Complete Learning Session

Authoring-only generation: 2026-09-01. No PDF was rendered and no tracker or index was mutated.

SOURCE, PROGRESSION AND CURRENT-LINKAGE AUDIT

- Generation date: 2026-09-01.
- Repository-first evidence: the Basic owner is taught first and preserved in full; the Advanced owner is retained only in the optional final teaching block.
- OCR evidence: Repository Markdown was used first. The available OCR-searchable Norman Lowe World History PDF was retained as supplementary local context, but no unsupported page number, quotation or precision was imported from it.
- Qdrant: not used; repository Markdown and available OCR context were sufficient.
- PYQ integrity: No direct UPSC PYQ is verified as owned solely by this topic in the local 2018-2025 routing blocks. Owner probable questions remain original practice.
- Live-link boundary: The official African Union Africa Day 2026 release marks 63 years since the founding of the Organization of African Unity. It records AU leaders' calls for accelerated integration and global governance reform and explicitly references reparatory justice and the enduring legacy of slavery and colonialism. This supplies a narrow current link to the continuing legacy of imperialism and decolonisation; the page does not directly discuss the Berlin Conference or the Scramble for Africa.
- Fact/inference discipline: no current-affairs item, PYQ wording, figure or quotation is invented.

BASIC LEARNING SESSION

DEEP-REVIEW LEARNING CONTRACT

Control	Binding rule for this package
Syllabus boundary	Complete World History Core is taught chronologically, spatially and causally before optional enrichment.
Evidence method	Claim -> named event/treaty/institution/actor/region or attributed scholarship -> analysis -> qualification.
Chronology	Structural cause, trigger, event, settlement, implementation and long-term process remain distinct.
Geography	Europe, Africa, Asia, West Asia and the Americas retain their own actors, routes and unequal connections; Europe is never the default universal viewpoint.
Historiography	Liberal, conservative, Marxist, social, feminist, postcolonial and other relevant interpretations are tied to evidence and bounded claims.
Practice contract	Every solved item has directive/demand decoding, an examiner-grade model, an executable timed/compression plan, marks rationale and answer-specific improvement.
Approval	This immutable successor remains approved: false pending explicit approval.

EVIDENCE, PYQ AND CURRENT-STATUS CONTROL

- Primary/official evidence: treaties, declarations, laws, institutional records, speeches and contemporary testimony are dated and read for authorship, audience and purpose.
- Spatial and social evidence: maps, trade and migration routes, battlefield geography, class, race, gender and colonial position qualify state-centred narrative.
- Quantitative evidence: population, debt, inflation, output, casualties and territorial claims retain unit, place, period, source and uncertainty; no statistic is invented.
- Interpretive discipline: teleology, civilisational ranking, single-cause verdicts and present-day nation-state projection are rejected.
- PYQ discipline: repository routing ledgers and locally held papers control wording and metadata; neutral rendering, reconstruction and unavailable official keys remain explicitly labelled.
- Current-status note, rechecked 2026-09-01: The official African Union Africa Day 2026 release marks 63 years since the founding of the Organization of African Unity. It records AU leaders' calls for accelerated integration and global governance reform and explicitly references reparatory justice and the enduring legacy of slavery and colonialism. This supplies a narrow current link to the continuing legacy of imperialism and decolonisation; the page does not directly discuss the Berlin Conference or the Scramble for Africa.

02. Ten to ninety per cent transformation

BOUNDARY -> Use the ten-to-ninety figures only with their stated periods.

This topic-specific rail fixes the evidence sequence and its exam boundary before analysis.

CONCEPT DEFINITIONS

- Precise definition: Defining New Imperialism is the source-bounded relationship among New Imperialism and Ten to ninety per cent transformation within New Imperialism and Scramble for Africa.
- Classification: Historical facts below are source-backed; causal weight and evaluative verdicts are analytical synthesis.

CORE EXPLANATION

New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914.

NAMED EVIDENCE AND MECHANISM

- New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers.

1. Mini-timeline

Date	Event	Why it matters
FACT: 1869	Suez Canal opened	Africa and Asian routes gain strategic weight
FACT: 1870s	European control in Africa still limited mainly to coasts	Shows how rapid the later scramble was
FACT: 1882	Britain occupies Egypt	Strategic-financial imperialism becomes direct rule
FACT: 1884	Bismarck backs German claims in Africa	Scramble becomes openly competitive
FACT: Nov. 1884-Feb. 1885	Berlin Conference	Rules of "effective occupation" are agreed
FACT: 1896	Ethiopia defeats Italy at Adwa	African resistance could succeed
FACT: 1904-08	Herero and Nama genocide in German South West Africa	Colonial violence reaches extreme levels
FACT: 1905-07	Maji Maji uprising in German East Africa	Anti-colonial resistance continues
FACT: 1914	Only Ethiopia and Liberia remain independent	Most of Africa is partitioned under empire

2. What "New Imperialism" means

- FACT: Old NCERT/Arjun Dev treats the late 19th century as a phase of aggressive imperial expansion by industrial powers.
- FACT: Britannica defines the Scramble for Africa as the period in the late 19th and early 20th centuries when European powers claimed control over most of Africa.
- FACT: By Britannica's figures, in the 1870s about 10 percent of African territory was under European control, and by 1914 about 90 percent was.
- ANALYSIS: "New" imperialism differed from earlier coastal trading influence because it aimed at direct political control of inland territory.

