

SOLVED PRACTICE WORKBOOK

The Colonial Legacy & the Foundations of the Republic - Solved Practice Workbook

UPSC complete learning session | Foundation to advanced | Concepts, evidence, practice and answer writing

The Colonial Legacy & the Foundations of the Republic
REFRESHED TEACHING NAVIGATION — BASIC/CORE FIRST
01 FOUNDATION — TWO INHERITANCES: COLONIAL LIABILITIES AGAINST MOVEMENT Core claim: The organising idea of this topic is a balance sheet with	02 FOUNDATION — THE DEVELOPMENT OF UNDERDEVELOPMENT AND ITS EXACT Precise definition: The development of underdevelopment is A.
03 FOUNDATION — THE AGRARIAN LEGACY: LANDLESSNESS, STAGNATION AND RENT The agrarian structure was dominated by landlords, moneylenders,	04 CORE — BODIES AND MINDS IN 1951: LITERACY AND LIFE EXPECTANCY Colonial education neglected mass, scientific and technical instruction
05 CORE — THE COLONIAL STATE THE REPUBLIC ACTUALLY INHERITED Core claim: The republic did not build a state from nothing and did	06 CORE — ABOUT 3 PER CENT AND ABOUT 15 PER CENT: THE FRANCHISE REFUSED The single most powerful fact available for a consolidation answer is
07 CORE — UNIVERSAL ADULT FRANCHISE AS THE BOLDEST DECISION OF THE PERIOD Core claim: Adopting universal adult franchise in a society that the	08 CORE — THE NATIONAL MOVEMENT AS AN INSTITUTIONAL, NOT SENTIMENTAL, ASSET The best explanation for India's democratic survival is institutional
09 CORE — SIMULTANEITY: WHY THE INITIAL YEARS ARE ONE CRISIS, NOT FOUR Mains: Use simultaneity as the thesis of any question on the	10 CORE — NEARLY SIX MILLION: A ONE-DIRECTIONAL FIGURE AND HOW TO USE IT Core claim: The refugee figure is the most commonly misused
11 CORE — ROUGHLY 500,000: ATTRIBUTION, DISPUTE AND ANSWER DISCIPLINE Never present partition mortality as an agreed death toll and never	12 CORE — 30 JANUARY 1948: ASSASSINATION, BAN AND THE CONDITIONS OF 1949 Precise definition: The 1948 to 1949 proscription episode denotes the
13 CORE SYNTHESIS — INSURRECTION TO ELECTIONS: THE COMMUNIST TRANSITION AND The Communist trajectory of 1948 to 1951 is the clearest evidence	14 CORE SYNTHESIS — COMPLETING THE MAP: PONDICHERRY, GOA, AND TWO OPERATIONS Operation Vijay in Goa in December 1961 must never be confused
15 CORE SYNTHESIS — THE FOUR-DOMAIN ANSWER AND THE SEVENTY-SEVENTH REPUBLIC A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau

Original deterministic study visual; labels are explanatory, not textual quotations.

Source order: repository knowledge -> official current linkage -> clearly marked analysis. No fabricated PYQs or statistics.

CONTENTS / WORKBOOK INDEX

Major learning parts and meaningful subtopics are listed in document order. Page numbers are generated from the final PDF layout; PDF bookmarks mirror the same hierarchy.

The Colonial Legacy & the Foundations of the Republic - Solved Practice Workbook 6

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION 6

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?	6
Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?	6
Q3. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?	6
Q4. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?	7
Q5. Which statement correctly identifies The development of underdevelopment?	7
Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under The development of underdevelopment?	8
Q7. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The development of underdevelopment?	8
Q8. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The development of underdevelopment?	8
Q9. Which statement correctly identifies Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?	9
Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?	9
Q11. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?	9
Q12. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?	10
Q13. Which statement correctly identifies Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?	10
Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?	11
Q15. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?	11
Q16. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?	11
Q17. Which statement correctly identifies The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?	12
Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?	12
Q19. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?	12
Q20. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?	13
Q21. Which statement correctly identifies The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?	13
Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?	14
Q23. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?	14
Q24. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?	14
Q25. Which statement correctly identifies Universal adult franchise as the republican break?	15
Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under Universal adult franchise as the republican break?	15
Q27. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Universal adult franchise as the republican break?	15

