- [CURRENT] Status is controlled to 25 August 2026, Asia/Kolkata.
- [CURRENT] Live official refresh, 25 August 2026: The official Constitution and the controlling Indian comparison cases were rechecked on 25 August 2026. Foreign systems are used as stable design comparators rather than as volatile political snapshots; no current officeholder, party majority or transient reform proposal is frozen.

How to Use This Package

[FACT] The complete Basic/Core owner is taught first in source order. Cross-topic Markdown, local OCR books and verified PYQ ledgers supplement it.

[FACT] Advanced-owner material appears only after the Core and practice sections under the required optional-depth label.

[LIMIT] India borrowed constitutional techniques but adapted them to a written, supreme, federal-parliamentary and judicially reviewable Constitution. Comparison must identify function, context and Indian adaptation; the Indian President is not a US President, Rajya Sabha is not a US Senate, and Directive Principles are not an operational copy of Ireland.

The exam-safe limitation is that converts votes into representation and public accountability.

1. WHAT UPSC MEANS BY "CONSTITUTIONAL SCHEME"

Topic-specific visual map: 1. What UPSC means by "constitutional scheme".

A constitutional scheme is not a list of borrowed provisions. It is the connected design through which a country:

1. locates sovereignty and constitutional supremacy;
2. structures the executive-legislature relationship;
3. divides territorial power;
4. protects rights and regulates religion;
5. appoints and empowers courts;
6. amends the Constitution and handles emergencies; and
7. converts votes into representation and public accountability.

Core method: compare the same institution across countries in the sequence context -> similarity -> difference -> constitutional consequence.

The operative mechanism matters because constitutional rule. Its principal consequence is that constitutional rule. The decisive contrast is between Constitutional rule and Constitutional rule. The exam-safe limitation is that constitutional rule.

- India did not copy a constitution; it synthesised one - parliamentary from the UK, rights and review from the USA, a strong-centre federation from Canada, and directive goals from Ireland - fused inside a written, rigid, transformative charter, so ancestry never equals operation.
- The comparative question is almost always won on the consequence of a difference, not the difference itself: the point is not that the UK is sovereign-Parliament and India is supreme-Constitution, but what that does to rights protection and judicial power.
- Lesson-drawing runs one way in the exam - India exports principles (principled secular engagement, PIL access, basic-structure limits) but rarely mechanisms, because founding history and party systems block mechanical transplant.
- Labels deceive: "President", "Senate", "federation" and "secular" name different functions in India, the USA, France, Germany and Switzerland, so a valid comparison must compare functions, not nouns.
- India's design choices privilege accountability and adaptability (fusion of powers, three amendment routes, judicial review) over the stability-through-separation that the US model prizes - a defensible trade-off, not a defect.
- A fair comparison matches like with like - India's constitutional text against another's text and India's working practice against another's practice; pitting an idealised foreign text against messy Indian practice (or the reverse) is the commonest distortion.
- The strongest comparative answers isolate a single operating variable - party system, federal form or judicial doctrine - and show how it makes the same borrowed design behave differently in India.

Swiss President	Annually rotating head of a collegial Council - not a US-style executive President
"Procedure established by law"	Borrowed from Japan ; India is not the US "due process" wording (though later expanded by fairness doctrine)
Judicial-review strength	UK (Human Rights Act) issues a declaration of incompatibility (weak-form; Parliament stays supreme); India and the USA can strike down unconstitutional laws (strong-form)
Collective responsibility	A UK convention ; in India it is textual - Art 75(3) (Council collectively responsible to the Lok Sabha)
Cabinet's legal basis	India's cabinet system is constitutionally entrenched (Arts 74-75) ; the UK's rests on convention - India codified what Britain leaves unwritten
Amendment routes	India has multiple routes under Art 368 (special majority; some needing ratification by half the States; a few matters by simple majority) - not a single uniform procedure
Impeachment of the President	India (Art 61) = for " violation of the Constitution " by Parliament - do not import the US "high crimes and misdemeanours" ground

How to use them: Frame the answer through Constitutional transplantation; define hybrid adaptation, connect Firewall confirmation with Constitutional transplantation and hybrid adaptation to explain the mechanism, and use Constitutional for the decisive comparison or qualification.

Constitutional transplantation and hybrid adaptation denotes the constitutional rules and institutional links organised around origin - original function - Indian textual adaptation - Indian social/federal context. Constitutional transplantation and hybrid adaptation operates through judicial interpretation - operating consequence, connected with British responsible government + written constitutional supremacy. The operative mechanism matters because uS-style rights/review + parliamentary executive. Its principal consequence is that canadian strong-centre federation + elected State governments. The decisive contrast is between Irish directives + Indian judicially developed harmony with rights and Australian concurrent-list and trade ideas + Indian emergency centralisation. The exam-safe limitation is that german emergency safeguards and South African transformative comparison as later lessons. TRANSPLANT TEST origin -> original function -> Indian textual adaptation -> Indian social/federal context -> judicial interpretation -> operating consequence.

INDIAN HYBRIDS British responsible government + written constitutional supremacy; US-style rights/review + parliamentary executive; Canadian strong-centre federation + elected State governments; Irish directives + Indian judicially developed harmony with rights; Australian concurrent-list and trade ideas + Indian emergency centralisation; German emergency safeguards and South African transformative comparison as later lessons.

- Claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: The US President has a personal federal pardon power subject to textual limits.
- Claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Pre-emptive pardon concerns completed conduct, not future illegality.

Conclusion: The strongest answer identifies the governing design, shows how it operates with named evidence, tests the counter-position and ends with a qualified institutional verdict.

