

SOLVED PRACTICE WORKBOOK

NGOs, SHGs and Civil-Society Stakeholders - Learner-v2 Refreshed

UPSC complete learning session | Foundation to advanced | Concepts, evidence, practice and answer writing

Original deterministic study visual; labels are explanatory, not textual quotations.

Source order: repository knowledge -> official current linkage -> clearly marked analysis. No fabricated PYQs or statistics.

CONTENTS / WORKBOOK INDEX

Major learning parts and meaningful subtopics are listed in document order. Page numbers are generated from the final PDF layout; PDF bookmarks mirror the same hierarchy.

NGOs, SHGs and Civil-Society Stakeholders - Solved Practice Workbook 6

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION 6

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?	6
Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?	6
Q3. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?	7
Q4. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?	7
Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Bonding, bridging and linking capital?	8
Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Bonding, bridging and linking capital?	8
Q7. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Bonding, bridging and linking capital?	9
Q8. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Bonding, bridging and linking capital?	9
Q9. Which statement correctly identifies The self-help group as the unit?	10
Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under The self-help group as the unit?	10
Q11. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The self-help group as the unit?	10
Q12. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The self-help group as the unit?	11
Q13. Which statement correctly identifies The three-tier livelihoods mission design?	11
Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under The three-tier livelihoods mission design?	12
Q15. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The three-tier livelihoods mission design?	12
Q16. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The three-tier livelihoods mission design?	13
Q17. Which statement correctly identifies Why no mobilisation count is asserted?	13
Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under Why no mobilisation count is asserted?	14
Q19. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Why no mobilisation count is asserted?	14
Q20. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Why no mobilisation count is asserted?	15
Q21. Which statement correctly identifies Two micro-finance delivery channels?	15
Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under Two micro-finance delivery channels?	16
Q23. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Two micro-finance delivery channels?	16
Q24. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Two micro-finance delivery channels?	17
Q25. Which statement correctly identifies What micro-finance can and cannot do?	17
Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under What micro-finance can and cannot do?	18
Q27. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of What micro-finance can and cannot do?	18

Q28. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about What micro-finance can and cannot do?	19
Q29. Which statement correctly identifies Named micro-finance risks?	19
Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under Named micro-finance risks?	20
Q31. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Named micro-finance risks?	20
Q32. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Named micro-finance risks?	21
Q33. Which statement correctly identifies The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?	21
Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?	22
Q35. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?	22
Q36. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?	23
Q37. Which statement correctly identifies The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?	23
Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?	24
Q39. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?	24
Q40. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?	25
Q41. Which statement correctly identifies NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?	25
Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?	26
Q43. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?	26
Q44. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?	27
Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Four regulatory layers kept apart?	27
Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Four regulatory layers kept apart?	28
Q47. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Four regulatory layers kept apart?	28
Q48. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Four regulatory layers kept apart?	29
Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?	29
Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?	30
Q51. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?	30
Q52. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?	31
Q53. Which statement correctly identifies The suspicion chain?	31
Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under The suspicion chain?	32
Q55. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The suspicion chain?	32
Q56. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The suspicion chain?	33
Q57. Which statement correctly identifies Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?	33
Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?	34

Q59. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?	34
Q60. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?	35
Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Elite capture and its design correctives?	35
Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Elite capture and its design correctives?	36
Q63. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Elite capture and its design correctives?	36
Q64. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Elite capture and its design correctives?	37
Q65. Which statement correctly identifies Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?	37
Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?	38
Q67. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?	39
Q68. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?	39
Q69. Which statement correctly identifies The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?	40
Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?	40
Q71. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?	41
Q72. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?	41
Q73. Which statement correctly identifies The non-member poor?	42
Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under The non-member poor?	42
Q75. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The non-member poor?	43
Q76. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The non-member poor?	43
Q77. Which statement correctly identifies Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?	44
Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?	44
Q79. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?	45
Q80. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?	46

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE 46

VERIFIED PYQ OWNERSHIP AUDIT	46
OWNER PYQ LEDGER EXTRACTS	47
PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2025 General Studies Paper-II	48
PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2024 General Studies Paper-I	49
PYQ DEMAND CARD 3 - 2024 General Studies Paper-II	49
PYQ DEMAND CARD 4 - 2020 General Studies Paper-II	50
PYQ DEMAND CARD 5 - 2021 General Studies Paper-II	50
PYQ DEMAND CARD 6 - 2021 General Studies Paper-II	51

ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS	51
ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS	52
ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS	52
ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS	53
ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS	54
ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS	54

NGOs, SHGs and Civil-Society Stakeholders - Solved Practice Workbook

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?

A. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. D. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically.

Answer: A. Explanation: Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?

A. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. B. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. C. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. D. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure.

Answer: B. Explanation: Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q3. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?

A. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. B. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. C. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. D. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically.

Answer: C. Explanation: Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q4. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Civil society is wider than the non-governmental organisation?

A. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. B. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. C. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. D. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately.