Q28. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Universal adult franchise as the republican break?	16
Q29. Which statement correctly identifies The national movement as an institutional asset?	16
Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under The national movement as an institutional asset?	16
Q31. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The national movement as an institutional asset?	17
Q32. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The national movement as an institutional asset?	17
Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?	17
Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?	18
Q35. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?	18
Q36. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?	18
Q37. Which statement correctly identifies Nearly six million refugees entering India?	19
Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under Nearly six million refugees entering India?	19
Q39. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Nearly six million refugees entering India?	19
Q40. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Nearly six million refugees entering India?	20
Q41. Which statement correctly identifies Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?	20
Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?	20
Q43. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?	21
Q44. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?	21
Q45. Which statement correctly identifies The assets settlement of January 1948?	21
Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under The assets settlement of January 1948?	22
Q47. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The assets settlement of January 1948?	22
Q48. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The assets settlement of January 1948?	23
Q49. Which statement correctly identifies The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?	23
Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?	23
Q51. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?	24
Q52. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?	24
Q53. Which statement correctly identifies The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?	24
Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?	25
Q55. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?	25
Q56. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?	25
Q57. Which statement correctly identifies The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?	26
Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?	26

Q59. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?	26
Q60. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?	27
Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?	27
Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?	28
Q63. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?	28
Q64. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?	28
Q65. Which statement correctly identifies The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?	29
Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?	29
Q67. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?	29
Q68. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?	30
Q69. Which statement correctly identifies Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?	30
Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?	31
Q71. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?	31
Q72. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?	31
Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?	32
Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?	32
Q75. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?	33
Q76. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?	33
Q77. Which statement correctly identifies The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?	33
Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?	34
Q79. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?	34
Q80. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?	35
Semantic-completeness coverage drills - Modern Topic 29	35

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE 35

PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2025 Mains GS-I Q12	36
PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2021 Mains GS-I Q3	37
ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS	37
ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS	38
ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS	39
ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS	40

ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS 40

ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS 41

The Colonial Legacy & the Foundations of the Republic - Solved Practice Workbook

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?

A. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. B. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. C. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. D. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates.

Answer: A. Explanation: The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?

A. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. B. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. C. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. D. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development.

Answer: B. Explanation: The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q3. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?

A. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. B. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. C. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. D. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population.

Answer: C. Explanation: The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q4. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Landless agricultural labour from 1871 onwards?

A. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. B. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. C. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. D. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate.

Answer: D. Explanation: The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q5. Which statement correctly identifies The development of underdevelopment?

A. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. B. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. C. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. D. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim.

Answer: A. Explanation: Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under The development of underdevelopment?

A. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. B. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. C. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. D. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development.

Answer: B. Explanation: Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q7. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The development of underdevelopment?

A. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. B. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. C. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. D. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question.

Answer: C. Explanation: Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q8. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The development of underdevelopment?

A. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. B. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. C. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. D. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth.

Answer: D. Explanation: Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q9. Which statement correctly identifies Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?

A. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. B. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. C. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. D. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development.

Answer: A. Explanation: The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?

A. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. B. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. C. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. D. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development.

Answer: B. Explanation: The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q11. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?

A. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. B. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. C. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. D. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population.

Answer: C. Explanation: The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q12. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Stagnant agriculture and a rentier agrarian structure?

A. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. B. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. C. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. D. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates.

Answer: D. Explanation: The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q13. Which statement correctly identifies Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?

A. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. B. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. C. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. D. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population.

Answer: A. Explanation: The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?

A. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. B. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. C. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. D. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.

Answer: B. Explanation: The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q15. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?

A. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. B. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. C. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. D. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved.

Answer: C. Explanation: The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q16. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Literacy and life expectancy at the moment of independence?

A. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. B. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. C. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. D. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim.

Answer: D. Explanation: The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q17. Which statement correctly identifies The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?

A. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. B. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. C. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. D. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question.

Answer: A. Explanation: The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?

A. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. B. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. C. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. D. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.

Answer: B. Explanation: The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q19. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?

A. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. B. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. C. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. D. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.

Answer: C. Explanation: The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q20. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The colonial state: authoritarian core, liberal fragments?

A. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. B. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. C. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. D. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development.

Answer: D. Explanation: The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q21. Which statement correctly identifies The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?

A. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. B. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. C. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. D. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question.

Answer: A. Explanation: The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?

A. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. B. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. C. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. D. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.

Answer: B. Explanation: The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q23. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?

A. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. B. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. C. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. D. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll.

Answer: C. Explanation: The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q24. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The colonial franchise of about 3 and about 15 per cent?

A. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. B. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. C. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. D. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population.

Answer: D. Explanation: The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q25. Which statement correctly identifies Universal adult franchise as the republican break?

A. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. B. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. C. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. D. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved.

Answer: A. Explanation: The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under Universal adult franchise as the republican break?

A. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. B. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. C. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. D. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved.

Answer: B. Explanation: The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q27. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Universal adult franchise as the republican break?

A. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. B. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. C. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. D. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance.

Answer: C. Explanation: The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q28. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Universal adult franchise as the republican break?

A. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. B. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. C. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. D. The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question.

Answer: D. Explanation: The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q29. Which statement correctly identifies The national movement as an institutional asset?

A. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. B. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. C. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. D. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved.

Answer: A. Explanation: Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under The national movement as an institutional asset?

A. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. B. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. C. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. D. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll.

Answer: B. Explanation: Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q31. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The national movement as an institutional asset?

A. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. B. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. C. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. D. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance.

Answer: C. Explanation: Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q32. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The national movement as an institutional asset?

A. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. B. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. C. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. D. Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.

Answer: D. Explanation: Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?

A. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. B. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. C. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. D. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll.

Answer: A. Explanation: India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?

A. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. B. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. C. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. D. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance.

Answer: B. Explanation: India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q35. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?

A. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. B. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. C. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. D. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance.

Answer: C. Explanation: India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q36. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Independence on 15 August 1947 and the simultaneity of crises?

A. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. B. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. C. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. D. India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved.

Answer: D. Explanation: India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q37. Which statement correctly identifies Nearly six million refugees entering India?

A. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. B. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. C. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. D. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance.

Answer: A. Explanation: The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under Nearly six million refugees entering India?

A. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. B. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. C. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. D. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries.

Answer: B. Explanation: The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q39. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Nearly six million refugees entering India?

A. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. B. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. C. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. D. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries.

Answer: C. Explanation: The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q40. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Nearly six million refugees entering India?

A. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. B. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. C. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. D. The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border.

Answer: D. Explanation: The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q41. Which statement correctly identifies Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?

A. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. B. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. C. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. D. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries.

Answer: A. Explanation: The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?

A. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. B. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. C. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. D. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic.

Answer: B. Explanation: The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q43. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?

A. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. B. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. C. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. D. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation.

Answer: C. Explanation: The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q44. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Chandra's mortality estimate of roughly 500,000?

A. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaqat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. B. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. C. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. D. The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll.

Answer: D. Explanation: The source states that nearly 500,000 people were killed within a few months of Partition, but this is Chandra's estimate and is not settled scholarship, because wider scholarship offers substantially different totals, so the figure must always be attributed and never asserted as an agreed death toll. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q45. Which statement correctly identifies The assets settlement of January 1948?

A. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. B. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. C. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. D. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation.

Answer: A. Explanation: In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under The assets settlement of January 1948?

A. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. B. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. C. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. D. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation.

Answer: B. Explanation: In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q47. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The assets settlement of January 1948?

A. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. B. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. C. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. D. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date.

Answer: C. Explanation: In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q48. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The assets settlement of January 1948?

A. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. B. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. C. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaqat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. D. In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance.