Verified direct PYQ 8 - 2025 GS-II

Question: Compare judicial appointments in India and the United States and assess the accountability-independence balance.

Directive: Compare and assess · Marks: 15 · Word limit: 250

Model solution

Opening: Compare judicial appointments in India and the United States and assess the accountability-independence balance. The answer must respond to the directive Compare and assess rather than merely describe the topic.

- Claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India's collegium emerged through the Judges Cases and the NJAC judgment.
- Claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: The US uses presidential nomination and Senate confirmation.
- Claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India prioritises judicial primacy; the US model makes political accountability explicit.
- Claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Both face transparency, delay and politicisation concerns in different forms.

Conclusion: The strongest answer identifies the governing design, shows how it operates with named evidence, tests the counter-position and ends with a qualified institutional verdict.

Original Solved Mains Practice

M1. Distinguish constitutional borrowing from constitutional adaptation.

Directive: Distinguish · Marks: 10 · Suggested words: 150

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Distinguish constitutional borrowing from constitutional adaptation. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Parliamentary And Presidential - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India's executive is responsible to the Lok Sabha; the US executive has a separate electoral mandate and fixed tenure. Executive-legislative relationship is the decisive comparison.
- Semi-Presidential - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: France combines a directly elected President with a Prime Minister responsible to Parliament. Dual executive authority changes with legislative majority.
- Federal Design - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India is federal with strong-centre and unitary features; Canada and Australia supply useful but non-identical comparisons. Federal character depends on distribution, institutions and amendment, not one feature.
- Bicameralism - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Rajya Sabha represents States unequally by population and has special but not Senate-identical powers. Upper houses reflect different federal bargains.
- Parliamentary Sovereignty - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian Parliament is limited by the Constitution, rights, federalism, judicial review and basic structure. British origin does not erase Indian constitutional supremacy.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

M2. Compare Rajya Sabha with the United States Senate.

Directive: Compare · Marks: 10 · Suggested words: 150

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Compare Rajya Sabha with the United States Senate. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Semi-Presidential - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: France combines a directly elected President with a Prime Minister responsible to Parliament. Dual executive authority changes with legislative majority.
- Federal Design - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India is federal with strong-centre and unitary features; Canada and Australia supply useful but non-identical comparisons. Federal character depends on distribution, institutions and amendment, not one feature.
- Bicameralism - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Rajya Sabha represents States unequally by population and has special but not Senate-identical powers. Upper houses reflect different federal bargains.
- Parliamentary Sovereignty - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian Parliament is limited by the Constitution, rights, federalism, judicial review and basic structure. British origin does not erase Indian constitutional supremacy.
- Rights Models - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India combines enforceable Fundamental Rights with non-justiciable Directive Principles and constitutional remedies. Text, remedies and judicial harmonisation matter.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

M3. Explain why the Indian President is not comparable to the United States President merely by title.

Directive: Explain · Marks: 10 · Suggested words: 150

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Explain why the Indian President is not comparable to the United States President merely by title. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Federal Design - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India is federal with strong-centre and unitary features; Canada and Australia supply useful but non-identical comparisons. Federal character depends on distribution, institutions and amendment, not one feature.
- Bicameralism - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Rajya Sabha represents States unequally by population and has special but not Senate-identical powers. Upper houses reflect different federal bargains.
- Parliamentary Sovereignty - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian Parliament is limited by the Constitution, rights, federalism, judicial review and basic structure. British origin does not erase Indian constitutional supremacy.
- Rights Models - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India combines enforceable Fundamental Rights with non-justiciable Directive Principles and constitutional remedies. Text, remedies and judicial harmonisation matter.
- Procedure And Due Process - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 21's 'procedure established by law' acquired fairness and reasonableness through Maneka Gandhi (1978). Indian doctrine moved beyond formal legality without rewriting the text.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

M4. Compare parliamentary sovereignty in the United Kingdom with constitutional supremacy in India.

Directive: Compare · Marks: 15 · Suggested words: 250

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Compare parliamentary sovereignty in the United Kingdom with constitutional supremacy in India. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Bicameralism - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Rajya Sabha represents States unequally by population and has special but not Senate-identical powers. Upper houses reflect different federal bargains.
- Parliamentary Sovereignty - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian Parliament is limited by the Constitution, rights, federalism, judicial review and basic structure. British origin does not erase Indian constitutional supremacy.
- Rights Models - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India combines enforceable Fundamental Rights with non-justiciable Directive Principles and constitutional remedies. Text, remedies and judicial harmonisation matter.
- Procedure And Due Process - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 21's 'procedure established by law' acquired fairness and reasonableness through Maneka Gandhi (1978). Indian doctrine moved beyond formal legality without rewriting the text.
- Amendment And Basic Structure - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 368 permits broad amendment, but Kesavananda Bharati (1973) preserves the basic structure. India occupies a middle position between rigidity and unlimited amendment.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

M5. Assess India's hybrid federal-parliamentary constitutional design.

Directive: Assess · Marks: 15 · Suggested words: 250

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Assess India's hybrid federal-parliamentary constitutional design. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Parliamentary Sovereignty - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian Parliament is limited by the Constitution, rights, federalism, judicial review and basic structure. British origin does not erase Indian constitutional supremacy.
- Rights Models - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India combines enforceable Fundamental Rights with non-justiciable Directive Principles and constitutional remedies. Text, remedies and judicial harmonisation matter.
- Procedure And Due Process - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 21's 'procedure established by law' acquired fairness and reasonableness through Maneka Gandhi (1978). Indian doctrine moved beyond formal legality without rewriting the text.
- Amendment And Basic Structure - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 368 permits broad amendment, but Kesavananda Bharati (1973) preserves the basic structure. India occupies a middle position between rigidity and unlimited amendment.
- Emergency Design - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian emergency provisions centralise power but are bounded by text, amendments and judicial review. Comparative borrowing must include post-abuse safeguards.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

M6. Compare Indian secularism with the United States and France.

