent State or Joint Tribunal. Expertise, flexible procedure and high-volume disposal support constitutional validity.

The original exclusion model went too far. In L. Chandra Kumar (1997) v Union of India (1997), the Supreme Court held judicial review under Articles 226/227 and 32 to be part of the basic structure. Tribunal decisions are therefore scrutinised by a Division Bench of the territorial High Court. Tribunals may decide constitutional questions at first instance, but cannot test the parent statute that creates them.

Competency also depends on institutional design. Union of India v Union of India v. R. Gandhi (2010) and the Madras Bar Association line require qualifications, selection, tenure and administration equivalent to the judicial work transferred.

Thus, tribunals constitutionally narrow original court access but remain supplemental, not substitutive. Their legitimacy rests on specialisation, independence, natural justice and unexcluded judicial review.

Why this earns marks: It concedes first-instance curtailment, states the constitutional source, applies the controlling holding and tests institutional competency.

How to improve this answer: Add one subject-specific tribunal illustration only if accurate; do not imply that Article 136 is the ordinary route after CAT.

Compression guidance: Keep the qualified thesis, Articles 323A/323B, CAT example, L. Chandra Kumar (1997), independence doctrine and verdict.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "VERIFIED DIRECT PYQ 1 - 2018 GS-II Q12 - 15 marks - 250 words", all clauses, a sociological mechanism, historical trajectory, intersectional and regional variation, named Indian evidence, constitutional/institutional boundaries and a qualified conclusion.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Tribunals curtail the ordinary courts' first-instance jurisdiction in assigned fields, but they cannot extinguish constitutional supervision.

Articles 323A and 323B, inserted by the Forty-second Amendment, authorise specialised adjudication. The Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 accordingly channels covered service disputes to CAT or a competent State or Joint Tribunal. Expertise, flexible procedure and high-volume disposal support constitutional validity.

The original exclusion model went too far. In *L. VERIFIED DIRECT PYQ 2 - 2019 GS-II Q2 - 10 marks - 150 words Question (exact): "The Central Administrative Tribunal which was established for redressal of grievances and complaints by or against central government employees, nowadays is exercising its powers as an independent judicial authority." Explain.

Model answer: CAT is a statutory adjudicatory body created under the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 pursuant to Article 323A. It decides recruitment and service-condition disputes within Section 14 coverage through reasoned orders.

Its judicial character appears in adversarial hearing, natural justice, powers concerning evidence and documents, interim relief, review and contempt. It is not rigidly bound by the Code of Civil Procedure. Judicial and administrative expertise can improve service-law adjudication.

Independence, however, is qualified. Jurisdiction depends on the Act and notifications; excluded categories remain outside it; appointments, tenure, vacancies and administrative support can generate executive dependence. Under L. Chandra Kumar (1997), CAT is the court of first instance, but its decisions remain reviewable by a High Court Division Bench under Articles 226/227.

CAT therefore exercises genuine independent judicial authority in function, but not the unreviewable status or institutional security of a constitutional court.

Why this earns marks: It explains CAT's source, adjudicatory powers, structural qualification and correct High Court review chain.

How to improve this answer: Name Sections 14 and 22 if confidently recalled; avoid saying CAT issues constitutional writs equivalent to a High Court.

Compression guidance: Use source, four judicial markers, two limits, L. Chandra Kumar (1997) and the qualified verdict.

VERIFIED SUPPORTING PYQ 3 - 2024 GS-II Q2 - 10 marks - 150 words

Question (exact): "Explain and distinguish between Lok Adalats and Arbitration Tribunals. Whether they entertain civil as well as criminal cases?"

Model answer: Lok Adalats are statutory settlement forums under the Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987 and Article 39A. They secure compromise in pending or pre-litigation disputes; an award is deemed a civil-court decree, is final and ordinarily carries no appeal. They may handle civil disputes and compoundable criminal matters, but not non-compoundable offences.

An arbitral tribunal is a private adjudicatory forum constituted by agreement under the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996. It decides arbitrable civil and commercial disputes and gives an award enforceable as a decree, subject to limited Section 34 challenge. Criminal liability is not arbitrable.

Thus, Lok Adalat is statutory, conciliatory and access-oriented; arbitration is consensual, adjudicatory and party-financed. A Permanent Lok Adalat may decide specified public-utility disputes on merits after conciliation fails, but it remains distinct from an Article 323A administrative tribunal.