Answer: D. Explanation: In January 1948, following a fast by Gandhi, the Government of India paid Pakistan Rs 550 million as part of the assets of Partition even while fearing how the money might be used, and this figure is carried as the source's attributed record of one specific transfer rather than as a full account of partition finance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q49. Which statement correctly identifies The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?

A. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. B. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. C. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. D. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation.

Answer: A. Explanation: Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?

A. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. B. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. C. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. D. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaqat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it.

Answer: B. Explanation: Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q51. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?

A. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. B. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. C. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. D. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it.

Answer: C. Explanation: Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q52. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The assassination of Gandhi on 30 January 1948?

A. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. B. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. C. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. D. Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries.

Answer: D. Explanation: Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q53. Which statement correctly identifies The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?

A. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. B. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. C. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. D. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date.

Answer: A. Explanation: From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?

A. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. B. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. C. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. D. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaqat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it.

Answer: B. Explanation: From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q55. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?

A. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. B. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaqat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. C. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: C. Explanation: From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q56. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Communist insurrectionary turn from February 1948?

A. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. B. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. C. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. D. From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic.

Answer: D. Explanation: From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q57. Which statement correctly identifies The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?

A. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. B. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. C. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. D. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaqat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it.

Answer: A. Explanation: The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?

A. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaqat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. B. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. C. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: B. Explanation: The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q59. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?

A. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. B. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. C. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: C. Explanation: The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q60. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The lifting of the ban in July 1949 on stated conditions?

A. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. B. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. C. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. D. The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation.

Answer: D. Explanation: The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?

A. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. B. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. C. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. D. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?

A. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. B. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. C. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q63. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?

A. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. B. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. C. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q64. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Adoption on 26 November 1949 and commencement on 26 January 1950?

A. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. B. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. C. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. D. The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q65. Which statement correctly identifies The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?

A. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. B. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. C. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: A. Explanation: On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?

A. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. B. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. C. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: B. Explanation: On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q67. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?

A. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. B. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. C. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. D. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate.

Answer: C. Explanation: On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q68. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Nehru-Liaquat Pact of 8 April 1950?

A. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. B. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. C. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. D. On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it.

Answer: D. Explanation: On 8 April 1950 the prime ministers of India and Pakistan signed the agreement known as the Nehru-Liaquat Pact, spelt Nehru-Liaquat in the local text, to secure the protection of minorities in both countries; two ministers resigned in protest and migration from East Bengal continued despite it. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q69. Which statement correctly identifies Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?

A. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. B. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. C. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. D. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?

A. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. B. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. C. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. D. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q71. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?

A. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. B. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. C. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. D. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q72. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Telangana called off by mid-1951 and the CPI legalised?

A. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. B. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. C. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. D. The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?

A. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. B. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. C. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. D. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate.

Answer: A. Explanation: The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?

A. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. B. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. C. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate. D. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth.

Answer: B. Explanation: The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q75. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?

A. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. B. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. C. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. D. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim.

Answer: C. Explanation: The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q76. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961?

A. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. B. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. C. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. D. The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Answer: D. Explanation: The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q77. Which statement correctly identifies The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?

A. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. B. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. C. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. D. The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate.

Answer: A. Explanation: A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?

A. Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth. B. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. C. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. D. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim.

Answer: B. Explanation: A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q79. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?

A. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. B. The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates. C. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. D. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim.

Answer: C. Explanation: A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q80. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The republic's anniversary as a live commemorative anchor?

A. The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development. B. The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population. C. The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim. D. A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh.

Answer: D. Explanation: A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Semantic-completeness coverage drills - Modern Topic 29

Control	Required answer route	Fatal trap
Chronology	exact event sequence and bounded endpoint	telescoping later events
Ownership	state what this topic owns and hands off	duplicate cross-topic narrative
Mechanism	connect institution, resources, actors and consequence	list without causation
Evidence	named event/office/treaty/source plus qualification	decorative evidence
PYQ	preserve direct/adjacent status and key provenance	invented direct PYQ or official key
Answer	thesis -> evidence -> analysis -> limit -> verdict	generic narrative

PYQ ownership control: one locally verified direct 2025 GS-I route, one adjacent-owned 2021 route and zero direct Prelims routes.

