FOUR RELATION MODELS

FOUR RELATION MODELSRELIGION AND MORALITYMORALITY REQUIRES GOD/REVELATIONMORAL TRUTH IS AUTONOMOUSMORALITY IS INDEPENDENT BUT RELIGION MOTIVATES/SUSTAINS ITRELIGIOUS COMMAND OR IDENTITY CAN CONFLICT WITH MORAL JUDGEMENT

SOURCE / DOCTRINE

- RELIGION AND MORALITY
- DEPENDENCE: morality requires God/revelation

ARGUMENT / MECHANISM

- INDEPENDENCE: moral truth is autonomous
- SUPPORT: morality is independent but religion motivates/sustains it

IMPLICATION / VERDICT

- TENSION: religious command or identity can conflict with moral judgement separate ontology (what makes right), epistemology (how known),
- one answer need not settle all four.

ANSWER-GRABBING LINE — WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM: Religion may ground, reveal, motivate or sanction morality, and these four dependence claims must be assessed separately.

- categorical demand

ARGUMENT / MECHANISM

- motivation versions
- voluntarist: rightness constituted by command epistemic: revelation tells us independently grounded moral truth motivational: love/judgement strengthens compliance pressure

IMPLICATION / VERDICT

- command identification, conflicting revelations, autonomy and arbitrariness.
- GOD COMMANDS X → X IS OBLIGATORY attractions: objective authority

ANSWER-GRABBING LINE — WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM: Divine command gives obligation authoritative force but faces the dilemma between arbitrary will and independently intelligible goodness.

GOD'S NECESSARILY LOVING/GOOD NATURE GROUNDS VALUE DIVINE COMMANDS FLOWING

DOCTRINE / CLAIM

- IS X GOOD BECAUSE GOD COMMANDS IT?
- YES: morality appears arbitrary; cruelty could become right

OBJECTION / PRESSURE

- NO: goodness is independent; God is not its foundation
- MODIFIED DIVINE COMMAND THEORY

REPLY / RESIDUAL

- God's necessarily loving/good nature grounds value divine commands flowing from that nature ground obligation reply blocks arbitrary commands
- objection asks whether "good nature" is intelligible without a standard logically prior to command.

ANSWER-GRABBING LINE — WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM: The Euthyphro dilemma defeats arbitrary command, not every religious ethic; the strongest reply grounds commands in a necessarily good divine nature.

INDIAN MORAL GROUNDING

IMPLICATION / VERDICT

- GĪTĀ/VEDĀNTA: dharma, niškāma karma, devotion and knowledge reshape agency
- Indian ethics shows objective discipline without one uniform divine-command model.

ANSWER-GRABBING LINE — WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM: Indian moral grounding ranges from Vedic duty and karma to non-theistic compassion, so dharma cannot be reduced to divine command.

ARGUMENT / MECHANISM

IMPLICATION / VERDICT

- it can also rationalise bias when identity outruns universal concern
- TEST: conduct and reasons, not ritual profession alone, reveal moral integration.

ANSWER-GRABBING LINE — WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM: Religion can intensify moral motivation through identity, exemplars, community and accountability, but religiosity is neither necessary nor sufficient for moral conduct.

- Doctrine statement. Moral obligation consists in being commanded by God; modified versions ground commands in an essentially loving divine nature.
- Argument.
- (1) Obligation has authority over preference

ADVANCED OBJECTION

- (2) a supreme personal legislator can issue universally binding commands
- (3) divine knowledge and goodness secure right content
- (4) accountability supplies motivational seriousness.
- Presupposition. CAUTION: God exists, divine commands are knowable, and authority can generate moral reasons.

COMPARATIVE NUANCE

- Semantic dependence ("wrong" means forbidden) differs from metaphysical dependence (wrongness is constituted by prohibition) and motivational dependence (belief
- Canonical example. Abrahamic command cases test whether obedience can override ordinary moral judgement.