Directive: Compare · Marks: 15 · Suggested words: 250

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Compare Indian secularism with the United States and France. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Rights Models - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India combines enforceable Fundamental Rights with non-justiciable Directive Principles and constitutional remedies. Text, remedies and judicial harmonisation matter.
- Procedure And Due Process - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 21's 'procedure established by law' acquired fairness and reasonableness through Maneka Gandhi (1978). Indian doctrine moved beyond formal legality without rewriting the text.
- Amendment And Basic Structure - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 368 permits broad amendment, but Kesavananda Bharati (1973) preserves the basic structure. India occupies a middle position between rigidity and unlimited amendment.
- Emergency Design - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian emergency provisions centralise power but are bounded by text, amendments and judicial review. Comparative borrowing must include post-abuse safeguards.
- Secularism - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian principled engagement differs from US non-establishment and French laïcité while sharing liberty and equality commitments. Historical context shapes the institutional form of secularism.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

M7. Evaluate how India adapted foreign constitutional features to its social and federal context.

Directive: Evaluate · Marks: 20 · Suggested words: 300

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Evaluate how India adapted foreign constitutional features to its social and federal context. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Procedure And Due Process - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 21's 'procedure established by law' acquired fairness and reasonableness through Maneka Gandhi (1978). Indian doctrine moved beyond formal legality without rewriting the text.
- Amendment And Basic Structure - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 368 permits broad amendment, but Kesavananda Bharati (1973) preserves the basic structure. India occupies a middle position between rigidity and unlimited amendment.
- Emergency Design - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian emergency provisions centralise power but are bounded by text, amendments and judicial review. Comparative borrowing must include post-abuse safeguards.
- Secularism - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian principled engagement differs from US non-establishment and French laicite while sharing liberty and equality commitments. Historical context shapes the institutional form of secularism.
- Institutional Borrowing - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: The CAG, Finance Commission, ECI and Lokpal show adaptation of audit, federal and ombudsman functions to Indian needs. Origin is only the first step of a comparative answer.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

M8. Design an India-centred comparative matrix covering executive, federalism, rights, courts, amendment, emergency and accountability institutions.

Directive: Design and evaluate · Marks: 20 · Suggested words: 300

Demand decode: Define the exact institutional or doctrinal issue, answer the directive, use named constitutional/statutory/judicial evidence, include the strongest counterpoint and reach a qualified verdict.

Examiner opening: Design an India-centred comparative matrix covering executive, federalism, rights, courts, amendment, emergency and accountability institutions. The issue should be analysed through constitutional purpose, operating mechanism and enforceable limitation.

- Amendment And Basic Structure - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Article 368 permits broad amendment, but Kesavananda Bharati (1973) preserves the basic structure. India occupies a middle position between rigidity and unlimited amendment.
- Emergency Design - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian emergency provisions centralise power but are bounded by text, amendments and judicial review. Comparative borrowing must include post-abuse safeguards.
- Secularism - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: Indian principled engagement differs from US non-establishment and French laicite while sharing liberty and equality commitments. Historical context shapes the institutional form of secularism.
- Institutional Borrowing - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: The CAG, Finance Commission, ECI and Lokpal show adaptation of audit, federal and ombudsman functions to Indian needs. Origin is only the first step of a comparative answer.
- Written And Unwritten - claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification: India has a written supreme Constitution; the UK has an uncoded constitution formed by statutes, cases and conventions. Codification, supremacy and rigidity are separate axes.

Counter-position: Institutional reform can improve accountability, but overbroad regulation may displace autonomy, federal choice, expertise or access. The answer must identify the exact trade-off rather than offer a generic reform list.

Conclusion: Prefer a calibrated design that preserves the institution's constitutional purpose while adding transparency, independence, reason-giving and judicially reviewable safeguards.

OPTIONAL ADVANCED DEPTH - NOT REQUIRED FOR A CORE ANSWER

Subject: Polity · Tier: Advanced enrichment · GS Paper: GS-II Companion:

../basic/Comparative-Constitutional-Schemes.md Firewall: The Core companion contains all indispensable facts, traps and PYQ answer engines. This file adds analytical vocabulary and deeper evaluation only.

1. Comparison as controlled institutional analysis

A valid comparison holds the function constant and varies the design. For example, compare how two systems select judges, preserve independence and impose accountability. Do not compare an Indian court with a foreign legislature merely because both appear in the same chapter.

Four levels of comparison

1. Text: what the constitution/statute says.
2. Institution: appointment, power, tenure, removal and review.
3. Political system: parties, conventions, federalism and electoral incentives.
4. Outcome: accountability, stability, rights, inclusion and governability.

The analytical error called false equivalence occurs when similar labels conceal different functions, such as "President" in India, USA, France and Switzerland.

2. Institutional transplantation

Borrowed institutions are filtered through:

- founding conditions;
- social cleavages and state capacity;
- party-system incentives;
- legal culture and conventions;
- interaction with other constitutional institutions; and
- later judicial and political development.

This produces adaptation, hybridisation or functional substitution, not replication. India's parliamentary federal republic is therefore a constitutional synthesis.

Path dependence

Early choices create institutions, expectations and veto points that make later change costly. British responsible government influenced India's preference for a cabinet system; Partition and integration strengthened the case for a powerful Union; later judicial doctrine created the basic structure limit.

