CONTEMPORARY-ANCHOR DISCIPLINE

CONTEXT + EXACT CORE

Contemporary-anchor discipline: □□ Inference: Use anekāntavāda as a conceptual resource for intellectual humility and sallekhanā as a bounded ethics application.

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT

□□ Inference: Use anekāntavāda as a conceptual resource for intellectual humility and sallekhanā as a bounded ethics application.

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST

Do not invent a fresh legal development or let current application replace the printed metaphysics–logic–liberation syllabus.

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER USE

□ Fact: A live August 2026 search primarily returned contemporary educational discussion of anekāntavāda and continuing ethical discussion of sallekhanā, not a clearly verified new court ruling in the February–August window.

MASTER DISTINCTION GATEWAY

CONTEXT + EXACT CORE

Master verdict: Jainism is pluralistic realism with epistemic non-absolutism and a material theory of karmic bondage; its unity lies in linking ontology, knowledge, conduct and liberation.

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT

Reality contains many genuine aspects; finite knowers see only some of them; statements must therefore be qualified; and right knowledge must transform conduct so that karmic bondage can end.

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER USE

A live 2026 search found contemporary discussion of anekāntavāda and sallekhanā, used only as labelled conceptual application rather than doctrinal authority.

ANSWER LINE: Recommended opening definition: Jainism (Jina-centred path of many-sided reality and liberation) is a pluralist realism in which anekāntavāda (doctrine of many-sided reality) holds that enduring dravya (substance) possesses guṇa (qualities) and changing paryāya (modes).
