

SOLVED PRACTICE WORKBOOK

First World War and Aftermath - Solved Practice Workbook

UPSC complete learning session | Foundation to advanced | Concepts, evidence, practice and answer writing

Original deterministic study visual; labels are explanatory, not textual quotations.

Source order: repository knowledge -> official current linkage -> clearly marked analysis. No fabricated PYQs or statistics.

CONTENTS / WORKBOOK INDEX

Major learning parts and meaningful subtopics are listed in document order. Page numbers are generated from the final PDF layout; PDF bookmarks mirror the same hierarchy.

First World War and Aftermath - Solved Practice Workbook 5

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION 5

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Marne, September 1914?	5
Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Marne, September 1914?	5
Q3. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Marne, September 1914?	5
Q4. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Marne, September 1914?	5
Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Gallipoli, 1915?	6
Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Gallipoli, 1915?	6
Q7. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Gallipoli, 1915?	6
Q8. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Gallipoli, 1915?	6
Q9. Which statement correctly identifies Verdun and Somme, 1916?	6
Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under Verdun and Somme, 1916?	7
Q11. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Verdun and Somme, 1916?	7
Q12. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Verdun and Somme, 1916?	7
Q13. Which statement correctly identifies Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?	7
Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?	7
Q15. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?	8
Q16. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?	8
Q17. Which statement correctly identifies British blockade and Jutland?	8
Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under British blockade and Jutland?	8
Q19. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of British blockade and Jutland?	8
Q20. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about British blockade and Jutland?	9
Q21. Which statement correctly identifies Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?	9
Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?	9
Q23. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?	9
Q24. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?	9
Q25. Which statement correctly identifies United States enters, April 1917?	10
Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under United States enters, April 1917?	10
Q27. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of United States enters, April 1917?	10

Q28. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about United States enters, April 1917?	10
Q29. Which statement correctly identifies Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?	10
Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?	11
Q31. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?	11
Q32. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?	11
Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?	11
Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?	12
Q35. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?	12
Q36. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?	12
Q37. Which statement correctly identifies Central allies collapse?	12
Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under Central allies collapse?	13
Q39. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Central allies collapse?	13
Q40. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Central allies collapse?	13
Q41. Which statement correctly identifies Armistice, 11 November 1918?	13
Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under Armistice, 11 November 1918?	14
Q43. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Armistice, 11 November 1918?	14
Q44. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Armistice, 11 November 1918?	14
Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Total war?	14
Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Total war?	15
Q47. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Total war?	15
Q48. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Total war?	15
Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Political and global effects?	15
Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Political and global effects?	16
Q51. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Political and global effects?	16
Q52. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Political and global effects?	16
Q53. Which statement correctly identifies League of Nations and mandates?	16
Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under League of Nations and mandates?	17
Q55. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of League of Nations and mandates?	17
Q56. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about League of Nations and mandates?	17
Q57. Which statement correctly identifies Treaty cluster?	17
Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under Treaty cluster?	18
Q59. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Treaty cluster?	18

Q60. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Treaty cluster?	18
Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Versailles territorial terms?	18
Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Versailles territorial terms?	19
Q63. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Versailles territorial terms?	19
Q64. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Versailles territorial terms?	19
Q65. Which statement correctly identifies Versailles military terms?	19
Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under Versailles military terms?	20
Q67. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Versailles military terms?	20
Q68. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Versailles military terms?	20
Q69. Which statement correctly identifies Article 231 and reparations?	20
Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under Article 231 and reparations?	21
Q71. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Article 231 and reparations?	21
Q72. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Article 231 and reparations?	21
Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Sevres revised by Lausanne?	21
Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Sevres revised by Lausanne?	22
Q75. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Sevres revised by Lausanne?	22
Q76. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Sevres revised by Lausanne?	22
Q77. Which statement correctly identifies Unstable-peace verdict?	22
Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under Unstable-peace verdict?	23
Q79. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Unstable-peace verdict?	23
Q80. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Unstable-peace verdict?	23
PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE	23
TRANSPARENT ZERO-DIRECT-PYQ AUDIT	23
ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS	23
ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS	24
ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS	25
ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS	27
ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS	28
ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS	29

First World War and Aftermath - Solved Practice Workbook

BASIC MCQS / REMEDIATION

Q1. Which statement correctly identifies Marne, September 1914?

A. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. B. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. C. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. D. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q2. Which chronology card should be filed under Marne, September 1914?

A. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. B. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. C. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. D. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q3. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Marne, September 1914?

A. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. B. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. C. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. D. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q4. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Marne, September 1914?

A. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. B. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. C. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. D. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q5. Which statement correctly identifies Gallipoli, 1915?

A. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. B. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. C. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. D. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q6. Which chronology card should be filed under Gallipoli, 1915?

A. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. B. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. C. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. D. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q7. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Gallipoli, 1915?

A. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. B. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. C. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. D. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q8. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Gallipoli, 1915?

A. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. B. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. C. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. D. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q9. Which statement correctly identifies Verdun and Somme, 1916?

A. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. B. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. C. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. D. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war.

Answer: A. Explanation: Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q10. Which chronology card should be filed under Verdun and Somme, 1916?

A. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. B. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. C. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. D. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops.

Answer: B. Explanation: Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q11. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Verdun and Somme, 1916?

A. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. B. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. C. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. D. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war.

Answer: C. Explanation: Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q12. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Verdun and Somme, 1916?

A. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. B. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. C. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. D. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion.

Answer: D. Explanation: Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q13. Which statement correctly identifies Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?

A. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. B. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. C. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. D. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control.

Answer: A. Explanation: Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q14. Which chronology card should be filed under Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?

A. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. B. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. C. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. D. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war.

Answer: B. Explanation: Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q15. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?

A. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. B. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. C. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. D. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops.

Answer: C. Explanation: Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q16. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Defensive firepower and trench deadlock?

A. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. B. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. C. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. D. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough.

Answer: D. Explanation: Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q17. Which statement correctly identifies British blockade and Jutland?

A. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. B. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. C. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. D. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops.

Answer: A. Explanation: British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q18. Which chronology card should be filed under British blockade and Jutland?

A. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. B. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. C. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. D. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line.

Answer: B. Explanation: British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q19. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of British blockade and Jutland?

A. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. B. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. C. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. D. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line.

Answer: C. Explanation: British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q20. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about British blockade and Jutland?

A. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. B. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. C. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. D. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control.

Answer: D. Explanation: British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q21. Which statement correctly identifies Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?

A. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. B. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. C. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. D. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line.

Answer: A. Explanation: Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q22. Which chronology card should be filed under Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?

A. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. B. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. C. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. D. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare.

Answer: B. Explanation: Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q23. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?

A. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. B. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. C. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. D. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918.

Answer: C. Explanation: Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q24. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Unrestricted submarine warfare, January 1917?

A. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. B. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. C. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. D. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war.

Answer: D. Explanation: Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q25. Which statement correctly identifies United States enters, April 1917?

A. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. B. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. C. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. D. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line.

Answer: A. Explanation: The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q26. Which chronology card should be filed under United States enters, April 1917?

A. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. B. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. C. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. D. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918.

Answer: B. Explanation: The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q27. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of United States enters, April 1917?

A. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. B. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. C. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. D. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918.

Answer: C. Explanation: The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q28. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about United States enters, April 1917?

A. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. B. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. C. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. D. The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops.

Answer: D. Explanation: The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q29. Which statement correctly identifies Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?

A. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. B. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. C. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. D. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918.

Answer: A. Explanation: Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q30. Which chronology card should be filed under Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?

A. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. B. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. C. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. D. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.

Answer: B. Explanation: Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q31. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?

A. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. B. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. C. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. D. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.

Answer: C. Explanation: Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q32. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Russia exits and Brest-Litovsk, 1917-18?

A. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. B. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. C. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. D. Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war.

Answer: D. Explanation: Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q33. Which statement correctly identifies Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?

A. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. B. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. C. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. D. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.

Answer: A. Explanation: The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q34. Which chronology card should be filed under Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?

A. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. B. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. C. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. D. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.

Answer: B. Explanation: The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q35. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?

A. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. B. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. C. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. D. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language.

Answer: C. Explanation: The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q36. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Ludendorff offensive and Allied counterattack, 1918?

A. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. B. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. C. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. D. The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line.

Answer: D. Explanation: The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q37. Which statement correctly identifies Central allies collapse?

A. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. B. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. C. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. D. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.

Answer: A. Explanation: Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q38. Which chronology card should be filed under Central allies collapse?

A. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. B. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. C. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. D. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan.

Answer: B. Explanation: Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q39. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Central allies collapse?

A. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. B. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. C. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. D. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.

Answer: C. Explanation: Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q40. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Central allies collapse?

A. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. B. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. C. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. D. Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare.

Answer: D. Explanation: Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q41. Which statement correctly identifies Armistice, 11 November 1918?

A. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. B. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. C. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. D. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.

Answer: A. Explanation: Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q42. Which chronology card should be filed under Armistice, 11 November 1918?

A. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. B. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. C. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. D. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.

Answer: B. Explanation: Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q43. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Armistice, 11 November 1918?

A. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. B. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. C. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. D. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden.

Answer: C. Explanation: Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q44. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Armistice, 11 November 1918?

A. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. B. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. C. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. D. Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918.

Answer: D. Explanation: Germany sought an armistice before deep occupation of German soil, and fighting ended on 11 November 1918. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q45. Which statement correctly identifies Total war?

A. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. B. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. C. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. D. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.

Answer: A. Explanation: The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q46. Which chronology card should be filed under Total war?

A. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. B. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. C. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. D. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.

Answer: B. Explanation: The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q47. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Total war?

A. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. B. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. C. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. D. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised.

Answer: C. Explanation: The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q48. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Total war?

A. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. B. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. C. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. D. The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.

Answer: D. Explanation: The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q49. Which statement correctly identifies Political and global effects?

A. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. B. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. C. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. D. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language.

Answer: A. Explanation: The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q50. Which chronology card should be filed under Political and global effects?

A. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. B. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. C. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. D. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.

Answer: B. Explanation: The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q51. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Political and global effects?

A. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. B. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. C. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. D. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised.

Answer: C. Explanation: The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q52. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Political and global effects?

A. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. B. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. C. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. D. The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan.

Answer: D. Explanation: The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q53. Which statement correctly identifies League of Nations and mandates?

A. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. B. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. C. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. D. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.

Answer: A. Explanation: The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q54. Which chronology card should be filed under League of Nations and mandates?

A. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. B. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. C. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. D. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised.

Answer: B. Explanation: The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q55. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of League of Nations and mandates?

A. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. B. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. C. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. D. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds.

Answer: C. Explanation: The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q56. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about League of Nations and mandates?

A. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. B. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. C. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. D. The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language.

Answer: D. Explanation: The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q57. Which statement correctly identifies Treaty cluster?

A. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. B. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. C. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. D. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden.

Answer: A. Explanation: The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q58. Which chronology card should be filed under Treaty cluster?

A. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. B. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. C. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. D. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised.

Answer: B. Explanation: The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q59. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Treaty cluster?

A. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. B. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. C. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. D. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir.

Answer: C. Explanation: The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q60. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Treaty cluster?

A. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. B. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. C. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. D. The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.

Answer: D. Explanation: The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q61. Which statement correctly identifies Versailles territorial terms?

A. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. B. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. C. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. D. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir.

Answer: A. Explanation: Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q62. Which chronology card should be filed under Versailles territorial terms?

A. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. B. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. C. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. D. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir.

Answer: B. Explanation: Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q63. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Versailles territorial terms?

A. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. B. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. C. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. D. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir.

Answer: C. Explanation: Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q64. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Versailles territorial terms?

A. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. B. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. C. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. D. Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden.

Answer: D. Explanation: Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q65. Which statement correctly identifies Versailles military terms?

A. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. B. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. C. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. D. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds.