3. Veto players and the accountability-stability trade-off

A veto player is an actor whose agreement is necessary to change policy.

Design	Fewer/softer vetoes may produce	More/stronger vetoes may produce
Advantage	Decisiveness, policy coherence, easy correction	Stability, minority/federal protection, deliberation
Risk	Majoritarian concentration and abrupt policy reversal	Gridlock, blame shifting and status-quo bias

Parliamentary majority government can concentrate agenda control. Presidential bicameralism creates separate mandates and more veto points. Federal second chambers and constitutional courts add territorial or legal vetoes. Neither maximum decisiveness nor maximum restraint is universally best.

Responsibility chain

Assess whether voters can identify who governs, remove that actor and distinguish policy failure from institutional obstruction. India's cabinet responsibility gives a comparatively clear removal route, but party discipline can weaken legislative scrutiny. US separation strengthens inter-branch checks but can diffuse responsibility during divided government.

4. Federalism beyond the unitary/federal binary

Formation

- Coming together: previously autonomous units pool sovereignty, often retaining strong safeguards (USA, Australia, Switzerland).
- Holding together: a larger polity constitutionally distributes power to manage diversity (India; Canada is often discussed as a strong-centre design).

Symmetry

- Symmetric federalism: units have broadly similar constitutional powers.
- Asymmetric federalism: selected units receive differentiated arrangements because of history, identity, geography or conflict management.

Representation models

1. population-weighted territorial chamber;
2. equal-state chamber;
3. appointed regional chamber;
4. state-government delegation chamber.

Each answers a different question: representation of citizens, constituent units, regions or governments. Rajya Sabha, US Senate, Canadian Senate and German Bundesrat should not be treated as interchangeable second chambers.

Self-rule and shared rule

Federal quality depends on both:

- self-rule: constitutionally protected policy space of units; and
- shared rule: meaningful unit participation in national decisions.

India's Inter-State Council, GST Council and Rajya Sabha provide forms of shared rule, but none is a functional copy of the Bundesrat.

5. Judicial review models

Axis	Model A	Model B
Distribution	Diffuse: many ordinary courts may consider constitutionality	Concentrated: specialised constitutional court
Timing	Concrete review arising from litigation	Abstract review of a measure without an ordinary dispute
Strength	Strong-form invalidation	Weak-form declaration/dialogue mechanism
Access	Individual complaint/PIL/writ	Institutional referral or restricted standing

India mixes diffuse ordinary adjudication with strong constitutional remedies and unusually broad public-interest access. Germany concentrates constitutional authority in a specialised court. The UK Human Rights Act illustrates a dialogic remedy because incompatibility does not itself invalidate the Act of Parliament.

Judicialisation risk

Strong review protects minorities and constitutional commitments but may:

- shift distributive choices from elected branches;
- incentivise political actors to avoid responsibility;
- create implementation deficits; and
- turn appointment systems into high-stakes political contests.

The answer is institutional justification, reasoned remedies and accountability, not abolition of review.

6. Amendment theory

Design variables

- proposal gate;
- legislative threshold;
- federal-unit consent;
- referendum;
- temporal delay;
- subject-matter entrenchment; and
- judicial review of amendments.

Rigidity is multidimensional

A constitution may be legally rigid but politically amendable under dominant consensus, or legally flexible but constrained by convention and public legitimacy. Amendment counts alone do not prove constitutional adaptability.

Textual versus doctrinal unamendability

Germany expressly protects core principles through Article 79(3). India's Constitution contains no identical eternity clause; the Supreme Court derived the basic structure from limited constituent power and constitutional identity. The comparison is useful, but describing the doctrines as identical would erase their different legal sources.

7. Constitutional identity and transformative purpose

Constitutional identity asks which commitments make an order recognisably itself. In India these include constitutional supremacy, republican democracy, secularism, federalism, judicial review and the dignity-liberty-equality project.

Transformative constitutionalism uses constitutional law to change entrenched social hierarchy and material exclusion. India and South Africa are especially useful comparisons:

- both combine rights with social transformation;
- South Africa textually constitutionalises several socio-economic rights;
- India often pursues welfare through DPSPs, legislation and expanded Article 21 doctrine.

Comparison should distinguish enforceable text from judicial or policy development.

8. Electoral systems and constitutional incentives

Electoral rules shape constitutional operation:

- first-past-the-post may convert pluralities into legislative majorities;
- proportional representation improves vote-seat correspondence but may increase coalition bargaining;

- separate presidential elections create an independent executive mandate;
- federal malapportionment may protect small units but weaken one-person-one-vote equality;
- referendums create direct legitimacy but can empower misinformation, majority passion or binary framing.

Institutional reform must therefore test not only legal compatibility but likely party and voter incentives.

9. Emergency constitutionalism

Emergency comparison should use six questions:

1. Who declares?
2. What factual threshold applies?
3. Who approves and renews?
4. Which rights may be limited?
5. What happens to federal distribution?

6. What judicial review survives?

The deeper danger is normalisation: temporary exceptional power migrates into ordinary government. Sunset clauses, legislative renewal, reason-giving, judicial access and non-derogable rights reduce that risk.

10. Evaluation framework for reform proposals

Before recommending that India adopt a foreign mechanism, test:

Test	Question
Functional fit	Does it solve the same problem in India?
Structural fit	Is it compatible with parliamentary government, federalism and basic structure?
Incentive fit	How will Indian parties, executives and institutions use it?
Capacity fit	Can institutions implement and enforce it?
Rights fit	Does it protect dignity, equality, liberty and minorities?
Transition fit	What happens during conversion from the present system?
Accountability fit	Who answers for failure and how can abuse be corrected?

