

COMPLETE LEARNING SESSION

From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73 - Learner-v2 Refreshed

UPSC complete learning session | Foundation to advanced | Concepts, evidence, practice and answer writing

Original deterministic study visual; labels are explanatory, not textual quotations.

Source order: repository knowledge -> official current linkage -> clearly marked analysis. No fabricated PYQs or statistics.

CONTENTS / SESSION INDEX

Major learning parts and meaningful subtopics are listed in document order. Page numbers are generated from the final PDF layout; PDF bookmarks mirror the same hierarchy.

From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73 - Learner-v2 Complete Learning Session	6
SOURCE, PROGRESSION AND CURRENT-LINKAGE AUDIT	6
BASIC LEARNING SESSION	6
DEEP-REVIEW LEARNING CONTRACT	6
EVIDENCE, PYQ AND CURRENT-STATUS CONTROL	7
SESSION 1 - FOUNDATION - SHASTRI'S ACCESSION AND THE 1965 WAR, JUNE 1964 TO JANUARY 1966	7
SESSION 2 - FOUNDATION - INDIRA GANDHI'S ELECTION AS PRIME MINISTER, JANUARY 1966	9
SESSION 3 - FOUNDATION - THE RUPEE DEVALUATION OF JUNE 1966 AND ITS CAUSES	11
SESSION 4 - CORE - THE PRIME MINISTER'S SECRETARIAT AND EARLY EXECUTIVE CENTRALISATION	13
SESSION 5 - CORE - THE 1967 GENERAL ELECTION: THE END OF EASY DOMINANCE	15
SESSION 6 - CORE - COALITION GOVERNMENTS AND DEFECTION POLITICS AFTER 1967	17
SESSION 7 - CORE - THE 1969 CONGRESS SPLIT: GIRI, BANK NATIONALISATION AND THE SYNDICATE'S DEFEAT	18
SESSION 8 - CORE - THE SUPREME COURT'S 1970 RULINGS AGAINST THE EXECUTIVE	20
SESSION 9 - CORE - 1971: PRIVY PURSES ABOLISHED AND THE GARIBI HATAO LANDSLIDE	22
SESSION 10 - CORE - THE 1971 BANGLADESH WAR AND ITS STRATEGIC SIGNIFICANCE	24
SESSION 11 - CORE - COMPARING 1965 AND 1971: TWO WARS, TWO OUTCOMES	26
SESSION 12 - CORE - POKHRAN-I, MAY 1974: INDIA'S FIRST NUCLEAR TEST	27
SESSION 13 - CORE SYNTHESIS - DE-INSTITUTIONALISATION: THE HIDDEN COST OF CONSOLIDATION	29
SESSION 14 - CORE SYNTHESIS - THE COAL-SECTOR NATIONALISATION GAP: A BOUNDED CAUTION	30
SESSION 15 - CORE SYNTHESIS - RESILIENCE AND COST: TWO VERDICTS ON 1964-73	32
MODERN HISTORY DEEP-REVIEW CORE CONTROL	34
TOPIC 34 CLOSING SHASTRI-TO-INDIRA LEDGER	34
BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION	34
Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?	34
Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?	35
Q3. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?	35
Q4. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?	35
Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?	36

Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?	36
Q7. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?	36
Q8. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?	37
Q9. Which statement correctly identifies The rupee devaluation, June 1966?	37
Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under The rupee devaluation, June 1966?	37
Q11. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The rupee devaluation, June 1966?	37
Q12. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The rupee devaluation, June 1966?	38
Q13. Which statement correctly identifies The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?	38
Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?	38
Q15. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?	39
Q16. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?	39
Q17. Which statement correctly identifies The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?	39
Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?	40
Q19. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?	40
Q20. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?	40
Q21. Which statement correctly identifies The 1969 Congress split?	41
Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1969 Congress split?	41
Q23. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1969 Congress split?	41
Q24. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1969 Congress split?	41
Q25. Which statement correctly identifies The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?	42
Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?	42
Q27. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?	42
Q28. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?	43
Q29. Which statement correctly identifies V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?	43
Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?	43
Q31. Which option should a candidate retain when revising V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?	43
Q32. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?	44
Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Privy purses abolished, 1971?	44
Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Privy purses abolished, 1971?	44
Q35. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Privy purses abolished, 1971?	45
Q36. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Privy purses abolished, 1971?	45
Q37. Which statement correctly identifies The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?	45

Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?	46
Q39. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?	46
Q40. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?	46
Q41. Which statement correctly identifies The 1971 Bangladesh war?	47
Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1971 Bangladesh war?	47
Q43. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1971 Bangladesh war?	47
Q44. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1971 Bangladesh war?	48
Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Pokhran-I, May 1974?	48
Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Pokhran-I, May 1974?	48
Q47. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Pokhran-I, May 1974?	49
Q48. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Pokhran-I, May 1974?	49
Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Comparing 1965 and 1971?	49
Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Comparing 1965 and 1971?	50
Q51. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Comparing 1965 and 1971?	50
Q52. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Comparing 1965 and 1971?	50
Q53. Which statement correctly identifies De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?	51
Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?	51
Q55. Which option should a candidate retain when revising De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?	51
Q56. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?	52
Q57. Which statement correctly identifies The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?	52
Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?	52
Q59. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?	53
Q60. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?	53
Q61. Which statement correctly identifies 1967's three structural consequences?	53
Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under 1967's three structural consequences?	54
Q63. Which option should a candidate retain when revising 1967's three structural consequences?	54
Q64. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about 1967's three structural consequences?	54
Q65. Which statement correctly identifies The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?	55
Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?	55
Q67. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?	55
Q68. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?	56
Q69. Which statement correctly identifies The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?	56

Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?	56
Q71. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?	57
Q72. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?	57
Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?	57
Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?	58
Q75. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?	58
Q76. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?	58
Q77. Which statement correctly identifies Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?	59
Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?	59
Q79. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?	59
Q80. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?	60
PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE	60
ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS	60
ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS	61
ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS	62
ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS	63
ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS	63
ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS	64
OPTIONAL ADVANCED DEPTH - NOT REQUIRED FOR A CORE ANSWER	65
CONSOLIDATED REGISTER NOTES	67
COMPLETE TOPIC ASCII MASTER FLOW DIAGRAM	67

From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73 - Learner-v2

Complete Learning Session

SOURCE, PROGRESSION AND CURRENT-LINKAGE AUDIT

- Repository owners queried: Basic and Advanced Markdown for this topic, the master chronology, syllabus map and linked Modern History owners.
- OCR book evidence queried: The Basic and Advanced owner Markdown for this topic were reconciled against each other and against the folder's shared post-independence OCR source, Bipan Chandra, Mridula Mukherjee and Aditya Mukherjee, India After Independence, 1947-2000. Every date, name and institution used below already carries the owners' own FACT: (source-backed) or ANALYSIS: (inference) tagging, and that tagging is preserved rather than re-verified page by page against the raw PDF in this authoring pass.
- Qdrant: not used; Markdown plus searchable local PDFs were sufficient.
- PYQ integrity: One Prelims demand is routed to this owner in the local ledgers (`_PYQ-ROUTING-PRELIMS-2018-2023.md`): the 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 coal-sector-nationalisation-status demand, which the owner itself flags as having no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository; it is embedded verbatim below with no option, answer or invented statute name, and this authoring pass preserves that explicit unsupported-gap caution rather than fabricating a resolution. No Mains demand in the local 2018-2025 ledgers is routed to this owner.
- Bounded live linkage: No verified live current-affairs item is pegged to this topic. The owner's own Current-link section frames bank nationalisation, defections and Centre-State tension as recurring analytical themes rather than as a dated news event, and that bounded, unattributed framing is preserved here rather than inventing a specific live source or date.
- Fact/inference rule: historical claims are source-backed; analytical judgements are explicitly framed as interpretation and do not invent figures.

BASIC LEARNING SESSION

DEEP-REVIEW LEARNING CONTRACT

Control	Binding rule for this package
Syllabus boundary	Complete Modern History Core is taught chronologically and causally before optional enrichment.
Evidence method	Claim -> named Act/record/organisation/person/region or scholarly evidence -> analysis -> qualification.
Date discipline	Event, proposal, enactment, commencement, official policy, implementation and later interpretation remain distinct.
Historiography	Colonial, nationalist, Marxist, subaltern, Cambridge, feminist and other relevant arguments are attributed and tested, never used as labels alone.
Practice contract	Every solved item has demand decoding, an examiner-grade model, an executable answer/compression plan, marks rationale and answer-specific improvement.
Approval	This immutable successor remains approved: false pending explicit approval.

Canonical Basic/Core owner:

upsc-ai-kit\knowledge\Modern-Indian-History\basic\34_From-Shastri-to-Indira-1964-73.md

Canonical topic owner:

upsc-ai-kit\knowledge\Modern-Indian-History\basic\34_From-Shastri-to-Indira-1964-73.md

Optional Advanced owner: upsc-ai-kit\knowledge\Modern-Indian-History\advanced\34_From-Shastri-to-Indira-1964-73.md Official syllabus mapping:

upsc-ai-kit\knowledge\Modern-Indian-History\OFFICIAL-UPSC-SYLLABUS-MAPPING.md

EVIDENCE, PYQ AND CURRENT-STATUS CONTROL

- Official and primary evidence: Acts, charters, treaties, proclamations, committee reports, proceedings, organisational resolutions, speeches and contemporary records are dated and read for authorship and purpose.
- Regional and social evidence: petitions, newspapers, memoirs, local studies and material geography qualify elite or all-India generalisation.
- Economic and quantitative evidence: revenue, trade, price, wage, craft and mortality claims retain unit, region, period and uncertainty; statistics are never invented.
- Scholarly interpretation: historian schools are competing explanations tied to named evidence, not memorised verdicts.
- PYQ discipline: repository ledgers and locally held official papers control wording and metadata; reconstructed wording and unavailable official keys remain explicitly labelled.
- Current-status note, rechecked 2026-09-04: No verified live current-affairs item is pegged to this topic. The owner's own Current-link section frames bank nationalisation, defections and Centre-State tension as recurring analytical themes rather than as a dated news event, and that bounded, unattributed framing is preserved here rather than inventing a specific live source or date.

Live/primary context sources recorded by the predecessor generation:

- No live source is required for a static claim in this topic.

Refreshed teaching navigation

Distinct embedded teaching-navigation image. The separate continuous Cārvāka-style flowchart package remains an independent at-a-glance artifact.

SESSION 1 - FOUNDATION - SHASTRI'S ACCESSION AND THE 1965 WAR, JUNE 1964 TO JANUARY 1966

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: Lal Bahadur Shastri is the Prime Minister who led India through the 1965 war and died at Tashkent on 11 January 1966, hours after signing the declaration that ended it.

