Semantic-completeness coverage drills - Modern Topic 15

Control	Required answer route	Fatal trap
Chronology	exact event sequence and bounded endpoint	telescoping later events
Ownership	state what this topic owns and hands off	duplicate cross-topic narrative
Mechanism	connect institution, resources, actors and consequence	list without causation
Evidence	named event/office/treaty/source plus qualification	decorative evidence
PYQ	preserve direct/adjacent status and key provenance	invented direct PYQ or official key
Answer	thesis -> evidence -> analysis -> limit -> verdict	generic narrative

PYQ ownership control: five direct routes; 2018 Lajpat Rai and 2020 Desher Katha answers are supplementary-evidence inferences because local official keys are unavailable.

What this owner must now support

- Lord Curzon's policies and their impact on the national movement

The table integrates the examinable demand and paper metadata. It does not turn an unkeyed objective question into a solved answer, and it does not claim that lexical presence alone proves full conceptual sufficiency.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2018 Prelims GS-I

Demand: He wrote biographies of Mazzini, Garibaldi, Shivaji and Shrikrishna; stayed in America for some time; and was also elected to the Central Assembly. Identify the leader from Aurobindo Ghosh, Bipin Chandra Pal, Lala Lajpat Rai and Motilal Nehru.

Status: supplementary-evidence; local official key unavailable

Model solution / safe handling: Supplementary historical evidence identifies Lala Lajpat Rai from the biographies of Mazzini, Garibaldi, Shivaji and Shrikrishna together with his American stay and Central Assembly career. The answer remains inferred because the local official 2018 key is unavailable.

Demand decoding: Treat “PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2018 Prelims GS-I” as a statement-level chronology and attribution problem: verify every date, Act/provision, person, organisation, region and causal claim independently, without inventing an official key.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: Fix the tested time window; separate event/enactment/commencement; match each actor and provision; eliminate the closest distractor with one named record, treaty, session or regional fact.

Why this earns marks: It preserves exact chronology and answer-text mapping, uses named evidence and keeps inferred elimination distinct from an official key.

How to improve this answer: For “PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2018 Prelims GS-I”, add one explicit line showing why the nearest distractor fails on date, legal status, geography, attribution or degree.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2019 Prelims GS-I

Demand: With reference to the Swadeshi Movement, assess whether it revived indigenous artisan crafts and industries and whether the National Council of Education was established as part of the movement.

Status: solved-demand-card

Model solution / safe handling: Retain indigenous enterprise, swadeshi stores and national education, including the National Council of Education in 1906 and Bengal National College. Do not reduce Swadeshi to foreign-cloth bonfires.

Demand decoding: Treat “PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2019 Prelims GS-I” as a statement-level chronology and attribution problem: verify every date, Act/provision, person, organisation, region and causal claim independently, without inventing an official key.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: Fix the tested time window; separate event/enactment/commencement; match each actor and provision; eliminate the closest distractor with one named record, treaty, session or regional fact.

Why this earns marks: It preserves exact chronology and answer-text mapping, uses named evidence and keeps inferred elimination distinct from an official key.

How to improve this answer: For “PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2019 Prelims GS-I”, add one explicit line showing why the nearest distractor fails on date, legal status, geography, attribution or degree.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 3 - 2020 Prelims GS-I

Demand: For Sakharam Ganesh Deuskar's Deshar Katha, assess the statements on the colonial state's hypnotic conquest of the mind, inspiration for Swadeshi street plays and folk songs, and whether 'desh' referred specifically to Bengal.

Status: supplementary-evidence; local official key unavailable

Model solution / safe handling: Supplementary historical evidence supports the first two statements: Deshar Katha criticised colonial conquest of the mind and inspired Swadeshi street plays and folk songs. It used desh for India, not Bengal alone. The answer remains inferred because the local official 2020 key is unavailable, and no circulation number is asserted.

Demand decoding: Treat "PYQ DEMAND CARD 3 - 2020 Prelims GS-I" as a statement-level chronology and attribution problem: verify every date, Act/provision, person, organisation, region and causal claim independently, without inventing an official key.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: Fix the tested time window; separate event/enactment/commencement; match each actor and provision; eliminate the closest distractor with one named record, treaty, session or regional fact.

Why this earns marks: It preserves exact chronology and answer-text mapping, uses named evidence and keeps inferred elimination distinct from an official key.

How to improve this answer: For "PYQ DEMAND CARD 3 - 2020 Prelims GS-I", add one explicit line showing why the nearest distractor fails on date, legal status, geography, attribution or degree.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 4 - 2020 GS-I

Demand: Evaluate the policies of Lord Curzon and their long term implications on the national movement. (10 marks, 150 words)

Status: model-solution

Model solution / safe handling: Curzon strengthened official control through municipal and university measures and partitioned Bengal in 1905. The policies discredited faith in incremental reform, united anti-partition protest and generated boycott, Swadeshi, national education and militant nationalism. Repression and division narrowed the movement, but the long-term result was a transformed nationalist repertoire.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "PYQ DEMAND CARD 4 - 2020 GS-I", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise five named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "PYQ DEMAND CARD 4 - 2020 GS-I", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 5 - 2023 Prelims GS-I

Demand: Statement-I: 7th August is declared as National Handloom Day. Statement-II: It was in 1905 that the Swadeshi Movement was launched on the same day. Assess the assertion-explanation relationship.

Status: solved-demand-card

Model solution / safe handling: National Handloom Day is observed on 7 August, matching the Calcutta Town Hall Boycott Resolution of 7 August 1905. Keep this date distinct from 16 October, when partition took effect.