High-value conclusion

Comparative constitutional law offers a laboratory, not a catalogue. India should borrow the principle that solves a demonstrated problem, adapt it to Indian constitutional identity and retain safeguards against new concentrations of power.

11. Advanced answer vocabulary

- institutional transplantation;
- constitutional synthesis;
- path dependence;
- veto player;
- dual democratic legitimacy;
- self-rule and shared rule;
- symmetric/asymmetric federalism;
- diffuse/concentrated review;
- strong-form/weak-form review;
- dialogic constitutionalism;
- transformative constitutionalism;
- constitutional identity;
- textual/doctrinal unamendability;
- accountability-stability trade-off.

CONSOLIDATED REGISTER NOTES

Comparative Constitutional Design: Rapid Constitutional Recall

- Current-control rule: The official Constitution and the controlling Indian comparison cases were rechecked on 25 August 2026. Foreign systems are used as stable design comparators rather than as volatile political snapshots; no current officeholder, party majority or transient reform proposal is frozen.
- Factual caveat: India borrowed constitutional techniques but adapted them to a written, supreme, federal-parliamentary and judicially reviewable Constitution. Comparison must identify function, context and Indian adaptation; the Indian President is not a US President, Rajya Sabha is not a US Senate, and Directive Principles are not an operational copy of Ireland.

1. What UPSC means by "constitutional scheme"

- A constitutional scheme is not a list of borrowed provisions. It is the connected design through
- locates sovereignty and constitutional supremacy;
- structures the executive-legislature relationship;

Context warning

- The same institution can operate differently because of party systems, conventions, federal
- structure, political history and judicial doctrine. India borrowed mechanisms but adapted them to a
- written, republican, federal and socially transformative Constitution. Source is not operational

2. Master constitutional map

- Country Constitutional form Executive model Territorial form Constitutional control
- India Written, supreme Constitution; republic Parliamentary; nominal President and responsible Council of Ministers Holding-together federation with a strong Union Supreme Court/High Courts; judicial review plus basic structure
- United Kingdom Uncodified , evolutionary constitution; constitutional monarchy Westminster parliamentary government Legally unitary with political devolution Parliamentary sovereignty; courts generally cannot invalidate an Act of Parliament

3. Parliamentary, presidential and semi-presidential government

- Test India / UK parliamentary model US presidential model French semi-presidential model
- Executive Dual: nominal head plus real cabinet Single President is head of state and government Dual: President plus Prime Minister
- Selection Government emerges from legislature President chosen separately through electoral college President directly elected; PM appointed by President

India versus the United Kingdom

- Dimension India United Kingdom Consequence
- Head of state Elected President; republic Hereditary monarch India rejects hereditary public office
- Constitutional authority Written supreme Constitution Uncodified constitution; parliamentary sovereignty Indian Parliament is legally limited and reviewable

India versus the United States

- Dimension India United States
- Executive Parliamentary; President normally acts on ministerial advice Presidential; President personally exercises executive authority
- Responsibility Council of Ministers collectively responsible to Lok Sabha President and secretaries not collectively responsible to Congress

France and cohabitation

- France combines a directly elected President with a Prime Minister responsible to the National
- Assembly. When President and Assembly majority align, the President is usually dominant. During

- cohabitation , the Prime Minister and parliamentary majority gain greater control over domestic

Stability lessons from Germany and Switzerland

- Germany's Bundestag may remove a Chancellor only by electing a successor: the constructive vote
- of no confidence . It combines responsibility with continuity.
- Switzerland's seven-member Federal Council is a collegial executive. Its annually rotating

4. Constitutional supremacy, parliamentary sovereignty and judicial power

- Model Core principle Legislative limit
- India Constitutional supremacy with limited constituent power Courts may invalidate ordinary law and amendments violating the basic structure
- UK Parliamentary sovereignty Courts ordinarily cannot invalidate a Westminster Act; a declaration of incompatibility under the Human Rights Act does not itself nullify the Act

India's synthesis

- British-sovereign , because Parliament is limited by the Constitution, federal division,
- Fundamental Rights and judicial review; nor
- an example of unlimited judicial supremacy , because courts also derive authority from the

5. Federal design and upper houses

- Dimension India USA Canada Australia Germany Switzerland
- Formation tendency Holding together Coming together Holding together/strong-centre design Coming together Federal reconstruction Coming together
- Residuary power Union States/people under Tenth Amendment Federal Parliament States Länder unless assigned Cantons unless assigned

Indian distinctiveness

- India combines federal division with
- unequal Rajya Sabha representation;
- centrally appointed Governors; and

Rajya Sabha is not the US Senate

- US states receive equal Senate representation; Indian states do not.
- Rajya Sabha members are generally elected indirectly by state legislators; US Senators are
- The US Senate has distinctive confirmation and treaty roles; Rajya Sabha has special Indian

Bundesrat lesson

- Germany's Bundesrat represents Land governments , not an independently elected second chamber.
- It therefore inserts state executives directly into federal legislation. Rajya Sabha represents
- states constitutionally, but its members do not vote as instructed delegations of state governments.