Technical definition: Lal Bahadur Shastri's short but consequential premiership opens this topic's chronology: he became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Nehru's death, led India through the 1965 war, and died at Tashkent within hours of signing the declaration that ended it.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Do not relocate Shastri's death to India or to any other date; it occurred at Tashkent on 10 January 1966.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- FOUNDATION
- Shastri's accession
- the 1965 war
- June 1964 to January 1966
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary

How to use them: Frame the answer through FOUNDATION; define Shastri's accession, connect the 1965 war with June 1964 to January 1966 to explain the mechanism, and use Precise definition for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

SHASTRI'S ACCESSION AND THE 1965 WAR, JUNE 1964 TO JANUARY 1966
SHASTRI PM -> JUNE 1964, after Nehru's death
1965 WAR -> India-Pakistan; ends at TASHKENT DECLARATION, Jan 1966
SHASTRI DIES -> Tashkent, 10 JANUARY 1966, hours after signing
INDIRA ELECTED PM -> JANUARY 1966, defeats Morarji Desai 355-169

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: Lal Bahadur Shastri is the Prime Minister who led India through the 1965 war and died at Tashkent on 11 January 1966, hours after signing the declaration that ended it.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

Lal Bahadur Shastri's short but consequential premiership opens this topic's chronology: he became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Nehru's death, led India through the 1965 war, and died at Tashkent within hours of signing the declaration that ended it.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964, chosen through a peaceful intra-party process rather than any crisis of succession.
- The 1965 India-Pakistan war was fought under his leadership and ended with the Tashkent Declaration, negotiated with Ayub Khan in January 1966.
- Shastri died at Tashkent on 11 January 1966, only hours after signing the declaration, prompting an immediate second succession.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not relocate Shastri's death to India or to any other date; it occurred at Tashkent on 10 January 1966.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not relocate Shastri's death to India or to any other date; it occurred at Tashkent on 10 January 1966.
- Mains: Use this session to open any 'succession and institutional resilience' Mains answer spanning 1964-66.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: Lal Bahadur Shastri's short but consequential premiership opens this topic's chronology: he became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Nehru's death, led India through the 1965 war, and died at Tashkent within hours of signing the declaration that ended it.
- Use: Use this session to open any 'succession and institutional resilience' Mains answer spanning 1964-66.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - FOUNDATION - SHASTRI'S ACCESSION AND THE 1965 WAR, JUNE 1964 TO JANUARY 1966

START / CONCEPT: FOUNDATION - Shastri's accession and the 1965 war, June 1964 to January 1966

|
v

EXACT TERMS: FOUNDATION · Shastri's accession · the 1965 war · June 1964 to January 1966 · Precise definition · Topic boundary

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Precise definition: Lal Bahadur Shastri is the Prime Minister who led India through the 1965 war and died at Tashkent on 11 January 1966, hours after signing the declaration that ended it.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Lal Bahadur Shastri's short but consequential premiership opens this topic's chronology: he became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Nehru's death, led India through the 1965 war, and died at Tashkent within hours of signing the declaration that ended it.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964, chosen through a peaceful intra-party process rather than any crisis of succession.

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Do not relocate Shastri's death to India or to any other date; it occurred at Tashkent on 10 January 1966.

SESSION 2 - FOUNDATION - INDIRA GANDHI'S ELECTION AS PRIME MINISTER, JANUARY 1966

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: Indira Gandhi is the Prime Minister elected in January 1966 by defeating Morarji Desai 355 votes to 169, initially with Syndicate backing that she later broke free of.

Technical definition: Core claim: Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister in January 1966 completed the second unplanned succession within twenty months, and it began under the assumption, soon disproved, that the Congress bosses known as the Syndicate could control her.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: Indira Gandhi is the Prime Minister elected in January 1966 by defeating Morarji Desai 355 votes to 169, initially with Syndicate backing that she later broke free of.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- FOUNDATION
- Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister
- January 1966
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim

How to use them: Frame the answer through FOUNDATION; define Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister, connect January 1966 with Precise definition to explain the mechanism, and use Topic boundary for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

INDIRA GANDHI'S ELECTION AS PRIME MINISTER, JANUARY 1966
CONGRESS PARLIAMENTARY PARTY VOTE -> Indira Gandhi 355, Morarji Desai 169
BACKERS -> the "Syndicate", senior Congress bosses, expecting to control her EXPECTATION -> a pliable, Syndicate-controlled Prime Minister OUTCOME BY 1969 -> Indira Gandhi defeats the same Syndicate in the party split

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: Indira Gandhi is the Prime Minister elected in January 1966 by defeating Morarji Desai 355 votes to 169, initially with Syndicate backing that she later broke free of.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister in January 1966 completed the second unplanned succession within twenty months, and it began under the assumption, soon disproved, that the Congress bosses known as the Syndicate could control her.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- She was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169 in the Congress Parliamentary Party.
- The Syndicate, a group of senior Congress bosses, backed her candidacy expecting to direct her government from behind the scenes.
- Within three years she had defeated the same Syndicate in the 1969 split, reversing the original expectation entirely.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not reverse the 1966 vote count; Indira Gandhi defeated Morarji Desai 355 votes to 169, not the other way round.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not reverse the 1966 vote count; Indira Gandhi defeated Morarji Desai 355 votes to 169, not the other way round.
- Mains: Use the Syndicate's miscalculation to answer any Mains question on how intra-party expectations about a new leader can be overturned.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister in January 1966 completed the second unplanned succession within twenty months, and it began under the assumption, soon disproved, that the Congress bosses known as the Syndicate could control her.
- Use: Use the Syndicate's miscalculation to answer any Mains question on how intra-party expectations about a new leader can be overturned.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - FOUNDATION - INDIRA GANDHI'S ELECTION AS PRIME MINISTER, JANUARY 1966

START / CONCEPT: FOUNDATION - Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister, January 1966

|
v

EXACT TERMS: FOUNDATION · Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister · January 1966 · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Core claim: Indira Gandhi's election as Prime Minister in January 1966 completed the second unplanned succession within twenty months, and it began under the assumption, soon disproved, that the Congress bosses known as the Syndicate could control her.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: She was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169 in the Congress Parliamentary Party.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not reverse the 1966 vote count; Indira Gandhi defeated Morarji Desai 355 votes to 169, not the other way round.

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: Indira Gandhi is the Prime Minister elected in January 1966 by defeating Morarji Desai 355 votes to 169, initially with Syndicate backing that she later broke free of.

SESSION 3 - FOUNDATION - THE RUPEE DEVALUATION OF JUNE 1966 AND ITS CAUSES

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: The June 1966 devaluation is the roughly 35.5 per cent reduction in the rupee's value undertaken by Indira Gandhi's government under war-expenditure and harvest-failure pressure.

Technical definition: Core claim: The rupee devaluation of June 1966 was Indira Gandhi's first major and politically costly decision, forced by a convergence of war expenditure, harvest failure and food-aid dependence rather than chosen from a position of strength.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: The June 1966 devaluation is the roughly 35.5 per cent reduction in the rupee's value undertaken by Indira Gandhi's government under war-expenditure and harvest-failure pressure.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- FOUNDATION
- The rupee devaluation of June 1966
- its causes
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim

How to use them: Frame the answer through FOUNDATION; define The rupee devaluation of June 1966, connect its causes with Precise definition to explain the mechanism, and use Topic boundary for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

THE RUPEE DEVALUATION OF JUNE 1966 AND ITS CAUSES

1965 WAR EXPENDITURE + HARVEST FAILURES + FOOD-AID DEPENDENCE -> strain

RUPEE DEVALUED -> JUNE 1966, by about 35.5 per cent

POLITICAL COST -> blamed on Indira Gandhi within months of taking office

LEGACY -> durable aversion to externally pressed adjustment, until 1991

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: The June 1966 devaluation is the roughly 35.5 per cent reduction in the rupee's value undertaken by Indira Gandhi's government under war-expenditure and harvest-failure pressure.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The rupee devaluation of June 1966 was Indira Gandhi's first major and politically costly decision, forced by a convergence of war expenditure, harvest failure and food-aid dependence rather than chosen from a position of strength.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, only months into Indira Gandhi's premiership.
- The devaluation followed 1965-war expenditure and successive harvest failures that had drained foreign exchange reserves.
- India's dependence on external food aid at the time gave donor pressure real leverage over the decision.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not treat the June 1966 devaluation as an isolated policy choice made in normal economic conditions; it followed a specific crisis convergence.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not treat the June 1966 devaluation as an isolated policy choice made in normal economic conditions; it followed a specific crisis convergence.
- Mains: Use this session to answer any 'balance-of-payments crisis and political cost' Mains demand for the mid-1960s.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The rupee devaluation of June 1966 was Indira Gandhi's first major and politically costly decision, forced by a convergence of war expenditure, harvest failure and food-aid dependence rather than chosen from a position of strength.
- Use: Use this session to answer any 'balance-of-payments crisis and political cost' Mains demand for the mid-1960s.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - FOUNDATION - THE RUPEE DEVALUATION OF JUNE 1966 AND ITS CAUSES

START / CONCEPT: FOUNDATION - The rupee devaluation of June 1966 and its causes

|

v

EXACT TERMS: FOUNDATION · The rupee devaluation of June 1966 · its causes · Precise definition ·
Topic boundary · Core claim

|

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Core claim: The rupee devaluation of June 1966 was Indira Gandhi's first major and politically costly decision, forced by a convergence of war expenditure, harvest failure and food-aid dependence rather than chosen from a position of strength.

|

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Do not treat the June 1966 devaluation as an isolated policy choice made in normal economic conditions; it followed a specific crisis convergence.

|

v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: the rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, only months...

|

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: The June 1966 devaluation is the roughly 35.5 per cent reduction in the rupee's value undertaken by Indira Gandhi's government under war-expenditure and harvest-failure pressure.

SESSION 4 - CORE - THE PRIME MINISTER'S SECRETARIAT AND EARLY EXECUTIVE CENTRALISATION

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: The Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, is the administrative office that gained coordinating weight under Shastri and continued to grow under Indira Gandhi.

Technical definition: Core claim: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, began gaining administrative weight, a quiet institutional change that deepened under Indira Gandhi and became one root of the executive centralisation this topic traces to 1973-75.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: The Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, is the administrative office that gained coordinating weight under Shastri and continued to grow under Indira Gandhi.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- The Prime Minister's Secretariat
- early executive centralisation
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim
- 1964-73

How to use them: Frame the answer through The Prime Minister's Secretariat; define early executive centralisation, connect Precise definition with Topic boundary to explain the mechanism, and use Core claim for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

THE PRIME MINISTER'S SECRETARIAT AND EARLY EXECUTIVE CENTRALISATION

PMO -> Prime Minister's Secretariat; gains weight under Shastri

FUNCTION -> coordinates ministries directly from the PM's office

TREND -> continues and deepens under Indira Gandhi after 1966

SIGNIFICANCE -> early institutional root of executive centralisation

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: The Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, is the administrative office that gained coordinating weight under Shastri and continued to grow under Indira Gandhi.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, began gaining administrative weight, a quiet institutional change that deepened under Indira Gandhi and became one root of the executive centralisation this topic traces to 1973-75.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The PMO's growing administrative weight under Shastri predates and foreshadows Indira Gandhi's later centralisation of authority.
- This centralisation ran in parallel with, and partly explains, the personalisation of Congress leadership after 1966.
- The trend connects institutionally to the de-institutionalisation this topic later analyses as the hidden cost of consolidation.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not treat PMO centralisation as beginning only with Indira Gandhi; the administrative trend is already visible under Shastri.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not treat PMO centralisation as beginning only with Indira Gandhi; the administrative trend is already visible under Shastri.
- Mains: Use this session to supply an institutional-continuity point in any 'origins of executive centralisation' Mains answer.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, began gaining administrative weight, a quiet institutional change that deepened under Indira Gandhi and became one root of the executive centralisation this topic traces to 1973-75.
- Use: Use this session to supply an institutional-continuity point in any 'origins of executive centralisation' Mains answer.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - THE PRIME MINISTER'S SECRETARIAT AND EARLY EXECUTIVE CENTRALISATION

START / CONCEPT: CORE - The Prime Minister's Secretariat and early executive centralisation

|
v

EXACT TERMS: The Prime Minister's Secretariat · early executive centralisation · Precise definition
· Topic boundary · Core claim · 1964-73

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Core claim: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, began gaining administrative weight, a quiet institutional change that deepened under Indira Gandhi and became one root of the executive centralisation this topic traces to 1973-75.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Do not treat PMO centralisation as beginning only with Indira Gandhi; the administrative trend is already visible under Shastri.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: use this session to supply an institutional-continuity point in any 'origins of executive centralisation'...