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE

Recent PYQ Integration (2024-2025)

Status: 2024-2025 question-level PYQ demand is integrated into this owner. Provenance: Audited local official-paper routing ledgers: _PYQ-ROUTING-MAINS-GS1-GS2-ESSAY-2024-2025.md.

- Years represented: 2025
- Paper(s): GS-I
- Routed question demands: 1

Year	Paper	Q	PYQ demand (neutral rendering)	Directive /format	Source status	Owner requirement
2025	GS-I	12	India's consolidation in the early phase of independence	Trace · 15 marks · 250 words	Routed to owning topic	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.

What this owner must now support

- India's consolidation in the early phase of independence

This block integrates the 2024-2025 examinable demand and paper metadata. It is kept separate from the 2018-2023 block and does not convert an unkeyed/answer-free objective question into a solved answer.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2025 Mains GS-I Q12

Demand: Trace India's consolidation process during early phase of independence in terms of polity, economy, education and international relations. (Answer in 250 words)

Status: verbatim-official-stem-verified-locally in the repository export of the 2025 General Studies Paper I question paper, and routed to this owner at 15 marks by the audited local Mains routing ledger

Model solution / safe handling: The directive is Trace and the examiner has named four domains, so the structure is fixed before a word is written: one tight paragraph each for polity, economy, education and international relations, each carrying one named institution or decision and one honest limitation, and a closing sentence that links them. Open with a single-line thesis that consolidation was pursued on four fronts at once and that each front protected the others. For polity, trace the movement from a fragmented inheritance to a single constitutional order: the accession and merger of more than 560 princely states, the adoption of the Constitution on 26 November 1949 and its commencement on 26 January 1950, and above all the replacement of a colonial franchise of about 3 per cent after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935 by universal adult franchise; the limitation is the strong-centre bias and the unresolved regional question. For economy, trace the move from the development of underdevelopment to a state-led planned framework with a public-sector core and land reform legislation; the limitation is slow growth and land reform that was largely unimplemented. For education, begin from the source's finding that nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate in 1951, with about 92 per cent illiteracy among women, and trace the deliberate state investment in universities, technical institutions and scientific research capacity; the limitation is that expansion was elite-first while primary education and female literacy lagged. For international relations, trace the choice of non-alignment and Asian solidarity by a militarily weak new state already fighting on a contested frontier, and complete the map with Pondicherry in 1954 and Goa in December 1961; the limitation is limited hard power. Close by showing the interlock: the political settlement made planning possible, planning required peace, peace was purchased by non-alignment, and education was the long-term condition of all three.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2025 Mains GS-I Q12", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise five named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2025 Mains GS-I Q12", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2021 Mains GS-I Q3

Demand: Assess the main administrative issues and socio-cultural problems in the integration process of Indian Princely States. (Answer in 150 words)

Status: adjacent-owner-routed-demand; the audited ledger routes this stem to the Topic 28 owner, and it is carried here only because princely integration is one of the four simultaneous crises of the initial years

Model solution / safe handling: Do not answer this question from the colonial-legacy owner. Use it instead as the integration paragraph inside a consolidation answer: state that paramountcy lapsed rather than being transferred, that the States Department under Patel and V.P. Menon secured accession on Defence, External Affairs and Communications, and that merger, democratisation and constitutional incorporation followed. The full solved treatment, including the socio-cultural head that the examiner names separately, belongs to the Topic 28 owner and is solved there; this package neither duplicates it nor claims it.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on “PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2021 Mains GS-I Q3”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise five named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For “PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2021 Mains GS-I Q3”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS

Question: Explain what the Indian republic inherited from colonial rule in the economic sphere. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: The republic inherited underdevelopment as a structure rather than as mere poverty: a dependent and stagnant economy whose real changes in transport, administration and education were locked inside a framework that reproduced dependence.

