

SOLVED PRACTICE WORKBOOK

Unification of Italy and Germany - Solved Practice Workbook

UPSC complete learning session | Foundation to advanced | Concepts, evidence, practice and answer writing

Original deterministic study visual; labels are explanatory, not textual quotations.

Source order: repository knowledge -> official current linkage -> clearly marked analysis. No fabricated PYQs or statistics.

CONTENTS / WORKBOOK INDEX

Major learning parts and meaningful subtopics are listed in document order. Page numbers are generated from the final PDF layout; PDF bookmarks mirror the same hierarchy.

Unification of Italy and Germany - Solved Practice Workbook 5

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION 5

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Vienna's divided map, 1815?	5
Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Vienna's divided map, 1815?	5
Q3. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Vienna's divided map, 1815?	5
Q4. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Vienna's divided map, 1815?	5
Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Young Italy, 1831?	6
Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Young Italy, 1831?	6
Q7. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Young Italy, 1831?	6
Q8. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Young Italy, 1831?	6
Q9. Which statement correctly identifies Failure of 1848?	6
Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under Failure of 1848?	7
Q11. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Failure of 1848?	7
Q12. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Failure of 1848?	7
Q13. Which statement correctly identifies Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?	7
Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?	7
Q15. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?	8
Q16. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?	8
Q17. Which statement correctly identifies Cavour and France, 1859?	8
Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under Cavour and France, 1859?	8
Q19. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Cavour and France, 1859?	8
Q20. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Cavour and France, 1859?	9
Q21. Which statement correctly identifies Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?	9
Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?	9
Q23. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?	9
Q24. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?	9
Q25. Which statement correctly identifies Kingdom of Italy, 1861?	10
Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under Kingdom of Italy, 1861?	10
Q27. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Kingdom of Italy, 1861?	10

Q28. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Kingdom of Italy, 1861?	10
Q29. Which statement correctly identifies Venetia, 1866?	10
Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under Venetia, 1866?	11
Q31. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Venetia, 1866?	11
Q32. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Venetia, 1866?	11
Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Rome, 1870?	11
Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Rome, 1870?	11
Q35. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Rome, 1870?	12
Q36. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Rome, 1870?	12
Q37. Which statement correctly identifies Italy's incomplete integration?	12
Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under Italy's incomplete integration?	12
Q39. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Italy's incomplete integration?	12
Q40. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Italy's incomplete integration?	13
Q41. Which statement correctly identifies Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?	13
Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?	13
Q43. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?	13
Q44. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?	13
Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Danish War, 1864?	14
Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Danish War, 1864?	14
Q47. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Danish War, 1864?	14
Q48. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Danish War, 1864?	14
Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Seven Weeks' War, 1866?	14
Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Seven Weeks' War, 1866?	15
Q51. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Seven Weeks' War, 1866?	15
Q52. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Seven Weeks' War, 1866?	15
Q53. Which statement correctly identifies Franco-German War, 1870-71?	15
Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under Franco-German War, 1870-71?	15
Q55. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Franco-German War, 1870-71?	16
Q56. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Franco-German War, 1870-71?	16
Q57. Which statement correctly identifies German Empire, January 1871?	16
Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under German Empire, January 1871?	16
Q59. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of German Empire, January 1871?	16

Q60. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about German Empire, January 1871?	17
Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Small-German solution?	17
Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Small-German solution?	17
Q63. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Small-German solution?	17
Q64. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Small-German solution?	18
Q65. Which statement correctly identifies German federal-authoritarian form?	18
Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under German federal-authoritarian form?	18
Q67. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of German federal-authoritarian form?	18
Q68. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about German federal-authoritarian form?	19
Q69. Which statement correctly identifies Alsace-Lorraine consequence?	19
Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under Alsace-Lorraine consequence?	19
Q71. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Alsace-Lorraine consequence?	19
Q72. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Alsace-Lorraine consequence?	20
Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Above and below compared?	20
Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Above and below compared?	20
Q75. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Above and below compared?	20
Q76. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Above and below compared?	21
Q77. Which statement correctly identifies European balance transformed?	21
Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under European balance transformed?	21
Q79. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of European balance transformed?	21
Q80. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about European balance transformed?	21
PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE	22
TRANSPARENT ZERO-DIRECT-PYQ AUDIT	22
ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS	22
ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS	23
ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS	24
ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS	25
ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS	26
ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS	28

Unification of Italy and Germany - Solved Practice Workbook

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Vienna's divided map, 1815?

A. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. B. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. C. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. D. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Vienna's divided map, 1815?

A. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. B. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. C. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. D. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q3. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Vienna's divided map, 1815?

A. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. B. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. C. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. D. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q4. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Vienna's divided map, 1815?

A. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. B. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. C. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. D. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Young Italy, 1831?

A. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. B. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. C. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. D. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.

Answer: A. Explanation: Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Young Italy, 1831?

A. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. B. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. C. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. D. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.

Answer: B. Explanation: Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q7. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Young Italy, 1831?

A. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. B. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. C. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. D. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.

Answer: C. Explanation: Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q8. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Young Italy, 1831?

A. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. B. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. C. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. D. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice.

Answer: D. Explanation: Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q9. Which statement correctly identifies Failure of 1848?

A. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. B. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. C. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. D. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.

Answer: A. Explanation: The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under Failure of 1848?

A. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. B. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. C. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. D. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy.

Answer: B. Explanation: The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q11. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Failure of 1848?

A. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. B. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. C. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. D. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.

Answer: C. Explanation: The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q12. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Failure of 1848?

A. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. B. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. C. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. D. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war.

Answer: D. Explanation: The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q13. Which statement correctly identifies Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?

A. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. B. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. C. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. D. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.

Answer: A. Explanation: Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?

A. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. B. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. C. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. D. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.

Answer: B. Explanation: Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q15. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?

A. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. B. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. C. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. D. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy.

Answer: C. Explanation: Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q16. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Piedmont-Sardinia as nucleus?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. C. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. D. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.

Answer: D. Explanation: Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q17. Which statement correctly identifies Cavour and France, 1859?

A. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. B. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. C. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. D. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy.

Answer: A. Explanation: Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under Cavour and France, 1859?

A. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. B. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. C. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. D. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy.

Answer: B. Explanation: Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q19. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Cavour and France, 1859?

A. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. B. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. C. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. D. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme.

Answer: C. Explanation: Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q20. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Cavour and France, 1859?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. C. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. D. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia.

Answer: D. Explanation: Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q21. Which statement correctly identifies Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?

A. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. B. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. C. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. D. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia.

Answer: A. Explanation: Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?

A. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. B. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. C. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. D. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia.

Answer: B. Explanation: Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q23. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. C. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. D. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification.

Answer: C. Explanation: Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q24. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Garibaldi and the Red Shirts, 1860?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. C. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. D. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.

Answer: D. Explanation: Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q25. Which statement correctly identifies Kingdom of Italy, 1861?

A. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. B. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. C. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. D. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under Kingdom of Italy, 1861?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. C. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. D. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q27. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Kingdom of Italy, 1861?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. C. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. D. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q28. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Kingdom of Italy, 1861?

A. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. B. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. C. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. D. The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q29. Which statement correctly identifies Venetia, 1866?

A. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. B. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. C. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. D. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme.

Answer: A. Explanation: Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under Venetia, 1866?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. C. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. D. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence.

Answer: B. Explanation: Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q31. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Venetia, 1866?

A. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. B. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. C. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. D. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence.

Answer: C. Explanation: Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q32. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Venetia, 1866?

A. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. B. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. C. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. D. Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia.

Answer: D. Explanation: Venetia joined Italy in 1866 after Austria's defeat by Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Rome, 1870?

A. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. B. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. C. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. D. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme.

Answer: A. Explanation: Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Rome, 1870?

A. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. B. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. C. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. D. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.

Answer: B. Explanation: Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q35. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Rome, 1870?

A. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. B. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. C. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. D. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence.

Answer: C. Explanation: Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q36. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Rome, 1870?

A. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. B. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. C. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. D. Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy.

Answer: D. Explanation: Rome joined Italy in 1870 after French troops withdrew, completing territorial unification while leaving a long conflict with the papacy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q37. Which statement correctly identifies Italy's incomplete integration?

A. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. B. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. C. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. D. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.

Answer: A. Explanation: Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under Italy's incomplete integration?

A. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. B. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. C. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. D. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence.

Answer: B. Explanation: Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q39. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Italy's incomplete integration?

A. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. B. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. C. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. D. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.

Answer: C. Explanation: Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q40. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Italy's incomplete integration?

A. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. B. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. C. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. D. Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme.

Answer: D. Explanation: Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q41. Which statement correctly identifies Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?

A. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. B. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. C. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. D. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence.

Answer: A. Explanation: Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?

A. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. B. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. C. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. D. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.

Answer: B. Explanation: Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q43. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?

A. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. B. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. C. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. D. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands.

Answer: C. Explanation: Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q44. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Bismarck becomes minister-president, 1862?

A. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. B. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. C. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. D. Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification.

Answer: D. Explanation: Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Danish War, 1864?

A. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. B. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. C. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. D. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia.

Answer: A. Explanation: Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Danish War, 1864?

A. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. B. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. C. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. D. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence.

Answer: B. Explanation: Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q47. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Danish War, 1864?

A. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. B. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. C. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. D. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.

Answer: C. Explanation: Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q48. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Danish War, 1864?

A. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. B. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. C. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. D. Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence.

Answer: D. Explanation: Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Seven Weeks' War, 1866?

A. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. B. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. C. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. D. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands.

Answer: A. Explanation: Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Seven Weeks' War, 1866?

A. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. B. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. C. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. D. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.

Answer: B. Explanation: Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q51. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Seven Weeks' War, 1866?

A. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. B. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. C. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. D. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914.

Answer: C. Explanation: Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q52. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Seven Weeks' War, 1866?

A. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. B. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. C. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. D. Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.

Answer: D. Explanation: Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q53. Which statement correctly identifies Franco-German War, 1870-71?

A. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. B. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. C. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. D. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia.

Answer: A. Explanation: War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under Franco-German War, 1870-71?

A. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. B. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. C. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. D. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands.

Answer: B. Explanation: War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q55. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Franco-German War, 1870-71?

A. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. B. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. C. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. D. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914.

Answer: C. Explanation: War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q56. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Franco-German War, 1870-71?

A. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. B. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. C. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. D. War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence.

Answer: D. Explanation: War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q57. Which statement correctly identifies German Empire, January 1871?

A. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. B. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. C. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. D. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.

Answer: A. Explanation: The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under German Empire, January 1871?

A. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. B. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. C. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. D. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.

Answer: B. Explanation: The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q59. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of German Empire, January 1871?

A. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. B. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. C. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. D. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state.

Answer: C. Explanation: The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q60. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about German Empire, January 1871?

A. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. B. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. C. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. D. The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia.

Answer: D. Explanation: The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Small-German solution?

A. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. B. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. C. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. D. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.

Answer: A. Explanation: Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Small-German solution?

A. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. B. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. C. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. D. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914.

Answer: B. Explanation: Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q63. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Small-German solution?

A. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. B. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. C. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. D. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state.

Answer: C. Explanation: Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q64. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Small-German solution?

A. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. B. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. C. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. D. Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands.

Answer: D. Explanation: Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q65. Which statement correctly identifies German federal-authoritarian form?

A. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. B. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. C. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. D. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state.

Answer: A. Explanation: The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under German federal-authoritarian form?

A. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. B. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. C. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. D. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria.

Answer: B. Explanation: The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q67. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of German federal-authoritarian form?

A. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. B. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. C. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. D. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria.

Answer: C. Explanation: The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q68. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about German federal-authoritarian form?

A. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. B. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. C. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. D. The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.

Answer: D. Explanation: The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q69. Which statement correctly identifies Alsace-Lorraine consequence?

A. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. B. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. C. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. D. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria.

Answer: A. Explanation: France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under Alsace-Lorraine consequence?

A. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. B. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. C. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. D. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state.

Answer: B. Explanation: France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q71. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Alsace-Lorraine consequence?

A. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. B. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. C. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. D. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice.

Answer: C. Explanation: France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q72. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Alsace-Lorraine consequence?

A. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. B. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. C. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. D. France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914.

Answer: D. Explanation: France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Above and below compared?

A. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. B. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. C. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. D. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice.

Answer: A. Explanation: Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Above and below compared?

A. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. B. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. C. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. D. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria.

Answer: B. Explanation: Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q75. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Above and below compared?

A. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. B. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. C. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. D. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice.

Answer: C. Explanation: Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q76. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Above and below compared?

A. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. B. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. C. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. D. Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military.

Answer: D. Explanation: Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q77. Which statement correctly identifies European balance transformed?

A. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. B. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. C. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. D. The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria.

Answer: A. Explanation: A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under European balance transformed?

A. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. B. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. C. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. D. Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice.

Answer: B. Explanation: A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q79. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of European balance transformed?

A. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. B. The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. C. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. D. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.

Answer: C. Explanation: A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q80. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about European balance transformed?

A. Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. B. Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. C. Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. D. A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state.

Answer: D. Explanation: A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE

TRANSPARENT ZERO-DIRECT-PYQ AUDIT

No direct UPSC PYQ is verified as owned solely by this topic in the local 2018-2025 routing blocks. Probable comparison questions remain original practice.

ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS

Question: Why was Piedmont-Sardinia decisive in Italian unification? Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: It supplied the diplomatic, administrative and military state frame that converted Mazzini's legitimacy and Garibaldi's mobilisation into a recognised monarchy.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice.
- Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.
- Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia.
- Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.
- The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy.

Qualified conclusion: It supplied the diplomatic, administrative and military state frame that converted Mazzini's legitimacy and Garibaldi's mobilisation into a recognised monarchy.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "Why was Piedmont-Sardinia decisive in Italian unification? Answer in about 150 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise three named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "Why was Piedmont-Sardinia decisive in Italian unification? Answer in about 150 words.", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: It supplied the diplomatic, administrative and military state frame that converted Mazzini's legitimacy and Garibaldi's mobilisation into a recognised monarchy.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

3. Claim and named evidence: Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
5. Claim and named evidence: The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: It supplied the diplomatic, administrative and military state frame that converted Mazzini's legitimacy and Garibaldi's mobilisation into a recognised monarchy.

ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS

Question: Explain the significance of the Seven Weeks' War for German unification. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: The 1866 victory excluded Austria, created the North German Confederation and settled the small-German, Prussian-led path.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.
- Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands.

Qualified conclusion: The 1866 victory excluded Austria, created the North German Confederation and settled the small-German, Prussian-led path.

Demand decoding: The directive explain requires a direct position on "Explain the significance of the Seven Weeks' War for German unification. Answer in about 150...", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise three named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "Explain the significance of the Seven Weeks' War for German unification. Answer in about 150...", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: The 1866 victory excluded Austria, created the North German Confederation and settled the small-German, Prussian-led path.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Austria's exclusion produced a small-German state dominated by Prussia rather than a union of all German-speaking lands. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: The 1866 victory excluded Austria, created the North German Confederation and settled the small-German, Prussian-led path.

ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS

Question: Compare the roles of Mazzini, Cavour and Garibaldi. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Mazzini supplied republican-national legitimacy, Cavour supplied statecraft and alliance, and Garibaldi supplied popular military conquest; monarchy absorbed all three.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice.
- Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia.
- Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.
- The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy.

Qualified conclusion: Mazzini supplied republican-national legitimacy, Cavour supplied statecraft and alliance, and Garibaldi supplied popular military conquest; monarchy absorbed all three.

Demand decoding: The directive compare requires a direct position on "Compare the roles of Mazzini, Cavour and Garibaldi. Answer in about 250 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise five named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "Compare the roles of Mazzini, Cavour and Garibaldi. Answer in about 250 words.", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Mazzini supplied republican-national legitimacy, Cavour supplied statecraft and alliance, and Garibaldi supplied popular military conquest; monarchy absorbed all three.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: Giuseppe Mazzini founded Young Italy in 1831 and gave republican, unitary nationalism an organised ideological voice. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: The Kingdom of Italy was proclaimed in 1861 under Victor Emmanuel II, absorbing republican and popular gains into a monarchy. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: Mazzini supplied republican-national legitimacy, Cavour supplied statecraft and alliance, and Garibaldi supplied popular military conquest; monarchy absorbed all three.

ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS

Question: German unification was a revolution from above. Discuss. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Popular nationalism created legitimacy, but Prussian institutions, Bismarck's diplomacy and three wars determined timing, boundaries and the authoritarian form of unity.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war.
- Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification.
- Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence.
- Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.
- War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence.
- The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia.
- The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.

Qualified conclusion: Popular nationalism created legitimacy, but Prussian institutions, Bismarck's diplomacy and three wars determined timing, boundaries and the authoritarian form of unity.