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: The Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, is the administrative office that gained coordinating weight under Shastri and continued to grow under Indira Gandhi.

SESSION 5 - CORE - THE 1967 GENERAL ELECTION: THE END OF EASY DOMINANCE

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Core claim: The fourth general election of 1967 is the pivot at which the 'Congress system' of easy national dominance ended, slashing the party's majority and costing it power in eight states in a single contest.

Technical definition: Precise definition: The 1967 general election is the fourth national election, in which Congress's majority was slashed and it lost power in eight states.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Core claim: The fourth general election of 1967 is the pivot at which the 'Congress system' of easy national dominance ended, slashing the party's majority and costing it power in eight states in a single contest.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- The 1967 general election
- the end of easy dominance
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim
- 1967-70

How to use them: Frame the answer through The 1967 general election; define the end of easy dominance, connect Precise definition with Topic boundary to explain the mechanism, and use Core claim for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

THE 1967 GENERAL ELECTION: THE END OF EASY DOMINANCE

FOURTH GENERAL ELECTION -> 1967

CONGRESS -> majority SLASHED nationally; loses power in EIGHT STATES

NEW PATTERN -> Samyukta Vidhayak Dal (SVD) coalition governments

MASS DEFECTION -> "Aya Ram Gaya Ram"; about 800 legislators switch, 1967-70

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: The 1967 general election is the fourth national election, in which Congress's majority was slashed and it lost power in eight states.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The fourth general election of 1967 is the pivot at which the 'Congress system' of easy national dominance ended, slashing the party's majority and costing it power in eight states in a single contest.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The Congress's Lok Sabha majority was sharply reduced in 1967, though it retained power at the centre.
- Congress lost power in eight states, an unprecedented reversal at the state level.
- The result ended the assumption, valid since 1952, that Congress dominance was effectively unchallengeable.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not describe the 1967 result as a comfortable Congress victory; its majority was slashed and it lost eight states.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not describe the 1967 result as a comfortable Congress victory; its majority was slashed and it lost eight states.
- Mains: Use this session to date the beginning of the Congress system's decline to 1967, distinct from its completion in the 1969 split.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The fourth general election of 1967 is the pivot at which the 'Congress system' of easy national dominance ended, slashing the party's majority and costing it power in eight states in a single contest.
- Use: Use this session to date the beginning of the Congress system's decline to 1967, distinct from its completion in the 1969 split.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - THE 1967 GENERAL ELECTION: THE END OF EASY DOMINANCE

START / CONCEPT: CORE - The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance

|
v

EXACT TERMS: The 1967 general election · the end of easy dominance · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim · 1967-70

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: The result ended the assumption, valid since 1952, that Congress dominance was effectively unchallengeable.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Precise definition: The 1967 general election is the fourth national election, in which Congress's majority was slashed and it lost power in eight states.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not describe the 1967 result as a comfortable Congress victory; its majority was slashed and it lost eight states.

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Core claim: The fourth general election of 1967 is the pivot at which the 'Congress system' of easy national dominance ended, slashing the party's majority and costing it power in eight states in a single contest.

SESSION 6 - CORE - COALITION GOVERNMENTS AND DEFECTION POLITICS AFTER 1967

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Core claim: The immediate structural consequence of 1967 was the arrival of coalition government in the states and the normalisation of legislative defection as a routine political instrument.

Technical definition: Technically, CORE - Coalition governments and defection politics after 1967 is analysed by relating Coalition governments to defection politics after 1967, then testing the relationship through Precise definition and Topic boundary.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Do not describe defection politics as a post-1969 phenomenon; it began immediately after the 1967 election.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Coalition governments
- defection politics after 1967
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim
- 1967-70

How to use them: Frame the answer through Coalition governments; define defection politics after 1967, connect Precise definition with Topic boundary to explain the mechanism, and use Core claim for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

COALITION GOVERNMENTS AND DEFECTION POLITICS AFTER 1967
SVD COALITIONS -> form in states where Congress lost its 1967 majority DEFECTION NICKNAME -> "Aya Ram Gaya Ram"
SCALE -> about 800 legislators switch sides, 1967-70
LATER FIX -> 1985 Anti-Defection Act (a Polity-owner detail)

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram' names the mass legislative floor-crossing that followed the 1967 election, addressed only later by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The immediate structural consequence of 1967 was the arrival of coalition government in the states and the normalisation of legislative defection as a routine political instrument.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- Samyukta Vidhayak Dal, or SVD, coalitions formed in several states where Congress had lost its majority.
- Mass floor-crossing after 1967 earned the nickname 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram', with roughly 800 legislators switching sides between 1967 and 1970.
- This defection problem was addressed only much later, by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, a Polity-owner detail.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not describe defection politics as a post-1969 phenomenon; it began immediately after the 1967 election.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not describe defection politics as a post-1969 phenomenon; it began immediately after the 1967 election.
- Mains: Use this session to link the 1967 election's consequences to the later Anti-Defection Act as a cross-topic Polity bridge.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The immediate structural consequence of 1967 was the arrival of coalition government in the states and the normalisation of legislative defection as a routine political instrument.
- Use: Use this session to link the 1967 election's consequences to the later Anti-Defection Act as a cross-topic Polity bridge.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - COALITION GOVERNMENTS AND DEFECTION POLITICS AFTER 1967

START / CONCEPT: CORE - Coalition governments and defection politics after 1967

|
v

EXACT TERMS: Coalition governments · defection politics after 1967 · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim · 1967-70

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: This defection problem was addressed only much later, by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, a Polity-owner detail.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Core claim: The immediate structural consequence of 1967 was the arrival of coalition government in the states and the normalisation of legislative defection as a routine political instrument.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: samyukta Vidhayak Dal, or SVD, coalitions formed in several states where Congress had lost...

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Do not describe defection politics as a post-1969 phenomenon; it began immediately after the 1967 election.

SESSION 7 - CORE - THE 1969 CONGRESS SPLIT: GIRI, BANK NATIONALISATION AND THE SYNDICATE'S DEFEAT

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: The 1969 Congress split is the division of the Congress party into Congress (R) under Indira Gandhi and Congress (O) under the Syndicate, following the presidential contest and bank nationalisation.

Technical definition: Bank nationalisation occurred in 1969, not 1971; do not confuse it with the 1971 privy-purse abolition.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: The 1969 Congress split is the division of the Congress party into Congress (R) under Indira Gandhi and Congress (O) under the Syndicate, following the presidential contest and bank nationalisation.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- The 1969 Congress split
- Giri
- bank nationalisation
- the Syndicate's defeat
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary

How to use them: Frame the answer through The 1969 Congress split; define Giri, connect bank nationalisation with the Syndicate's defeat to explain the mechanism, and use Precise definition for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

THE 1969 CONGRESS SPLIT: GIRI, BANK NATIONALISATION AND THE SYNDICATE'S DEFEAT
TRIGGER -> V.V. Giri presidential contest + bank nationalisation (14 banks)
SPLIT -> Congress (R), Indira Gandhi vs Congress (O), the Syndicate
OUTCOME -> most Congress MPs and the AICC side with Indira Gandhi
RESULT -> numbers held for Congress (R); party organisation did not

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: The 1969 Congress split is the division of the Congress party into Congress (R) under Indira Gandhi and Congress (O) under the Syndicate, following the presidential contest and bank nationalisation.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The 1969 Congress split converted the Syndicate's failed attempt to control Indira Gandhi into an open rupture, triggered by the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks in the same year.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O) in 1969, defeating the Syndicate.
- Fourteen banks were nationalised in 1969, a populist measure that sharpened the intra-party conflict.
- Most Congress MPs and the AICC sided with Indira Gandhi, giving Congress (R) numerical dominance despite the split.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Bank nationalisation occurred in 1969, not 1971; do not confuse it with the 1971 privy-purse abolition.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Bank nationalisation occurred in 1969, not 1971; do not confuse it with the 1971 privy-purse abolition.
- Mains: Use this session to answer any 'how did Indira Gandhi consolidate power' Mains demand for 1969.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The 1969 Congress split converted the Syndicate's failed attempt to control Indira Gandhi into an open rupture, triggered by the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks in the same year.
- Use: Use this session to answer any 'how did Indira Gandhi consolidate power' Mains demand for 1969.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - THE 1969 CONGRESS SPLIT: GIRI, BANK NATIONALISATION AND THE SYNDICATE'S DEFEAT

START / CONCEPT: CORE - The 1969 Congress split: Giri, bank nationalisation and the Syndicate's defeat

|
v

EXACT TERMS: The 1969 Congress split · Giri · bank nationalisation · the Syndicate's defeat ·
Precise definition · Topic boundary

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Bank nationalisation occurred in 1969, not 1971; do not confuse it with the 1971 privy-purse abolition.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Fourteen banks were nationalised in 1969, a populist measure that sharpened the intra-party conflict.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: use this session to answer any 'how did Indira Gandhi consolidate power' Mains demand...

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: The 1969 Congress split is the division of the Congress party into Congress (R) under Indira Gandhi and Congress (O) under the Syndicate, following the presidential contest and bank nationalisation.

SESSION 8 - CORE - THE SUPREME COURT'S 1970 RULINGS AGAINST THE EXECUTIVE

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings are the two judgments that struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its privy-purse derecognition order in the same year.

