

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 1/8: 1. Three-term control

REASON: deductive/abductive inquiry, coherence, interpretation and criticism

REVELATION: claimed divine self-disclosure through event, person, text or experience

FAITH: trusting commitment with cognitive, volitional and practical dimensions

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 2/8: 2. Four relation models

REASON AND FAITH

- +> CONFLICT: one defeats the other (strong rationalism / fideism)
- +> INDEPENDENCE: distinct domains or language-games
- +> DIALOGUE: mutual questions, analogies and correction
- +> INTEGRATION: one coherent account; natural and revealed theology cooperate

EXAM RULE: identify which reason, which faith and which claim; scientific mechanism, metaphysical ground and salvific meaning need not compete directly.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 3/8: 3. Revelation types and tests

GENERAL / NATURAL: creation, conscience, universal reason

SPECIAL: historical act, prophet, incarnation, scripture

PROPOSITIONAL: truths communicated | PERSONAL/EVENT: God disclosed in encounter/history

AUTHENTICATION TESTS

internal coherence | moral fruits | historical credibility | communal continuity

fit with prior knowledge | capacity to disclose rather than merely confirm desire circularity problem: scripture authenticates God while God authenticates scripture.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 4/8: 4. Aquinas and natural theology

ONE TRUTH, TWO ROUTES

truths accessible to reason: that God exists, some attributes, natural law mysteries above reason: Trinity, Incarnation; not contrary to reason

grace perfects nature; revelation guides reason where inquiry is difficult or salvation urgent contradiction cannot be genuinely divine because truth cannot conflict with truth objection: imported metaphysics may domesticate revelation reply: reason does not generate mystery; it removes contradiction and clarifies implication.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 5/8: 5. Kierkegaard, fideism and faith

OBJECTIVE UNCERTAINTY + INFINITE PERSONAL CONCERN -> SUBJECTIVE APPROPRIATION

Kierkegaard: faith is passionate commitment, not a theorem forced by detached proof

Abraham exposes the “teleological suspension of the ethical” problem

belief-that: propositional assent | belief-in: trust and allegiance

faith may exceed available proof without affirming contradiction objection: leap licenses fanaticism | reply: authentic faith entails inward risk, responsibility and transformation, not arbitrary immunity from criticism.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 6/8: 6. Science, miracle and testimony

SCIENCE asks repeatable natural mechanism; religion may ask ground, value and destiny conflict arises when sacred interpretation makes empirical claims or scientism makes total claims

HUME ON MIRACLES: proportion belief to evidence; false testimony is usually more probable than violation of uniform experience

REPLIES: assess specific event, independent witnesses, background probability and divine context

TESTIMONY is indispensable but defeasible; miracle cannot be inferred merely from anomaly.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 7/8: 7. Justification and Indian parity

EVIDENTIALISM: belief should match publicly available evidence

REFORMED EPISTEMOLOGY: belief in God may be properly basic unless defeated

GREAT PUMPKIN: basicity still needs proper grounding and defeater control

CRITICAL RATIONALISM: commitment remains corrigible under criticism

WITTGENSTEINIAN VIEW: faith has grammar within a form of life

INDIAN PARITY

śruti/śabda as testimony | yukti as reasoning | anubhava as realisation

Advaita: scripture initiates inquiry; reasoning removes contradiction;

knowledge culminates in direct realisation

Nyāya: āpta testimony is a pramāṇa but must be semantically and causally trustworthy

Mīmāṃsā: authorless Veda avoids dependence on a divine speaker.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 8/8: 8. PYQ answer synthesis

DEFINE all three terms -> select conflict/independence/dialogue/integration model

-> distinguish revelation type -> named thinker -> strongest objection and reply

-> Indian śruti-yukti-anubhava comparison -> practical and public implications

avoid “faith versus reason” as a slogan: ask whether faith is contrary, above or supported by reason

QUALIFIED VERDICT: faith needs neither reduction to proof nor exemption from criticism;

rationally responsible faith is interpretive trust answerable to coherence, evidence and moral fruit.