Answer: A. Explanation: Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q66. Which chronology card should be filed under Versailles military terms?

A. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. B. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. C. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. D. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision.

Answer: B. Explanation: Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q67. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Versailles military terms?

A. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. B. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. C. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. D. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers.

Answer: C. Explanation: Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q68. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Versailles military terms?

A. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. B. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. C. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. D. Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised.

Answer: D. Explanation: Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q69. Which statement correctly identifies Article 231 and reparations?

A. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. B. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. C. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. D. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision.

Answer: A. Explanation: Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q70. Which chronology card should be filed under Article 231 and reparations?

A. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. B. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. C. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. D. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision.

Answer: B. Explanation: Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q71. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Article 231 and reparations?

A. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. B. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. C. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. D. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion.

Answer: C. Explanation: Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q72. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Article 231 and reparations?

A. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. B. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. C. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. D. Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds.

Answer: D. Explanation: Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q73. Which statement correctly identifies Sevres revised by Lausanne?

A. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. B. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. C. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. D. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers.

Answer: A. Explanation: Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q74. Which chronology card should be filed under Sevres revised by Lausanne?

A. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. B. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. C. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. D. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion.

Answer: B. Explanation: Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q75. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Sevres revised by Lausanne?

A. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. B. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. C. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. D. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion.

Answer: C. Explanation: Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q76. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Sevres revised by Lausanne?

A. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. B. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. C. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. D. Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir.

Answer: D. Explanation: Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q77. Which statement correctly identifies Unstable-peace verdict?

A. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. B. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. C. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. D. The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate.

Answer: A. Explanation: The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q78. Which chronology card should be filed under Unstable-peace verdict?

A. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. B. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. C. The Gallipoli campaign failed in 1915 while trench stalemate continued and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers. D. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion.

Answer: B. Explanation: The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q79. Which option preserves the source-bounded meaning of Unstable-peace verdict?

A. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. B. Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. C. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. D. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control.

Answer: C. Explanation: The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

Q80. Which statement avoids a close-option trap about Unstable-peace verdict?

A. British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. B. Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. C. Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. D. The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision.

Answer: D. Explanation: The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. The remaining options belong to different chronology, actor or analytical categories.

PYQS AND ANSWER PRACTICE

TRANSPARENT ZERO-DIRECT-PYQ AUDIT

No direct UPSC PYQ is verified as owned solely by this topic in the local 2018-2025 routing blocks. The exact 2024 balance-of-power demand belongs to Topic 09, not to this course-and-aftermath owner.

ORIGINAL MAINS 1 - 10 MARKS

Question: Why did the western front become a war of attrition? Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: The Marne prevented quick victory while defensive firepower outran movement and communication, turning industrial capacity and endurance into the decisive tests.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate.
- Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion.
- Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough.

Qualified conclusion: The Marne prevented quick victory while defensive firepower outran movement and communication, turning industrial capacity and endurance into the decisive tests.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on “Why did the western front become a war of attrition? Answer in about 150 words.”, every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise three named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For “Why did the western front become a war of attrition? Answer in about 150 words.”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: The Marne prevented quick victory while defensive firepower outran movement and communication, turning industrial capacity and endurance into the decisive tests.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: The Battle of the Marne in September 1914 stopped a quick German victory and helped lock the western front into trench stalemate. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Verdun and the Somme in 1916 became symbols of industrial attrition: enormous human cost, limited territorial gain and cumulative exhaustion. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: Machine-guns, heavy artillery and fixed defences outmatched movement and communication, preventing tactical success from becoming strategic breakthrough. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: The Marne prevented quick victory while defensive firepower outran movement and communication, turning industrial capacity and endurance into the decisive tests.

ORIGINAL MAINS 2 - 10 MARKS

Question: Why did unrestricted submarine warfare fail strategically? Answer in about 150 words.

Model thesis: It could not defeat the convoy-protected maritime system and helped bring American finance, shipping, food, morale and troops against Germany.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control.
- Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war.
- The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops.