Demand decoding: The directive discuss requires a direct position on "German unification was a revolution from above. Discuss. Answer in about 250 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise five named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For “German unification was a revolution from above. Discuss. Answer in about 250 words.”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Popular nationalism created legitimacy, but Prussian institutions, Bismarck's diplomacy and three wars determined timing, boundaries and the authoritarian form of unity.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: The revolutions of 1848 put national unity on the agenda but failed, redirecting both movements from liberal idealism toward statecraft, diplomacy and war. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: Prussia and Austria defeated Denmark in 1864 over Schleswig-Holstein, opening Bismarck's three-war sequence. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
5. Claim and named evidence: War against France in 1870-71 rallied the south German states to Prussia and completed the military-diplomatic unification sequence. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
6. Claim and named evidence: The German Empire was proclaimed at Versailles in January 1871 under William I of Prussia. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
7. Claim and named evidence: The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: Popular nationalism created legitimacy, but Prussian institutions, Bismarck's diplomacy and three wars determined timing, boundaries and the authoritarian form of unity.

ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS

Question: Compare the unification of Italy and Germany. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: Both overturned Vienna through a strong core state and war against Austria, but Italy required a popular campaign and external ally while Germany concentrated power in Prussia.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria.

- Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification.
- Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia.
- Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked.
- Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification.
- Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation.
- Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military.
- A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state.

Qualified conclusion: Both overturned Vienna through a strong core state and war against Austria, but Italy required a popular campaign and external ally while Germany concentrated power in Prussia.

Demand decoding: The directive compare requires a direct position on "Compare the unification of Italy and Germany. Answer in about 300 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise six to eight named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "Compare the unification of Italy and Germany. Answer in about 300 words.", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Both overturned Vienna through a strong core state and war against Austria, but Italy required a popular campaign and external ally while Germany concentrated power in Prussia.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: The Vienna settlement left Italy divided under extensive Austrian control or influence and Germany inside a thirty-nine-state Confederation dominated by Austria. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Piedmont-Sardinia, strengthened at Vienna by Genoa, became the functioning state nucleus of Italian unification. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: Cavour used diplomacy and French military help in 1859 to defeat Austria and secure Lombardy for Piedmont-Sardinia. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: Garibaldi's Red Shirts conquered Sicily and Naples in 1860, supplying the popular-military force that elite diplomacy alone lacked. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

5. Claim and named evidence: Otto von Bismarck became Prussia's minister-president in 1862 and used Realpolitik, practical state interest rather than abstract principle, to direct unification. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
6. Claim and named evidence: Prussia defeated Austria in the Seven Weeks' War of 1866, excluded Austria from German affairs and established the North German Confederation. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
7. Claim and named evidence: Italian unification combined Mazzini's ideas, Garibaldi's mobilisation and Cavour's monarchy-led diplomacy; German unification was much more decisively state-led and military. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
8. Claim and named evidence: A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: Both overturned Vienna through a strong core state and war against Austria, but Italy required a popular campaign and external ally while Germany concentrated power in Prussia.

ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS

Question: How did Italian and German unification transform the European balance of power? Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: The settlements created nation-states but also minority, church and territorial grievances; Germany's strength and Alsace-Lorraine changed the continental balance most dramatically.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme.
- The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy.
- France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914.
- A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state.

Qualified conclusion: The settlements created nation-states but also minority, church and territorial grievances; Germany's strength and Alsace-Lorraine changed the continental balance most dramatically.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "How did Italian and German unification transform the European balance of power? Answer in...", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise six to eight named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For “How did Italian and German unification transform the European balance of power? Answer in...”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: The settlements created nation-states but also minority, church and territorial grievances; Germany's strength and Alsace-Lorraine changed the continental balance most dramatically.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: Political unification did not erase the north-south divide, the church-state conflict or the defeat of Mazzini's republican programme. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: The new Empire combined a parliament and federal institutions with Prussian dominance and monarchical control of the army and foreign policy. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: France's loss of Alsace-Lorraine in 1871 created revanchist grievance that later formed one source of friction before 1914. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: A unified Germany became the leading continental military-economic power, altering Europe's balance far more sharply than the creation of the weaker Italian state. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: The settlements created nation-states but also minority, church and territorial grievances; Germany's strength and Alsace-Lorraine changed the continental balance most dramatically.