Why this earns marks: It answers both comparison and civil/criminal jurisdiction, including the Permanent Lok Adalat qualification.

How to improve this answer: Do not say every criminal case reaches Lok Adalat or that an ordinary Lok Adalat adjudicates without settlement.

Compression guidance: Retain legal bases, method, outcome, civil/criminal rule and one Permanent Lok Adalat caveat.

VERIFIED DIRECT PYQ 4 - 2025 GS-II Q2 - 10 marks - 150 words

Question (exact): "Comment on the need of administrative tribunals as compared to the court system. Assess the impact of the recent tribunal reforms through rationalization of tribunals made in 2021."

Model answer: Administrative tribunals remain necessary where technical, repetitive and high-volume disputes benefit from specialist members, flexible procedure, regional benches and lower formality. They can relieve courts, but only if vacancies, infrastructure and independence are addressed.

The Tribunals Reforms Act, 2021 abolished specified appellate bodies, transferred functions to courts or other forums and attempted a common appointments and service-condition framework. Rationalisation may reduce duplication and clarify appeals. Conversely, transfer to burdened High Courts can shift rather than cure pendency and may sacrifice expertise or local access.

Constitutional validity requires L. Chandra Kumar (1997) review and the independence standards of the Madras Bar Association cases. On 19 November 2025, 2025 INSC 1330 invalidated re-enacted age, panel, tenure and allowance features and directed an institutional commission; the 9 March 2026 order gave limited incumbent continuity.

Rationalisation succeeds only when consolidation is matched by independent appointments, adequate benches, data, staff and transition planning.

Why this earns marks: It comments on need, assesses gains and displacement costs, and gives the dated controlling Supreme Court position.

How to improve this answer: Mention the 2026 continuity order only as temporary; do not treat invalidated 2021 service conditions as operative.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "Why are tribunals supplemental rather than substitutes for constitutional courts?", all clauses, a sociological mechanism, historical trajectory, intersectional and regional variation, named Indian evidence, constitutional/institutional boundaries and a qualified conclusion.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Begin with a one-sentence thesis responsive to explain. Connect specialised first instance with basic-structure review, parent-statute limits and constitutional-court remedies. Develop each limb as claim, authority, mechanism and limitation. End with a qualified verdict that joins specialisation, access, independence and constitutional supervision.

Subject: Polity | Tier: Advanced | GS Paper: GS-II Grounded in: Laxmikanth's Tribunals chapter (direct check of the local Sixth Revised Edition PDF); Articles 323-A and 323-B; Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985; S.P. Sampath Kumar (1987); L. Chandra Kumar (1997); Madras Bar Association tribunal cases; Tribunal Reforms Act, 2021; verified 2025 GS-II Q2. FACT: = official/case-grounded | ANALYSIS: = analysis | CURRENT: = current/PYQ anchor. Companion: basic/Administrative-Tribunals.md.

1. Constitutional design

Axis	Article 323-A	Article 323-B
Field	Public-service recruitment and service conditions	Enumerated fields including taxation, labour, land reform and elections
Competent legislature	Parliament	Parliament or State Legislature within legislative competence
Design implication	Specialised administrative-justice system	Sector-specific tribunalisation

Parliament enacted the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 under Article 323-A. CAT is a specialised adjudicatory forum, not an executive department and not a constitutional court.

2. Need compared with ordinary courts

TECHNICAL / HIGH-VOLUME DISPUTE

+--> specialist members and domain familiarity
+--> simpler procedure and lower formality
+--> potentially faster disposal
v

RISKS

vacancies + executive dependence + fragmented appeals
+ weak infrastructure + transfer of delay

ANALYSIS: The case for tribunals is functional, not a claim that ordinary courts are dispensable. A tribunal succeeds only if specialisation and speed are matched by independence, stable tenure, adequate benches and constitutional-court supervision.

3. Judicial-review settlement

- FACT: S.P. Sampath Kumar initially accepted tribunal substitution if the alternative mechanism was effective.
- FACT: L. Chandra Kumar (1997) held that exclusion of High Court/Supreme Court judicial review under Articles 226/227 and 32 was unconstitutional because judicial review is part of the basic structure.
- FACT: Tribunals may decide constitutional questions in the first instance, but their decisions are subject to scrutiny by a Division Bench of the territorial High Court.