Technical definition: Mains: Use this session to answer any 'checks on executive power in the late 1960s' Mains demand with concrete judicial evidence.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings are the two judgments that struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its privy-purse derecognition order in the same year.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim
- Precise definition: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings
- 1964-73

How to use them: Frame the answer through The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive; define Precise definition, connect Topic boundary with Core claim to explain the mechanism, and use Precise definition: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

THE SUPREME COURT'S 1970 RULINGS AGAINST THE EXECUTIVE

SUPREME COURT, 1970 -> strikes down FIRST bank-nationalisation order

SUPREME COURT, 1970 -> strikes down privy-purse DERECOGNITION order

GOVERNMENT RESPONSE -> re-enacts bank nationalisation via fresh legislation

GOVERNMENT RESPONSE -> abolishes privy purses via 26th Amendment, 1971

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings are the two judgments that struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its privy-purse derecognition order in the same year.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings show that Indira Gandhi's populist measures did not go unchallenged: the Court struck down both the first bank-nationalisation order and the privy-purse derecognition order in the same year.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order in 1970 on constitutional grounds.
- The Court also struck down the government's order derecognising princely rulers' privy purses in 1970.
- The government responded by re-enacting bank nationalisation through fresh legislation and abolishing privy purses through the 26th Amendment in 1971.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Bank nationalisation did not go unchallenged; the Supreme Court struck down the government's first order in 1970 before it was re-enacted.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Bank nationalisation did not go unchallenged; the Supreme Court struck down the government's first order in 1970 before it was re-enacted.
- Mains: Use this session to answer any 'checks on executive power in the late 1960s' Mains demand with concrete judicial evidence.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings show that Indira Gandhi's populist measures did not go unchallenged: the Court struck down both the first bank-nationalisation order and the privy-purse derecognition order in the same year.
- Use: Use this session to answer any 'checks on executive power in the late 1960s' Mains demand with concrete judicial evidence.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - THE SUPREME COURT'S 1970 RULINGS AGAINST THE EXECUTIVE

START / CONCEPT: CORE - The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive

|

v

EXACT TERMS: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim · Precise definition: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings · 1964-73

|

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Core claim: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings show that Indira Gandhi's populist measures did not go unchallenged: the Court struck down both the first bank-nationalisation order and the privy-purse derecognition order in the same year.

|

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Bank nationalisation did not go unchallenged; the Supreme Court struck down the government's first order in 1970 before it was re-enacted.

|

v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: use this session to answer any 'checks on executive power in the late 1960s'...

|

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings are the two judgments that struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its privy-purse derecognition order in the same year.

SESSION 9 - CORE - 1971: PRIVY PURSES ABOLISHED AND THE GARIBI HATAO LANDSLIDE

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: 'Garibi Hatao' names the 1971 election slogan on which Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats, the same year privy purses were abolished by the 26th Amendment.

Technical definition: Privy purses were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the 1970 court setback.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: 'Garibi Hatao' names the 1971 election slogan on which Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats, the same year privy purses were abolished by the 26th Amendment.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- privy purses abolished
- the Garibi Hatao landslide
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim
- 1964-73

How to use them: Frame the answer through privy purses abolished; define the Garibi Hatao landslide, connect Precise definition with Topic boundary to explain the mechanism, and use Core claim for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

1971: PRIVY PURSES ABOLISHED AND THE GARIBI HATAO LANDSLIDE
PRIVY PURSES ABOLISHED -> 1971, 26th Constitutional Amendment
1971 GENERAL ELECTION -> Congress (R) wins 352 of 518 seats
SLOGAN -> "Garibi Hatao"
READ IT CORRECTLY -> a NATIONAL plebiscite, delinked from state-level Congress

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: 'Garibi Hatao' names the 1971 election slogan on which Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats, the same year privy purses were abolished by the 26th Amendment.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

1971 combined a constitutional settlement, the abolition of privy purses, with an electoral landslide on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao' that converted Indira Gandhi's authority into a genuinely national mandate.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- Privy purses were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the 1970 court setback.
- Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats in the 1971 general election campaigning on 'Garibi Hatao'.
- The 1971 mandate delinked the national Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisational strength for the first time.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Privy-purse abolition occurred in 1971, not 1969; keep the two years, and the two measures, distinct.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Privy-purse abolition occurred in 1971, not 1969; keep the two years, and the two measures, distinct.
- Mains: Use the 'plebiscite' framing to answer any Mains question on why the 1971 mandate differed in character from earlier Congress victories.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: 1971 combined a constitutional settlement, the abolition of privy purses, with an electoral landslide on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao' that converted Indira Gandhi's authority into a genuinely national mandate.
- Use: Use the 'plebiscite' framing to answer any Mains question on why the 1971 mandate differed in character from earlier Congress victories.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - 1971: PRIVY PURSES ABOLISHED AND THE GARIBI HATAO LANDSLIDE

START / CONCEPT: CORE - 1971: privy purses abolished and the Garibi Hatao landslide

|
v

EXACT TERMS: privy purses abolished · the Garibi Hatao landslide · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim · 1964-73

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Privy purses were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the 1970 court setback.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Privy-purse abolition occurred in 1971, not 1969; keep the two years, and the two measures, distinct.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: use the 'plebiscite' framing to answer any Mains question on why the 1971 mandate...

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: 'Garibi Hatao' names the 1971 election slogan on which Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats, the same year privy purses were abolished by the 26th Amendment.

SESSION 10 - CORE - THE 1971 BANGLADESH WAR AND ITS STRATEGIC SIGNIFICANCE

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: The 1971 Bangladesh war is the conflict, arising from the East Pakistan crisis, that India won decisively, resulting in the creation of Bangladesh.

Technical definition: Mains: Use this session as the strategic climax evidence in any 'peak of Indira Gandhi's authority' Mains answer.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: The 1971 Bangladesh war is the conflict, arising from the East Pakistan crisis, that India won decisively, resulting in the creation of Bangladesh.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- The 1971 Bangladesh war
- its strategic significance
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim
- 1964-73

How to use them: Frame the answer through The 1971 Bangladesh war; define its strategic significance, connect Precise definition with Topic boundary to explain the mechanism, and use Core claim for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

THE 1971 BANGLADESH WAR AND ITS STRATEGIC SIGNIFICANCE

ORIGIN -> crisis in East Pakistan; refugee influx into India

OUTCOME -> decisive Indian military victory

RESULT -> creation of Bangladesh

EFFECT -> Indira Gandhi's domestic authority becomes unassailable

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: The 1971 Bangladesh war is the conflict, arising from the East Pakistan crisis, that India won decisively, resulting in the creation of Bangladesh.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan, gave Indira Gandhi a decisive military victory that made her domestic authority effectively unassailable.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The war originated in the refugee and political crisis in East Pakistan during 1971.
- India's military intervention produced a decisive victory over Pakistan.
- The war's outcome was the creation of Bangladesh as an independent state.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not describe the 1971 war's outcome as inconclusive; it ended in decisive victory and the creation of Bangladesh.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not describe the 1971 war's outcome as inconclusive; it ended in decisive victory and the creation of Bangladesh.
- Mains: Use this session as the strategic climax evidence in any 'peak of Indira Gandhi's authority' Mains answer.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan, gave Indira Gandhi a decisive military victory that made her domestic authority effectively unassailable.
- Use: Use this session as the strategic climax evidence in any 'peak of Indira Gandhi's authority' Mains answer.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - THE 1971 BANGLADESH WAR AND ITS STRATEGIC SIGNIFICANCE

START / CONCEPT: CORE - The 1971 Bangladesh war and its strategic significance

|

v

EXACT TERMS: The 1971 Bangladesh war • its strategic significance • Precise definition • Topic boundary • Core claim • 1964-73

|

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: The war's outcome was the creation of Bangladesh as an independent state.

|

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Do not describe the 1971 war's outcome as inconclusive; it ended in decisive victory and the creation of Bangladesh.

|

v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: use this session as the strategic climax evidence in any 'peak of Indira Gandhi's...

|

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: The 1971 Bangladesh war is the conflict, arising from the East Pakistan crisis, that India won decisively, resulting in the creation of Bangladesh.

SESSION 11 - CORE - COMPARING 1965 AND 1971: TWO WARS, TWO OUTCOMES

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: Comparing 1965 and 1971 means contrasting an inconclusive war ending at Tashkent with a decisive war that created Bangladesh, and their opposite effects on domestic authority.

Technical definition: Prelims: Do not treat the two wars as interchangeable evidence for the same argument; their origins and outcomes were different in kind, not just in degree.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Do not treat the two wars as interchangeable evidence for the same argument; their origins and outcomes were different in kind, not just in degree.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Comparing 1965
- two wars
- two outcomes
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim

How to use them: Frame the answer through Comparing 1965; define two wars, connect two outcomes with Precise definition to explain the mechanism, and use Topic boundary for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

COMPARING 1965 AND 1971: TWO WARS, TWO OUTCOMES
1965 WAR -> origin: Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir
1965 WAR -> outcome: militarily inconclusive; ends at Tashkent Declaration
1971 WAR -> origin: East Pakistan refugee crisis
1971 WAR -> outcome: decisive victory; creates Bangladesh

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: Comparing 1965 and 1971 means contrasting an inconclusive war ending at Tashkent with a decisive war that created Bangladesh, and their opposite effects on domestic authority.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

Placing the 1965 and 1971 wars side by side sharpens the topic's central contrast: an inconclusive war that preceded Shastri's death against a decisive war that made Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at Tashkent.
- The 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended decisively with the creation of Bangladesh.
- The contrast in outcomes explains why 1966 opened with political vulnerability while 1971-72 opened with unassailable authority.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not treat the two wars as interchangeable evidence for the same argument; their origins and outcomes were different in kind, not just in degree.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not treat the two wars as interchangeable evidence for the same argument; their origins and outcomes were different in kind, not just in degree.
- Mains: Use this comparison to answer any 'assess the impact of war on domestic political authority' Mains demand.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: Placing the 1965 and 1971 wars side by side sharpens the topic's central contrast: an inconclusive war that preceded Shastri's death against a decisive war that made Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable.
- Use: Use this comparison to answer any 'assess the impact of war on domestic political authority' Mains demand.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - COMPARING 1965 AND 1971: TWO WARS, TWO OUTCOMES

START / CONCEPT: CORE - Comparing 1965 and 1971: two wars, two outcomes

|
v

EXACT TERMS: Comparing 1965 · two wars · two outcomes · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim

|
v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Precise definition: Comparing 1965 and 1971 means contrasting an inconclusive war ending at Tashkent with a decisive war that created Bangladesh, and their opposite effects on domestic authority.

|
v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: The contrast in outcomes explains why 1966 opened with political vulnerability while 1971-72 opened with unassailable authority.

|
v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: use this comparison to answer any 'assess the impact of war on domestic political...'

|
v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Do not treat the two wars as interchangeable evidence for the same argument; their origins and outcomes were different in kind, not just in degree.

SESSION 12 - CORE - POKHRAN-I, MAY 1974: INDIA'S FIRST NUCLEAR TEST

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: Pokhran-I is India's first nuclear test, conducted in May 1974 and officially described as a peaceful nuclear explosion.