3. Why did the scramble happen?

Driver	FACT: Source-grounded point	Exam-ready meaning
FACT: Economic	Industrial powers wanted raw materials and markets	Empire tied to industrial capitalism
FACT: Strategic	Suez, sea routes and rival empires mattered	Colonies were also military-geopolitical assets
FACT: National prestige	Recently unified Germany and Italy also sought colonies	Empire became a badge of great-power status
FACT: Technology	Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach	Conquest became easier
FACT: Ideology	"Civilizing mission" and racial superiority rhetoric justified expansion	Moral language often masked exploitation

4. Berlin Conference and partition patterns

- FACT: Britannica says the Berlin Conference met from November 15, 1884, to February 26, 1885.
- FACT: Representatives from 14 countries attended.
- FACT: The General Act recognized a framework for effective occupation and accelerated later claims.
- FACT: The Congo Free State was recognized under Leopold II.
- ANALYSIS: African voices did not shape the rules by which European powers divided the continent.

Power	Main African zones to remember
FACT: Britain	Egypt, Sudan, South Africa, Nigeria, East African holdings
FACT: France	Large parts of West and Equatorial Africa, Algeria, Madagascar
FACT: Belgium	Congo Free State / Congo
FACT: Germany	Togo, Cameroon, German East Africa, German South West Africa
FACT: Portugal	Angola, Mozambique
FACT: Italy	Eritrea, Somalia; failed in Ethiopia at Adwa

industry + rivalry + strategy + ideology

->

Berlin rules + effective occupation

->

partition of Africa

resource extraction + resistance + artificial borders

5. African resistance and consequences

Theme	FACT: What to remember	Why UPSC should care
FACT: Ethiopia	Defeated Italy at Adwa in 1896	Shows conquest was not automatic
FACT: Widespread resistance	Zulu, Samori Ture, Maji Maji and others resisted	African agency must be recognized
FACT: Violence	Colonial rule often meant coercion and atrocity	"Civilizing mission" was deeply contradictory
FACT: Borders	Boundaries rarely followed ethnic or political realities	Long-term instability link
FACT: Economy	Colonies were reorganized for extraction	Fits the GS-I colonization theme directly

6. Must-Know Facts (Prelims) and UPSC traps

- FACT: Berlin Conference: 1884-85.

- FACT: Leopold II is linked with the Congo Free State.
- FACT: Effective occupation became an important principle of colonial recognition.
- FACT: Ethiopia and Liberia remained independent in 1914.
- FACT: Adwa (1896) is the classic example of successful African resistance.

MEMORY: Trap: Do not write as if the Berlin Conference alone drew every African border on one day. It created rules and legitimacy; conquest and delimitation continued afterward.

- WRONG: Imperialism was only about civilization. -> FACT: Economic, strategic and power-political motives were central.
- WRONG: Africans did not resist. -> FACT: Resistance was frequent, though often defeated.
- WRONG: All colonies were equally profitable. -> FACT: Some profits were concentrated, and rule could be costly.
- WRONG: Scramble for Africa was separate from wider world history. -> FACT: It was tied to industrial capitalism, nationalism and great-power rivalry.

7. Exam linkage and Mains angles

- FACT: Official UPSC GS-I syllabus explicitly includes colonization and its effect on society; this topic sits at the core of that line.
- ANALYSIS: Strong answers should move from causes -> mechanisms -> partition -> effects on African societies.

Probable questions

1. Explain the causes and mechanisms of the Scramble for Africa.
2. How far was the Berlin Conference responsible for the partition of Africa?
3. Analyse the economic and social consequences of New Imperialism in Africa.

8. Answer architecture (10/15/20-mark support)

Core-sufficiency note: this file must independently support motive-weighting, African agency, boundary-redrawing and social-consequence demands. advanced/07 adds the motive historiography only.

