- [3] The mode of production shapes the social structure; when productive forces clash with existing relations of production, revolution replaces one social formation.

v

- [4] Class struggle continues from slave society to feudalism to capitalism, and Marxism expects a socialist revolution to end this cycle in a classless society. (PDF.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 6/12: Class, State, Exploitation and Alienation

CENTRAL FOCUS

Class, State, Exploitation and Alienation

- [1] Class: private property in the means of production divides society into dominant (owning) and dependent classes with antagonistic interests, driving conflict across.

v

- [2] Alienation: the "Young Marx"/humanist strain of neo-Marxism centres on alienation, freedom and capitalism's dehumanizing effects on the worker (Gaub, PDF p.47)..

v

- [3] Read together: exploitation (surplus value), domination (state as class instrument) and dehumanization (alienation) are three faces of the same underlying property.

v

- [4] Mechanism: when forces of production outgrow existing relations of production, the relations become a fetter that is broken by revolution, producing a new social.

v

SYNTHESIS -> Class, State, Exploitation and Alienation is best presented through its central claim, causal logic, strongest limit and qualified verdict.

EXAM ROUTE -> define precisely -> explain the mechanism -> test the limit -> conclude with a qualified political judgment.

v

- [2] This is a genuine neo-Marxist departure: Gramsci gives relative autonomy to the superstructure (culture, ideas, civil-society institutions) rather than treating it.

v

EXAM ROUTE -> define precisely -> explain the mechanism -> test the limit -> conclude with a qualified political judgment.

CENTRAL FOCUS

Althusser, Dependency Theory and Classification Cautions

- [1] Louis Althusser represents the "scientific" strain of neo-Marxism, resisting a purely humanist Marxism and insisting on analysing deep social structures, especially.

v

- [2] Gauba's own text names "dependency theorists" as extending the axis of Marxist struggle from domestic class conflict to developing nations confronting colonialism.

v

- [3] Mechanism: when forces of production outgrow existing relations of production, the relations become a fetter that is broken by revolution, producing a new social.

v

- [4] The Habermas generation caveat (§14.2) and the dependency/world-systems classification caution (§14.4) are flagged specifically because they are standard scholarly.

v

- [4] Gaub presents classical Marxism through four main tenets: dialectical materialism, historical materialism, class conflict and surplus value. (PDF p.48, p.52)

v

SYNTHESIS -> Objections, Qualified Thesis, Evidence and Doctrine Architecture is best presented through its central claim, causal logic, strongest limit and qualified verdict.
