00 — STAGE 00 — THE CENTRAL DEVELOPMENT QUESTION AND THE FIVE-RUNG LADDER

THE CENTRAL DEVELOPMENT QUESTION AND THE FIVE-RUNG LADDER · WHAT COUNTS AS A BETTER SOCIETY, AND HOW DO · FIVE RUNGS (EACH ADDS A QUESTION THE PREVIOUS RUNG) · MORE OUTPUT · INCOME MEASURE · QUANTITY DEVELOPMENT · STRUCTURAL AND QUALITATIVE CHANGE MEASURE · OPPORTUNITY HUMAN DEV.

CENTRAL QUESTION — what counts as a better society, and how do material changes become

FIVE RUNGS (each adds a question the previous rung cannot answer) growth → more output → health, knowledge, material command measure: human options capability → substantive freedom to be and → justified social relations/institutions measure: freedom, equality, justice, dignity, participation, sustainability

SOURCE / DOCTRINE
- CENTRAL QUESTION → what counts as a better society, and how do material changes become morally justified progress?
- FIVE RUNGS (each adds a question the previous rung cannot answer) growth → more output / income measure
- → health, knowledge, material command measure: human options capability → substantive freedom to be and do measure: real opportunity social prog
- → justified social relations/institutions measure: freedom, equality, justice, dignity, participation, sustainability

ARGUMENT / MECHANISM
- MEASURE EXAMLES → output
- basic needs
- welfare/quality of life human development
- CONTROL → every indicator reveals one space and hides another

IMPLICATION / VERDICT
- ECONOMETRIC MODEL → productivity / investment / industrialisation → resources enabling truth: scarcity blocks health, education and
- choice failure: output says nothing by itself about distribution, voice, work quality, displacement or ecological cost
- MASTER VERDICT → growth can finance development; just conversion into capability, dignity, participation and sustainable institutions makes progress.

ANSWER-GRABBING LINE — WRITE/ADAPT IN THE EXAM: MASTER VERDICT — growth can finance development; just conversion into capability, dignity, participation and sustainable institutions makes progress.