8.1 Directive and demand map

If the question says	It is really testing	Do NOT write
Explain the causes	Ranking and interaction of economic, strategic, prestige, technological and ideological drivers	A list of five motives
How far was the Berlin Conference responsible?	Rules-and-legitimacy vs actual conquest	"Berlin divided Africa"
Analyse the consequences for African societies	Land, labour, borders, authority structures, violence, health	Only "exploitation"
Assess African agency	Resistance and collaboration, adaptation and survival	Africans as passive victims
Compare New Imperialism with earlier expansion	Direct territorial rule vs coastal trading influence	Continuity narrative
Colonial borders and later instability	Mechanism from arbitrary partition to post-colonial conflict	Determinism

8.2 Qualified thesis templates

- ANALYSIS: Multi-causal: "The scramble was driven by industrial demand and strategic competition acting together; prestige and racial ideology supplied the political permission, and technology supplied the possibility."
- ANALYSIS: Berlin: "The Berlin Conference did not partition Africa; it standardised the terms on which partition could be recognised, and thereby accelerated a process already begun."

- ANALYSIS: Consequences: "Colonial rule reorganised African economies for extraction and African politics for control, and its most durable legacy was a set of territorial units created for European convenience."
- ANALYSIS: Agency: "African societies were subordinated but never merely acted upon: they resisted, negotiated, collaborated and adapted, and the pattern of European rule was shaped by which of these they chose."

8.3 Mark-scaled structures

Marks	Structure
10	Thesis -> two drivers with named cases -> the mechanism of conquest -> one consequence -> verdict
15	Thesis -> drivers ranked -> Berlin and the rules -> partition pattern by power -> African responses -> consequences -> verdict
20	All of the above -> plus social/labour consequences, colonial violence, border legacy and the link to 1914 great-power rivalry -> verdict

8.4 Evidence bank A - drivers, ranked and evidenced

Driver	FACT: Named evidence	Analytical weight	Caution
Economic	FACT: Industrial powers wanted raw materials and markets; FACT: colonies reorganised for extraction	Primary structural driver - ties directly to basic/04	ANALYSIS: Not all colonies were profitable; rule could be costly
Strategic	FACT: Suez Canal opened 1869; FACT: Britain occupied Egypt 1882	Explains which territories were taken first and why sea routes mattered	ANALYSIS: Strategy often followed financial entanglement rather than preceding it
Prestige / great-power status	FACT: Recently unified Germany and Italy also sought colonies; FACT: Bismarck backed German claims in 1884	Explains the timing and speed of the rush after 1884	ANALYSIS: Prestige alone cannot explain the economic reorganisation that followed
Technology	FACT: Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach	Converts desire into feasibility - the permissive cause	ANALYSIS: Technology explains capability, never intent
Ideology	FACT: "Civilising mission" and racial-superiority rhetoric	Supplies domestic legitimisation and shapes the form of rule	ANALYSIS: Do not treat it as sincere motive or as pure cover; it did real work in policy

ANALYSIS: The rate-of-change fact that anchors any answer: FACT: Britannica's figures - about 10 per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s, about 90 per cent by 1914. Use this to prove the "new" in New Imperialism.

8.5 Evidence bank B - Berlin, and what it did and did not do

Berlin did	FACT: Evidence	Berlin did not	ANALYSIS: Correction
Set a recognition rule	FACT: General Act recognised a framework for effective occupation	Draw the actual borders on one day	FACT: Conquest and delimitation continued afterward
Convene the interested powers	FACT: Met 15 Nov 1884 - 26 Feb 1885; representatives from 14 countries	Include African representation	FACT: African voices did not shape the rules
Legitimise a private-imperial venture	FACT: Congo Free State recognised under Leopold II	Prevent atrocity	FACT: Colonial rule often meant coercion and atrocity

Partition pattern (use for a boundary question): FACT: Britain - Egypt, Sudan, South Africa, Nigeria, East African holdings; FACT: France - much of West and Equatorial Africa, Algeria, Madagascar; FACT: Belgium - Congo; FACT: Germany - Togo, Cameroon, German East Africa, German South West Africa; FACT: Portugal - Angola, Mozambique; FACT: Italy - Eritrea, Somalia, and failure in Ethiopia. FACT: By 1914 only Ethiopia and Liberia remained independent.

8.6 Evidence bank C - African agency: resistance, collaboration, adaptation

Form of agency	FACT: Named evidence	Analytical significance	Caution
Successful armed resistance	FACT: Ethiopia defeated Italy at Adwa, 1896	Proves conquest was contingent, not inevitable	ANALYSIS: Adwa is exceptional; most resistance was defeated
Sustained armed resistance	FACT: Zulu resistance; FACT: Samori Ture in West Africa	Shows organised states and leaders, not "tribes"	ANALYSIS: Different polities resisted for different reasons
Mass anti-colonial revolt under rule	FACT: Maji Maji uprising, German East Africa, 1905-07	Resistance continued after conquest, against labour and taxation demands	ANALYSIS: Do not give casualty figures
The extremity of colonial response	FACT: Herero and Nama genocide , German South West Africa, 1904-08	The strongest single evidence against the "civilising mission" claim	ANALYSIS: Name it precisely as genocide of the Herero and Nama; do not generalise the term to all colonial violence
Collaboration and intermediation (ANALYSIS:)	ANALYSIS: European rule depended on African chiefs, soldiers, clerks, interpreters and tax collectors, because the colonial administrative presence was thin	Explains how tiny European establishments governed vast territories, and why some African elites gained under colonialism	ANALYSIS: "Collaboration" here is an analytical category, not a moral judgement
Adaptation (ANALYSIS:)	ANALYSIS: Communities adjusted to cash crops, migrant labour, mission schooling and new legal forums, using them where possible	Prevents the passive-victim narrative and explains where later nationalist leadership came from	ANALYSIS: Adaptation was constrained, not free choice