- ANALYSIS: This protects constitutional supervision but adds another tier; speed therefore depends on sound first-instance adjudication, not jurisdiction stripping.

4. Tribunal Reforms Act, 2021

- FACT: The Act rationalised the tribunal landscape by abolishing specified appellate bodies and transferring their work to existing courts or other forums.
- FACT: It established a common service-condition framework for covered tribunal chairpersons and members.
- FACT: The Supreme Court's Madras Bar Association line insists that tribunal appointments, tenure and conditions must preserve judicial independence and separation of powers.
- CURRENT: FACT: On 19 Nov 2025, the Supreme Court in 2025 INSC 1330 struck down the re-enacted provisions covering the fifty-year minimum age, two-name recommendation panel and merely preferable appointment timeline, four-year tenure, and impugned allowance framework. It made MBA (IV) and MBA (V) the controlling standards and directed a National Tribunals Commission within four months.
- CURRENT: FACT: On 9 Mar 2026, the Court made a separate continuity arrangement extending specified serving incumbents until 8 Sep 2026 or the applicable maximum age, whichever was earlier, because non-extension could make tribunals defunct. The order did not revive the provisions invalidated in November 2025.

Claimed gain	Counter-risk	Surgical reform
Fewer overlapping bodies	Specialised work shifted to burdened courts	Dedicated rosters and transferred staff/records
Uniform appointment rules	Executive dominance or delayed selection	Independent search-selection process and binding timelines
Administrative economy	Vacancies and weak regional access	Bench planning, budgets and public vacancy dashboards
Faster finality	An additional High Court-review stage remains	Better first-instance quality; do not remove judicial review

5. Verified PYQ application

- FACT: 2025 GS-II Q2 (10 marks, 150 words): "Comment on the need of administrative tribunals as compared to the court system. Assess the impact of the recent tribunal reforms through rationalization of tribunals made in 2021."
- Thesis: Tribunals remain justified by specialisation, accessibility and potential speed, but the 2021 rationalisation is beneficial only where consolidation is accompanied by capacity and independence; otherwise it transfers rather than resolves delay.
- Structure: need -> constitutional limits -> 2021 rationalisation -> gains and displacement costs -> independent appointments, tenure, benches and infrastructure.

6. Prelims traps

- WRONG: Only Parliament may legislate under both Articles. -> States may legislate within their competence under Article 323-B; Article 323-A is Parliament-only.
- WRONG: CAT is outside all High Court supervision. -> L. Chandra Kumar (1997) preserves review under Articles 226/227.
- WRONG: Tribunalisation permits Parliament to remove the basic structure. -> Constituent and legislative power remain subject to basic-structure judicial review.
- WRONG: The March 2026 extensions revived the 2021 four-year-tenure framework. -> They were temporary incumbent-specific continuity measures; MBA (IV)/(V) remained controlling after the November 2025 judgment.

CONSOLIDATED REGISTER NOTES

Administrative Tribunals: Rapid Constitutional Recall

- Current-control rule: Articles 323A/323B, the Administrative Tribunals Act 1985, CAT material and the Supreme Court's tribunal-independence line through the judgment reported as 2025 INSC 1330 were rechecked on 5 September 2026. Appointment, tenure and service-condition statements carry an exact dated caveat because the common tribunal framework remains litigation- and implementation-sensitive.
- Factual caveat: Tribunals supplement specialist adjudication; they do not replace High Courts or the Supreme Court. L. Chandra Kumar (1997) preserves Articles 226/227 review. CAT, SATs, other Article 323B tribunals, commissions, courts and Lok Adalats must not be collapsed into one institutional category.

Snapshot

- Feature Article 323-A Article 323-B
- Subject Recruitment and service conditions of public servants Specified fields such as tax, foreign exchange, labour, land reform and elections
- Law-maker Parliament only Parliament or a State Legislature within its competence

Core architecture

- expertise + flexible procedure
- tribunal decisions remain reviewable
- by a High Court Division Bench

Tribunal Reforms Act, 2021

- [FACT] The 2021 rationalisation abolished specified appellate bodies and transferred their functions to existing judicial or administrative forums.
- [FACT] It also prescribed a common framework for qualifications, appointment, tenure and

Verified PYQ application

- [FACT] 2025 GS-II Q2 (10 marks, 150 words): "Comment on the need of administrative tribunals as compared to the court system. Assess the impact of the recent tribunal reforms through rationalization of tribunals made in 2021."

