

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 1/12: Differentiated rule under pressure

PERSONAL ORTHODOXY -> preference and public legitimacy matter

SOVEREIGNTY -> emperor still selects officials, policy, war and regulation

LOCAL ADMINISTRATION -> orders acquire uneven reach through officials and powerholders

POLITICAL FIELD -> Rajputs, Sikhs, zamindars and sect communities act independently

VERDICT -> religion is consequential but cannot explain every conflict alone.

MUST REMEMBER: Aurangzeb's jizya restoration (1679), temple actions and Rajput conflicts require chronological and political context.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 2/12: Aurangzeb chronology, 1658-1707

1658 -> accession | 1665 -> Shivaji treaty boundary
1667 -> Jai Singh dies | c.1669 -> Jat rising and temple-order context
1672 -> Satnami revolt | 1675 -> Guru Tegh Bahadur executed
1678 -> Jaswant Singh dies | 1679 -> jizyah and Rajput war
1681 -> Prince Akbar rebels | 1698 -> Ajit receives recognition
1699 -> Khalsa established | 1707 -> unresolved reign ends.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 3/12: Sharia, zawabit and imperial choice

SHARIA -> legal-moral idiom and learned authority

ZAWABIT -> ruler-made administrative regulations for order and necessity

SOVEREIGNTY -> emperor chooses, patronises, appoints and enforces

FATAWA-I-ALAMGIRI -> Hanafi compendium, not a modern constitution

ULAMA / QAZIS / SADRIS -> influential specialists, not a replacement cabinet

RULE -> law informs policy; administration determines reach.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 4/12: Jizyah, 1679: fiscal form and political signal

FISCAL FORM -> poll tax; neither land revenue nor customs duty

RELIGIOUS STATUS -> classical idiom of differentiated subjecthood

POLITICAL SIGNAL -> visible reversal of an Akbar-era position

IMPLEMENTATION -> collectors, exemptions, corruption and uneven local contact

EFFECT -> alienation and mistrust; no proof of a single revolt or total decline

SAFE VERDICT -> fiscal in form, religious in idiom, political in consequence.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 5/12: Temple policy: test one action at a time

- 1 SECURE -> dated and corroborated site-specific action
- 2 PROBABLE -> source-supported local action with limited corroboration
- 3 CONTESTED -> later tradition or disputed attribution
- 4 UNSUPPORTED -> list without date, action or provenance
- CLASSIFY -> demolition, conversion, confiscation, closure, restriction or grant
- RULE -> protection evidence and destruction evidence must both retain scope.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 6/12: Composite nobility: inclusion is not equality

INCLUSION -> Hindu, Rajput and later Maratha elites can hold rank and command

EQUALITY -> asks whether fiscal, legal and symbolic distinctions still operate

EARLY RAJPUT SERVICE -> Jai Singh and Jaswant Singh show inherited partnership

LATER RUPTURE -> particular houses resist while others remain in imperial service

VERDICT -> composite recruitment coexists with discriminatory public policy.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 7/12: Guru Tegh Bahadur: source and consequence

MUGHAL FRAME -> law, order and imperial authority

SIKH TRADITION -> martyrdom and defence of religious freedom

HISTORIAN'S TASK -> compare genre, silence, memory and later amplification

1675 CONSEQUENCE -> martyr memory sharpens community-state relations

1699 KHALSA -> leadership, organisation and politics mediate the later outcome

TRAP -> one execution did not mechanically create every later development.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 8/12: Jats and Satnamis: compare mechanisms

JATS c.1669 -> Mathura corridor; zamindari, agrarian and local coercive setting

RECURRENCE -> Rajaram and later Churaman mark a longer regional process

SATNAMIS 1672 -> Narnaul clash escalates through community mobilisation

IMPERIAL RESPONSE -> rapid suppression shows coercive capacity still exists

RULE -> neither episode is purely class, purely religious or national revolt

VERDICT -> local state-society contact can turn grievance into armed challenge.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 9/12: Marwar: succession becomes legitimacy crisis

1678 -> Jaswant Singh dies without a surviving male heir at that moment

POSTHUMOUS CLAIM -> Ajit Singh becomes the Rathor legitimacy focus

KHALISA -> crown administration during dispute, not automatic permanent annexation

OCCUPATION -> searches, force and temple actions destroy confidence

DURGADAS / RATHORS -> claimant protection turns dispute into organised resistance

VERDICT -> precedent without credible honour becomes statecraft failure.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 10/12: Mewar and Prince Akbar, 1681

MEWAR MOTIVES -> kinship, security, autonomy and fear of Marwar occupation

TERRAIN -> Aravalli passes raise pursuit, supply and occupation costs

PRINCE AKBAR -> dynastic alternative attracts a contingent Rajput coalition

FAILURE -> fragile trust and imperial counter-moves defeat the immediate challenge

AFTERMATH -> military failure does not restore alliance credibility

CAUTION -> famous forged-letter story requires provenance labelling.

CLOSE DISTINCTION: Temple destruction was selective and variable, not a timeless universal programme; grants and protection also need evidence.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 11/12: Religious policy and Mughal weakening

CONTRIBUTION -> legitimacy loss, alliance mistrust and higher enforcement cost

NAMED EVIDENCE -> jizyah, temple cases, 1675 execution and Rajput breach

COUNTER-EVIDENCE -> composite recruitment and functioning coercive institutions

OTHER PRESSURES -> Deccan war, jagir-rank competition and regional assertion

METHOD -> weigh mechanism, timing, reach and source type

VERDICT -> consequential and contributory, never a complete monocausal theory.

EVIDENCE LIMIT: Marwar and Mewar followed different trajectories, so 'the Rajputs' cannot be treated as one undifferentiated bloc.

ASCII MASTER FLOW – PANEL 12/12: Topic 22 final answer spine

OPEN -> orthodoxy and statecraft operate together under pressure

TRACE -> policy phases -> jizyah / temple cases -> local and Rajput conflicts

PROVE -> dated case, action type, source reach and political mechanism

COMPARE -> inclusion versus equality; succession versus annexation

QUALIFY -> no communal monocause, blanket denial or universal-destruction list

VERDICT -> policy choices worsened a multi-causal imperial problem.