8.7 Evidence bank D - social consequences (for "effect on society")

Dimension	ANALYSIS:/FACT: Content	Significance
Land and labour	FACT: Colonies reorganised for extraction; ANALYSIS: taxation in cash and labour obligations pushed men into mines, plantations and portage	Restructured household economies and produced long-distance labour migration
Gender (ANALYSIS:)	ANALYSIS: Male labour migration shifted farming and household responsibility onto women, while colonial law and mission institutions redefined marriage and property	Adds a social-history dimension most answers omit
Authority structures (ANALYSIS:)	ANALYSIS: Colonial administration recognised and sometimes invented "chiefs", hardening fluid identities into fixed administrative categories	Direct mechanism from colonial rule to later ethnic politics
Health and demography (ANALYSIS:)	ANALYSIS: Conquest, forced labour, movement and disruption of food systems raised mortality in several regions	Keep qualitative; no figures are sourced here
Borders	FACT: Boundaries rarely followed ethnic or political realities	The single most cited long-term legacy - see basic/18 §7

8.7A Evidence bank E - the colonial border legacy: why the lines were kept, and the source problem

(a) The border-preservation principle - the question most answers never ask

ANALYSIS: Almost every answer states that colonial borders were arbitrary. Almost none explains why independent African states then kept them. That is the mark-winning question, and this folder's evidence answers it.

Element	FACT:/ANALYSIS: Evidence	ANALYSIS: Mechanism
The inheritance	FACT: Boundaries "rarely followed ethnic or political realities"; FACT: many frontiers "were colonial creations that grouped together communities with weak shared political identity" (basic/18 §7.6)	The successor state's territory was defined by a rival empire's convenience
ANALYSIS: Why they were nonetheless preserved	ANALYSIS: Every alternative was worse: reopening one border legitimises reopening all of them, and no African state's borders would survive a general revision. FACT: The folder's evidence is behavioural - FACT: the Organization of African Unity (1963) became the forum in which African states addressed each other's conflicts, and FACT: in Nigeria's civil war neither the UN, the Commonwealth nor the OAU would support Biafra's secession (basic/18 §7.6A)	ANALYSIS: Border stability was not an oversight but a collective-security choice : recognising secession anywhere threatened every member
FACT: The cost of that choice	FACT: Nigeria's unity was preserved only through a war in which "Biafra lost more civilians from disease and starvation than troops killed in the fighting"; FACT: Katanga's secession was reversed with UN troops in the Congo	ANALYSIS: The principle bought territorial stability at the price of internal wars
ANALYSIS: The single exception pattern	ANALYSIS: Where separation did occur it came by agreement rather than by force - FACT: Singapore left the Federation of Malaysia in 1965 by agreement (basic/18 §7.5A)	Confirms the rule: unilateral secession was the thing being prevented
ANALYSIS: The verdict formulation	ANALYSIS: "African states did not keep colonial borders because they thought them just; they kept them because a rule of revision would have had no stopping point - which is why the arbitrariness of 1885 became the permanent constitutional condition of the continent."

(b) The colonial-source critique - how to use European evidence about African societies

ANALYSIS: A source/historiography directive on colonisation is highly examinable and is answerable from this folder's own material. The argument runs: the record of colonial Africa was largely produced by the colonisers, and that fact must be built into the answer, not confessed at the end of it.

Problem with the colonial record	FACT: Evidence from this folder	ANALYSIS: How to correct for it in an answer
Categories were created by administrators	ANALYSIS: Colonial administration "recognised and sometimes invented 'chiefs', hardening fluid identities into fixed administrative categories" (§8.7)	Treat "tribe" as an administrative artefact needing explanation, not a natural unit. FACT: Lowe's own Rwanda material demonstrates the correction: Tutsi and Hutu "spoke the same language and looked very much alike" (basic/18 §7.6A)
Africans were excluded from the record's making	FACT: At Berlin, "African voices did not shape the rules"; FACT: no African representation at the conference (§8.5)	The absence is itself evidence - about the process, not about African capacity
Justificatory framing	FACT: The "civilising mission" claim, against which FACT: the Herero and Nama genocide (1904-08) and FACT: Maji Maji (1905-07) stand as the strongest counter-evidence (§8.6)	Test stated motive against recorded conduct; that comparison is the analysis
Silence about violence and cost	FACT: Colonial rule "often meant coercion and atrocity"; FACT: Berlin legitimised Leopold II's Congo Free State but did nothing to prevent atrocity	Where the colonial record is quietest, look for what it was avoiding recording
What survives to correct it	FACT: Resistance itself is evidence of African political organisation - FACT: Adwa (1896), FACT: Zulu resistance, FACT: Samori Ture, FACT: Maji Maji; FACT: and post-1945 African nationalism produced its own leaders, newspapers and parties (basic/18 §7.6B)	ANALYSIS: Use recorded African action as the counter-source: what people did is evidence even where what they said was not written down
ANALYSIS: The disciplined conclusion	ANALYSIS: "The colonial archive is usable but not neutral: it records European intention accurately, African society through European categories, and colonial violence only partially - so an answer should read it for what Europeans did and cross-check it against what Africans demonstrably did in response."