India and the United States: secularism

- Dimension India United States
- Textual basis Preamble, equality provisions and Articles 25-28 First Amendment: Establishment and Free Exercise Clauses
- General orientation Equal citizenship, religious freedom and principled state engagement Non-establishment plus protection of free exercise

India and France: principled engagement versus laicite

- Historical concern Managing deep religious diversity while reforming hierarchy and protecting equal citizenship Protecting republican public authority and citizenship from clerical domination
- Orientation Principled distance: engagement, accommodation or reform depending on equality and liberty Laicite stresses state neutrality and a religion-independent public sphere

- Public expression Constitution protects practice subject to public order, morality, health and reform/equality provisions Regulation often places stronger emphasis on common republican rules in public institutions

Rights models

- India Justiciable Fundamental Rights plus non-justiciable DPSPs; express reasonable-restriction architecture; positive obligations developed through doctrine
- USA Bill of Rights and Fourteenth Amendment; due process and equal protection; rights applied through constitutional adjudication
- South Africa Transformative Bill of Rights expressly includes enforceable socio-economic rights subject to constitutional standards

Procedure established by law versus due process

- India borrowed the phrase procedure established by law from Japan. Maneka Gandhi transformed Article 21 by requiring procedure to be just, fair and reasonable, bringing Indian protection closer to substantive due-process reasoning without replacing the constitutional text.

Judicial systems

- Court structure Integrated hierarchy Unified UK jurisdictions with distinct legal systems Dual federal and state court systems
- Review of primary legislation Yes, for constitutional validity Westminster primary legislation ordinarily not invalidated Yes
- Constitutional court Supreme Court has constitutional and general appellate roles UK Supreme Court is not a supreme constitutional invalidation court over Parliament Supreme Court has constitutional and general federal jurisdiction

India versus USA: Supreme Court appointments

- Formal appointment President President
- Decisive selection mechanism Collegium recommendations under the Judges Cases; executive participates in processing and may seek reconsideration Presidential nomination plus Senate advice and consent
- Public legislative hearing No constitutionally required confirmation hearing Senate confirmation process is public and political

8. Amendment design

- Country Main route Special protection
- India Simple majority for some provisions; special majority for Article 368 amendments; half-state ratification for specified federal provisions Basic structure limits constituent power
- UK Ordinary parliamentary legislation can alter constitutional rules, subject to political constraints No single entrenched amendment procedure

Core evaluation

- Flexibility supports democratic adaptation.
- Rigidity protects stability and federal consent.
- Referendums add popular legitimacy but can reduce complex constitutional choices to a binary vote.

9. Elections, representation and direct democracy

- Model Main feature Constitutional effect
- India Parliamentary government; first-past-the-post for Lok Sabha; indirect elected President Usually produces territorial representation and a responsible cabinet
- USA Presidential electoral college; separately elected Congress Dual democratic mandates and institutional deadlock are possible

India and France: presidential elections

- Role Normally nominal constitutional head Powerful head within a semi-presidential system

- Electorate Electoral college of elected MPs and elected state/eligible UT assembly members Direct popular election
- Voting design Proportional representation by single transferable vote; weighted votes Two-round majority system if no first-round majority

India versus USA: presidential pardon

- Dimension India: Article 72 USA: Article II
- Office context Nominal President in parliamentary government Real executive President
- Advice Exercised on binding ministerial advice Personal constitutional executive power

11. Emergency design and constitutional safeguards

- India National, state and financial emergencies permit major centralisation; post-44th Amendment safeguards constrain repetition of 1975-77 abuse
- USA No Indian-style single constitutional emergency code; emergency authority is dispersed across Constitution and statutes and remains subject to federal checks
- Germany Emergency design must be read with federal participation and the unamendable democratic-constitutional core

12. Borrowed provision versus adapted design

- Indian feature Often-linked source Indian adaptation
- Parliamentary government UK Written Constitution, republican head, judicial review and federalism
- Fundamental Rights and judicial review USA Express restrictions, writs, DPSP interaction and basic structure

13.1 2018 GS-II: basic tenets of Indian and US political systems

- Thesis: Both are constitutional, democratic, republican and federal systems with judicial review,
- but India combines parliamentary responsibility and a strong-centre federation while the USA uses
- presidential separation and coordinate-state federalism.

13.2 2019 GS-II: what France can learn from Indian secularism

- Define the different histories of Indian secularism and French laicite. Explain India's principled
- distance, accommodation and reform; identify equality and public-order limits; suggest
- proportionality, non-discrimination and protection of individual religious freedom as transferable

13.3 2020 GS-II: Indian and UK judicial systems

- Thesis: Both share common-law reasoning, judicial independence and precedent, but the Indian
- judiciary operates under constitutional supremacy and can invalidate legislation, whereas the UK
- system operates within parliamentary sovereignty.

13.4 2022 GS-II: election of Presidents of India and France

- Start with the different office designs. Compare electorate, direct/indirect character, voting system,
- federal weighting, majority logic and political mandate. Conclude that procedure follows function
- nominal federal head versus active semi-presidential head.

13.5 2023 GS-II: British and Indian parliamentary practice

- Because the locally held scan has a manual-verification warning on the final noun, prepare the stable
- comparative spine: responsible government, cabinet leadership, lower-house confidence, head of state,
- PM's chamber, constitutional/parliamentary supremacy, federalism, conventions, rights and judicial

13.6 2024 GS-II: Indian and US secularism

- Define secular constitutionalism; compare Indian principled engagement/social reform with US
- non-establishment and free exercise; state shared commitments to liberty and equality; avoid the
- "India supports all religions, USA completely separates" caricature.

13.7 2025 GS-II: pardon power

- Compare office context, advice, jurisdiction, express limits, judicial review and pre-emptive pardon.
- Define pre-emptive pardon precisely as completed conduct pardoned before prosecution/conviction, not

13.8 2025 GS-II: judicial appointments

- Trace India's First-Second-Third Judges cases and NJAC; compare collegium with US nomination and
- Senate confirmation; evaluate independence, transparency, delay, accountability and politicisation;
- conclude with accountable independence.