Answer: D. Explanation: Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Bonding, bridging and linking capital?

A. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. D. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure.

Answer: A. Explanation: Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Bonding, bridging and linking capital?

A. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. B. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. C. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. D. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure.

Answer: B. Explanation: Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q7. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Bonding, bridging and linking capital?

A. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. B. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. C. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. D. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth.

Answer: C. Explanation: Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q8. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Bonding, bridging and linking capital?

A. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. B. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. C. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. D. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another.

Answer: D. Explanation: Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q9. Which statement correctly identifies The self-help group as the unit?

A. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. B. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. C. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. D. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure.

Answer: A. Explanation: A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under The self-help group as the unit?

A. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. D. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth.

Answer: B. Explanation: A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q11. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The self-help group as the unit?

A. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. B. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. C. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. D. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.

Answer: C. Explanation: A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q12. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The self-help group as the unit?

A. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. B. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. C. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. D. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built.

Answer: D. Explanation: A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q13. Which statement correctly identifies The three-tier livelihoods mission design?

A. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. B. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. C. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. D. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under The three-tier livelihoods mission design?

A. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. B. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. C. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. D. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q15. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The three-tier livelihoods mission design?

A. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. B. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. C. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. D. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q16. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The three-tier livelihoods mission design?

A. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. B. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. C. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. D. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q17. Which statement correctly identifies Why no mobilisation count is asserted?

A. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. B. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. C. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. D. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household.

Answer: A. Explanation: No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under Why no mobilisation count is asserted?

A. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. B. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. C. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. D. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.

Answer: B. Explanation: No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q19. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Why no mobilisation count is asserted?

A. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. B. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. C. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. D. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years.

Answer: C. Explanation: No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q20. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Why no mobilisation count is asserted?

A. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. B. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. C. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. D. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure.

Answer: D. Explanation: No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q21. Which statement correctly identifies Two micro-finance delivery channels?

A. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. B. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. C. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. D. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.

Answer: A. Explanation: India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under Two micro-finance delivery channels?

A. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. B. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. C. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. D. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.

Answer: B. Explanation: India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q23. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Two micro-finance delivery channels?

A. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. B. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. C. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. D. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption.

Answer: C. Explanation: India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q24. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Two micro-finance delivery channels?

A. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. B. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. C. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. D. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household.

Answer: D. Explanation: India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q25. Which statement correctly identifies What micro-finance can and cannot do?

A. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. B. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. C. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. D. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.

Answer: A. Explanation: Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under What micro-finance can and cannot do?

A. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. B. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. C. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. D. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years.

Answer: B. Explanation: Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q27. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of What micro-finance can and cannot do?

A. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. B. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. C. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. D. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years.

Answer: C. Explanation: Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q28. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about What micro-finance can and cannot do?

A. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. B. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. C. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. D. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth.

Answer: D. Explanation: Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q29. Which statement correctly identifies Named micro-finance risks?

A. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. B. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. C. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. D. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage.

Answer: A. Explanation: The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under Named micro-finance risks?

A. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. B. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. C. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. D. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed.

Answer: B. Explanation: The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q31. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Named micro-finance risks?

A. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. B. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. C. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. D. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.

Answer: C. Explanation: The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q32. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Named micro-finance risks?

A. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. B. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. C. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. D. The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.

Answer: D. Explanation: The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q33. Which statement correctly identifies The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?

A. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. B. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. C. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. D. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption.

Answer: A. Explanation: The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?

A. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. B. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. C. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. D. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.

Answer: B. Explanation: The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q35. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?

A. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. B. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. C. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. D. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation.

Answer: C. Explanation: The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q36. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The nutrition pathway as a convergence claim?

A. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. B. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. C. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. D. The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage.

Answer: D. Explanation: The credible link from women's micro-financing to nutrition is indirect rather than direct, running through women's control over income and through group platforms used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so the answer must state explicitly that this is a convergence claim and must not present a measured income-to-nutrition effect or cite a malnutrition percentage. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q37. Which statement correctly identifies The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?

A. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. B. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. C. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. D. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?

A. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. B. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. C. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. D. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q39. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?

A. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. B. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. C. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. D. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q40. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The foreign-contribution gate and its 2020 tightening?

A. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. B. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. C. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. D. The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q41. Which statement correctly identifies NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?

A. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. B. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. C. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. D. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.

Answer: A. Explanation: NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?

A. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. B. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. C. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. D. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.

Answer: B. Explanation: NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q43. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?

A. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. B. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. C. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. D. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation.

Answer: C. Explanation: NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q44. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about NGO Darpan is identification, not permission?

A. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. B. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. C. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. D. NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption.

Answer: D. Explanation: NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Four regulatory layers kept apart?

A. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. B. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. C. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. D. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation.

Answer: A. Explanation: Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Four regulatory layers kept apart?

A. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. B. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. C. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. D. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation.

Answer: B. Explanation: Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q47. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Four regulatory layers kept apart?

A. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. B. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. C. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. D. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent.

Answer: C. Explanation: Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q48. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Four regulatory layers kept apart?

A. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. B. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. C. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. D. Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed.

Answer: D. Explanation: Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?

A. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. B. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. C. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. D. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed.

Answer: A. Explanation: A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?

A. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. B. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. C. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. D. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent.

Answer: B. Explanation: A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q51. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?

A. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. B. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. C. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. D. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent.

Answer: C. Explanation: A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q52. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Non-state as a structural category against anti-State as a political label?

A. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. B. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. C. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. D. A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.

Answer: D. Explanation: A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q53. Which statement correctly identifies The suspicion chain?

A. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. B. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. C. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. D. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed.

Answer: A. Explanation: The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under The suspicion chain?

A. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. B. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. C. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. D. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation.

Answer: B. Explanation: The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q55. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The suspicion chain?

A. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. B. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. C. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. D. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it.

Answer: C. Explanation: The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q56. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The suspicion chain?

A. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. B. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. C. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. D. The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation.

Answer: D. Explanation: The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q57. Which statement correctly identifies Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?

A. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. B. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. C. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. D. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation.

Answer: A. Explanation: A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?

A. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. B. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. C. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. D. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent.

Answer: B. Explanation: A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q59. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?

A. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. B. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. C. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. D. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner.

Answer: C. Explanation: A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q60. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Pressure groups and the R-I-S-K test?

A. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. B. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. C. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. D. A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed.

Answer: D. Explanation: A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Elite capture and its design correctives?

A. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. B. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. C. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. D. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent.

Answer: A. Explanation: Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Elite capture and its design correctives?

A. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. B. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. C. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. D. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches.

Answer: B. Explanation: Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q63. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Elite capture and its design correctives?

A. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. B. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. C. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. D. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches.

Answer: C. Explanation: Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q64. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Elite capture and its design correctives?

A. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. B. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. C. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. D. Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation.

Answer: D. Explanation: Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q65. Which statement correctly identifies Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?

A. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. B. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. C. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. D. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches.

Answer: A. Explanation: Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?

A. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. B. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. C. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. D. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately.

Answer: B. Explanation: Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q67. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?

A. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. B. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. C. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. D. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner.

Answer: C. Explanation: Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q68. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Innovator, facilitator and monitor rather than duty-holder?

A. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. D. Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent.

Answer: D. Explanation: Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q69. Which statement correctly identifies The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?

A. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. B. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. C. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. D. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches.

Answer: A. Explanation: Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?

A. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. B. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. C. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. D. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner.

Answer: B. Explanation: Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q71. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?

A. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. D. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately.

Answer: C. Explanation: Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q72. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The civil-society pathway to representation and its gate?

A. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. B. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. C. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. D. Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it.

Answer: D. Explanation: Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q73. Which statement correctly identifies The non-member poor?

A. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. B. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. C. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. D. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately.

Answer: A. Explanation: The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under The non-member poor?

A. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. B. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. C. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. D. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built.

Answer: B. Explanation: The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q75. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of The non-member poor?

A. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. D. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically.

Answer: C. Explanation: The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q76. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about The non-member poor?

A. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. B. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. C. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. D. The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches.

Answer: D. Explanation: The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q77. Which statement correctly identifies Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?

A. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately. D. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another.

Answer: A. Explanation: The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?

A. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. B. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. C. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. D. Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another.

Answer: B. Explanation: The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q79. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?

A. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. B. A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built. C. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. D. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure.

Answer: C. Explanation: The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q80. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Verified question ownership and two recorded routing conflicts?

A. India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household. B. No cumulative self-help group or household count is asserted for the mission because the management information system figure rises continuously as the programme expands, and the durable exam-ready facts are instead the near-universal state and union-territory coverage, the ministry that runs it and the three-tier structure. C. The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically. D. The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner.

Answer: D. Explanation: The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE

VERIFIED PYQ OWNERSHIP AUDIT

Six direct General Studies Mains demands are routed to this topic across the audited ledgers, and every routed stem used below was confirmed word for word in the locally held OCR-searchable official question papers. The audited 2024-2025 ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner: the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors. The audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner - the 2020 demand on micro-finance and self-help groups, the 2021 demand on micro-financing of women's self-help groups against gender inequality, poverty and malnutrition, the 2021 demand on civil society and non-governmental organisations as an alternative public-service-delivery model, and the 2023 demand on civil-society groups and women's representation in state legislatures, the last of which the ledger marks as running primarily to the Social Justice owner with the civil-society link retained - and the Basic owner records that core routing supersedes the older Advanced pointer. Two ownership conflicts are recorded openly rather than resolved by assertion: the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on women's social capital, empowerment and gender equity is discussed in this owner's text but is routed by the audited 2024-2025 ledger to the Social Justice women and gender-justice owner, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on environmental pressure groups is also discussed here but is routed by that ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner. Both are therefore treated here only as civil-society support material, and no verbatim ownership is claimed for either. No official answer key or marking scheme is held locally for any routed demand, so every model solution below is an authored answer route rather than an official key.