ANALYSIS: Bounded: WRONG: do not name specific colonial officials, reports, ethnographies, archives or post-colonial historiographical schools - none is sourced in this folder. The critique above is built entirely from evidence already held here.

8.8 Verdict scaffolds

- "Causes?" -> "Industrial capitalism created the demand, great-power rivalry set the pace, technology removed the obstacle, and ideology dissolved the objection - no single one of these would have produced the scramble alone."
- "How far Berlin?" -> "Berlin was decisive as a legitimising rulebook and negligible as a cartographer: it explains why partition proceeded so quickly and without war among Europeans, not where the lines fell."
- "Consequences?" -> "The deepest colonial legacy was structural rather than territorial: economies reoriented to export, administrations built for control, and identities administratively fixed - the borders merely made those legacies harder to escape."

8.9 Factual-risk controls

- WRONG: Do not say the Berlin Conference partitioned Africa. FACT: It created rules and legitimacy; conquest continued afterward.
- WRONG: Do not give a number of countries at Berlin other than FACT: 14, or dates other than FACT: 15 Nov 1884 - 26 Feb 1885.
- WRONG: Do not vary the FACT: 10 per cent (1870s) -> 90 per cent (1914) figures, and attribute them to Britannica.

- WRONG: Do not say Africans did not resist. FACT: Resistance was frequent, though often defeated.
- WRONG: Do not claim all colonies were profitable. FACT: Profits were concentrated and rule could be costly.
- WRONG: Do not give casualty figures for Maji Maji, the Herero and Nama genocide, or Congo Free State rule; none is sourced here.
- WRONG: Do not import Indian colonial figures here. FACT: Cross-link to Modern-Indian-History/basic/05_British-Territorial-Expansion.md.
- WRONG: Do not name colonial officials, reports, ethnographies, archives or historiographical schools in §8.7A(b). FACT: The source critique is built only from evidence already held in this folder.
- WRONG: Do not claim that the OAU adopted a formal border-inviolability resolution, or cite a text or article for it. FACT: This folder's evidence for the preservation principle is behavioural - the refusal of the UN, Commonwealth and OAU to support Biafra, and the reversal of Katanga's secession. State the mechanism, not a document.
- ANALYSIS: Known bounded gap: the Atlantic slave trade, plantation economy and abolition are represented elsewhere in Core only through the Haitian Revolution and the exclusions of the Atlantic revolutions. This file does not contain a source-verified triangular-trade or abolition evidence bank; do not improvise quantitative claims or treat that demand as fully owned here.

ANSWER-GRABBING FORMULATION: Precise definition: Agency and the qualified imperialism verdict is the source-bounded relationship among African agency and the Berlin verdict, Economic driver and Civilising mission and racial ideology within New Imperialism and Scramble for Africa.

WORLD HISTORY DEEP-REVIEW CORE CONTROL

- Must remember: New Imperialism joined industrial and financial interests, strategic routes, prestige rivalry and racial legitimization; technology and medicine increased capability but did not themselves create motive.
- Close distinction: The Berlin Conference (1884-85) standardised recognition and effective occupation; it did not draw every African border at one sitting or convert paper claims instantly into control.
- Evidence / interpretation limit: Adwa, Samori Ture, Zulu resistance, Maji Maji and African negotiation show agency under unequal power, while extraction, labour coercion and remade authority require African-centred evidence rather than a passive-continent narrative.

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies New Imperialism?

A. New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. B. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. C. Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. D. The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia.

Answer: A. Explanation: New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under New Imperialism?

A. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. B. New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. C. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. D. The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia.

Answer: B. Explanation: New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q3. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of New Imperialism?

A. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. B. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. C. New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. D. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status.

Answer: C. Explanation: New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q4. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about New Imperialism?

A. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. B. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. C. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. D. New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers.

Answer: D. Explanation: New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Ten to ninety per cent transformation?

A. Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. B. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. C. The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. D. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated.

Answer: A. Explanation: Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Ten to ninety per cent transformation?

A. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. B. Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. C. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. D. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control.

Answer: B. Explanation: Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q7. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Ten to ninety per cent transformation?

A. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. B. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. C. Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. D. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated.

Answer: C. Explanation: Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q8. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Ten to ninety per cent transformation?

A. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. B. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. C. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. D. Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914.

Answer: D. Explanation: Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q9. Which statement correctly identifies Suez Canal, 1869?

A. The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. B. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. C. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. D. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under Suez Canal, 1869?

A. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. B. The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. C. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. D. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q11. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Suez Canal, 1869?

A. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. B. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. C. The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. D. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q12. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Suez Canal, 1869?

A. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. B. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. C. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries. D. The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Suez Canal opened in 1869 and increased the strategic value of Egypt, African routes and access to Asia. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q13. Which statement correctly identifies British occupation of Egypt, 1882?

A. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. B. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. C. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. D. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive.

Answer: A. Explanation: Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under British occupation of Egypt, 1882?

A. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. B. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. C. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. D. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive.

Answer: B. Explanation: Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q15. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of British occupation of Egypt, 1882?

A. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries. B. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. C. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. D. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity.

Answer: C. Explanation: Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q16. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about British occupation of Egypt, 1882?

A. The Berlin General Act required effective occupation for recognition, standardising the rules of competition rather than drawing every African border at one meeting. B. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries. C. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. D. Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control.

Answer: D. Explanation: Britain occupied Egypt in 1882, showing how financial and strategic entanglement could become direct imperial control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q17. Which statement correctly identifies Economic driver?

A. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. B. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. C. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. D. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status.

Answer: A. Explanation: Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under Economic driver?

A. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries. B. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. C. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. D. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity.

Answer: B. Explanation: Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q19. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Economic driver?

A. The Berlin General Act required effective occupation for recognition, standardising the rules of competition rather than drawing every African border at one meeting. B. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries. C. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. D. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity.

Answer: C. Explanation: Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q20. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Economic driver?

A. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries. B. The Berlin General Act required effective occupation for recognition, standardising the rules of competition rather than drawing every African border at one meeting. C. The Conference recognised the Congo Free State under Leopold II, illustrating the overlap of private profit, sovereignty and imperial violence. D. Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated.

Answer: D. Explanation: Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q21. Which statement correctly identifies Prestige and rivalry?

A. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. B. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. C. Steam transport, improved weapons and medicines increased European reach; technology supplied capability, not motive. D. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries.

Answer: A. Explanation: National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under Prestige and rivalry?

A. Civilising rhetoric and racial superiority supplied domestic legitimation while coexisting with coercion, extraction and atrocity. B. National prestige and great-power rivalry accelerated the scramble, especially as recently unified Germany and Italy sought colonial status. C. The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries. D. Question: What made late-nineteenth-century imperialism new? Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: Its speed, inland territorial reach, industrial-strategic drivers and formal rules of effective occupation distinguished it from earlier coastal influence.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers.
- Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914.
- Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated.
- The Berlin General Act required effective occupation for recognition, standardising the rules of competition rather than drawing every African border at one meeting.

Qualified conclusion: Its speed, inland territorial reach, industrial-strategic drivers and formal rules of effective occupation distinguished it from earlier coastal influence.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "What made late-nineteenth-century imperialism new? Answer in about 150 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise three named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "What made late-nineteenth-century imperialism new? Answer in about 150 words.", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Its speed, inland territorial reach, industrial-strategic drivers and formal rules of effective occupation distinguished it from earlier coastal influence.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: New Imperialism was the late-nineteenth-century shift from limited coastal influence toward aggressive direct political control of inland territory by industrial powers. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Britannica's figures place about ten per cent of African territory under European control in the 1870s and about ninety per cent by 1914. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: Industrial powers sought raw materials, markets and investment opportunities, while actual metropolitan profit remained uneven and concentrated. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Question: How far was the Berlin Conference responsible for partition? Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: Berlin legitimised claims and standardised effective occupation, accelerating conquest, but actual borders emerged through later force and bargaining.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The Berlin Conference met from 15 November 1884 to 26 February 1885 with representatives of fourteen countries.
- The Berlin General Act required effective occupation for recognition, standardising the rules of competition rather than drawing every African border at one meeting.
- The Conference recognised the Congo Free State under Leopold II, illustrating the overlap of private profit, sovereignty and imperial violence.
- African societies resisted, negotiated, collaborated and adapted; Berlin was a legitimising rulebook and accelerator, not a complete cartographic act.

Qualified conclusion: Berlin legitimised claims and standardised effective occupation, accelerating conquest, but actual borders emerged through later force and bargaining.