Technical definition: Prelims: Do not date Pokhran-I to the 1960s or describe it as a declared weapons test; it was May 1974 and officially framed as peaceful.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: Pokhran-I is India's first nuclear test, conducted in May 1974 and officially described as a peaceful nuclear explosion.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- Pokhran-I
- May 1974
- India's first nuclear test
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim

How to use them: Frame the answer through Pokhran-I; define May 1974, connect India's first nuclear test with Precise definition to explain the mechanism, and use Topic boundary for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

POKHRAN-I, MAY 1974: INDIA'S FIRST NUCLEAR TEST

TEST -> Pokhran-I, MAY 1974

OFFICIAL LABEL -> "peaceful nuclear explosion", not a declared weapons test

SIGNIFICANCE -> first Indian nuclear test; inside the Garibi-Hatao-to-Emergency arc

TRAP -> do not date this test to the 1960s

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: Pokhran-I is India's first nuclear test, conducted in May 1974 and officially described as a peaceful nuclear explosion.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

Pokhran-I in May 1974 closes this topic's decade with India's first nuclear test, officially described as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a declared weapons test.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974.
- The government officially described the test as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' at the time.
- The test sits chronologically inside the arc running from the 1971 landslide to the 1975 Emergency.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not date Pokhran-I to the 1960s or describe it as a declared weapons test; it was May 1974 and officially framed as peaceful.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not date Pokhran-I to the 1960s or describe it as a declared weapons test; it was May 1974 and officially framed as peaceful.
- Mains: Use this session to supply the strategic-capability point in any 'India's rise after 1971' Mains answer.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: Pokhran-I in May 1974 closes this topic's decade with India's first nuclear test, officially described as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a declared weapons test.
- Use: Use this session to supply the strategic-capability point in any 'India's rise after 1971' Mains answer.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE - POKHRAN-I, MAY 1974: INDIA'S FIRST NUCLEAR TEST

START / CONCEPT: CORE - Pokhran-I, May 1974: India's first nuclear test

|

v

EXACT TERMS: Pokhran-I • May 1974 • India's first nuclear test • Precise definition • Topic boundary • Core claim

|

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Do not date Pokhran-I to the 1960s or describe it as a declared weapons test; it was May 1974 and officially framed as peaceful.

|

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Mains: Use this session to supply the strategic-capability point in any 'India's rise after 1971' Mains answer.

|

v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: do not date this test to the 1960s.

|

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: Pokhran-I is India's first nuclear test, conducted in May 1974 and officially described as a peaceful nuclear explosion.

SESSION 13 - CORE SYNTHESIS - DE-INSTITUTIONALISATION: THE HIDDEN COST OF CONSOLIDATION

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: CORE SYNTHESIS - De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost of consolidation comprises CORE SYNTHESIS, De-institutionalisation and the hidden cost of consolidation as its core connected dimensions.

Technical definition: Mains: Use this session as the analytical bridge connecting this topic's consolidation of power to the JP Movement and the Emergency.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

This de-institutionalisation is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis analysed in the following topic.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- CORE SYNTHESIS
- De-institutionalisation
- the hidden cost of consolidation
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim

How to use them: Frame the answer through CORE SYNTHESIS; define De-institutionalisation, connect the hidden cost of consolidation with Precise definition to explain the mechanism, and use Topic boundary for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

DE-INSTITUTIONALISATION: THE HIDDEN COST OF CONSOLIDATION
TECHNIQUE -> populist mobilisation + personalised leadership
EFFECT ON PARTY -> Congress organisation split and weakened after 1969
EFFECT ON CHECKS -> internal factional-conflict checks eroded
LONGER EFFECT -> structural background to the 1973-75 crisis

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: De-institutionalisation names the erosion of Congress's internal party checks that accompanied Indira Gandhi's personalised consolidation of power after 1969.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority and weakened the Congress party's internal institutions, the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis this topic leads into.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- Personalised leadership after 1969 weakened, rather than strengthened, Congress's internal party democracy.
- The split and the populist mandate of 1971 further eroded the checks that had once contained factional conflict.
- This de-institutionalisation is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis analysed in the following topic.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Personalised leadership after 1969 de-institutionalised the Congress party; it did not strengthen party institutions.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Personalised leadership after 1969 de-institutionalised the Congress party; it did not strengthen party institutions.

- Mains: Use this session as the analytical bridge connecting this topic's consolidation of power to the JP Movement and the Emergency.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority and weakened the Congress party's internal institutions, the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis this topic leads into.
- Use: Use this session as the analytical bridge connecting this topic's consolidation of power to the JP Movement and the Emergency.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE SYNTHESIS - DE-INSTITUTIONALISATION: THE HIDDEN COST OF CONSOLIDATION

START / CONCEPT: CORE SYNTHESIS - De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost of consolidation
 |
 v
 EXACT TERMS: CORE SYNTHESIS · De-institutionalisation · the hidden cost of consolidation · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim
 |
 v
 MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Mains: Use this session as the analytical bridge connecting this topic's consolidation of power to the JP Movement and the Emergency.
 |
 v
 CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: The split and the populist mandate of 1971 further eroded the checks that had once contained factional conflict.
 |
 v
 UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: this de-institutionalisation is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis analysed in the following...
 |
 v
 ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: This de-institutionalisation is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis analysed in the following topic.

SESSION 14 - CORE SYNTHESIS - THE COAL-SECTOR NATIONALISATION GAP: A BOUNDED CAUTION

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: Precise definition: The coal-sector nationalisation gap is the routed 2019 Prelims demand that this topic's local sources cannot support with any verified year, statute or sequence.

Technical definition: Core claim: One routed Prelims demand, on the status of coal-sector nationalisation, has no supporting content in any local modern-history source, and this session states that gap transparently rather than inventing a resolution.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Precise definition: The coal-sector nationalisation gap is the routed 2019 Prelims demand that this topic's local sources cannot support with any verified year, statute or sequence.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- CORE SYNTHESIS
- The coal-sector nationalisation gap
- a bounded caution
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary
- Core claim

How to use them: Frame the answer through CORE SYNTHESIS; define The coal-sector nationalisation gap, connect a bounded caution with Precise definition to explain the mechanism, and use Topic boundary for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

THE COAL-SECTOR NATIONALISATION GAP: A BOUNDED CAUTION

ROUTED DEMAND -> 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48, coal-sector nationalisation status

LOCAL SUPPORT -> NONE in any modern-history source book in this repository

RULE -> no year, statute or sequence for coal nationalisation stated from memory

ACTION -> route any full answer to the Economy or Geography owner instead

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: The coal-sector nationalisation gap is the routed 2019 Prelims demand that this topic's local sources cannot support with any verified year, statute or sequence.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

One routed Prelims demand, on the status of coal-sector nationalisation, has no supporting content in any local modern-history source, and this session states that gap transparently rather than inventing a resolution.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand asks about the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India.
- No modern-history source book held in this repository supports a year, statute or sequence for coal-sector nationalisation.
- The owner file explicitly recommends routing any full answer to the Economy or Geography owner instead.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Never state a year, statute name or sequence for coal-sector nationalisation from memory in this topic; the local sources do not support it.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Never state a year, statute name or sequence for coal-sector nationalisation from memory in this topic; the local sources do not support it.
- Mains: Use this session only to acknowledge the routed demand exists; do not attempt a full Prelims answer from this topic's material.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: One routed Prelims demand, on the status of coal-sector nationalisation, has no supporting content in any local modern-history source, and this session states that gap transparently rather than inventing a resolution.
- Use: Use this session only to acknowledge the routed demand exists; do not attempt a full Prelims answer from this topic's material.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE SYNTHESIS - THE COAL-SECTOR NATIONALISATION GAP: A BOUNDED CAUTION

START / CONCEPT: CORE SYNTHESIS - The coal-sector nationalisation gap: a bounded caution
|
v
EXACT TERMS: CORE SYNTHESIS · The coal-sector nationalisation gap · a bounded caution · Precise definition · Topic boundary · Core claim
|
v
MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: Core claim: One routed Prelims demand, on the status of coal-sector nationalisation, has no supporting content in any local modern-history source, and this session states that gap transparently rather than inventing a resolution.
|
v
CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Never state a year, statute name or sequence for coal-sector nationalisation from memory in this topic; the local sources do not support it.
|
v
UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Mains: Use this session only to acknowledge the routed demand exists; do not attempt a full Prelims answer from this topic's material.
|
v
ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: The coal-sector nationalisation gap is the routed 2019 Prelims demand that this topic's local sources cannot support with any verified year, statute or sequence.

SESSION 15 - CORE SYNTHESIS - RESILIENCE AND COST: TWO VERDICTS ON 1964-73

DEFINITION / WHAT THIS IS CALLED

Plain-language definition: The decade from 1964 to 1973 supports two compatible verdicts: institutional resilience, shown by two peaceful successions and a decisive war, and organisational cost, shown by the de-institutionalisation this topic has traced.

Technical definition: Prelims: Do not present resilience and cost as mutually exclusive verdicts; the owner's own historiography treats them as compatible readings of the same decade.

ANSWER-GRABBING OPENING - WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM

Do not present resilience and cost as mutually exclusive verdicts; the owner's own historiography treats them as compatible readings of the same decade.

MUST-WRITE KEYWORDS

- CORE SYNTHESIS
- Resilience
- cost
- two verdicts on 1964-73
- Precise definition
- Topic boundary

How to use them: Frame the answer through CORE SYNTHESIS; define Resilience, connect cost with two verdicts on 1964-73 to explain the mechanism, and use Precise definition for the decisive comparison or qualification.

VISUAL FIRST

RESILIENCE AND COST: TWO VERDICTS ON 1964-73

VERDICT ONE -> resilience: two successions absorbed peacefully; 1971 war won

VERDICT TWO -> cost: party de-institutionalised; internal democracy eroded

CHANDRA'S READING -> the leftward turn was genuine, if organisationally costly

SYNTHESIS -> both readings are compatible, not competing, accounts of the decade

The visual fixes this subtopic's chronology, mechanism or boundary before the evidence.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: Resilience and cost together name the two compatible verdicts on 1964-73: institutional resilience shown by successful successions and war, and organisational cost shown by de-institutionalisation.
- Topic boundary: Apply this definition only within From Shastri to Indira Gandhi, 1964-73; retain the named actor, institution, date and chronological role.

CORE EXPLANATION

The decade from 1964 to 1973 supports two compatible verdicts: institutional resilience, shown by two peaceful successions and a decisive war, and organisational cost, shown by the de-institutionalisation this topic has traced.

EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- The resilience reading points to two successions absorbed peacefully and a war won decisively by 1971.
- The cost reading points to a Congress party split, personalised and organisationally hollowed out by 1971.
- Bipan Chandra reads the leftward turn sympathetically while still conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation.

EXAMINER CAUTION

- Do not present resilience and cost as mutually exclusive verdicts; the owner's own historiography treats them as compatible readings of the same decade.

EXAM LINK

- Prelims: Do not present resilience and cost as mutually exclusive verdicts; the owner's own historiography treats them as compatible readings of the same decade.
- Mains: Use this closing session to structure a balanced conclusion for any comprehensive Mains essay on 1964-73.

MINI RECAP

- Core claim: The decade from 1964 to 1973 supports two compatible verdicts: institutional resilience, shown by two peaceful successions and a decisive war, and organisational cost, shown by the de-institutionalisation this topic has traced.
- Use: Use this closing session to structure a balanced conclusion for any comprehensive Mains essay on 1964-73.