14. High-yield traps

- UK Constitution is uncoded, not wholly unwritten.
- Parliamentary sovereignty in the UK is not the Indian position.
- Indian Parliament has limited constituent power; it is not an ordinary subordinate legislature.

15. Universal Mains comparison template

- Introduction: identify both constitutional contexts and the institution being compared.
- actual operation and one qualification.
- Conclusion: state the design trade-off and whether India should adapt a principle rather than copy

16. Answer architecture (10/15/20-mark support)

16.1 Comparative demand and directive map (route by demand-type, not by year)

- Demand type Directive signals Answer spine
- Feature comparison "compare and contrast", "convergence and divergence", "basic tenets" Shared frame -> similarities -> differences -> constitutional consequence of the difference
- Lesson-drawing "what can X learn from India", "transferable lessons" Identify India's working principle -> isolate the transferable principle -> state the limit that blocks a mechanical transplant

16.2 Qualified thesis options for comparative answers

- The comparative question is almost always won on the consequence of a difference, not the difference itself: the point is not that the UK is sovereign-Parliament and India is supreme-Constitution, but what that does to rights protection and judicial power.
- Lesson-drawing runs one way in the exam - India exports principles (principled secular engagement, PIL access, basic-structure limits) but rarely mechanisms, because founding history and party systems block mechanical transplant.
- Labels deceive: "President", "Senate", "federation" and "secular" name different functions in India, the USA, France, Germany and Switzerland, so a valid comparison must compare functions, not nouns.

16.4 The no-shallow-feature-list rule (non-negotiable)

- [LIMIT] A feature list ("UK is uncoded, US is written, India is written.") is not an answer. Every compared feature must run to its constitutional consequence - what the difference does to rights, accountability, federal balance or stability.
- [LIMIT] Compare the same function across systems (how each selects judges, limits the executive, protects rights), never an Indian court against a foreign legislature because both sit in the same chapter.
- [LIMIT] Name the operating variable (party system, convention, federal form, judicial doctrine) that makes the same design behave differently - this is where marks are earned.

16.5 Country-by-country selectable evidence bank (with India anchor)

- Use one comparator well. "Sourcing depth" flags how richly this repository actually supports each country, so you deploy the strong ones and keep the thin ones to a single line.
- Country Design feature this repo sources India anchor / contrast (the consequence) Sourcing depth here
- [FACT] Canada Holding-together, strong-centre federation; residuary power with the centre The chief source of India's strong Union + residuary to the Centre; India adds single citizenship and asymmetric devices Moderate (federal design)

16.6 Borrowing versus adaptation - why a transplant behaves differently in India

16.7 Criticism and limits of comparison

- [LIMIT] False equivalence: shared labels ("President", "Senate", "secular", "federation") hide different functions - the commonest way a comparative answer goes wrong.
- [LIMIT] Source ≠ operation: identifying ancestry (UK, US, Canada.) explains origin, not present working; over-stating borrowing flattens India's synthesis.
- [LIMIT] Context-stripping: transplanting a foreign fix without its founding conditions, party system and capacity ignores why it worked there .

16.8 Verdict scaffolds for comparative demands

- Feature-comparison verdict: "The systems converge on constitutionalism and courts but diverge on where power is fused or separated; that single difference - fusion vs separation - cascades into their contrasting logics of accountability and stability."
- Lesson-drawing verdict: "What travels is the principle - principled secular engagement, broad rights access, a basic-structure floor - not the mechanism , because founding history and party incentives resist mechanical transplant."
- Transplant-critique verdict: "India borrowed the institution and re-purposed it; judged by fit rather than by fidelity to the source, the adaptation, not the copy, is the achievement."

16.9 Objective-style distinctions (future-Prelims safety)

- The generated blocks below route only Mains GS-II demands (2018 Q13, 2019 Q5, 2020 Q4, 2022 Q14, 2023 Q4, 2024 Q15) - no objective/Prelims PYQ is routed here . These discriminations guard the same facts against an unfamiliar objective question.
- Confusion pair Correct discrimination
- UK "unwritten" vs "uncodified" The UK constitution is uncodified (scattered across statutes, conventions, cases), not wholly unwritten

16.10 Factual-risk and current-status controls

- [FACT] US Supreme Court size is set by statute, not the Constitution - never assert a constitutionally fixed number of Justices.
- [FACT] Germany's eternity clause is Art 79(3) ; do not attribute an identical textual clause to India.
- [LIMIT] Keep secularism precise: India ≠ "supports all religions equally as State policy"; USA ≠ "absolute isolation"
 - avoid both caricatures (the 2019/2024 secularism demands turn on this).

Ombudsman, audit and fiscal watchdogs in comparative design

- Function India Comparative design lesson
- ombudsman statutory Lokpal; State-law Lokayuktas legal force and appointment design vary across systems
- public audit constitutional CAG reporting to legislatures Westminster-derived audit becomes constitutionally entrenched in India

Constitutional transplantation and hybrid adaptation

- origin - original function - Indian textual adaptation - Indian social/federal context
- judicial interpretation - operating consequence.
- British responsible government + written constitutional supremacy;

Final Answer Spine

- Define the institution or design in plain and technical language.
- State the exact constitutional, statutory, order-based or policy source.
- Explain the operating mechanism with named Indian evidence.
- Separate settled law from recommendation, policy, pending litigation and dated status.
- Present the strongest democratic, federal, independence or accountability counterpoint.
- Conclude with a calibrated reform or comparative verdict.

COMPLETE TOPIC ASCII MASTER FLOW DIAGRAM

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 1/9: Compare functions and contexts, not country labels

ROOT QUESTION

Why does the same constitutional institution behave differently after transplantation?