3. Claim and named evidence: German suppression in South West Africa became the genocide of the Herero and Nama between 1904 and 1908. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: The Maji Maji uprising in German East Africa from 1905 to 1907 showed mass resistance continuing after formal conquest. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
5. Claim and named evidence: Cash taxation, mines, plantations and labour obligations reorganised economies for export and altered migration, households and gendered work. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: Ideology performed real legitimising work, but Congo, forced labour, Herero-Nama genocide and Maji Maji expose the extraction and violence beneath it.

OPTIONAL ADVANCED DEPTH - NOT REQUIRED FOR A CORE ANSWER

Subject: History (World History) · Tier: Advanced (debate + answer-writing) · GS Paper: GS-I (World History)
Grounded in: Old NCERT/Arjun Dev world-history chapters on imperialism + Britannica, Scramble for Africa and Berlin Conference + official UPSC GS-I syllabus line. FACT: = source-grounded fact (named source) · ANALYSIS: = analytical synthesis / historiographical framing · CURRENT: = current affairs. Companion: basic/07_New-Imperialism-and-Scramble-for-Africa.md.

1. Debate matrix: why did New Imperialism happen?

Debate	One emphasis	Other emphasis	Best UPSC synthesis
ANALYSIS: Motive	Capitalism sought raw materials, markets and outlets	Prestige, strategy and rivalry mattered equally	Economic motives were central but not exclusive
ANALYSIS: Berlin Conference	It triggered the scramble	It mostly regularized an ongoing process	Better to say it accelerated and legitimated competition
ANALYSIS: Ideology	"Civilizing mission" was genuine belief for some	It masked coercion, racism and extraction	Treat ideology as both belief and instrument
ANALYSIS: Nature of empire	Direct rule was the key feature	Informal leverage and chartered-company power also mattered	Distinguish types of control carefully

2. How colonial control actually worked

Mechanism	FACT: What the sources support	Analytical use
FACT: Effective occupation	Berlin framework demanded real occupation for claims	Legal cover for expansion
FACT: River/trade rules	Congo and Niger were discussed as free waters	Commerce and empire were intertwined
FACT: Chartered or concessionary control	Congo under Leopold shows private and state interests mixing	Profit and sovereignty often overlapped
FACT: Settler / administrative variation	Different colonial powers ruled differently	Avoid one-size-fits-all answers

- ANALYSIS: Advanced answers score better when they avoid writing "imperialism = one uniform model."

3. African agency: resistance, adaptation, survival

Case	What it shows
FACT: Adwa (1896)	Ethiopia could defeat a European power under favourable leadership and conditions
FACT: Samori Ture	West African states fought prolonged campaigns
FACT: Maji Maji (1905-07)	Colonial rule provoked mass anti-colonial uprisings
FACT: Herero and Nama	Suppression could become genocidal

- ANALYSIS: The strongest corrective to Eurocentric writing is to show that African societies were not passive recipients of conquest.
- ANALYSIS: But resistance was uneven because colonial powers had advantages in logistics, weapons and divided local contexts.

do not write:

Europe acted -> Africa received

write instead:

Europe imposed + African societies resisted, negotiated, adapted and suffered

4. India/world linkages

- ANALYSIS: New Imperialism is the world-history counterpart of themes visible in British expansion in India: strategic routes, fiscal extraction, racial hierarchy and the language of "improvement."
- ANALYSIS: But do not duplicate Indian material here. Cross-read:
 - Modern-Indian-History/basic/04_British-Conquest-of-Bengal.md
 - Modern-Indian-History/basic/05_British-Territorial-Expansion.md
 - Modern-Indian-History/advanced/05_British-Territorial-Expansion.md
- ANALYSIS: In GS-I answers, a brief comparison with India can strengthen the colonization theme, especially on economic reorientation, coercive governance and legitimacy through civilizing rhetoric.

5. Long-term effects that matter for Mains

Effect	Why it matters
FACT: Artificial borders	Later interstate and ethnic tensions were sharpened
FACT: Extractive economies	Commodity dependence outlasted empire
FACT: Racial order	Colonial ideology hardened hierarchy and exclusion
FACT: Violent memory	Anti-colonial nationalism later drew strength from this experience

- ANALYSIS: A high-scoring conclusion should move from immediate conquest to long-run structural effects.

6. Must-Know Facts (Prelims) and UPSC traps

- FACT: Berlin Conference ran from Nov. 1884 to Feb. 1885.
- FACT: Leopold II is inseparable from the Congo Free State.
- FACT: Britannica explicitly links the scramble with strategic claims and access to natural resources.

MEMORY: Trap: Do not say imperialism was caused by one factor only. UPSC prefers a layered answer: capitalism + rivalry + technology + ideology.

- WRONG: Colonies were always economically rational for the metropole. -> FACT: Profits could be uneven, rhetorical or concentrated in limited hands.
- WRONG: "Civilizing mission" was purely humanitarian. -> FACT: It coexisted with racial superiority and extraction.
- WRONG: Berlin Conference was a humanitarian anti-slavery meeting alone. -> FACT: Anti-slavery language existed, but imperial rivalry and territorial claims were central.