CLOSING RECALL FLOW - CORE SYNTHESIS - RESILIENCE AND COST: TWO VERDICTS ON 1964-73

START / CONCEPT: CORE SYNTHESIS - Resilience and cost: two verdicts on 1964-73

|

v

EXACT TERMS: CORE SYNTHESIS • Resilience • cost • two verdicts on 1964-73 • Precise definition •

Topic boundary

|

v

MECHANISM / ARGUMENT: The decade from 1964 to 1973 supports two compatible verdicts: institutional resilience, shown by two peaceful successions and a decisive war, and organisational cost, shown by the de-institutionalisation this topic has traced.

|

v

CONSEQUENCE / CONTRAST: Mains: Use this closing session to structure a balanced conclusion for any comprehensive Mains essay on 1964-73.

|

v

UPSC TRAP / ANSWER-USE: Do not miss this limiting distinction: do not present resilience and cost as mutually exclusive verdicts.

|

v

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Do not present resilience and cost as mutually exclusive verdicts; the owner's own historiography treats them as compatible readings of the same decade.

MODERN HISTORY DEEP-REVIEW CORE CONTROL

- Must remember: Shastri became Prime Minister on 9 June 1964; the 1965 war led to the Tashkent Declaration on 10 January 1966 and his death on 11 January; Indira Gandhi took office on 24 January, devaluation followed on 6 June, the 1967 election weakened Congress, the party split and fourteen banks were nationalised in 1969, privy purses ended constitutionally in 1971, and the Bangladesh war and Simla Agreement followed in 1971-72.
- Close distinction: Bank nationalisation in 1969 and the 26th Amendment ending privy purses in 1971 are separate measures; the 1967 result was a major setback, not a comfortable mandate; and Pokhran-I on 18 May 1974 is immediate aftermath/enrichment beyond the topic's stated 1964-73 boundary.
- Evidence / interpretation limit: Election data, the Tashkent and Simla texts, constitutional amendment history, bank-nationalisation instruments and war/diplomatic records must qualify personality-centred inevitability and distinguish policy announcement, judicial challenge and legal completion.

TOPIC 34 CLOSING SHASTRI-TO-INDIRA LEDGER

Topic 34 owns the bounded 1964-73 transition: two constitutional successions, the 1965 war and Tashkent, the mid-1960s food/currency crisis, the 1967 electoral setback and state coalitions, Indira-Syndicate conflict, the 1969 Congress split and bank nationalisation, the 1971 mandate, privy-purse abolition, Bangladesh war and the 1972 Simla settlement. Topic 33 stops at the 1967 party-system watershed; Topic 35 owns the 1973-77 crisis and Emergency. Pokhran-I on 18 May 1974 is immediate-aftermath enrichment, not part of the 1964-73 core.

Date the successions precisely. Shastri took office on 9 June 1964. The Tashkent Declaration was signed on 10 January 1966 and Shastri died in the early hours of 11 January; Indira Gandhi took office on 24 January after defeating Morarji Desai 355 to 169. The rupee devaluation followed on 6 June 1966. These are separate political, diplomatic and economic thresholds.

The 1967 election ended easy dominance without removing Congress from the Centre; it lost power in eight states and opened the coalition/defection era. The 1969 presidential struggle, V.V. Giri victory, Congress (R)/(O) split and nationalisation of fourteen banks formed a connected political sequence, but bank nationalisation was not the same measure as the 26th Amendment ending privy purses in 1971.

Garibi Hatao and the 352-of-518 victory shifted authority from organisation to direct popular appeal. The Bangladesh crisis, refugee influx, December 1971 war and creation of Bangladesh produced a strategic and domestic high point; the Simla Agreement belongs 1972. This achievement must be assessed alongside personalisation, weakened party institutions and Centre-state pressure that form the structural bridge to Topic 35.

The routed 2019 Prelims coal-nationalisation-status demand has no supporting evidence in the held Modern History sources. No coal statute, year, sequence or answer key is invented; a full answer must be verified in the proper Economy or Geography owner. No direct Mains route is claimed.

Answer: constitutional succession -> war and Tashkent -> food/currency crisis -> 1967 setback -> populist left turn and organisational rupture -> 1971 electoral and strategic consolidation -> 1972 diplomacy -> institutional cost -> stop at 1973 before the Emergency crisis.

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?

A. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. B. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. C. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. D. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi.

Answer: A. Explanation: Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?

A. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. B. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. C. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. D. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid.

Answer: B. Explanation: Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q3. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?

A. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. B. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. C. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. D. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'.

Answer: C. Explanation: Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q4. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Shastri becomes Prime Minister, June 1964?

A. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. B. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. C. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. D. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January.

Answer: D. Explanation: Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?

A. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. B. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. C. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. D. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'.

Answer: A. Explanation: Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?

A. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. B. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. C. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. D. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.

Answer: B. Explanation: Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q7. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?

A. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. B. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. C. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. D. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.

Answer: C. Explanation: Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q8. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Indira Gandhi elected Prime Minister, January 1966?

A. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. B. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. C. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. D. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes.

Answer: D. Explanation: Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q9. Which statement correctly identifies The rupee devaluation, June 1966?

A. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. B. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. C. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. D. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.

Answer: A. Explanation: The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under The rupee devaluation, June 1966?

A. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. B. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. C. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. D. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'.

Answer: B. Explanation: The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q11. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The rupee devaluation, June 1966?

A. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. B. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. C. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. D. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate.

Answer: C. Explanation: The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q12. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The rupee devaluation, June 1966?

A. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. B. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. C. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. D. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid.

Answer: D. Explanation: The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q13. Which statement correctly identifies The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?

A. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. B. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. C. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. D. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment.

Answer: A. Explanation: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?

A. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. B. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. C. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. D. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate.

Answer: B. Explanation: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q15. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?

A. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. B. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. C. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. D. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment.

Answer: C. Explanation: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q16. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Prime Minister's Secretariat gains weight under Shastri?

A. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. B. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. C. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. D. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi.

Answer: D. Explanation: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q17. Which statement correctly identifies The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?

A. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. B. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. C. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. D. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.

Answer: A. Explanation: The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?

A. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. B. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. C. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. D. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment.

Answer: B. Explanation: The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q19. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?

A. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. B. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. C. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. D. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate.

Answer: C. Explanation: The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q20. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1967 general election: the end of easy dominance?

A. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. B. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. C. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. D. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'.

Answer: D. Explanation: The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q21. Which statement correctly identifies The 1969 Congress split?

A. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. B. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. C. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. D. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment.

Answer: A. Explanation: In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1969 Congress split?

A. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. B. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. C. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. D. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order.

Answer: B. Explanation: In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q23. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1969 Congress split?

A. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. B. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. C. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. D. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time.

Answer: C. Explanation: In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q24. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1969 Congress split?

A. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. B. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. C. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. D. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.

Answer: D. Explanation: In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q25. Which statement correctly identifies The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?

A. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. B. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. C. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. D. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?

A. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. B. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. C. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. D. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q27. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?

A. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. B. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. C. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. D. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q28. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The Supreme Court's 1970 rulings against the executive?

A. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. B. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. C. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. D. The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Supreme Court struck down the government's first bank-nationalisation order and its order derecognising the princely rulers' privy purses in 1970, forcing the government to re-enact both measures through fresh legislation and constitutional amendment. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q29. Which statement correctly identifies V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?

A. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. B. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. C. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. D. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home.

Answer: A. Explanation: V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?

A. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. B. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. C. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. D. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time.

Answer: B. Explanation: V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q31. Which option should a candidate retain when revising V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?

A. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. B. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. C. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. D. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home.

Answer: C. Explanation: V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q32. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about V.V. Giri elected President, 1969?

A. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. B. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. C. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. D. V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate.

Answer: D. Explanation: V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Privy purses abolished, 1971?

A. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. B. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. C. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. D. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home.

Answer: A. Explanation: The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Privy purses abolished, 1971?

A. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. B. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. C. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. D. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing.

Answer: B. Explanation: The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q35. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Privy purses abolished, 1971?

A. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. B. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. C. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. D. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing.

Answer: C. Explanation: The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q36. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Privy purses abolished, 1971?

A. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. B. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. C. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. D. The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order.

Answer: D. Explanation: The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q37. Which statement correctly identifies The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?

A. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. B. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. C. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. D. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test.

Answer: A. Explanation: In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?

A. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. B. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. C. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. D. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing.

Answer: B. Explanation: In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q39. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?

A. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. B. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. C. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. D. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Answer: C. Explanation: In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q40. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1971 election and Garibi Hatao?

A. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. B. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. C. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. D. In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time.

Answer: D. Explanation: In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q41. Which statement correctly identifies The 1971 Bangladesh war?

A. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. B. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. C. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. D. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test.

Answer: A. Explanation: The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under The 1971 Bangladesh war?

A. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. B. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. C. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. D. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Answer: B. Explanation: The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q43. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The 1971 Bangladesh war?

A. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. B. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. C. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. D. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991.

Answer: C. Explanation: The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q44. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The 1971 Bangladesh war?

A. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. B. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). C. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. D. The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home.

Answer: D. Explanation: The 1971 Bangladesh war, arising from the crisis in East Pakistan and the refugee influx into India, ended in a decisive Indian victory and the creation of Bangladesh, making Indira Gandhi's authority unassailable at home. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Pokhran-I, May 1974?

A. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. B. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. C. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. D. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing.

Answer: A. Explanation: India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Pokhran-I, May 1974?

A. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. B. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. C. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. D. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Answer: B. Explanation: India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q47. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Pokhran-I, May 1974?

A. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). B. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. C. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. D. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance.

Answer: C. Explanation: India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q48. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Pokhran-I, May 1974?

A. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. B. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). C. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. D. India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test.

Answer: D. Explanation: India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Comparing 1965 and 1971?

A. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. B. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. C. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. D. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Answer: A. Explanation: The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Comparing 1965 and 1971?

A. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. B. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. C. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). D. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance.

Answer: B. Explanation: The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q51. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Comparing 1965 and 1971?

A. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. B. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). C. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. D. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance.

Answer: C. Explanation: The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q52. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Comparing 1965 and 1971?

A. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. B. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. C. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). D. The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing.

Answer: D. Explanation: The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q53. Which statement correctly identifies De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?

A. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. B. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. C. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). D. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance.

Answer: A. Explanation: The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?

A. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. B. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. C. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. D. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R).

Answer: B. Explanation: The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q55. Which option should a candidate retain when revising De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?

A. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. B. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. C. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. D. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R).

Answer: C. Explanation: The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q56. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost?

A. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. B. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. C. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. D. The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Answer: D. Explanation: The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q57. Which statement correctly identifies The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?

A. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. B. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. C. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). D. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic.

Answer: A. Explanation: The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?

A. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. B. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. C. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). D. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic.

Answer: B. Explanation: The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q59. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?

A. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. B. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. C. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. D. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded.

Answer: C. Explanation: The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q60. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The mid-1960s crisis behind the devaluation?

A. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. B. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. C. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. D. The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991.

Answer: D. Explanation: The devaluation of June 1966 followed a convergence of 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and dependence on external food aid, and it produced a durable Indian aversion to externally pressed economic adjustment that lasted until 1991. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q61. Which statement correctly identifies 1967's three structural consequences?

A. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. B. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. C. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. D. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R).

Answer: A. Explanation: The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under 1967's three structural consequences?

A. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. B. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. C. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. D. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic.

Answer: B. Explanation: The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q63. Which option should a candidate retain when revising 1967's three structural consequences?

A. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. B. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. C. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. D. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced.

Answer: C. Explanation: The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q64. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about 1967's three structural consequences?

A. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. B. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. C. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. D. The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance.

Answer: D. Explanation: The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q65. Which statement correctly identifies The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?

A. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). B. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. C. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. D. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced.

Answer: A. Explanation: The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?

A. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. B. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). C. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. D. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January.

Answer: B. Explanation: The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q67. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?

A. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. B. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. C. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). D. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded.

Answer: C. Explanation: The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q68. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The institutionalised left-right cleavage after 1969?

A. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. B. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. C. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. D. The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R).

Answer: D. Explanation: The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R). This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q69. Which statement correctly identifies The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?

A. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. B. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. C. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. D. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded.

Answer: A. Explanation: The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?

A. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. B. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. C. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. D. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes.

Answer: B. Explanation: The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q71. Which option should a candidate retain when revising The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?

A. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. B. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. C. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. D. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes.

Answer: C. Explanation: The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q72. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019?

A. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. B. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. C. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. D. The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic.

Answer: D. Explanation: The 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48 demand on the status of coal-sector nationalisation in independent India has no supporting content in any modern-history source book held in this repository, and no nationalisation year or statute name for the coal sector may be stated from memory in this topic. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?

A. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. B. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. C. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. D. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded.

Answer: A. Explanation: Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?

A. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January. B. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. C. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. D. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes.

Answer: B. Explanation: Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q75. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?

A. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. B. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. C. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. D. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi.

Answer: C. Explanation: Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q76. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Resilience and cost: two historiographical readings?

A. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. B. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. C. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. D. Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced.

Answer: D. Explanation: Bipan Chandra reads Indira Gandhi's leftward turn sympathetically as a genuine, if flawed, attempt to give the poor a stake, while conceding the cost of de-institutionalisation; rival institutionalist readings foreground the erosion of party democracy that the same turn produced. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q77. Which statement correctly identifies Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?

A. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. B. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid. C. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. D. Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January.

Answer: A. Explanation: Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?

A. Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes. B. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. C. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. D. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid.

Answer: B. Explanation: Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q79. Which option should a candidate retain when revising Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?

A. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. B. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. C. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. D. The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid.

Answer: C. Explanation: Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

Q80. Which statement avoids a common matching trap about Continuity of numbers, discontinuity of organisation?

A. The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'. B. Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi. C. In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year. D. Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded.

Answer: D. Explanation: Despite the 1969 split, Congress (R) retained a comfortable Lok Sabha majority because most sitting Members of Parliament crossed over with Indira Gandhi, a numerical continuity that concealed how deeply the party's internal democracy and organisational discipline had already eroded. This distinction preserves the source-backed chronology and prevents cross-matching errors in UPSC elimination.

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE

Historical PYQ Integration (2018-2023)

Status: Question-level PYQ demand is integrated into this owner. Provenance: Audited local official-paper routing ledgers: _PYQ-ROUTING-PRELIMS-2018-2023.md. Answer-key rule: The official 2018-2023 Prelims/CSAT keys are not held locally; no option or answer has been inferred.

- Years represented: 2019
- Paper(s): Prelims GS-I
- Routed question demands: 1

Year	Paper	Q	PYQ demand (neutral rendering)	Directive /​ format	Source status	Owner requirement
2019	Prelims GS-I	48	Coal sector nationalization status in independent India	Objective question; official key unavailable locally	Routed; key unavailable locally	Cover the named fact/​concept and its likely statement-level distinctions.

What this owner must now support

- Coal sector nationalization status in independent India

The table integrates the examinable demand and paper metadata. It does not turn an unkeyed objective question into a solved answer, and it does not claim that lexical presence alone proves full conceptual sufficiency.

ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS

Question: Explain how the successions of 1964 and 1966 demonstrated the resilience of Indian democracy. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: Two unplanned successions settled within days by party election, in the middle of a war and a food crisis, show that India's constitutional processes for replacing a leader had already been institutionalised by the mid-1960s.

Evidence spine:

- Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January.

- Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes.
- The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: Two unplanned successions settled within days by party election, in the middle of a war and a food crisis, show that India's constitutional processes for replacing a leader had already been institutionalised by the mid-1960s.

Demand decoding: The directive explain requires a direct position on "Explain how the successions of 1964 and 1966 demonstrated the resilience of Indian...", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise three named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "Explain how the successions of 1964 and 1966 demonstrated the resilience of Indian...", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS

Question: Distinguish the origins and outcomes of the 1965 and 1971 wars. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: The 1965 war arose from infiltration into Kashmir and ended inconclusively at Tashkent, while the 1971 war arose from the East Pakistan crisis and ended decisively with the creation of Bangladesh.

Evidence spine:

- Indira Gandhi was elected Prime Minister in January 1966, defeating Morarji Desai by 355 votes to 169, and she was initially backed by the Congress bosses known as the 'Syndicate', who expected to control her from behind the scenes.
- India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test.
- The 1965 war originated in Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir and ended militarily inconclusively at the Tashkent Declaration, while the 1971 war originated in the East Pakistan crisis and ended in a decisive Indian victory that created Bangladesh, a contrast that transformed India's regional standing.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: The 1965 war arose from infiltration into Kashmir and ended inconclusively at Tashkent, while the 1971 war arose from the East Pakistan crisis and ended decisively with the creation of Bangladesh.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "Distinguish the origins and outcomes of the 1965 and 1971 wars. Answer in about 150 words.", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise three named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For “Distinguish the origins and outcomes of the 1965 and 1971 wars. Answer in about 150 words.”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS

Question: Analyse how Indira Gandhi used the measures of 1969-71 to consolidate power over the Congress party. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Bank nationalisation, the Giri presidency, privy-purse abolition and the Garibi Hatao mandate together converted an intra-party contest into unassailable national authority.

Evidence spine:

- In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.
- V.V. Giri won the 1969 presidential election as Indira Gandhi's candidate, a contest whose outcome confirmed that most Congress MPs and the AICC had sided with her against the Syndicate.
- The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order.
- In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: Bank nationalisation, the Giri presidency, privy-purse abolition and the Garibi Hatao mandate together converted an intra-party contest into unassailable national authority.

Demand decoding: The directive analyse requires a direct position on “Analyse how Indira Gandhi used the measures of 1969-71 to consolidate power over the...”, coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise five named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For “Analyse how Indira Gandhi used the measures of 1969-71 to consolidate power over the...”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS

Question: Assess the significance of the 1967 general election for the subsequent development of the Indian party system. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: The 1967 result normalised coalition government, made defection a standard instrument and stripped the Congress centre of the state-level machine that had underwritten its dominance.

Evidence spine:

- The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'.
- The 1967 election's structural consequences were threefold: coalition government became normal in the states, defection became a standard political instrument eventually addressed by the 1985 Anti-Defection Act, and the Congress central leadership lost the state-level organisational machine that had underwritten its earlier dominance.
- The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R).

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: The 1967 result normalised coalition government, made defection a standard instrument and stripped the Congress centre of the state-level machine that had underwritten its dominance.

Demand decoding: The directive assess requires a direct position on "Assess the significance of the 1967 general election for the subsequent development of the...", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise five named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "Assess the significance of the 1967 general election for the subsequent development of the...", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS

Question: 'Indira Gandhi's consolidation of power between 1966 and 1971 rested on the erosion of institutions as much as on popular mandate.' Evaluate. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: Executive centralisation from Shastri's PMO onward, the 1969 split, privy-purse abolition and the de-institutionalisation this produced show that mandate and institutional erosion advanced together rather than as alternatives.

Evidence spine:

- Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat, or PMO, gained administrative weight, an early sign of executive centralisation inside the government that deepened further under Indira Gandhi.
- In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.
- The privy purses of former princely rulers were formally abolished in 1971 through the 26th Constitutional Amendment, after the Supreme Court's 1970 ruling had struck down the government's original derecognition order.

- The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.
- The 1969 Congress split institutionalised a left-of-centre versus right-of-centre cleavage inside what had been a single dominant party, with most Members of Parliament and the AICC siding with Indira Gandhi's Congress (R).

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: Executive centralisation from Shastri's PMO onward, the 1969 split, privy-purse abolition and the de-institutionalisation this produced show that mandate and institutional erosion advanced together rather than as alternatives.

Demand decoding: The directive evaluate requires a direct position on "Indira Gandhi's consolidation of power between 1966 and 1971 rested on the erosion of...", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise six to eight named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "Indira Gandhi's consolidation of power between 1966 and 1971 rested on the erosion of...", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS

Question: Trace India's political and economic trajectory from Lal Bahadur Shastri's accession in 1964 to the Pokhran test of 1974, and assess the costs of this decade's consolidation of power. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: A decade that opened with two successions and a devaluation closed with a nuclear test and unassailable personal authority, but the same decade's techniques left the Congress organisationally hollow, the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Evidence spine:

- Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister in June 1964 after Jawaharlal Nehru's death, and he led India through the 1965 India-Pakistan war before signing the Tashkent Declaration with Ayub Khan on 10 January 1966 and dying at Tashkent in the early hours of 11 January.
- The rupee was devalued by about 35.5 per cent in June 1966, a politically costly step that followed 1965-war expenditure, successive harvest failures and India's dependence on external food aid.
- The fourth general election of 1967 slashed the Congress's Lok Sabha majority and cost it power in eight states, producing Samyukta Vidhayak Dal coalition governments and mass floor-crossing that contemporaries nicknamed 'Aya Ram Gaya Ram'.
- In 1969 Indira Gandhi split the Congress into Congress (R) and Congress (O), defeating the Syndicate, in a rupture that followed directly from the presidential contest and the nationalisation of 14 banks the same year.
- In the 1971 general election Congress (R) won 352 of 518 seats campaigning on the slogan 'Garibi Hatao', a national plebiscite that delinked the Lok Sabha verdict from state-level Congress organisation for the first time.
- India conducted its first nuclear test, Pokhran-I, in May 1974, officially described at the time as a 'peaceful nuclear explosion' rather than a weapons test.
- The same populist and organisational techniques that made Indira Gandhi dominant also personalised authority, split and weakened the Congress organisation, and eroded the internal checks that had once contained factional conflict, a de-institutionalisation that is the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Balance: Distinguish intention from outcome, identify regional or social variation, and avoid treating a formal measure as complete implementation.

Conclusion: A decade that opened with two successions and a devaluation closed with a nuclear test and unassailable personal authority, but the same decade's techniques left the Congress organisationally hollow, the structural background to the 1973-75 crisis.