COMPARATIVE METHOD

function -> source model -> Indian text -> social/federal context
-> judicial interpretation -> political practice -> consequence.

AXES

codification/rigidity | executive-legislative relation | federal distribution
| rights/remedies | courts | amendment | emergency | elections | accountability.

"borrowed from" without adaptation and purpose is a memory list, not constitutional analysis.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 2/9: Written, unwritten, rigid and flexible constitutional forms

uncodified: statutes + common law + conventions + authoritative practice; politically flexible under parliamentary sovereignty.

USA

codified, supreme and comparatively rigid.

INDIA

codified and supreme; amendment routes range from simple majority to special majority and State ratification.

SOUTH AFRICA / GERMANY

written transformative/post-authoritarian constitutions with entrenched principles.

CONTROL

written != rigid; unwritten != lawless; flexibility and supremacy are separate variables.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 3/9: Parliamentary, presidential and semi-presidential executives

parliamentary fusion | collective responsibility | confidence | nominal/formal head distinction.

USA

presidential separation | fixed tenure | separately elected executive | legislative checks.

FRANCE

semi-presidential dual executive | directly elected President | responsible Prime Minister | cohabitation when parliamentary majority differs.

GERMANY

constructive vote of no confidence strengthens parliamentary stability.

SWITZERLAND

collegial Federal Council and direct-democratic context.

TRAP

Indian President != US President; parliamentary fusion != absence of checks.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 4/9: Federal, unitary and hybrid design with upper houses coordinate federalism | State equality in Senate | dual citizenship/court features.

CANADA

federal with strong-centre and residuary federal power influences.

AUSTRALIA

federal division + strong elected Senate + concurrent/trade inspirations.

INDIA

Union/State/Concurrent Lists | Union residuary power | single citizenship
| integrated judiciary | emergency centralisation | asymmetry.

UPPER HOUSES

Rajya Sabha population-weighted, indirectly elected and unequal;
US Senate State-equal and appointment-confirming;
German Bundesrat represents Land governments.

TRAP

bicameral label does not imply identical federal representation.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 5/9: Supremacy, judicial review and constitutional courts parliamentary sovereignty with rights and devolution qualifications.

USA

written supremacy + diffuse judicial review through ordinary courts.

GERMANY

specialised Federal Constitutional Court.

INDIA

Supreme Court + High Courts exercise diffuse review, writs and federal adjudication;
Parliament remains Constitution-limited.

CASES

Kesavananda Bharati (1973) -> basic structure.
Minerva Mills (1980) -> limited amendment and FR-DPSP harmony.
First Judges Case (1981) -> initial executive primacy.
Second Judges Case (1993) -> collegium and judicial primacy.
Third Judges Case (1998) -> collegium consultation enlarged.
Fourth Judges Case (2015) -> judicial-independence control of NJAC.
S.R. Bommai (1994) -> federalism and secularism as basic-structure controls.

TRAP

Indian judicial review is not borrowed as an unlimited US copy.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 6/9: Rights, due process and socio-economic directives rights tradition + due process + strong judicial enforcement.

USA

INDIA

Fundamental Rights + Article 32/226 remedies
+ Directive Principles + duties + reasonable-restriction architecture.

IRELAND

directive-principle inspiration, adapted to Indian transformative governance.

SOUTH AFRICA

express justiciable socio-economic rights and proportionality context.

JAPAN / INDIA

"procedure established by law" textual influence.
Maneka Gandhi (1978) adds fairness, non-arbitrariness and reasonableness.

TRAP

Indian DPSPs are not operationally identical to Ireland; procedure is not post-Maneka Gandhi (1978) formalism.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 7/9: Amendment, emergency and electoral design

AMENDMENT

UK political flexibility | USA high rigidity | India multi-track Article 368
| Germany eternity clause | Switzerland referendum routes.

INDIAN CONTROL

Kesavananda Bharati (1973) basic structure;
I.R. Coelho (2007) post-1973 Ninth Schedule review.

EMERGENCY

India: Articles 352/356/360 with 44th-Amendment safeguards and review.
Germany: post-authoritarian safeguards.
France: distinct presidential emergency design.

ELECTIONS

India/UK FPTP legislatures | US electoral college Presidency
| France two-round Presidency | Germany mixed-member
| Switzerland referendums/initiatives.

electoral system follows office and party-system context; no model is universally superior.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 8/9: Secularism and accountability institutions

SECULARISM

India: principled engagement, equality and reform.
USA: non-establishment + free exercise.
France: laicite and republican public sphere.
Germany: cooperative church-State arrangements.

ACCOUNTABILITY

India CAG: constitutional Westminster adaptation.
Lokpal: statutory ombudsman, not constitutional court.
Finance Commission: periodic expert federal-transfer body.
ECI: central constitutional election management.

COMPARATIVE LESSON

appointment, jurisdiction, remedy and political context matter more than institutional label.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 9/9: India's hybrid adaptation and UPSC synthesis

INDIAN HYBRID

British responsible government + written supremacy
| US rights/review + Canadian strong-centre federation
| Irish directives + Australian federal techniques
| German emergency lessons + South African transformative comparison.

PRELIMS FIREWALL

uncodified != unwritten | parliamentary != legislative supremacy in India
| federal != equal upper-house seats | President titles != powers
| borrowed != copied | DPSP != enforceable right | Rajya Sabha != US Senate.

MAINS MATRIX

design -> commonality -> difference -> reason -> consequence -> qualification.

VERDICT

India's Constitution is original in synthesis: foreign techniques were re-engineered for democratic responsibility, social transformation, federal diversity and judicially limited power.
