EXTRA

SUBORDINATE ENRICHMENT — ONLY AFTER THE COMPLETE CORE

OPTIONAL ADVANCED ENRICHMENT

LOWE'S POST-1991 RUSSIA SECTIONS ARE ESPECIALLY USEFUL FOR MAINS

OF COMMUNISM DID NOT AUTOMATICALLY CREATE A HEALTHY DEMOCRACY

LOWE DOES NOT TREAT YUGOSLAVIA AS AN INEVITABLE EXPLOSION

MILOSEVIC'S SERBIAN NATIONALISM, TUDJMAN'S CROATIAN NATIONALISM, BOSNIA'S MIXED DEMOGRAPHY

INTERNATIONAL RESPONSE WAS LATE, HESITANT AND INCONSISTENT BEFORE NATO

BOSNIA AND KOSOVO ARE BEST REMEMBERED AS TESTS OF

LOWE NARRATES 9/11, AFGHANISTAN AND IRAQ IN DETAIL.

OPTIONAL SOURCE DEPTH

- CAUTION: Lowe's post-1991 Russia sections are especially useful for Mains because they show that the collapse
- of communism did not automatically create a healthy democracy or a fair market economy .
- Lowe does not treat Yugoslavia as an inevitable explosion of "ancient" hatred.
- Milosevic's Serbian nationalism, Tudjman's Croatian nationalism, Bosnia's mixed demography and the weakness of compromise made violence more likely.

ADVANCED DEBATE

- International response was late, hesitant and inconsistent before NATO acted more decisively.
- Bosnia and Kosovo are best remembered as tests of post-Cold-War Europe and the UN, not just Balkan history.
- Lowe narrates 9/11, Afghanistan and Iraq in detail.
- CAUTION: He also includes a strong critical discussion of American foreign policy and whether state violence can itself be called terrorism.

LEGACY / NUANCE

- CAUTION: For UPSC, treat that section as historiographical debate , not as an unqualified fact to parrot.
- CAUTION: The safer exam line is: the Iraq War damaged the legitimacy of the post-Cold-War order because the justifications became heavily disputed.
- CAUTION: The Arab Spring is Lowe's reminder that authoritarian collapse does not by itself settle the problem of legitimate order.
- 25 June 2025, NATO Hague Summit Declaration: allies committed by 2035 to invest 5% of GDP annually

OPTIONAL STATUS — This optional depth is unnecessary for a competent core answer; use it only for added nuance after the complete core has been written.