OWNER PYQ LEDGER EXTRACTS

9. PYQ application

- FACT: 2025 Q6: build the answer around bonding capital (internal SHG trust/savings), bridging capital (federation-level scale) and linking capital (bank/market/government access), each explicitly tied to empowerment and gender equity outcomes.
- FACT: 2025 Q8: take a reasoned position - argue that CSOs are structurally non-state, not anti-State, actors, while acknowledging that specific advocacy positions or funding opacity can generate state suspicion; avoid a purely one-sided "CSOs are always benign/always adversarial" answer.
- FACT: 2025 Q15: use R-I-S-K - representation, information/expertise, scrutiny, and capture risk - to assess an environmental pressure group rather than merely listing organisations.

Recent PYQ Integration (2024-2025)

Status: 2024-2025 question-level PYQ demand is integrated into this owner. Provenance: Audited local official-paper routing ledgers: _PYQ-ROUTING-MAINS-GS1-GS2-ESSAY-2024-2025.md.

- Years represented: 2024, 2025
- Paper(s): GS-I, GS-II
- Routed question demands: 3

Year	Paper	Q	PYQ demand (neutral rendering)	Directive / format	Source status	Owner requirement
2024	GS-I	10	Government-NGO-private collaboration in socio-economic development	Discuss · 10 marks · 150 words	Routed to owning topic	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.
2024	GS-II	6	Public charitable trusts and inclusive development	Comment · 10 marks · 150 words	Routed to owning topic	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.
2025	GS-II	8	Civil Society Organizations as anti-State versus non-State actors	Justify · 10 marks · 150 words	Routed to owning topic	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.

What this owner must now support

- Government-NGO-private collaboration in socio-economic development
- Public charitable trusts and inclusive development
- Civil Society Organizations as anti-State versus non-State actors

This block integrates the 2024-2025 examinable demand and paper metadata. It is kept separate from the 2018-2023 block and does not convert an unkeyed/answer-free objective question into a solved answer.

10. PYQ-based analytical application

- FACT: 2025 Q6 rewards explicitly sequencing bonding -> bridging -> linking capital and tying each stage to a concrete empowerment/gender-equity outcome, not a generic "SHGs help women" statement.

- FACT: 2025 Q8 rewards taking a reasoned, evidence-qualified position (structurally non-state, contested "anti-State" perception) rather than an unqualified "yes" or "no" - use the suspicion-chain (Section 3) to justify the position with the FCRA/advocacy dynamic.
- FACT: 2025 Q15 rewards separating legitimate environmental representation/expertise from opaque lobbying or elite capture; apply the five safeguards in the influence chain.

Historical PYQ Integration (2018-2023)

Status: Question-level PYQ demand is integrated into this owner. Provenance: Audited local official-paper routing ledgers: _PYQ-ROUTING-MAINS-GS1-GS2-ESSAY-2018-2023.md.

- Years represented: 2020, 2021, 2023
- Paper(s): GS-II
- Routed question demands: 4

Year	Paper	Q	PYQ demand (neutral rendering)	Directive / format	Source status	Owner requirement
2020	GS-II	17	Micro-finance as an anti-poverty instrument and the role of SHGs	Evaluate · 15 marks · 250 words	Routed to owning topic	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.
2021	GS-II	8	Microfinancing of women SHGs against gender inequality poverty and malnutrition	Explain with examples · 10 marks · 150 words	Routed to owning topic	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.
2021	GS-II	18	Civil society and NGOs as an alternative public service delivery model	Discuss the challenges · 15 marks · 250 words	Routed to owning topic	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.
2023	GS-II	14	Civil society groups and women's representation in state legislatures	Discuss the contribution · 15 marks · 250 words	Social Justice Core route; civil-society link retained	Prepare context, core dimensions, evidence/examples, counterpoint and a concise conclusion.

What this owner must now support

- Micro-finance as an anti-poverty instrument and the role of SHGs
- Microfinancing of women SHGs against gender inequality poverty and malnutrition
- Civil society and NGOs as an alternative public service delivery model
- Civil society groups and women's representation in state legislatures

The table integrates the examinable demand and paper metadata. It does not turn an unkeyed objective question into a solved answer, and it does not claim that lexical presence alone proves full conceptual sufficiency.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 1 - 2025 General Studies Paper-II

Demand: Civil Society Organizations are often perceived as being anti-State actors than non-State actors. Do you agree? Justify. Answer in 150 words for 10 marks.

Status: Routed to this Basic owner by the audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger and confirmed word for word in the locally held official 2025 General Studies Paper-II. No official answer key is held locally, so the model solution is an authored route.