Qualified conclusion: It could not defeat the convoy-protected maritime system and helped bring American finance, shipping, food, morale and troops against Germany.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on “Why did unrestricted submarine warfare fail strategically? Answer in about 150 words.”, every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 10-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise three named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For “Why did unrestricted submarine warfare fail strategically? Answer in about 150 words.”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: It could not defeat the convoy-protected maritime system and helped bring American finance, shipping, food, morale and troops against Germany.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: It could not defeat the convoy-protected maritime system and helped bring American finance, shipping, food, morale and troops against Germany.

ORIGINAL MAINS 3 - 15 MARKS

Question: Why did the Central Powers lose? Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Two-front strain, blockade, failed submarine gamble, American resources, improved Allied unity and collapse of Germany's allies exhausted the coalition as a system.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control.
- Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war.
- The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops.

- Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war.
- The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line.
- Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare.

Qualified conclusion: Two-front strain, blockade, failed submarine gamble, American resources, improved Allied unity and collapse of Germany's allies exhausted the coalition as a system.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on "Why did the Central Powers lose? Answer in about 250 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise five named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "Why did the Central Powers lose? Answer in about 250 words.", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Two-front strain, blockade, failed submarine gamble, American resources, improved Allied unity and collapse of Germany's allies exhausted the coalition as a system.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: British sea power and blockade strangled Central Power supplies; Jutland was tactically indecisive but did not break British naval control. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: Germany resumed unrestricted submarine warfare in January 1917, a tactical gamble that threatened shipping but helped bring the United States into war. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: The United States entered in April 1917, contributing finance, food, shipping, morale and eventually troops. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: Bolshevik armistice was followed by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk in March 1918, formally removing Russia from the war. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
5. Claim and named evidence: The Ludendorff offensive failed in spring 1918, while Allied unity under Foch and coordinated counterattack broke the Hindenburg Line. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
6. Claim and named evidence: Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and the Ottoman Empire collapsed before Germany, exposing the weakest-member problem in coalition warfare. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: Two-front strain, blockade, failed submarine gamble, American resources, improved Allied unity and collapse of Germany's allies exhausted the coalition as a system.

ORIGINAL MAINS 4 - 15 MARKS

Question: Explain the First World War as total war. Answer in about 250 words.

Model thesis: Industry, state control, women workers, propaganda, civilian blockade and imperial manpower erased the boundary between battlefield and home front.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.
- The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan.
- The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language.

Qualified conclusion: Industry, state control, women workers, propaganda, civilian blockade and imperial manpower erased the boundary between battlefield and home front.

Demand decoding: The directive explain requires a direct position on "Explain the First World War as total war. Answer in about 250 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 15-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise five named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "Explain the First World War as total war. Answer in about 250 words.", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: Industry, state control, women workers, propaganda, civilian blockade and imperial manpower erased the boundary between battlefield and home front.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

3. Claim and named evidence: The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: Industry, state control, women workers, propaganda, civilian blockade and imperial manpower erased the boundary between battlefield and home front.

ORIGINAL MAINS 5 - 20 MARKS

Question: Critically evaluate the post-1919 peace settlement. Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: The treaty cluster redrew boundaries and built the League but applied self-determination unevenly, preserved empire through mandates and created grievance without durable enforcement.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language.
- The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey.
- Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden.
- Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised.
- Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds.
- Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir.
- The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision.

Qualified conclusion: The treaty cluster redrew boundaries and built the League but applied self-determination unevenly, preserved empire through mandates and created grievance without durable enforcement.