Evidence spine:

- Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth.
- The same source records a decline of about 14 per cent in per capita agricultural production between 1901 and 1941 with a larger fall in foodgrains, alongside an agrarian structure dominated by landlords, moneylenders and the colonial state, and these figures are carried as the source's own attributed estimates.
- The local OCR text of India After Independence records that landless agricultural labourers grew from about 13 per cent of the agricultural population in 1871 to about 28 per cent by the middle of the twentieth century, and this package carries that movement strictly as the source's attributed estimate.
- The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: The republic inherited underdevelopment as a structure rather than as mere poverty: a dependent and stagnant economy whose real changes in transport, administration and education were locked inside a framework that reproduced dependence.

Demand decoding: The directive explain requires a direct position on “Explain what the Indian republic inherited from colonial rule in the economic sphere...”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise three named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For “Explain what the Indian republic inherited from colonial rule in the economic sphere...”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS

Question: "The colonial franchise and universal adult suffrage belong to two different political worlds." Discuss. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: The contrast between an electorate of about 3 per cent after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935 and the immediate adoption of universal adult franchise is the clearest measure of how far the republic broke with the state it inherited.

Evidence spine:

- The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population.
- The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question.
- Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.
- The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: The contrast between an electorate of about 3 per cent after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935 and the immediate adoption of universal adult franchise is the clearest measure of how far the republic broke with the state it inherited.

Demand decoding: The directive discuss requires a direct position on ““The colonial franchise and universal adult suffrage belong to two different political...”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise three named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For “The colonial franchise and universal adult suffrage belong to two different political...”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS

Question: Assess the challenges of the initial years of the republic and the means by which the leadership contained them. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: The achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived: refugee resettlement, communal violence after Gandhi's assassination, an armed communist insurgency and a contested frontier were handled together, by a combination of secular reassurance, negotiated settlement and coercive capacity, without suspending democracy.

Evidence spine:

- India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved.
- The source records nearly six million refugees pouring into India after Partition, and this is a one-directional figure for people entering India that must never be presented as the total displacement in both directions across the new border.
- Gandhi was assassinated on 30 January 1948 by Nathuram Godse, described in the source as a Hindu communal fanatic, and the government immediately banned the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and arrested most of its leaders and functionaries.
- From February 1948 the Communist Party of India, under the line associated with B.T. Ranadive, declared independence false and turned to armed struggle, so the party that later became a parliamentary opposition first tested an insurrectionary road inside the new republic.
- The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: The achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived: refugee resettlement, communal violence after Gandhi's assassination, an armed communist insurgency and a contested frontier were handled together, by a combination of secular reassurance, negotiated settlement and coercive capacity, without suspending democracy.

Demand decoding: The directive assess requires a direct position on “Assess the challenges of the initial years of the republic and the means by which the...”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise five named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For “Assess the challenges of the initial years of the republic and the means by which the...”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS

Question: Examine how the legacy of the national movement shaped the institutions and values of the Indian republic. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: India's democratic survival is best explained by institutional residue rather than by individual virtue: a movement that had already practised elections, argument and organisation for three decades supplied the legitimacy that a new and desperately poor state could not have manufactured for itself.

Evidence spine:

- Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.
- The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question.
- The colonial state was basically authoritarian and autocratic yet carried liberal fragments such as the rule of law, a relatively independent judiciary and limited press freedoms, and the republic inherited that apparatus of services, police, codes and district administration and had to convert an instrument of order into an instrument of development.
- The Constitution was adopted on 26 November 1949 and came into force on 26 January 1950, so independence in 1947 and the republic in 1950 are two different constitutional events that must never be merged into a single date.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: India's democratic survival is best explained by institutional residue rather than by individual virtue: a movement that had already practised elections, argument and organisation for three decades supplied the legitimacy that a new and desperately poor state could not have manufactured for itself.