Model solution: Commit in the first sentence, because justify penalises fence-sitting: civil-society organisations are non-State actors by structure and adversarial only by circumstance, so the perception described in the stem is a political judgment about particular advocacy or funding rather than a legal reclassification. Establish the category before the perception. Non-state is a structural and legal fact, namely that the body is not part of government; anti-State is a perceptual label applied to a specific position, and collapsing the two converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion. Then supply the mechanism that explains the perception rather than dismissing it. The watchdog and advocacy function is independent of government by construction; where advocacy opposes a specific policy or project, independence is read as adversarial rather than as feedback; and foreign funding compounds the perception because the screening rationale under the foreign-contribution law reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests. Give one supporting and one limiting case as the directive requires. Supporting the non-State reading, the same organisations co-implement public programmes, facilitate social audit and supply the mobilisation on which community institutions depend. Limiting it, opacity about funding, weak internal democracy and an unelected claim to speak for a community are legitimate grounds for the state to ask a legitimacy question. Name the proportionate response: disclosure, internal democracy and engagement rather than reclassification, with any screening kept time-bound, reasoned and reviewable. Conclude that the label should be justified or contested case by case and never applied as a blanket characterisation, and adjudicate no specific enforcement action.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 2 - 2024 General Studies Paper-I

Demand: In dealing with socio-economic issues of development, what kind of collaboration between government, NGOs and private sector would be most productive? Answer in 150 words for 10 marks.

Status: Routed to this Basic owner by the audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger and confirmed word for word in the locally held official 2024 General Studies Paper-I. No official answer key is held locally, so the model solution is an authored route.

Model solution: The stem asks what kind of collaboration, so the answer must specify a division of labour rather than praise partnership in general. Open with the organising principle: the most productive collaboration assigns each actor the role its accountability structure can actually sustain. Assign the roles explicitly. The government holds the universal mandate, the taxing and coercive power and electoral accountability, so it must remain the duty-holder for the entitlement, the standard-setter and the funder of last resort; a right needs an addressee who can be compelled, and neither of the other two actors can be. The non-governmental sector holds local trust, flexibility and the ability to pilot what a department cannot risk, so it is best commissioned as innovator, facilitator and monitor - community mobilisation, social-audit facilitation, legal aid and grievance help. The private sector holds capital, technology and operating capability, so it is best used where a whole-life service standard can be specified and paid for on performance, with corporate social responsibility funding under Section 135 bounded by the Schedule VII activity list. Name the design conditions that make the collaboration productive rather than merely coordinated: convergence with the district plan instead of parallel silos, disclosed funding and contract terms, a beneficiary grievance route, exit and hand-over planning at the design stage, and outcome indicators agreed before the work begins. State the risks honestly - upward accountability to funders rather than downward to citizens, visible-need bias that crowds funders into legible sectors, and substitution that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery. Conclude that the productive form is complementarity with the state as duty-holder, civil society as facilitator and monitor, and the private sector as a performance-bound provider, and invent no project, spend figure or partnership statistic.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 3 - 2024 General Studies Paper-II

Demand: Public charitable trusts have the potential to make India's development more inclusive as they relate to certain vital public issues. Comment. Answer in 150 words for 10 marks.

Status: Routed to this Basic owner by the audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger and confirmed word for word in the locally held official 2024 General Studies Paper-II. The development-industry owner also discusses this demand in its own text, and that overlap is recorded as a routing conflict rather than resolved by assertion. No official answer key is held locally.

Model solution: Read the stem's own conditionality first, because have the potential to is not an assertion that the outcome occurs. Answer conditionally: charitable trusts hold real potential precisely where the state is procedurally slow, but potential becomes inclusion only under stated conditions. Establish the legal position accurately, since a wrong statute here is a visible error: a public charitable trust is governed by its deed and the applicable state public-trust or endowment law, and Section 1 of the Indian Trusts Act, 1882 expressly excludes public or private religious or charitable endowments, so that Act is not the national incorporation statute for such trusts. Then give the supporting case with named vital issues: flexibility and speed in disaster relief, targeted health and education work, and the ability to fund needs that routine budgeting and procurement cycles reach slowly. Apply the five conditions that convert potential into inclusion - additionality rather than substitution for a public obligation still owed, need-based targeting from disaggregated exclusion data rather than founder priority, disclosed governance with a beneficiary route to complain, sustainability beyond the grant cycle, and convergence with the district plan rather than a parallel silo. State the structural limitation squarely: a trust reports upward to trustees, donors and regulators and never downward to a beneficiary who has no electoral sanction, and trusts face the lightest external disclosure of the three common legal vehicles. Conclude that the charitable legal form supplies flexibility but supplies none of the accountability conditions by itself, so the potential in the stem is genuine and conditional rather than automatic, and assert no trust's programme results or spend figure.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 4 - 2020 General Studies Paper-II

Demand: Micro-Finance as an anti-poverty vaccine, is aimed at asset creation and income security of the rural poor in India. Evaluate the role of the Self Help Groups in achieving the twin objectives along with empowering women in rural India. Answer in 250 words for 15 marks.