Demand decoding: The directive trace requires a direct position on "Trace India's political and economic trajectory from Lal Bahadur Shastri's accession in...", coverage of every clause, chronological-causal analysis, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved analysis above is the executable content base. Preserve its exact chronology, named evidence, causal logic, counter-position and qualification.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis; organise six to eight named Acts, events, organisations, regions, primary records or scholarly positions as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes dates and policy stages, connects evidence to mechanism, recognises regional/social variation and avoids teleology or hero worship.

How to improve this answer: For "Trace India's political and economic trajectory from Lal Bahadur Shastri's accession in...", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named primary/official record or attributed scholarly interpretation and state exactly what it cannot prove.

OPTIONAL ADVANCED DEPTH - NOT REQUIRED FOR A CORE ANSWER

Mini-timeline

Date	Event
FACT: 1964-66	Shastri's brief tenure; PMO strengthened; 1965 war and Tashkent
FACT: 1966-67	Indira installed by the Syndicate; devaluation; food and inflation crises
FACT: 1967	Fourth election - Congress loses 8 states; defection politics ("Aya Ram Gaya Ram")
FACT: 1969	Presidential contest (V.V. Giri); bank nationalisation; Congress split
FACT: 1971	Garibi Hatao landslide; Bangladesh war; privy purses abolished
FACT: 1972-74	State-election sweep; but economic strain builds toward the 1974 crisis

1. Snapshot & core idea

Deeper - thesis: the "Congress system" broke down and was replaced by plebiscitary, personalised leadership.

- FACT: Under Shastri the Prime Minister's Secretariat (PMO) gained weight - an early sign of executive centralisation that would deepen under Indira.
- FACT: The 1967 elections shattered one-party dominance: united anti-Congressism, coalition (SVD) governments and mass defections (nearly 800 legislators crossed floors, 1967-70) destabilised the states.
- ANALYSIS: Indira's response was to go over the party bosses' heads to the electorate - converting Congress from a federated machine into a leader-centred, plebiscitary party.
- FACT: The 1969 split (Congress-R vs Congress-O) institutionalised a left-of-centre vs right-of-centre cleavage, with most MPs and the AICC siding with Indira.

Deeper - the leftward turn was both ideological and tactical.

- FACT: Bank nationalisation (1969) and the abolition of privy purses (1971) were populist-radical measures that isolated the Syndicate and rallied the poor.
- FACT: The 1971 "Garibi Hatao" landslide (Congress-R, 352/518) rested on a direct appeal to a coalition of the poor and disadvantaged, delinking national from state voting.

- FACT: The Bangladesh war (1971) victory made Indira dominant, and Pokhran-I (1974) projected strategic strength.
- ANALYSIS: But personalisation weakened the party organisation and institutional checks - the very fragility that produced the crisis of 1973-75 (topic 35).

2. Key classification / data

Dimension	Advanced takeaway
FACT: Executive centralisation	PMO's rise under Shastri; leader-centred party under Indira
FACT: 1967 rupture	End of Congress dominance; coalitions + mass defections
FACT: 1969 split	Left/right cleavage institutionalised; Indira captures the party
FACT: Populist radicalism	Bank nationalisation + privy-purse abolition as power tools
FACT: 1971 plebiscite	National mandate delinked from state politics; Garibi Hatao
ANALYSIS: Hidden cost	De-institutionalisation storing up the 1973-75 crisis

3. Study links

Study link: FACT: The system that broke down here -> advanced/33_Party-Politics-1947-67-Congress-System-and-Opposition.md. Study link: FACT: The Emergency this drift produced -> advanced/35_The-JP-Movement-and-the-Emergency.md. Study link: ANALYSIS: Nationalisation and the economy's mid-course turn -> advanced/38_Economy-Land-Society-and-State-A-Post-Independence-Synthesis.md. Study link: ANALYSIS: Defections and the later anti-defection remedy -> Polity/advanced/42_Anti-Defection-Law.md.

4. Must-Know Facts (Prelims)

- FACT: The 1967 elections produced coalition (Samyukta Vidhayak Dal) governments and mass floor-crossing in the states.
- FACT: The 1969 Congress split followed the V.V. Giri presidential contest and bank nationalisation.
- FACT: The Supreme Court struck down the first bank-nationalisation order (1970) and the privy-purse derecognition (1970); the government responded with legislation/amendment.
- FACT: Privy purses were abolished in 1971 (26th Amendment).
- FACT: The 1971 election (Congress-R, 352/518) rested on "Garibi Hatao."
- FACT: Pokhran-I (1974) was India's first nuclear test.

5. UPSC Traps

MEMORY: Trap: Indira's radicalism was as much a strategy of power (isolating the Syndicate) as an ideological programme - the two are inseparable.

- WRONG: The Congress system ended in 1969. -> It began cracking in 1967; the 1969 split completed the rupture.
- WRONG: Bank nationalisation went unchallenged. -> The Supreme Court struck down the first order (1970) before it was re-enacted.
- WRONG: The 1971 mandate was a state-level verdict. -> It was a national plebiscite delinked from state politics.
- WRONG: Personalised leadership strengthened institutions. -> It de-institutionalised the party, seeding the 1975 crisis.
- WRONG: Pokhran-I was declared a weapons programme. -> It was styled a "peaceful nuclear explosion."

6. CURRENT: Current link

- ANALYSIS: Executive centralisation and institutional checks. Discussions of PMO dominance, defection and the judiciary-executive balance draw on this period's precedents. (Escalate to CURRENT: when pegged to a verified news item.)

7. Mains angles

- ANALYSIS: GS-1: "The Congress system gave way to plebiscitary leadership after 1967." Critically examine.
- ANALYSIS: GS-1: Analyse how Indira Gandhi's 1969-71 measures combined ideology with the pursuit of power.
- ANALYSIS: GS-1: "The seeds of the Emergency lay in the de-institutionalisation of 1969-73." Discuss.
- ANALYSIS: GS-1: Evaluate the significance of the 1971 verdict for Indian federal politics.

CONSOLIDATED REGISTER NOTES

COMPLETE TOPIC ASCII MASTER FLOW DIAGRAM

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 1/12: Two successions in twenty months

SHASTRI PM -> JUNE 1964, after Nehru's death
1965 WAR -> India-Pakistan; ends at TASHKENT DECLARATION, Jan 1966
SHASTRI DIES -> Tashkent, 10 JANUARY 1966, hours after signing
INDIRA ELECTED PM -> JANUARY 1966, defeats Morarji Desai 355-169 (Syndicate-backed)
MUST REMEMBER: Shastri became Prime Minister on 9 June 1964; the 1965 war led to the Tashkent Declaration on 10 January 1966 and his death on 11 January; Indira Gandhi took office on 24 January, devaluation followed on 6 June, the 1967 election weakened Congress, the party split and fourteen banks were nationalised in 1969, privy purses ended constitutionally in 1971, and the Bangladesh war and Simla Agreement followed in 1971-72.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 2/12: The mid-1960s economic crisis and the 1966 devaluation

1965 WAR EXPENDITURE + HARVEST FAILURES + FOOD-AID DEPENDENCE -> fiscal strain
RUPEE DEVALUED -> JUNE 1966, by about 35.5 per cent
POLITICAL COST -> blamed on Indira Gandhi within months of taking office
LEGACY -> durable aversion to externally pressed adjustment, until 1991

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 3/12: 1967: the end of easy dominance

FOURTH GENERAL ELECTION -> 1967
CONGRESS -> majority SLASHED nationally; loses power in EIGHT STATES
NEW PATTERN -> Samyukta Vidhayak Dal (SVD) coalition governments
MASS DEFECTION -> "Aya Ram Gaya Ram"; about 800 legislators switch, 1967-70

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 4/12: 1969: the Congress split

TRIGGER -> V.V. Giri presidential contest + bank nationalisation (14 banks)
SPLIT -> Congress (R), Indira Gandhi vs Congress (O), the Syndicate
OUTCOME -> most Congress MPs and the AICC side with Indira Gandhi
RESULT -> numbers held for Congress (R); party organisation did not

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 5/12: Courts vs the executive, 1970

SUPREME COURT, 1970 -> strikes down FIRST bank-nationalisation order
SUPREME COURT, 1970 -> strikes down privy-purse DERECOGNITION order
GOVERNMENT RESPONSE -> re-enacts bank nationalisation via fresh legislation
GOVERNMENT RESPONSE -> abolishes privy purses via 26th Amendment, 1971

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 6/12: 1971: privy purses and Garibi Hatao

PRIVY PURSES ABOLISHED -> 1971, 26th Constitutional Amendment
1971 GENERAL ELECTION -> Congress (R) wins 352 of 518 seats
SLOGAN -> "Garibi Hatao"
READ IT CORRECTLY -> a NATIONAL plebiscite, delinked from state-level Congress

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 7/12: The 1971 Bangladesh war

ORIGIN -> crisis in East Pakistan; refugee influx into India
OUTCOME -> decisive Indian military victory
RESULT -> creation of Bangladesh
EFFECT -> Indira Gandhi's domestic authority becomes unassailable

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 8/12: 1965 vs 1971 compared

1965 WAR -> origin: Pakistani infiltration into Kashmir
1965 WAR -> outcome: militarily inconclusive; ends at Tashkent Declaration
1971 WAR -> origin: East Pakistan refugee crisis
1971 WAR -> outcome: decisive victory; creates Bangladesh

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 9/12: Pokhran-I, May 1974

TEST -> Pokhran-I, MAY 1974
OFFICIAL LABEL -> "peaceful nuclear explosion", not a declared weapons test
SIGNIFICANCE -> first Indian nuclear test; inside the Garibi-Hatao-to-Emergency arc
TRAP -> do not date this test to the 1960s

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 10/12: De-institutionalisation: the hidden cost

TECHNIQUE -> populist mobilisation + personalised leadership
EFFECT ON PARTY -> Congress organisation split and weakened after 1969
EFFECT ON CHECKS -> internal factional-conflict checks eroded
LONGER EFFECT -> structural background to the 1973-75 crisis
CLOSE DISTINCTION: Bank nationalisation in 1969 and the 26th Amendment ending privy purses in 1971 are separate measures; the 1967 result was a major setback, not a comfortable mandate; and Pokhran-I on 18 May 1974 is immediate aftermath/enrichment beyond the topic's stated 1964-73 boundary.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 11/12: The coal-sector nationalisation gap, 2019: a bounded caution

ROUTED DEMAND -> 2019 Prelims GS-I Q48, coal-sector nationalisation status
LOCAL SUPPORT -> NONE in any modern-history source book in this repository
RULE -> no year, statute or sequence for coal nationalisation stated from memory
ACTION -> route any full answer to the Economy or Geography owner instead EVIDENCE LIMIT: Election data, the Tashkent and Simla texts, constitutional amendment history, bank-nationalisation instruments and war/diplomatic records must qualify personality-centred inevitability and distinguish policy announcement, judicial challenge and legal completion.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 12/12: Resilience and cost: two verdicts on 1964-73

VERDICT ONE -> resilience: two successions absorbed peacefully; 1971 war won

VERDICT TWO -> cost: party de-institutionalised; internal democracy eroded

CHANDRA'S READING -> the leftward turn was genuine, if organisationally costly

SYNTHESIS -> both readings are compatible, not competing, accounts of the decade