Traps

- Wrong: Tribunal decisions are immune from High Court review. - They are reviewable under Articles 226/227 after L. Chandra Kumar (1997) .
- Wrong: Articles 323-A and 323-B are identical. - They differ in subject, law-maker and scope.

6. Answer architecture (10/15/20-mark support)

6.1 Demand and directive map

- Demand family Directive signals Answer spine
- Tribunals vs ordinary courts "curtail jurisdiction", How far, Discuss supplement-not-supplant -> 323A/B exclusion -> L. Chandra Kumar (1997) -> NTT/ Union of India v. R. Gandhi (2010) -> verdict
- CAT's adjudicatory independence "independent judicial authority", Explain AT Act 1985 -> independence markers -> executive-influence limit -> HC review -> verdict

6.2 Qualified thesis options

- Tribunals are a functional supplement to the courts, not a substitute for them: they may take the first bite of a dispute, but the High Court's supervisory jurisdiction is a basic-structure floor they cannot displace.
- The promise of tribunals - expertise, speed and access - is delivered only when their independence is secured; the recurring constitutional litigation since 2010 shows that appointment and tenure design, not jurisdiction, is the real battleground.
- Lok Adalats and arbitration answer two different justice deficits - one of access for the poor, one of autonomy for commerce - so they are complementary limbs of an alternative-dispute-resolution architecture, not rivals.

6.3 Mark-scaled structures

- Marks Architecture Evidence load
- 10 Thesis -> two anchors (Article/Act + case) -> one qualification -> verdict 3 units
- 15 Thesis -> constitutional design -> case-law settlement -> counter-risk (independence/burden) -> graded verdict 5-6 units

6.4 Bank A - Constitutional design and the judicial-review settlement

6.5 Bank B - Rationalisation, reform litigation and current status

6.6 Bank C - Lok Adalats versus arbitration (the ADR distinction)

- Source Statutory - LSA Act 1987 (Art 39A) Contractual - A&C Act 1996
- Nature Court-annexed conciliation/compromise Private adjudication
- Consent Referral or consent; PLA decides merits for public utilities Consent via arbitration agreement

6.7 Mechanism, institutional incentives and consequences

- Why tribunals were created: to move technical, high-volume disputes to expert members under simpler procedure, easing the constitutional courts.
- Consequence of the L. Chandra Kumar (1997) tier: [FACT] tribunal -> HC Division Bench -> SC preserves supervision but can lengthen the chain, so first-instance quality, not jurisdiction-stripping, is the real efficiency lever.
- National Tribunals Commission logic: [LIMIT] an independent umbrella body for appointments, infrastructure and oversight is the standing judicial prescription for breaking the appoint-and-strike-down cycle.

6.8 Criticism, counter-argument, variation and implementation constraints

- Curtailment critique: tribunals reduce direct access to the HC and fragment appeals; counter - L. Chandra Kumar (1997) preserves supervisory review, so the curtailment is of original, not supervisory, jurisdiction.
- Rationalisation critique: [LIMIT] abolishing appellate tribunals can merely shift pendency to already-burdened HCs/commercial courts unless benches, staff and records follow.
- Independence critique: the recurring strike-downs (Union of India v. R. Gandhi (2010) -> Rojer Mathew v. South Indian Bank (2019) -> MBA (IV)/(V) -> 2025 INSC 1330) show a pattern of executive-tilted rules being re-enacted; counter - persistent judicial correction is itself the safeguard working.

6.9 Verdict scaffolds

- Tribunals-vs-courts verdict: "Tribunals curtail the ordinary courts' first-instance reach but not their constitutional supervision; L. Chandra Kumar (1997) makes judicial review a floor no tribunal statute can sink below."
- Rationalisation verdict: "The 2021 rationalisation is sound in aim and suspect in execution; it delivers only where consolidation is matched by independent appointments and real capacity, as the 2025 judgment insists."
- ADR verdict: "Lok Adalats and arbitration solve different problems - access for the citizen, autonomy for commerce - and India's justice system needs both, not a choice between them."