Demand decoding: The directive examine requires a direct position on "Examine how the legacy of the national movement shaped the institutions and values of the...", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise five named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "Examine how the legacy of the national movement shaped the institutions and values of the...", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS

Question: "India began its republican journey with an economy of scarcity but a polity of strength." Critically examine. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: The asset-and-liability reading holds, but only if both sides are stated with their limits: the political inheritance was genuinely stabilising, while the deferral of land reform, mass education and female literacy shows that a polity of strength did not automatically convert into a society of opportunity.

Evidence spine:

- Chandra describes the colonial economic outcome as the development of underdevelopment, a phrase he expressly attributes to A. Gunder Frank, meaning that real changes in railways, administration and education were locked inside a colonial framework that generated dependence and poverty rather than growth.

- The source records that in 1951 nearly 84 per cent of Indians were illiterate with illiteracy at about 92 per cent among women, and that an Indian born between 1940 and 1951 could expect to live barely thirty-two years; every one of these numbers must be attributed and never rounded into a fresh claim.
- The source records that only about 3 per cent of Indians could vote after 1919 and about 15 per cent after 1935, so representative institutions did exist under colonial rule while the electorate entitled to use them remained a small fraction of the population.
- Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.
- The republic did not widen the colonial franchise by degrees but replaced it outright with universal adult franchise, which is the sharpest single contrast available between a colonial liability and a republican choice and the fact that best answers a consolidation question.
- The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: The asset-and-liability reading holds, but only if both sides are stated with their limits: the political inheritance was genuinely stabilising, while the deferral of land reform, mass education and female literacy shows that a polity of strength did not automatically convert into a society of opportunity.

Demand decoding: The directive critically examine requires a direct position on "India began its republican journey with an economy of scarcity but a polity of strength."..., coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise six to eight named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "India began its republican journey with an economy of scarcity but a polity of strength."..., replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS

Question: Evaluate the founding consensus of the early republic - democracy, secularism, planning, civilian control and non-alignment - by its achievements and its limits. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: The founding consensus was a coherent settlement rather than a list of preferences, and it should be graded rather than celebrated: each of its five commitments was honoured institutionally and each was qualified in practice within the first decade and a half.

Evidence spine:

- Against the economic liabilities stands a political asset: a tested all-India leadership including Nehru, Patel, Rajendra Prasad, Maulana Azad and Rajagopalachari, a party organised in every province, and settled commitments to democracy, civil liberties, secularism and social reform.
- India became independent on 15 August 1947 and immediately faced refugee movement, communal killing, the division of the army and the treasury, princely integration and fighting in Kashmir at the same time, so the achievement of the initial years was simultaneity survived rather than any single problem solved.

- The ban on the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh was lifted in July 1949 after it accepted conditions laid down by Patel as Home Minister: a written and published constitution, restriction to cultural activity, renunciation of violence and secrecy, loyalty to India's flag and Constitution, and democratic internal organisation.
- The Telangana armed struggle, spelt Telengana in the local text, was called off by mid-1951 as the Communist Party of India abandoned armed struggle for the parliamentary path, after which the party was legalised, its cadres were released and it was allowed to contest the first general elections.
- The French possessions centred on Pondicherry were handed over after prolonged negotiation in 1954 and Indian troops entered Goa on the night of 17 December 1961 in the action known as Operation Vijay, so the territorial map was completed years after 1947 and Goa's Operation Vijay must never be confused with Hyderabad's Operation Polo of September 1948.
- A Ministry of Defence release carried by the Press Information Bureau on 25 January 2026 records that the 77th Republic Day was celebrated on 26 January 2026 on the parade theme of unity in diversity, and the ordinal is itself a teaching device because counting 1950 as the first Republic Day is exactly what makes 2026 the seventy-seventh.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: The founding consensus was a coherent settlement rather than a list of preferences, and it should be graded rather than celebrated: each of its five commitments was honoured institutionally and each was qualified in practice within the first decade and a half.

Demand decoding: The directive evaluate requires a direct position on "Evaluate the founding consensus of the early republic - democracy, secularism, planning,...", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise six to eight named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "Evaluate the founding consensus of the early republic - democracy, secularism, planning,...", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.