Status: Routed by the audited 2018-2023 Mains ledger to the Advanced owner and confirmed word for word in the locally held official 2020 General Studies Paper-II. The Basic owner answers it under core routing. No official answer key is held locally.

Model solution: Evaluate requires a graded judgment against criteria named first, so define the instrument precisely before judging it. Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services - credit, savings, insurance and remittance - to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is one component of it rather than the whole; that distinction alone separates a good answer. Keep the two Indian delivery channels apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route inside the national rural livelihoods architecture, which builds a group balance sheet, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the central bank, which builds a loan book. Explain the mechanism by which the group route can serve the twin objectives: group liability and repayment record substitute for collateral, the moneylender's rate is displaced, irregular income is converted into savings and repayment discipline, working capital funds micro-enterprise, and federation into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations supplies the linking capital that opens bank, market and scheme access. Then deliver the evaluative core rather than a benefits list. Micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation, returns in saturated local markets are thin, and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth. Name the risks as categories: over-indebtedness and multiple lending, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rate and the cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture inside groups. On empowerment, credit access is not the same as control over income, so the defensible claim runs through group savings held in a woman's own account, office-bearing that produces negotiation experience, and public voice, while noting that the most excluded households are frequently members of no group at all. Conclude that micro-finance works as one instrument inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services, and fails when treated as a substitute for that system. Assert no loan volume, interest-rate cap, non-performing asset figure or borrower count.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 5 - 2021 General Studies Paper-II

Demand: Can the vicious cycle of gender inequality, poverty and malnutrition be broken through microfinancing of women SHGs? Explain with examples. Answer in 150 words for 10 marks.

Status: Routed by the audited 2018-2023 Mains ledger to the Advanced owner and confirmed word for word in the locally held official 2021 General Studies Paper-II. The Basic owner answers it under core routing. No official answer key is held locally.

Model solution: Answer the question actually asked - whether the cycle can be broken - rather than describing what self-help groups do. Take a qualified position: micro-financing of women's groups can weaken each link of the cycle and can break none of them on its own. Then explain through three distinct outcome channels rather than repeating the word empowerment. First, income and asset control: money routed through a woman's own group account changes who decides household expenditure, which is the operative mechanism on gender inequality rather than the mere fact of a loan. Second, voice: federation office-bearing produces public speaking, negotiation with bank branches and officials, and Gram Sabha participation, converting bonding capital into linking capital. Third, the nutrition pathway, and here precision earns the marks - the credible link is indirect, running through women's control over income and through the group platform used for health and nutrition messaging and for convergence with public nutrition services, so this must be stated explicitly as a convergence claim rather than as a measured income-to-nutrition effect. Give the examples the directive requires in institutional form: a federation negotiating a cluster-level credit line with a bank branch, and a group platform used as the delivery point for nutrition and health messaging alongside public services. State the limits with equal force: credit access is not freedom from over-indebtedness, elite capture concentrates office among already-advantaged members, and the poorest households are frequently not members of any group. Conclude that micro-financing is a necessary lever on the cycle and never a sufficient one, and cite no malnutrition percentage or measured nutrition outcome.

PYQ DEMAND CARD 6 - 2021 General Studies Paper-II

Demand: Can Civil Society and Non-Governmental Organizations present an alternative model of public service delivery to benefit the common citizen? Discuss the challenges of this alternative model. Answer in 250 words for 15 marks.

Status: Routed by the audited 2018-2023 Mains ledger to the Advanced owner and confirmed word for word in the locally held official 2021 General Studies Paper-II. The Basic owner answers it under core routing. No official answer key is held locally.

Model solution: Frame the answer as a model comparison rather than a complaint list, because that framing is what the discuss directive rewards here. State the comparison first: state delivery carries a universal mandate, taxing and coercive power and electoral accountability, while non-governmental delivery carries flexibility, local trust and innovation with accountability running to a funder. Concede the genuine case before the challenges, so that the critique is credible: these organisations reach populations the state reaches poorly, pilot innovations a department cannot risk, and supply the facilitation that social audit, legal aid and community institutions require. Then set out the six challenges with the mechanism of each. Scale, because coverage is geographic and partial, so equity across a state cannot be assured by an organisation that operates in some districts and not others. Sustainability, because project-cycle funding is mismatched to a permanent entitlement and a successful pilot can collapse when the grant ends. Accountability direction, because reporting runs upward to the funder rather than downward to the citizen and there is no electoral sanction. Capacity and standards, because quality varies between organisations in a way a uniform entitlement cannot tolerate. Substitution risk, because effective non-state delivery can relieve the political pressure that would otherwise force public delivery to improve. Regulatory dependence, because incorporation, foreign-funding registration under the 2010 Act as amended in 2020, tax status and grant identity are four separate permissions that make scale legally contingent. Resolve the question rather than leaving it open: civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, since a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no organisation can be. Close with the safeguard set that makes commissioning defensible - convergence with the local plan, disclosure of funding and cost, a beneficiary grievance route, and exit planning at the design stage - and name no organisation's funding, results or regulatory action.

ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS

Question: Explain how bonding, bridging and linking social capital advance women's empowerment through self-help groups in India. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: The chain works only in sequence, because trust within the group creates the savings discipline, federation supplies negotiating scale and vertical linkage converts that scale into credit, market and scheme access, and it stalls wherever any single stage is missing or captured.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- Social capital is the networks, norms of reciprocity and trust that enable collective action, and Putnam's typology separates bonding capital as dense trust within a homogeneous group, bridging capital as connection across otherwise separate groups, and linking capital as the vertical connection between citizens and formal institutions such as banks and government departments, with each performing a different governance function and none substituting for another.

- A self-help group is a small voluntary group, predominantly of women in the Indian rural-livelihoods context, that pools savings, accesses credit and undertakes livelihood activity collectively, and it is the core institutional unit on which the national rural livelihoods architecture is built.
- The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically.

Qualified conclusion: The chain works only in sequence, because trust within the group creates the savings discipline, federation supplies negotiating scale and vertical linkage converts that scale into credit, market and scheme access, and it stalls wherever any single stage is missing or captured.

ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS

Question: Explain why a civil-society organisation is a non-State actor even when its advocacy is perceived as adversarial. Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: Non-state is a structural and legal category while anti-State is a political label, so the appropriate governance response to disagreement is disclosure and engagement rather than reclassification of a constitutional freedom as a suspicion.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.
- The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation.
- Civil society includes trade unions, cooperatives, faith-based bodies, professional associations, resident welfare associations, student bodies and informal collectives as well as non-governmental organisations, so answering a civil-society stem with non-governmental-organisation material alone is a scope error an examiner can see immediately.

Qualified conclusion: Non-state is a structural and legal category while anti-State is a political label, so the appropriate governance response to disagreement is disclosure and engagement rather than reclassification of a constitutional freedom as a suspicion.

ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS

Question: Examine micro-finance as an anti-poverty instrument and the role of self-help groups in achieving asset creation and income security. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, so it works inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage and social protection and fails when treated as a substitute for it.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- India delivers micro-finance through two channels that must be kept apart: the savings-first self-help group and bank linkage route that builds a group balance sheet within the livelihoods architecture, and the specialised micro-finance institution and non-banking financial company route regulated by the Reserve Bank of India that builds a loan book, and the two carry different incentives even where they serve the same household.
- Micro-finance is the provision of small-value financial services including credit, savings, insurance and remittance to households excluded from conventional banking on collateral, documentation or transaction-cost grounds, and micro-credit is only one component of it, so the honest evaluative core is that micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, because loan sizes suit micro-enterprise rather than asset accumulation and repayment discipline can be sustained by borrowing again rather than by income growth.

- The named risks are over-indebtedness and multiple lending where several lenders serve one household, coercive recovery as a documented sector risk that prompted regulatory correction, the genuine tension between interest rates and the real cost of serving small remote loans, and elite capture within groups, so micro-finance works only inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage, social protection and public services and fails when treated as a substitute for that system.
- The Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana - National Rural Livelihoods Mission of the Ministry of Rural Development mobilises rural women into self-help groups and federates them deliberately into Village Organisations and Cluster-Level Federations, providing revolving funds and community investment support and linking federations to bank credit, so that bonding capital is converted into bridging and linking capital systematically rather than being left to emerge organically.

Qualified conclusion: Micro-finance is strongest as a consumption-smoothing and vulnerability-reduction instrument and weakest as a structural poverty-exit instrument, so it works inside a livelihoods system of credit plus skill, market linkage and social protection and fails when treated as a substitute for it.

ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS

Question: Examine the challenges of treating civil society and non-governmental organisations as an alternative model of public service delivery. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Civil society should be commissioned for innovation, facilitation and monitoring and never made the duty-holder for an entitlement, because scale, sustainability, accountability direction, capacity variation, substitution risk and regulatory dependence all bear on the same structural point that the state cannot contract out an addressee.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- Civil society is a superior innovator, facilitator and monitor and an inferior duty-holder, because a right needs an addressee who can be compelled and no non-governmental organisation can be compelled in that way, and the six named challenges of the alternative delivery model are partial geographic scale, project-cycle sustainability against a permanent entitlement, upward rather than downward accountability with no electoral sanction, variation in capacity and standards between organisations, substitution risk that relieves political pressure to fix public delivery, and regulatory dependence that makes scale legally contingent.
- NGO Darpan is a NITI Aayog identification and database portal that assigns a unique identification number required for Union-government grants and used in linked compliance interfaces, it is largely self-reported and light-touch, and it is not incorporation, not foreign-funding permission and not tax exemption.
- The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years.
- The most excluded households are frequently not members of any self-help group, which is the sharpest limitation on every self-help-group-based inclusion claim, and stating it converts a celebratory answer about mobilisation into an evaluative one about who the mobilisation actually reaches.