6.10 Prelims close-option distinctions

- Confusion pair Correct discrimination
- Art 323A vs 323B 323A = service matters, Parliament only ; 323B = enumerated fields, Parliament or State - both by the 42nd Amendment 1976

- Sampath Kumar vs L. Chandra Kumar (1997) accepted substitution if effective ; 1997 held HC review is basic structure and exclusion unconstitutional

6.11 Factual-risk and current-status controls

- [FACT] Art 323A/323B were inserted by the 42nd Amendment (1976) ; the AT Act is 1985 , the LSA Act is 1987 , the A&C Act is 1996 - keep the years exact.
- [FACT] L. Chandra Kumar (1997) preserved HC Art 226/227 review ; it did not abolish tribunals or bar CAT from deciding constitutional questions at first instance.
- [LIMIT]/[CURRENT] Do not state tribunal tenure, minimum age, pecuniary limits, vacancy counts or the Money-Bill reference as settled - mark [CURRENT] and re-verify; a struck-down provision or a Bill/Ordinance is not the law.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 1/12: Tribunalisation: specialist justice under constitutional supervision

ROOT QUESTION

Can specialist adjudication improve access and speed without creating executive-controlled courts?

RATIONALE

expertise | flexible procedure | high-volume disposal | geographical access | lower cost.

CONSTITUTIONAL SOURCE

42nd Amendment 1976 -> Part XIVA -> Articles 323A and 323B.

STATUTORY SOURCE

Administrative Tribunals Act 1985 -> CAT and enabled SAT arrangements.

NON-NEGOTIABLE FLOOR

judicial independence + natural justice + reasoned order

+ High Court/Supreme Court constitutional review.

MUST REMEMBER: Keep Article 323A administrative tribunals, Article 323B subject tribunals and the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 institutionally distinct.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 2/12: Articles 323A and 323B compared

ARTICLE 323A

public-service recruitment and service conditions.
law-maker: Parliament.
administrative-tribunal design.

ARTICLE 323B

listed subjects: tax, labour, land reform, elections and others in text.
law-maker: appropriate legislature within competence.
subject-specific tribunal/hierarchy.

COMMON HISTORY

text allowed court exclusion.

CURRENT LAW

L. Chandra Kumar (1997): Articles 226/227 and 32 judicial review is basic structure.

TRAP

enabling Article != automatic creation of a tribunal.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 3/12: CAT jurisdiction and statutory exclusions

SECTION 14 COVERAGE

Union recruitment and service matters | notified authorities and bodies.

SECTION 2 EXCLUSIONS

armed forces | Supreme Court or High Court staff
| secretarial staff of Parliament and State legislatures.

PROCESS GATE

coverage -> departmental-remedy rule -> limitation -> Original Application.

TRAP

public employment does not automatically create CAT jurisdiction.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 4/12: CAT and SAT institutional architecture

CAT

Principal Bench + notified benches;
Chairperson + Judicial Members + Administrative Members under current law.

JURISDICTION

covered Union recruitment/service matters and notified bodies.

SAT

State service tribunal may exist through statutory arrangement;
States vary and some SATs have been abolished or not constituted.

EXCLUSIONS

follow exact Administrative Tribunals Act text and notifications; not every public employee or constitutional office enters CAT.

CONTROL

appointments, tenure and service conditions must be stated with the 5 September 2026 caveat.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 5/12: Application, procedure, powers and contempt jurisdiction check -> Original Application -> notice/reply/record

PROCESS

-> interim issue -> hearing -> reasoned final order.

PROCEDURE

natural justice | flexible procedure | not rigidly bound by CPC.

POWERS

summons | documents | affidavits | commissions | review/other statutory powers.

CONTEMPT

statutory power subject to governing law and constitutional review.

LIMIT

procedural flexibility is not freedom from evidence, fairness, reasons or limitation rules.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 6/12: L. Chandra Kumar (1997) and the correct review chain tribunal as substitute first-instance forum + exclusion clauses.

ORIGINAL CONSTITUTIONAL DESIGN

L. Chandra Kumar (1997)

High Court Articles 226/227 and Supreme Court Article 32 review are basic structure; exclusion clauses invalid;
tribunals may test vires of subordinate legislation and statutes except parent legislation limits.

OPERATIVE CHAIN

tribunal order -> territorial High Court Division Bench -> Supreme Court constitutional route.

TRAP

routine direct appeal from CAT to Supreme Court is not the ordinary substitute for High Court review.