Demand decoding: The directive evaluate requires a direct position on "Critically evaluate the post-1919 peace settlement. Answer in about 300 words.", every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise six to eight named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For "Critically evaluate the post-1919 peace settlement. Answer in about 300 words.", replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: The treaty cluster redrew boundaries and built the League but applied self-determination unevenly, preserved empire through mandates and created grievance without durable enforcement.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: The postwar settlement comprised Versailles for Germany, St Germain for Austria, Trianon for Hungary, Neuilly for Bulgaria and Sevres later revised by Lausanne for Turkey. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: Alsace-Lorraine returned to France; West Prussia and Posen went to Poland; Danzig became a free city; the Saar entered League administration; union with Austria was forbidden. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: Germany's army was limited to one hundred thousand, conscription, tanks, submarines and military aircraft were prohibited, and the Rhineland was demilitarised. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
5. Claim and named evidence: Article 231 established liability for Allied loss and damage and became politically known as the war-guilt clause; reparations were fixed in 1921 at six thousand six hundred million pounds. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
6. Claim and named evidence: Turkish nationalist resistance under Mustafa Kemal rejected Sevres, and Lausanne in 1923 recognised Turkish sovereignty over eastern Thrace and Anatolia including Smyrna or Izmir. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
7. Claim and named evidence: The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: The treaty cluster redrew boundaries and built the League but applied self-determination unevenly, preserved empire through mandates and created grievance without durable enforcement.

ORIGINAL MAINS 6 - 20 MARKS

Question: How did the First World War transform Europe and the wider world? Answer in about 300 words.

Model thesis: It destroyed empires, created new regimes and states, enlarged interventionist government, mobilised women and colonies, weakened Europe and shifted relative power toward the United States and Japan.

Claim -> named evidence -> analysis -> qualification:

- The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy.
- The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan.
- The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language.
- The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision.

Qualified conclusion: It destroyed empires, created new regimes and states, enlarged interventionist government, mobilised women and colonies, weakened Europe and shifted relative power toward the United States and Japan.

Demand decoding: The directive answer requires a direct position on “How did the First World War transform Europe and the wider world? Answer in about 300 words.”, every clause and time boundary, chronological-causal organisation, named evidence, a counter-position and a qualified global verdict.

Detailed examiner-grade model status: The solved content above is the executable answer base. Preserve its thesis, named chronology, spatial evidence, causal mechanism, counter-position and qualification rather than replacing it with a generic narrative.

Executable exam-length answer / compression plan: For a 20-mark answer, open with a two-sentence thesis and a spatial-temporal frame; organise six to eight named events, treaties, actors, regions, institutions or attributed interpretations as claim -> evidence -> analysis -> qualification; reserve the final lines for a graded conclusion.

Why this earns marks: The answer obeys the directive, distinguishes structure, trigger and outcome, connects evidence to mechanism, includes non-European agency and avoids teleology, presentism and monocausal explanation.

How to improve this answer: For “How did the First World War transform Europe and the wider world? Answer in about 300 words.”, replace the weakest generalisation with one additional named treaty, regional case, primary record or attributed scholarly position and state what that evidence cannot prove.

Detailed examiner-grade model answer:

Introduction and thesis: It destroyed empires, created new regimes and states, enlarged interventionist government, mobilised women and colonies, weakened Europe and shifted relative power toward the United States and Japan.

Analytical body:

1. Claim and named evidence: The war mobilised whole populations, modern industry, state controls, women workers, propaganda, blockade and imperial manpower, making civilians part of strategy. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
2. Claim and named evidence: The war destroyed the Habsburg, Ottoman, Russian and German imperial orders, produced Weimar and Bolshevik regimes, and strengthened the relative position of the United States and Japan. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
3. Claim and named evidence: The peace created the League of Nations while German colonies and former Ottoman lands became mandates, preserving imperial control under conditional trusteeship language. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.
4. Claim and named evidence: The settlement mixed self-determination with minorities, mandates and revisionist grievances; it was harsh enough to embitter Germany but insufficiently enforced to prevent revision. Analysis: Use this evidence to establish the mechanism asked in the directive, not merely to narrate the event. Qualification: Keep its chronological, regional and interpretive boundary explicit.

Counter-position / limit: No single actor, battle, treaty, ideology or economic pressure should be made sufficient where the evidence shows interaction among structures, triggers, agency and uneven regional outcomes.

Qualified conclusion: It destroyed empires, created new regimes and states, enlarged interventionist government, mobilised women and colonies, weakened Europe and shifted relative power toward the United States and Japan.