Qualified conclusion: Civil society should be commissioned for innovation, facilitation and monitoring and never made the duty-holder for an entitlement, because scale, sustainability, accountability direction, capacity variation, substitution risk and regulatory dependence all bear on the same structural point that the state cannot contract out an addressee.

ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS

Question: Assess whether the regulation of foreign funding for civil society in India is proportionate to its stated rationale. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: The security rationale and the civic-space critique are both real, so a defensible verdict rests on whether the screening is time-bound, reasoned and reviewable rather than on whether external funding of advocacy is permitted at all, and no specific enforcement case may be adjudicated in an answer.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 as amended in 2020 and administered by the Ministry of Home Affairs requires registration or case-specific prior permission before foreign contribution is received, mandates a designated account at the State Bank of India main branch in New Delhi, restricts sub-granting of foreign funds between registered entities and reduced the permissible administrative-expense proportion from fifty per cent to twenty per cent of foreign contribution utilised, with registration renewable every five years.
- Incorporation before a state registrar or the Registrar of Companies, foreign funding under the Ministry of Home Affairs, tax status under Sections 12A and 80G with the Income Tax Department, and grant identity through NGO Darpan are four distinct layers administered by four different authorities, and this discrimination prevents the commonest confusion in which a single undifferentiated non-governmental-organisation registration is assumed.
- The suspicion chain runs from a structurally independent watchdog and advocacy function, through advocacy that opposes a specific policy or project, to perception of that advocacy as adversarial rather than as feedback, compounded by foreign funding where the security screening rationale reflects a concern that externally funded advocacy could serve external interests, while the contested counter-position is that broad screening can chill legitimate dissent, and the correct resolution is to justify or contest the label case by case rather than accept it as a blanket characterisation.
- A civil-society organisation is a non-state actor as a matter of structure and law because it is not part of government, whereas anti-State is a perceptual and political label applied when advocacy, funding source or activity is seen as opposing state policy, so collapsing the structural category into the political judgment converts a constitutional freedom into a suspicion and is precisely the trap the 2025 demand tests.

Qualified conclusion: The security rationale and the civic-space critique are both real, so a defensible verdict rests on whether the screening is time-bound, reasoned and reviewable rather than on whether external funding of advocacy is permitted at all, and no specific enforcement case may be adjudicated in an answer.

ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS

Question: Assess the claim that organised civil society broadens democratic representation in India. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: Civil society genuinely widens the pool of information, leadership and scrutiny, but the party ticket gate, the capture risk inside participatory bodies and the exclusion of the poorest non-members set a hard ceiling on how far mobilisation converts into representation.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- Civil-society groups affect women's representation through awareness and rights literacy, candidate identification and training, the federation as a school of public life that produces local leadership, advocacy and litigation on reservation and party selection, and election monitoring and voter mobilisation, but local-body leadership does not automatically convert into legislative candidature, party ticket distribution is the actual gate and is not civil-society controlled, and elite capture reproduces existing hierarchy inside the very groups meant to broaden it.
- A pressure group is an organised interest that seeks to influence public policy without itself seeking to form the government, its governance contribution is representation, information and expertise, agenda-setting, scrutiny and litigation, and it is evaluated through representation, information, scrutiny and capture risk, because unequal money and access convert pluralism into policy capture unless funding, consultation records and conflicts of interest are disclosed.
- Social capital is not automatically democratic, because the same density of local networks that enables collective action can entrench dominant caste and economic groups, and elite capture within federated structures is corrected by deliberate design - rotational leadership, reservation within federation structures, disclosure and external facilitation - rather than by exhortation.

- The audited 2024-2025 Mains ledger routes three demands to this Basic owner - the 2024 General Studies Paper-I demand on collaboration between government, non-governmental organisations and the private sector, the 2024 General Studies Paper-II demand on public charitable trusts and inclusive development, and the 2025 General Studies Paper-II demand on civil-society organisations as anti-State against non-State actors - while the audited 2018-2023 ledger routes four demands to the Advanced owner, of which the 2020 micro-finance and 2021 women's micro-financing and alternative-delivery demands are answered here and the 2023 women's representation demand runs primarily to Social Justice with the civil-society link retained; and two conflicts are recorded openly, because the 2025 demand on women's social capital is claimed in this owner's text but routed by the audited ledger to Social Justice, and the 2025 demand on environmental pressure groups is claimed here but routed by the audited ledger to the Polity pressure-groups owner.

Qualified conclusion: Civil society genuinely widens the pool of information, leadership and scrutiny, but the party ticket gate, the capture risk inside participatory bodies and the exclusion of the poorest non-members set a hard ceiling on how far mobilisation converts into representation.