Demand decoding: Treat “PYQ DEMAND CARD 5 - 2023 Prelims GS-I” as a statement-level chronology and attribution problem: verify every date, Act/provision, person, organisation, region and causal claim independently, without inventing an official key.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: Fix the tested time window; separate event/enactment/commencement; match each actor and provision; eliminate the closest distractor with one named record, treaty, session or regional fact.

Why this earns marks: It preserves exact chronology and answer-text mapping, uses named evidence and keeps inferred elimination distinct from an official key.

How to improve this answer: For “PYQ DEMAND CARD 5 - 2023 Prelims GS-I”, add one explicit line showing why the nearest distractor fails on date, legal status, geography, attribution or degree.

ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS

Question: Why did Curzon's policies accelerate militant nationalism? Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: Curzon joined administrative centralisation and cultural arrogance with a partition perceived as political division, turning Moderate disillusion into an active programme.

Evidence spine:

- Curzon's Calcutta Corporation Act of 1899 reduced elected Indian influence and symbolised an anti-representative official turn.
- The Indian Universities Act of 1904 increased official supervision over universities and intensified nationalist distrust of Curzon.
- Moderate limitations, colonial repression, economic distress, cultural self-assertion and Asian victories encouraged militant nationalism.
- Curzon's partition of Bengal was announced in July 1905 and was presented officially as an administrative reorganisation.
- Nationalists interpreted Bengal partition as a political attempt to divide a growing Bengali public and weaken anti-colonial mobilisation.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: Curzon joined administrative centralisation and cultural arrogance with a partition perceived as political division, turning Moderate disillusion into an active programme.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on “Why did Curzon's policies accelerate militant nationalism? Answer in about 150 words.”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Question: Distinguish Swadeshi from boycott in the anti-partition movement. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: Boycott withdrew consumption and cooperation, while Swadeshi built indigenous production, education and self-reliance; the two were negative and constructive arms of one strategy.

Evidence spine:

- A mass meeting at Calcutta Town Hall adopted the Boycott Resolution on 7 August 1905, a key launch point of the Swadeshi movement.
- Swadeshi promoted indigenous goods, enterprise and self-reliance as both an economic programme and a political discipline.
- Boycott rejected foreign goods and, in more militant programmes, extended toward official schools, courts and functions where feasible.
- The National Council of Education was founded in 1906, and Bengal National College was associated with Aurobindo Ghosh.
- The militant programme used passive resistance, self-help and withdrawal of cooperation to reduce dependence on colonial institutions.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: Boycott withdrew consumption and cooperation, while Swadeshi built indigenous production, education and self-reliance; the two were negative and constructive arms of one strategy.

Question: How did the Partition of Bengal transform the methods of Indian nationalism? Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: A concrete grievance shifted politics from annual petitioning toward boycott, constructive work, cultural mobilisation and passive resistance.

Evidence spine:

- Curzon's partition of Bengal was announced in July 1905 and was presented officially as an administrative reorganisation.

- Nationalists interpreted Bengal partition as a political attempt to divide a growing Bengali public and weaken anti-colonial mobilisation.
- A mass meeting at Calcutta Town Hall adopted the Boycott Resolution on 7 August 1905, a key launch point of the Swadeshi movement.
- The partition took effect on 16 October 1905, which was marked by hartals, processions, mourning and public solidarity rituals.
- Swadeshi promoted indigenous goods, enterprise and self-reliance as both an economic programme and a political discipline.
- Boycott rejected foreign goods and, in more militant programmes, extended toward official schools, courts and functions where feasible.
- The National Council of Education was founded in 1906, and Bengal National College was associated with Aurobindo Ghosh.
- Samitis, songs, festivals, processions and Vande Mataram carried anti-partition politics beyond petitions into everyday public action.
- The militant programme used passive resistance, self-help and withdrawal of cooperation to reduce dependence on colonial institutions.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: A concrete grievance shifted politics from annual petitioning toward boycott, constructive work, cultural mobilisation and passive resistance.

Question: Assess the social and regional reach of the Swadeshi movement. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Swadeshi widened participation and travelled beyond Bengal, but its urban concentration, regional variation and uneven peasant-Muslim participation limited durable mass consolidation.

Evidence spine:

- Samitis, songs, festivals, processions and Vande Mataram carried anti-partition politics beyond petitions into everyday public action.
- Lal-Bal-Pal refers to Lala Lajpat Rai, Bal Gangadhar Tilak and Bipin Chandra Pal, leading symbols of assertive nationalism.
- The Banaras Congress of 1905 supported Swadeshi and Bengal boycott; the Calcutta Congress of 1906 under Dadabhai Naoroji adopted a compromise programme of self-government, Swadeshi, boycott and national education.
- Swadeshi spread beyond Bengal through Tilak in Maharashtra, Lajpat Rai and Ajit Singh in Punjab, and V.O. Chidambaram Pillai in Madras, but intensity and social reach varied.

- Students, women, urban middle classes and selected workers and rural groups participated, while peasant and Muslim participation remained uneven.
- Bans, arrests, prosecutions, deportations, press restrictions and Congress division weakened the open Swadeshi movement after 1907.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: Swadeshi widened participation and travelled beyond Bengal, but its urban concentration, regional variation and uneven peasant-Muslim participation limited durable mass consolidation.

Demand decoding: The directive assess requires a direct position on “Assess the social and regional reach of the Swadeshi movement. Answer in about 250 words.”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Conclusion: Swadeshi supplied boycott, passive resistance, self-reliance and constructive work; Gandhi later added village-scale organisation, disciplined non-violence and broader social inclusion.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on “Was Swadeshi a precursor to Gandhian mass nationalism? Answer in about 300 words.”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise six to eight named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For “Was Swadeshi a precursor to Gandhian mass nationalism? Answer in about 300 words.”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.