7. Mains-answer framework

Part	What to write
Intro	Define New Imperialism as late-19th-century direct expansion by industrial powers
Body 1	Motives: economic, strategic, nationalist, ideological
Body 2	Berlin Conference and effective occupation
Body 3	African resistance and violent realities
Conclusion	Imperialism redrew Africa politically and restructured it economically

Probable questions

1. "The Berlin Conference gave legality to imperial greed." Comment.
2. Was New Imperialism driven more by capitalism than by nationalism? Examine.
3. Analyse the long-term effects of the Scramble for Africa on African society and politics.

CONSOLIDATED REGISTER NOTES

COMPLETE TOPIC ASCII MASTER FLOW DIAGRAM

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 1/12: What made imperialism new

EARLIER -> coastal forts, trade influence and limited enclaves

NEW -> direct inland territorial rule by industrial powers

1870s -> about 10% of Africa under European control

1914 -> about 90% under European control

MUST REMEMBER: New Imperialism joined industrial and financial interests, strategic routes, prestige rivalry and racial legitimization; technology and medicine increased capability but did not themselves create motive.

MUST REMEMBER: New Imperialism joined industrial and financial interests, strategic routes, prestige rivalry and racial legitimization; technology and medicine increased capability but did not themselves create motive.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 2/12: Five-driver system

ECONOMY -> raw materials, markets and investment

STRATEGY -> Suez, sea routes and rival positions

PRESTIGE -> colonies become great-power status symbols

TECHNOLOGY + IDEOLOGY -> capability plus permission

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 3/12: Berlin: facts and function

15 NOV 1884 -> conference opens

14 COUNTRIES -> European and other powers represented

26 FEB 1885 -> conference closes

GENERAL ACT -> effective occupation becomes recognition rule

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 4/12: Berlin did and did not

DID -> standardise claims and legitimate competition

DID -> recognise Congo Free State under Leopold II

DID NOT -> include African voices in rule-making

DID NOT -> draw every later border at one meeting

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 5/12: Partition pattern

BRITAIN/FRANCE -> largest strategic and territorial zones

BELGIUM -> Congo; PORTUGAL -> Angola and Mozambique

GERMANY -> east, south-west, Togo and Cameroon

ITALY -> Eritrea and Somalia; defeated in Ethiopia

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 6/12: African resistance spectrum

ADWA 1896 -> Ethiopia defeats Italy

ZULU + SAMORI TURE -> organised prolonged resistance

MAJI MAJI 1905-07 -> mass revolt under colonial rule

NEGOTIATION/ADAPTATION -> constrained agency beyond war

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 7/12: Colonial violence ledger

CONGO -> private-imperial extraction and coercion
HERERO AND NAMA 1904-08 -> genocide
MAJI MAJI 1905-07 -> mass uprising and repression
VERDICT -> civilising rhetoric tested against conduct

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 8/12: Extraction mechanism

CASH TAX -> households need colonial currency
MINES/PLANTATIONS -> migrant and coerced labour expands
EXPORT INFRASTRUCTURE -> production points toward ports
RESULT -> commodity dependence and household disruption

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 9/12: Authority and identity remade

THIN COLONIAL STATE -> relies on chiefs and intermediaries
ADMINISTRATIVE CATEGORIES -> fluid identities become fixed
LAW AND SCHOOLING -> new routes to status and exclusion
LEGACY -> political identities carry colonial institutional marks

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 10/12: Border legacy without determinism

LINEs -> rarely match prior political realities
SUCCESSOR STATES -> inherit colonial territorial units
PRESERVATION -> reopening one frontier threatens all
CAUTION -> borders condition conflict; they do not mechanically cause it
CLOSE DISTINCTION: The Berlin Conference (1884-85) standardised recognition and effective occupation; it did not draw every African border at one sitting or convert paper claims instantly into control.
CLOSE DISTINCTION: The Berlin Conference (1884-85) standardised recognition and effective occupation; it did not draw every African border at one sitting or convert paper claims instantly into control.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 11/12: African agency correction

WRONG FRAME -> Europe acts; Africa receives
BETTER FRAME -> imposition meets resistance and negotiation
UNEQUAL POWER -> weapons and logistics constrain choices
OUTCOME -> colonial rule is shaped by African responses
EVIDENCE LIMIT: Adwa, Samori Ture, Zulu resistance, Maji Maji and African negotiation show agency under unequal power, while extraction, labour coercion and remade authority require African-centred evidence rather than a passive-continent narrative.

ASCII MASTER FLOW - PANEL 12/12: Imperialism answer spine

DEFINE -> direct territorial New Imperialism

CAUSE -> economy + strategy + prestige + technology + ideology

MECHANISM -> Berlin rules, conquest and administrative control

VERDICT -> extraction and borders plus persistent African agency