CLOSE DISTINCTION: Preserve L. Chandra Kumar (1997)'s first-instance tribunal role together with Articles 226/227 review by the territorial High Court Division Bench.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 7/12: Tribunal-independence doctrine across five decisions

Union of India v. R. Gandhi (2010) transferred judicial work requires equivalent independence, qualifications and safeguards.

Madras Bar Association NTT (2014)

National Tax Tribunal design invalidated; core judicial functions cannot be executive-dominated.

Madras Bar Association IV (2020)

Tribunal Rules scrutinised; selection and tenure safeguards reinforced.

Madras Bar Association V (2021)

short tenure, age and executive override defects invalidated in the 2021 ordinance/Act line.

Roger Mathew v. South Indian Bank (2019)

Finance Act/rules route and tribunal independence examined.

Madras Bar Association tribunal reforms (2025) reported 2025 INSC 1330 continues the constitutional control and directs institutional reform.

LIMIT

service-condition detail remains date-sensitive; doctrine is stable, implementation is not.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 8/12: Rationalisation, abolition and access-to-justice consequences

2021 RATIONALISATION

abolish specified appellate bodies -> transfer functions to courts/other forums
-> common service framework.

POSSIBLE GAIN

less fragmentation | fewer duplicative bodies | clearer appeal path.

POSSIBLE COST

specialised expertise lost | burden shifted to High Courts
| vacancies and transition delay | access becomes geographically harder.

SAT VARIATION

abolition/merger differs by State and statute; no uniform live SAT map should be invented.

TEST

pendency outcome + bench capacity + independence + user cost + transitional clarity.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 9/12: CAT, courts, commissions and ADR distinguished statutory service adjudication -> binding reasoned order -> High Court review.

HIGH COURT

constitutional court -> writ/supervisory jurisdiction -> broad public-law control.

COMMISSION

investigation/advice/report unless statute grants adjudicatory power.

LOK ADALAT

statutory settlement/conciliation -> award based on compromise.

ARBITRATION

consensual private adjudication -> limited statutory challenge.

DEPARTMENTAL APPEAL

administrative reconsideration -> not independent judicial adjudication.

TRAP

specialised does not automatically mean tribunal; binding does not automatically mean court.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 10/12: Current judicial and legislative status control

19 NOVEMBER 2025

2025 INSC 1330 invalidated specified re-enacted service-condition defects and directed a National Tribunals Commission.

9 MARCH 2026 ORDER

specified incumbent continuity until 8 September 2026 or maximum age.

AUGUST 2026 CAUTION

enactment != commencement != operational commission.
Use Gazette commencement and appointment records before claiming operation.

CURRENT CONTROL: 5 SEPTEMBER 2026

2025 INSC 1330 remains the merits baseline; the 9 March 2026 order continues specified incumbents only until 8 September 2026/maximum age.
Parliament passed the Tribunals Reforms Bill, 2026, but no official assented Act or commencement notification was located; do not call it operative.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 11/12: Exact PYQ demand and answer architecture

2018 GS-II 15/250

court-jurisdiction curtailment + validity + competency.

2019 GS-II 10/150

CAT as independent judicial authority.

2024 GS-II 10/150

Lok Adalat versus arbitration + civil/criminal jurisdiction.

2025 GS-II 10/150

need for tribunals + assess 2021 rationalisation.

EXECUTION

thesis -> law -> mechanism -> case -> constraint -> verdict.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 12/12: UPSC synthesis and reform architecture

PRELIMS FIREWALL

323A service != 323B listed subjects | enabling != creating

| CAT != constitutional court | flexible != arbitrary

| first instance != final constitutional word | rationalisation != pendency cure.

MAINS SPINE

rationale -> constitutional/statutory source -> structure/jurisdiction

-> procedure/powers -> L. Chandra Kumar (1997) chain

-> independence cases -> rationalisation/access -> reform.

REFORM

independent appointments body | secure adequate tenure | transparent vacancies

| administrative autonomy | national data/standards | regional benches

| coherent appeals | periodic performance review without decisional interference.

VERDICT

tribunals are justified only as independent, accessible specialist courts under constitutional supervision.

LEGAL/SOURCE LIMIT: Parliament passed the Tribunals Reforms Bill, 2026, but no official assented Act or commencement notification was located by 5 September 2026.
